Forward-Looking Information

From time to time, in the Company's statements and written reports, including this report, the Company discusses its expectations regarding future performance by making certain forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements are based on currently available competitive, financial and economic data and management's views and assumptions regarding future events. Such forward-looking statements are inherently uncertain, and actual results may differ materially from those expressed or implied herein. Consequently, the Company wishes to caution readers not to place undue reliance on any forward-looking statements. In connection with the safe harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, the Company notes the following factors which, among others, could cause future results to differ materially from the forward-looking statements, expectations and assumptions expressed or implied herein. Among the factors that could impact the Company's ability to achieve its stated goals are the following: (i) significant competitive activity, including advertising, promotional and price competition, and changes in consumer demand for the Company's products; (ii) fluctuations in the cost and availability of various raw materials; (iii) inherent risks in the marketplace associated with new product introductions, including uncertainties about trade and consumer acceptance and seasonal events such as Halloween; (iv) the effect of acquisitions on the Company's results of operations and financial condition; (v) the effect of changes in foreign currencies on the Company's foreign subsidiaries; (vi) the Company's reliance on third-party vendors for various goods and services; (vii) the Company's ability to successfully implement new production processes and lines; (viii) the effect of changes in assumptions, including discount rates, sales growth and profit margins, relating to the Company's impairment testing and analysis of its goodwill and trademarks; (ix) changes in the confectionary market place including actions taken by major retailers and customers; (x) customer and consumer response to marketing programs and price adjustments; (xi) changes in governmental laws and regulations including taxes; and (xii) changes in assumptions and judgments discussed under the heading Critical Accounting Policies included in the 2006 Report and incorporated by reference into this report. In addition, the Company's results may be affected by general factors, such as economic conditions, political developments, currency exchange rates, interest and inflation rates, accounting standards, taxes, and laws and regulations affecting the Company in markets where it competes and those factors described in Item 1A Risk Factors and elsewhere in this Annual Report on Form 10-K and in other Company filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

PART I

ITEM 1. Business.

Tootsie Roll Industries, Inc. and its consolidated subsidiaries (the Company) have been engaged in the manufacture and sale of confectionery products for over 100 years. This is the only industry segment in which the Company operates and is its only line of business. The majority of the Company's products are sold under the registered trademarks TOOTSIE ROLL, TOOTSIE ROLL POPS, CHILD'S PLAY, CARAMEL APPLE POPS, CHARMS, BLOW-POP, BLUE RAZZ, ZIP-A-DEE POPS, CELLA'S, MASON DOTS, MASON CROWS, JUNIOR MINT, CHARLESTON CHEW, SUGAR DADDY, SUGAR BABIES, ANDES, FLUFFY STUFF, DUBBLE BUBBLE, RAZZLES, CRY BABY and NIK-L-NIP. In 2004 the

Edgar Filing: TOOTSIE ROLL INDUSTRIES INC - Form 10-K

Company acquired the trademarks for DUBBLE BUBBLE, RAZZLES, CRY BABY and NIK-L-NIP along with their corresponding manufacturing assets and a 50% equity interest in a Spanish joint venture that manufactures and sells confectionery products, principally gum, from Concord Confections, Inc. and its affiliates for an adjusted aggregate purchase price, including direct transactions fees and expenses, of $212,474,000. See Note 12 of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements on Page 21 of the 2006 Report.

The Company's products are marketed in a variety of packages designed to be suitable for display and sale in different types of retail outlets. They are distributed through approximately 100 candy and grocery brokers and by the Company itself to approximately 15,000 customers throughout the United States. These customers include wholesale distributors of candy and groceries, supermarkets, variety stores, dollar stores, chain grocers, drug chains, discount chains, cooperative grocery associations, warehouse and membership club stores, vending machine operators, the U. S. military and fund-raising charitable organizations.

The Company's principal markets are in the United States, Canada and Mexico. The Company's Mexican plant supplies a very small percentage of the products marketed in the United States and Canada. The majority of production from the Company's Canadian plants is sold in the United States.

The domestic confectionery business is highly competitive. The Company competes primarily with other manufacturers of bar candy, bagged candy and bubble gum of the type sold in the above mentioned stores. Although accurate statistics are not available, the Company believes it is among the ten largest domestic manufacturers in this field. In the markets in which the Company competes, the main forms of competition comprise brand recognition as well as a fair price for our products at various retail price points.

The Company did not have a material backlog of firm orders at the end of the calendar years 2006 or 2005.

Packaging materials and ingredients used by the Company are readily obtainable from a number of suppliers at competitive prices. Prices for refined corn products including corn syrup and dextrose were higher as significant amounts of corn and corn refining capacity have been redirected to ethanol production. The domestic price of both raw and refined sugar, and the price of vegetable oil were higher in 2006 than in 2005 due to supply and demand. Packaging material costs, including films, cartons, and waxed paper, were higher in 2006, in part due to higher oil prices and tighter supplies of certain papers. Certain packaging, ingredients and supplies purchased locally for our Canadian plant were higher in 2006 due to the relative strength of the Canadian dollar. The Company continues to seek competitive bids to leverage the high volume of annual purchases it makes of these items and to lower per unit costs. The Company has engaged in hedging transactions, primarily in sugar, corn syrup and soybean oil and may do so in the future if and when advisable. From time to time, the Company changes the size of certain of its products, which are usually sold at standard prices, to reflect significant changes in raw material costs.

The Company does not hold any material patents, licenses, franchises or concessions. The Company's major trademarks are registered in the United States and in many other countries. Continued trademark protection is of material importance to the Company's business as a whole.

