Item 8.01. Other Events.

Steel Dynamics, Inc. has adopted a majority voting standard applicable to stockholder voting in uncontested director elections. The change, enacted through an amendment of the company's Corporate Governance Policies, is effective immediately. In addition to the new majority voting standard, reflected in new Section II.D of the amended Corporate Governance Policies and described in further detail below, the amended Policies make conforming changes (by the addition of a final bullet in Section I and a new introductory paragraph in Section II.D) further defining the board's responsibilities in the director nomination and election process; renumber former Sections II.D through II.G as new Sections II.E through H; and adds a final paragraph in Section III.B, clarifying that membership of the company's Succession Planning Committee consists of the respective Chairs of the Audit, Compensation and Corporate Governance and Nominating Committees, together with the company's Lead Independent Director, who serves as the Committee's Chair.

With respect to the majority voting change, under new Section II.D of the amended Corporate Governance Policies, as a condition of a candidate's nomination as a director in an uncontested election, the candidate will be required to execute and tender an Irrevocable Advance Resignation, in the form attached as Annex A to the Policies, which, by its terms, becomes immediately and automatically effective, without more, in the event that that candidate receives less than a majority vote (specifically, the receipt of a withhold vote greater than 50% of the votes cast) for his or her election. Should this circumstance occur, the board would be required to accept the resignation, unless, upon a consideration of all pertinent factors, the board were to make an affirmative determination that accepting the resignation would not be in the best interest of the company and its stockholders.
