NEWS RELEASE

Calgary, Alberta, April 8, 2003 The Right Honourable Donald Mazankowski, chair of the Corporate Governance Committee, today outlined several developments concerning the corporate governance practices of Shaw Communications Inc.

In my report to the Annual Meeting of shareholders on December 4th, 2002, I emphasized the commitment of Shaw Communications Inc. to meeting the high standards of corporate governance and to developing corporate governance practices that would reflect new industry and regulatory standards as they evolved, said Mr. Mazankowski. We continue to make progress in updating and codifying our policies, procedures and practices. A part of this process is updating our shareholders and stakeholders of these developments.

Mr. Mazankowski noted that the Corporate Governance committee has been actively moving forward on updating its governance policies since the Annual Meeting and has made progress on the following issues:

Ensuring that the composition of three key Board committees - Audit, Corporate Governance, and Human Resources, are all composed of independent Directors;

Approving the mandate of the Audit committee to reflect the latest regulatory and governance practices,

Further developing (approving) the mandates of all other Board committees to reflect the latest regulatory and governance practices,

Reviewing and further developing a written policy on related party transactions for the Company,

Continuing to develop and roll out a code of business conduct standards for all employees of the Company,

Further improvements to Board effectiveness and evaluation procedures,

Ongoing monitoring of new reforms suggested by Canadian and American regulatory and self governing bodies.

Mr. Mazankowski noted that an essential part of improving governance practices was improved communication with shareholders: We believe that increased transparency in communicating our business activities leads to a more informed shareholder. This transparency improves the level of confidence of public investors and deepens the trust they have in our disclosure and accountability.

We believe that continued work needs to be done by the Company and all publicly traded company to re-establish a climate of trust with shareholders noted Jim Shaw, Chief Executive Officer of Shaw Communications Inc. We will continue to support the Board of Directors in its evaluation of our policies and the continued evolution of good governance practices.