Although the Company does develop new products, including product line extensions for existing brands, the Company does not expend material amounts of money on research or development activities.

The Company's compliance with Federal, State and local regulations which have been enacted or adopted regulating the discharge of materials into the environment, or otherwise relating to the protection of the environment, has not had a material effect on the capital expenditures, earnings or competitive position of the Company nor does the Company anticipate any such material effects from presently enacted or adopted regulations.

The Company employs approximately 2,200 persons.

The Company has found that its sales normally maintain a consistent level throughout the year except for a substantial upsurge in the third quarter which reflects sales associated with Halloween. In anticipation of this high sales period, the Company generally begins its Halloween inventory build-up in the second quarter of each year. The Company historically offers extended credit terms for sales made under Halloween sales programs. Each year, after Halloween receivables have been collected, the Company invests such funds in various temporary cash investments.

Revenues from Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. aggregated approximately 23.7%, 24.0% and 20.8% of total net sales during the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004, respectively. Although no other customer other than Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. accounted for more than 10% of net sales, the loss of one or more significant customers could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business. In early 2006, one customer of the business acquired from Concord Confections terminated a contract manufacturing arrangement which accounted for approximately 2% of net sales in 2005.

For a summary of sales and long-lived assets of the Company by geographic area and additional information regarding the foreign subsidiaries of the Company, see Note 9 of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements on Page 20 of the 2006 Report and on Page 4 of the 2006 Report under the section entitled International. Note 9 and the aforesaid section are incorporated herein by reference. Portions of the 2006 Report are filed as an exhibit to this report.

Information regarding the Company's annual reports on Form 10-K, quarterly reports on Form 10-Q, current reports on Form 8-K, and any amendments to these reports, will be made available, free of charge, upon written request to Tootsie Roll Industries, Inc., 7401 South Cicero Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60629, Attention: Barry Bowen, Treasurer and Assistant Secretary. The Company does not make such reports available on its website at www.tootsie.com because it believes that they are readily available from the Securities Exchange Commission at www.sec.gov, and because the Company provides them free of charge upon request. Interested parties, including shareholders, may communicate to the Board of Directors or any individual director in writing, by regular mail, addressed to the Board of Directors or an individual director, in care of Tootsie Roll Industries, Inc., 7401 South Cicero Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60629, Attention: Ellen R. Gordon, President. If you wish to communicate directly with the Company's non-employee directors, please note that on the cover of the communication.

ITEM 1A. Risk Factors

Significant factors that could impact the Company's financial condition or results of operations include, without limitation, the following:

- Changes in the price and availability of raw materials - The packaging materials and several of the principal ingredients used by the Company are subject to price volatility. Although the Company engages in commodity hedging transactions and seeks to leverage the high volume of its annual purchases, the Company may experience price increases in these raw materials that it may not be able to offset, which could have an adverse impact on the Company's results of operations and financial condition. In addition, although the Company has historically been able to procure sufficient supplies of raw materials, market conditions could change such that adequate supplies might not be available.
- Changes in product performance and competition - The Company competes with other well-established manufacturers of confectionery products. A failure of new or existing products to be favorably received, a failure to retain preferred shelf space at retail or a failure to sufficiently counter aggressive competitive actions could have an adverse impact on the Company's results of operations and financial condition.
- Discounting and other competitive actions - Discounting and other competitive actions may make it more difficult for the Company to maintain its operating margins.
- Dependence on customers - The Company's largest customer, Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., accounted for approximately 23.7% of total net sales in 2006. The loss of Wal-Mart or one or more other large customers, or a material decrease in purchases by one or more large customers, could result in decreased sales and adversely impact the Company's results of operations and financial condition.
- Changes in consumer preferences and tastes - Failure to adequately anticipate and react to changing demographics, consumer trends, consumer health concerns and product preferences could have an adverse impact on the Company's results of operations and financial condition.

- Governmental laws and regulations - Governmental laws and regulations, including food and drug laws, laws related to advertising and marketing practices, accounting standards, taxation requirements, competition laws, employment laws and environmental laws, both in and outside the U.S., could adversely impact the Company's results of operations and ability to compete in domestic or foreign marketplaces.
- Labor stoppages - To the extent the Company experiences any material labor stoppages, such disputes or strikes could negatively affect shipments from suppliers or shipments of finished product.
- An increase in the cost of energy could affect our profitability - Recently, we have experienced significant increases in energy costs, and energy costs could continue to rise, which would result in higher distribution, freight and other operating costs. Our future operating expenses and margins will be dependent on our ability to manage the impact of cost increases. We cannot guarantee that we will be able to pass along increased energy costs to our customers through increased prices.
- Production interruptions - The majority of the Company's products are manufactured in a single production facility on specialized equipment. In the event of a disaster at a specific plant location it would be difficult to transfer production to other facilities in a timely manner, which could result in loss of market share for the affected products.
- International operations - While the countries in which the Company operates tend to be politically, socially and economically stable, to the extent there is political or social unrest, civil war, terrorism or significant economic instability, the results of the Company's business in such countries could be adversely impacted. Currency exchange rate fluctuations between the U.S. dollar and foreign currencies could have an adverse impact on the Company's results of operations and financial condition.

The factors identified above are believed to be significant factors, but not necessarily all of the significant factors, that could impact our business. Unpredictable or unknown factors could also have material effects on the Company.

Additional significant factors that may affect the Company's operations, performance and business results include the risks and uncertainties listed from time to time in filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission and the risk factors or uncertainties listed herein or listed in any document incorporated by reference herein.
