Dear Steve:

Putting your personal accusations aside, what is beyond dispute is that at the time Walter Hewlett made public confidential discussions of the HP Compensation Committee, he knew that those discussions had already been rejected and that the executive employment terms alluded to were not only incomplete but were also set aside and are not to be used as any benchmark or basis for any employment arrangements. As you and Walter Hewlett are well aware, the HP Compensation Committee unanimously (including Walter) confirmed all of this in a subsequent meeting. As ISS itself concluded, "there is certainly no `smoking gun'" on the issue of executive compensation.

Very truly yours,

WILSON SONSINI GOODRICH & ROSATI
