Notes to Financial Statements

1. Basis of Presentation

The accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles for interim financial information and with the instructions to Form 10-Q. Accordingly, they do not include all the information and footnotes required by generally accepted accounting principles for complete financial statements. In the opinion of management, all adjustments considered necessary for a fair presentation have been made. These adjustments are of a normal recurring nature. Results of operations for the six months ended June 30, 2003 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the year ending December 31, 2003. For further information, refer to the audited consolidated financial statements and related footnotes for the Registrant's fiscal period ended December 31, 2002.

Consolidation has resulted in the elimination of all significant intercompany accounts and transactions.

Cash Flows

For purposes of reporting cash flows, cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, amounts due from banks and overnight investments in federal funds sold.

Per share data

Earnings per common share and dividends per common share are determined by dividing net income and dividends by the 3,240,000 shares outstanding, giving retroactive effect to stock dividends distributed.

2. Comprehensive Income

Comprehensive income consists of:

	Six months ended June 30, 2003	2002
Net income	$ 2,802,545	$ 2,820,090
Unrealized gain (loss) on investment securities available for sale, net of income taxes	527,180	34,052
Comprehensive income	$ 3,329,725	$ 2,854,142

3. Loan commitments

Loan commitments are agreements to lend to customers as long as there is no violation of any conditions of the contracts. Outsatnding loan commitments and letters of credit consist of:

	June 30 2003	June 30 2002
Loan commitments	$ 25,011,480	$ 2,820,090

Part I. Financial Information

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

The following discussion contains certain forward-looking statements within the meaning of and made pursuant to the safe harbor provisions of the Private Litigation Securities Reform Act of 1995.

The following discussion of the financial condition and results of operations of the Registrant (the Company) should be read in conjunction with the Company's financial statements and related notes and other statistical information included elsewhere herein.

General

Calvin B. Taylor Bankshares, Inc. (the "Company") was incorporated as a Maryland corporation on October 31, 1995. The Company owns all of the stock of Calvin B. Taylor Banking Company (the "Maryland Bank"), a commercial bank that was established in 1890 and incorporated under the laws of the State of Maryland on December 17, 1907. The Bank operates nine banking offices in Worcester County, Maryland and one banking office in Ocean View, Delaware. The Bank's administrative office is located in Berlin, Maryland. The Maryland Bank is engaged in a general commercial and retail banking business serving individuals, businesses, and governmental units in Worcester County, Maryland, Ocean View, Delaware, and neighboring counties.

The Company currently engages in no business other than owning and managing the Maryland Bank.

Financial Condition

Total assets of the Company increased $14.6 million from December 31, 2002 to June 30, 2003. Combined deposits and customer repurchase agreements increased $11.7 million during the same period. During the first quarter of the year, the Bank typically experiences a decline in deposits since business customers are using their deposits to meet cash flow needs. Generally, this situation reverses late in the second quarter of the year as the Bank receives loan repayments from seasonal business customers, and deposits from summer residents and tourists. During the first six months of 2002 and 2003, this traditional pattern has not applied. Management believes that adverse conditions in the stock markets have contributed to unusually large increases in deposits throughout the first halves of this year and last year.

During the first six months of 2003, the Bank's loan portfolio has increased $8.3 million. Funding for these loans was provided by growth in deposits. This increase in loans does not negatively impact the Company's ability to meet liquidity demands.

The allowance for loan losses represents a reserve for potential losses in the loan portfolio. The adequacy of the allowance for loan losses is evaluated periodically based on a review of all significant loans, with a particular emphasis on non-accruing, past due, and other loans that management believes require attention. The determination of the reserve level rests upon management's judgment about factors affecting loan quality and anticipated changes in the composition and size of the portfolio, as well as assumptions about the economy. Historically, the Company has low loan charge-offs. The Bank's target level for its allowance as a percentage of gross loans range from approximately 1.00% to 1.35%. Based on a review of the consolidated loan portfolio, the Company determined that an allowance of 1.27% of gross loans was adequate as of June 30, 2003. At December 31, 2002, the allowance was 1.33% of gross loans. At June 30, 2003, there were no non-accruing loans. Loans delinquent ninety days or more totaled $373,252 or .22% of the portfolio.

