On August 30, 2002, the Company sold its building in Waukesha, Wisconsin and leased back approximately 62% of the building's square footage. The building was sold for $4,000,000 and a gain of $41,208 was realized on the sale after the payment of commissions and fees and the funding of $105,396 in capitalized build out costs needed to split the building into two leasable spaces. The proceeds from the sale were used to retire the $3,182,160 of debt on the Company's balance sheet at August 30, 2002 and increased the Company's cash position by approximately $500,000.

5. CONTINGENCIES

The import and export rules applicable to all United States companies engaged in international business transactions contain compliance guidelines. Violations may result in civil or criminal penalties, or both, as well as the potential loss of export privileges.

On August 6, 2002, in part due to the new regulations imposed under the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, the Company initiated an internal review of its import and export procedures. On August 28, 2002, senior management of the Company became aware of previous events that may have violated United States import/export laws and regulations. Senior management of the Company immediately authorized an internal audit of these possible violations, focusing on the sale of medical equipment directly or indirectly into an embargoed country and possible marking issues.

The factual investigation pursuant to the internal audit is complete, no additional compliance issues arose, and no material marking issues were identified as a result of the investigation.

Edgar Filing: CRITICARE SYSTEMS INC /DE/ - Form 10-Q

Subsequently, the Company has taken action to adopt and implement a written compliance program with respect to applicable import/export rules. The Company has also undertaken a voluntary disclosure with the relevant government agencies and has filed its completed internal audit report and all requested documents. Although there is no assurance, based upon the results of the completed internal audit and precedents, the Company believes a negotiated settlement of any violations will not have a material adverse effect on the Company. In addition, the Company does not believe that the audit result supports the denial of export privileges; however, any such penalty would have a material adverse effect on the Company's business. The Company further believes that the voluntary disclosure, along with other internal actions taken, will serve to mitigate any potential adverse consequences that otherwise might accrue.

CRITICARE SYSTEMS, INC.
Management's Discussion and Analysis of Results of Operations and Financial Condition
Six Months Ended December 31, 2002 and 2001

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Record net sales in the fiscal second quarter ended December 31, 2002 increased year-to-date sales for the six months ended December 31, 2002 over $2.5 million, or 19.6%, above the prior year period. The Company's domestic, international, OEM, and governmental sales all were higher than the prior year period, with OEM and domestic sales contributing most significantly to the sales increase. A 21.4% increase in the number of units shipped and a 7.5% increase in the average selling price per unit drove the higher year-to-date sales.

The gross profit percentage for the first six months of the current year of 41.3% improved almost five points from the 36.4% generated for the first six months of the prior year. The significantly higher sales in the current year resulted in a better utilization of fixed manufacturing costs and was the main contributor to the improved margins. In addition, due to the outsourcing of the majority of the Company's products, approximately $310,000 of fixed costs that had previously been classified as manufacturing expenses were more appropriately included in administrative expenses in the current year and improved margins.

Operating expenses for the six months ended December 31, 2002 were higher than the same period in the prior year by $1.3 million, with over $1.2 million of the increased spending occurring in the Company's second fiscal quarter ending December 31, 2002. The higher operating expenses in the quarter were mainly driven by one time type costs incurred, including $103,000 to launch the Company's new line of proprietary anesthesia monitoring products, significant legal and consulting fees related to the internal review conducted by the Company of its import and export procedures totaling approximately $285,000, and a final payment of $150,000 made to the Company's former CEO and founder to satisfy past severance obligation issues. Also contributing to the increase in operating expenses was the $310,000 reclassification of fixed manufacturing costs discussed above to administrative expense, higher trade show and related sales travel expenses to attend three large medical trade shows held during the quarter that increased spending $211,000 from the prior year, and a $188,000 increase in employee and dealer commissions driven by the strong fiscal second quarter sales. Operating expenses are expected to return closer to historical levels in future quarters as the internal review winds down and the costs to support the newly released anesthesia products are reduced. See "Forward-Looking Statements."

Other income improved $405,918 for the six months ended December 31, 2002 from the same period in the prior year due mainly to the recognition of a $255,843 gain on the sale of 54,000 shares of the Company's Immtech International, Inc. stock, $100,000 in profits recognized on the successful completion of the Company's first medical equipment integration project in Romania, and a $41,208 gain on the sale of the Company's building.

The significantly higher sales, improved margins, and increase in other income for the six months ended December 31, 2002 more than offset the higher operating expenses, resulting in a net loss of $111,480 that was $764,842 better than the $876,322 net loss in the prior year period.

CRITICARE SYSTEMS, INC. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Results of Operations and Financial Condition Three Months Ended December 31, 2002 and 2001

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Record quarterly net sales for the three months ended December 31, 2002 of $9,049,606 increased 23.2% from the same period in the prior year, driven by a 26.3% increase in the number of units shipped and a 7.9% increase in the average selling price per unit. Net sales of the Company's core 506DX and 8100 vital signs monitors were $1,203,577 higher in the current quarter. These higher sales, combined with a $357,800 increase in defibrillator sales and $162,226 of new sales from the Company's recently released anesthesia monitors drove the increase in sales to a quarterly record level for the three months ended December 31, 2002.

The gross profit percentage of 43.5% for the three months ended December 31, 2002 improved significantly from the 39.0% produced in the same period in the prior year and represented the strongest quarterly margin performance in three years. The record sales volume in the current period resulted in a better utilization of fixed manufacturing costs and was the main driver of the higher margins. In addition, due to the outsourcing of the majority of the Company's products, approximately $170,000 of fixed costs that had previously been classified as manufacturing expenses were more appropriately included in administrative expenses in the current period ended December 31, 2002 and improved margins when compared to the same period in the prior year.

