Item 2.02. Results of Operations and Financial Condition.

On May 22, 2013, 8x8, Inc., or the Company, issued a press release announcing its financial results for the three months and fiscal year ended March 31, 2013. A copy of this press release is furnished as Exhibit 99.1 to this report. The press release should be read in conjunction with the statements regarding forward-looking statements, which are included in the text of the release.

In addition to disclosing financial results calculated in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP), management also presents information regarding the Company's performance over comparable periods based on net income and net income per share, exclusive of loss on investment, non-cash tax adjustments, stock-based compensation, amortization of acquired intangible assets, acquisition-related costs, facility exit costs and gain on patent sale. Because management discloses financial measures calculated without taking into account these items, these financial measures are characterized as "non-GAAP financial measures" under Securities and Exchange Commission rules.

The gain on patent sale in fiscal 2013 was a $13.0 million gain that management believes is not reflective of its ongoing operations.

The loss on investment in fiscal 2012 was the write off of a small strategic investment the Company made in fiscal 2011 in Stonyfish, Inc. Management believes this loss is a one-time event and is not reflective of its ongoing operations. The Company does not have any other investments like this on its balance sheet as of March 31, 2013.

Non-cash tax adjustments represented the difference between the amount of taxes the Company expect to pay and the GAAP tax provision each period. In the fourth quarter of fiscal 2012, the Company released a $62.1 million deferred tax valuation allowance that reflects tax deferrals accumulated over many years. This $62.1 million release is very unlikely to recur in the future and is a non-cash transaction. Management excludes non-cash tax adjustments because they are non-cash transactions.

Stock-based compensation charges represent non-cash charges related to equity awards granted by the Company. Although these are recurring charges to the Company's operations, management has excluded stock-based compensation expense because it relies on valuations based on future events, such as the market price of the Company's common stock, that are difficult to predict and are affected by market factors that are largely not within the control the Company. Thus, management believes that excluding these charges facilitates comparisons of the Company's operational performance in different periods, as well as with similarly determined non-GAAP financial measures of comparable companies.

Amortization of acquired intangible assets results from the Company's acquisitions of Central Host, Inc. in fiscal 2011 and Contactual, Inc. and Zerigo, Inc. in fiscal 2012. Amortization of acquired intangible assets was excluded because it was a non-cash expense that the Company does not consider part of ongoing operations when assessing the Company's financial performance.

Acquisition-related expenses, including expenses to exit facilities, are difficult to predict and often one-time. Management believes these expenses are not reflective of the Company's ongoing operations in terms of evaluating comparable period-to-period performance.

Management and the Company's board of directors will continue to analyze these non-GAAP financial measures to assess the business and compare operating results to the Company's performance objectives. For example, the Company's budgeting and planning process utilizes these non-GAAP financial measures, along with other types of financial information.

The Company discloses these non-GAAP financial measures to the public as an additional means by which investors can assess the Company's performance and to identify the Company's operating results for investors on the same basis applied by management. The non-GAAP financial measures disclosed by the Company should not be considered a substitute for, or superior to, financial measures calculated in accordance with GAAP, and the financial results calculated in accordance with GAAP and reconciliations to those financial statements should be carefully evaluated. The non-GAAP financial measures used by the Company may be calculated differently from, and therefore may not be comparable to, similarly titled measures used by other companies. The Company has provided reconciliations of the non-GAAP financial measures to the most directly comparable GAAP financial measures in the press release furnished as Exhibit 99.1.

Moreover, although these non-GAAP financial measures adjust expense, they should not be viewed as a pro forma presentation reflecting the elimination of the underlying share-based compensation programs, which are an important element of the Company's compensation structure. GAAP requires that all forms of share-based payments should be valued and included, as appropriate, in results of operations. Management believes these expenses are a material part of the Company's operating results.