Liquidity

The Company's major sources of liquidity are loan repayments, maturities of short-term investments including federal funds sold, and increases in core deposits. Throughout the first quarter of the year, when the Bank typically experiences a decline in deposits, federal funds sold and investment securities are primary sources of liquidity. During the second quarter of the year, additional sources of liquidity become more readily available as business borrowers start repaying loans, and the Bank receives seasonal deposits. Throughout the second and third quarters the Bank maintains a high liquidity level. Funds from seasonal deposits are generally invested in short-term U.S. Treasury Bills and overnight federal funds. Average liquid assets (cash and amounts due from banks, interest bearing deposits in other banks, federal funds sold, and investment securities) compared to average deposits were 62.62% for the second quarter of 2003 compared to 62.54% for the first quarter of 2003 and 57.28% for the second quarter of 2002. This increase in liquidity is primarily due to the rapid growth in deposits which has not been accompanied by a corresponding increase in demand for loans.

At June 30, 2003 the Company's interest rate sensitivity, as measured by gap analysis, showed the Company was asset-sensitive with a one-year cumulative gap of 13.29%, as a percentage of interest-earning assets. Generally asset-sensitivity indicates that assets reprice more quickly than liabilities and in a rising rate environment net interest income typically increases. Conversely, if interest rates decrease, net interest income would decline. Both banks have classified their demand mortgage and commercial loans as immediately repricing. Unlike loans tied to prime, these rates do not necessarily change as prime changes since the decision to call the loans and change the rates rests with management.

Results of Operations

Net income for the three months ended June 30, 2003, was $1,450,040 or $.45 per share, compared to $1,540,177 or $.47 per share for the first quarter of 2002. This represents a decrease of $90,137 or 5.85% from the prior year. Year to date net income has decreased $17,545 or $.01 per share from $2,820,090 or $.87 per share in 2002 to $2,802,545 or $.86 per share in 2003. The key components of net income are discussed in the following paragraphs.

Net interest income decreased $54,460 in the first six months of 2003 as compared to the first six months of 2002. This decrease is attributable to a falling market rates, which are causing a continuing repricing of federal funds sold and the Bank's investment portfolio. The Company's net interest income is one of the most important factors in evaluating its financial performance. Management uses interest sensitivity analysis to determine the effect of rate changes. Net interest income is projected over a one-year period to determine the effect of an increase or decrease in the prime rate of 100 basis points. If prime were to decrease one hundred basis points, and all assets and liabilities maturing within that period were fully adjusted for the rate change, the Company would experience a decrease of less than five percent in net interest income. The sensitivity analysis does not consider the likelihood of these rate changes nor whether management's reaction to this rate change would be to reprice its loans or deposits.

No provision for loan losses was made in the first half of 2003 or 2002. Loans charged-off, net of recoveries, during the first half of 2003 totaled $2,130. Loans charged-off, net of recoveries, for the same period in 2002 totaled $20,920.

Other operating revenues exceed last year primarily due to additional activity fees on a larger deposit portfolio and increases to the Bank's fee schedule in Spring 2002.

Other expense variances include an increase in salaries and benefits of $107.3 thousand, O whoich $51.9 thousand is increased salaries and $35.8 thousand is group insurance premium increases. The Bank employed 97 full time equivalent employees as of June 30, 2003. The Bank hires seasonal employees during the summer. The Company has no employees other than those hired by the Bank.

Other expense variances also include a decrease of $56.8 thousand in other operating expenses. Significant downward variances in postage, stationery and supplies exoense may be due, in part, to the timing of payments, in addition to reflecting an effort to reduce unneccesary mailings. A $16.2 thousand decrease in telephone expense is due to changing vendors. Teller shortages, net of overages, are down $11.7 thousand due to improved accuracy and transaction processing with a new teller platform.

Income taxes are $41.8 thousand higher than last year, on a pre-tax income increase of $24.3 thousand, due to an increase in the Company's effective tax rate. This is the result of tax-favored income becoming a smaller percentage of total revenues.