Operating expenses for the three months ended December 31, 2002 increased $1,236,070 from the same period in the prior year and more than offset the favorable impact of higher sales and improved margins. The higher operating expenses were mainly driven by the one time type costs incurred and discussed above to launch the Company's new line of proprietary anesthesia monitoring products, significant legal and consulting fees related to the internal review conducted by the Company of its import and export procedures, and a final payment made to the Company's former CEO and founder to satisfy past severance obligation issues. Also contributing to the increase in operating expenses was the reclassification of fixed manufacturing costs discussed above to administrative expense, higher trade show and related sales travel expenses to attend three large medical trade shows held during the quarter, and an increase in employee and dealer commissions driven by the strong fiscal second quarter sales. Operating expenses are expected to return closer to historical levels in future quarters as the internal review winds down and the costs to support the newly released anesthesia products are reduced. See "Forward-Looking Statements."

Other income improved $156,731 for the three months ended December 31, 2002 from the same period in the prior year due mainly to the successful completion of the Company's first medical equipment integration project in Romania in which the Company realized a $100,000 share of the profits from the transaction. In addition, the Company eliminated its interest expense in the current quarter due to the retirement of the Company's mortgage in its fiscal first quarter ending September 30, 2002, saving $62,271 in interest expense that was incurred in the prior year period.

The record sales, improved margins, and higher other income for the three months ended December 31, 2002 offset the majority of the increase in operating expenses incurred in the current period, resulting in net income of $180,171 that was basically level to the $185,513 of net income in the prior year period.

CRITICARE SYSTEMS, INC. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Results of Operations and Financial Condition

Liquidity and Capital Resources

As of December 31, 2002, the Company had a cash balance of $4,203,567, an increase of $680,497 from its balance at June 30, 2002, and a long-term debt free balance sheet due to the sale of the Company's building in the current fiscal year. The Company sold its building in Waukesha, Wisconsin in August of 2002, leased back approximately 62% of its square footage, and used the proceeds from the sale to retire the long-term debt on the balance sheet. The sale of the building increased the Company's cash position by approximately $500,000 and was the main contributor to the increase in cash from its balance of $3,362,104 at June 30, 2002.

Other significant events impacting cash flows for the six months ended December 31, 2002 included the sale of 54,000 shares of the Company's Immtech International, Inc. stock that resulted in the recognition of a realized gain of $255,843. The Company held 402,374 shares of Immtech stock after the sale of these shares that was trading at $2.30 per share on December 31, 2002. Also, in accordance with the authorized buyback of up to 500,000 shares of the Company's common stock by the Board of Directors in the third quarter of fiscal 2002, the Company purchased 35,100 shares of common stock at a cost of $121,359 in the first quarter of fiscal 2003. No shares were purchased in the second fiscal quarter ended December 31, 2002. The Company has acquired a total of 76,223 shares of its common stock under this approved stock buyback.

The Company believes all capital and liquidity requirements for the remainder of fiscal 2003 will be satisfied by cash generated from operations and its current cash balances. No major capital equipment expenditures are expected in the last six months of the fiscal year ending June 30, 2003. The Company also has a $4,000,000 line of credit currently in place that expires in November 2003 that could be utilized, if necessary. At December 31, 2002, there were no borrowings outstanding under this line of credit.

Forward Looking Statements

A number of the matters and subject areas discussed herein that are not historical or current facts deal with potential future circumstances and developments. These include anticipated product introductions, expected future financial results, liquidity needs, financing ability, management's or the Company's expectations and beliefs and similar matters discussed in Management's Discussion and Analysis or elsewhere herein. The discussions of such matters and subject areas are qualified by the inherent risk and uncertainties surrounding future expectations generally, and also may materially differ from the Company's actual future experience.

The Company's business, operations and financial performance are subject to certain risks and uncertainties which could result in material differences in actual results from management's or the Company's current expectations. These risks and uncertainties include, but are not limited to, general economic conditions, demand for the Company's products, costs of operations, the development of new products, the reliance on single sources of supply for certain components in the Company's products, government regulation, health care cost containment programs, the effectiveness of the Company's programs to manage working capital and reduce costs, competition in the Company's markets, compliance with product safety regulations and product liability and product recall risks, risks relating to international sales and compliance with U.S. export regulations, unanticipated difficulties in outsourcing the manufacturing of the majority of its products to foreign manufacturers and risks related to foreign manufacturing, including economic and political instability, trade and foreign tax laws, production delays and cost overruns and quality control, and the Company's ability to reduce costs by eliminating excess capacity at its principal facility.

CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

Within 90 days prior to the date of this report, the Company carried out an evaluation, under the supervision and with the participation of the Company's management, including the Company's Chief Executive Officer and the Company's Chief Financial Officer, of the effectiveness of the design and operation of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures. Based on this evaluation, the Company's Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer concluded that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures were effective in timely alerting them to material information relating to the Company required to be included in the Company's periodic filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. It should be noted that in designing and evaluating the disclosure controls and procedures, management recognized that any controls and procedures, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable assurance of achieving the desired control objectives, and management necessarily was required to apply its judgment in evaluating the cost-benefit relationship of possible controls and procedures.

There have been no significant changes in the Company's internal controls or in other factors that could significantly affect the internal controls subsequent to the date the Company completed its evaluation.
