PART III NARRATIVE

State below in reasonable detail why Forms 10-K, 20-F, 11-K, 10-Q, 10-D, N-SAR, N-CSR, or the transition report or portion thereof, could not be filed within the prescribed time period.

As disclosed by Ball Corporation (the company) in its Current Report on Form 8-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on July 6, 2016 (the Form 8-K), on June 30, 2016, the company completed its previously announced acquisition of all of the issued and outstanding shares of Rexam PLC (Rexam) (the Rexam Acquisition). Subsequently, also on June 30, 2016 and as disclosed in the Form 8-K, the company completed its previously announced sale to Ardagh Group S.A. of certain company and Rexam equity and assets (the Divestiture). The Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2016 (the Form 10-K), will be the company's first annual filing since the completion of both the Rexam Acquisition and the Divestiture. Accordingly, the company requires additional time to complete certain disclosures and analyses to be included in the Form 10-K in relation to the Rexam Acquisition and the Divestiture, including certain documentation necessary relating to internal control over financial reporting associated with certain accounting matters related to the Rexam Acquisition and the gain on the sale of the Divestiture. The company is therefore unable to file its Form 10-K within the prescribed time period without unreasonable effort or expense. The company intends to file its Form 10-K within the grace period provided under Rule 12b-25.

(2) Have all other periodic reports required under Section 13 or 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or Section 30 of the Investment Company Act of 1940 during the preceding 12 months or for such shorter period that the registrant was required to file such report(s) been filed? If answer is no, identify report(s).

Yes  No

(3) Is it anticipated that any significant change in results of operations from the corresponding period for the last fiscal year will be reflected by the earnings statements to be included in the subject report or portion thereof?(1)

Yes  No

If so, attach an explanation of the anticipated change, both narratively and quantitatively, and, if appropriate, state the reasons why a reasonable estimate of the results cannot be made.

In 2016, Ball Corporation's results reflect a half-year of the benefits of the acquired Rexam business and the impacts of the sale of a significant portion of Ball Corporation's legacy beverage packaging businesses in Brazil and Europe along with significant non-comparable costs and benefits associated with these transactions. As a result, Ball Corporation expects the Form 10-K to reflect significant changes in its results of operations for the year ended December 31, 2016 as compared to the prior year on a U.S. GAAP basis.