Plans of Operation

The Bank conducts general commercial banking businesses in its service area, of Worcester County, Maryland and Sussex County, Delaware, while emphasizing the banking needs of individuals and small- to medium-sized businesses and professional concerns. The Bank offers a full range of federally insured deposit services that are typically available in most banks and savings and loan associations, including checking accounts, NOW accounts, savings accounts and other time deposits of various types ranging from daily money market accounts to longer-term certificates of deposit.

The Company, through the Bank, offers a full range of short- to medium-term commercial and personal loans, and originates mortgage loans, including real estate construction and acquisition loans. The Bank has the intent and the ability to hold loans that it originate in its portfolio.

Other bank services include cash management services, 24-hour ATM's, credit cards, debit cards, safe deposit boxes, travelers' checks, direct deposit of payroll and social security checks, and automatic drafts for various accounts. The Bank offers bank-by-phone and Internet banking services, including electronic bill-payment, to both commercial and retail customers.

Capital Resources and Adequacy

Total stockholders' equity increased $3,329,725 from December 31, 2002 to June 30, 2003. This increase is attributable to comprehensive income recorded during the period, as detailed in Note 2 of the Notes to Financial Statements.

Under the capital guidelines of the Federal Reserve Board and the FDIC, the Company and the Bank are currently required to maintain a minimum risk-based total capital ratio of 8%, with at least 4% being Tier 1 capital. Tier 1 capital consists of common shareholders' equity, qualifying perpetual preferred stock, and minority interests in equity accounts of consolidated subsidiaries, less certain intangibles. In addition, the Company and the Bank must maintain a minimum Tier 1 leverage ratio (Tier 1 capital to total assets) of at least 3%, but this minimum ratio is increased by 100 to 200 basis points for other than the highest-rated institutions.

Tier one risk-based capital ratios of the Company as of June 30, 2003 and 2002 were 36.74% and 36.36%, respectively. Both are substantially in excess of regulatory minimum requirements.

Website Access to SEC Reports

The Bank maintians an Internet webiste at www.taylorbank.com. The Company's periodic SEC reports, inclduing annual reports on Form 10-K, quarterly reports on Form 10-Q, and current reports on Form 8-K, are accesssible through this website. Access to these filings is free of charge. The reports are available as soon as practicable after they are filed electronically with the SEC.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

The Company's principal market risk exposure relates to interest rates on interest-earning assets and interest-bearing liabilities. Unlike most industrial companies, the assets and liabilities of financial institutions such as the Company and the Bank are primarily monetary in nature. Therefore, interest rates have a more significant effect on the Company's performance than do the effects of changes in the general rate of inflation and change in prices. In addition, interest rates do not necessarily move in the same direction or in the same magnitude as the prices of goods and services. As discussed previously, management monitors and seeks to manage the relationships between interest sensitive assets and liabilities in order to protect against wide interest rate fluctuations, including those resulting from inflation.

Item 4. Controls and procedures

Within the ninety days prior to the date of this report, the Company's management performed an evaluation of the effectiveness of the design and operation of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures and its internal controls and procedures for financial reporting. Disclosure Controls are procedures that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in the Company's publicly filed reports is reported in a timely manner. As part of these controls, Management reviews information gathered through systems developed for that purpose to determine the nature of required disclosure.

Internal controls are procedures designed to provide management with reasonable assurance that assets are safeguarded, and that transactions are properly authorized, executed, and recorded to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Because of inherent limitations in any internal controls, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. The projection of an evaluation of controls to future periods is subject to the risk that procedures may become inadequate due to changes in conditions including the degree of compliance with procedures.

The Chief Executive Officer and the Treasurer of the Company have concluded, based on the evaluation of disclosure controls and internal controls that the financial information and disclosures included in periodic SEC filings and the Company's financial statements are fairly presented in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Changes in Internal Controls

There were no significant changes in the company's internal controls or in other factors that could significantly affect internal controls, including corrective actions with regard to significant deficiencies and material weaknesses.
