Dear Fellow Shareholders,

For 2010, the Eagle Capital Growth Fund's net asset value (NAV) decreased 4%. By comparison, during the same six-month period, the S&P 500 lost 6.7%. Bear in mind our usual refrain--- we measure investment performance by looking at NAV, not the share market price.

To paraphrase Warren Buffett, virtually all of the surprises in the investment world are negative. (Buffett said this about the insurance business, but we think it equally apropos to investing generally.) During the first half of 2010, we had the Gulf oil spill, the Greek debt crisis (not to mention the rest of the PIIGS), stubbornly high domestic unemployment, the U.K. election (and uncertainty until David Cameron forged a coalition), wide-ranging national health care legislation, ongoing wars in Iraq and Afghanistan, unrestrained U.S. Government spending and borrowing, and a lackluster housing recovery, among the many problems facing investors. In fact, when we recently compiled a list of major risks and concerns for investors, we stopped counting when the list hit double digits. Benjamin Graham's admonition to focus on a "margin of safety" never has been more important or timely.

With all of the risks and uncertainties in the U.S. and the world, it is hard to get too excited about near-term investment opportunities. Since there are risks of inflation in the next five years, and virtually nonexistent short-term Treasury yields, we're comfortable owning high quality, dividend-paying multinationals that are growing their international businesses.

One of the nice things about a dull stock market is that it gives us plenty of time to read and research. We spend a lot of time trying to understand a company's long-term competitive position. Often these traits are not financial in nature, and therefore are ignored or not fully appreciated by analysts trying to determine this quarter's or next quarter's earnings.

A good example of a great business (and business model) is the Frito-Lay division of PepsiCo, Inc. (NYSE: PEP). Because the Frito-Lay business is buried inside of Pepsi, it is impossible to access complete financial information with respect to that business, although the North American and Latin American operations are broken out separately. Frito-Lay's business in those regions sport historic (and expected future) revenue growth in the 9% to 10% range, operating margins from 15% (Latin America) to 25% (North America) and likely earnings growth in low double digits. Take the domestic U.S. market, for example. Frito-Lay uses a direct-store delivery system (the largest in the U.S.) under which its products are delivered directly from Frito-Lay's manufacturing plants to supermarkets and other retailers, effectively bypassing, distributors, warehouses and other intermediaries. Frito-Lay salespeople, armed with wireless computers, compile orders, straighten shelves, replace inventory and bill customers immediately. This feet-on-the-ground, close-to-the-customer approach, combined with brands and products demanded by retail customers, makes it virtually impossible for competitors to dislodge Frito-Lay.

(This is the same Frito-Lay that drove Anheuser-Busch out of the "EAGLE" snacks business, and the maker of "BUDWEISER" beer is no slouch when it comes to brands, business strategy and hard ball competition.)

We should note the Fund reduced its position in Pepsi over the last quarter, due to higher levels of debt related to its purchase of its bottlers. We like Pepsi, but we love the Frito-Lay business.

We appreciate your continued support and confidence. We will strive to continue to earn it.

We love hearing from our fellow shareholders, even when (occasionally) they disagree with our investment decisions. It is always helpful to hear well-grounded arguments that challenge our view of the world; in many ways it is better to hear views that contradict our strongly-held opinions than to hear ones that reinforce our way of thinking. As always, we never comment on portfolio securities that we've sold (but not yet reported publicly), nor securities we're thinking about purchasing.

Notes to Financial Statements

(1) Organization.

Eagle Capital Growth Fund, Inc., a Maryland corporation (“Fund”), is a diversified closed-end investment company subject to the Investment Company Act of 1940.

(2) Significant Accounting Policies.

The following is a summary of the significant accounting policies followed by the Fund not otherwise set forth in the Notes to the Financial Statements:

Dividends and distributions—Dividends from the Fund’s net investment income and realized net long- and short-term capital gains will be declared and distributed at least annually.

Investments—Investments in equity securities are stated at market value, which is determined based on quoted market prices or dealer quotes. If no such price is available on the valuation date, the Board of Directors has determined that the most recent market price be used. The Fund uses the amortized cost method to determine the carrying value of short-term debt obligations. Under this method, investment securities are valued for both financial reporting and Federal tax purposes at amortized cost, which approximates fair value. Any discount or premium is amortized from the date of acquisition to maturity. Investment security purchases and sales are accounted for on a trade date basis. Interest income is accrued on a daily basis while dividends are included in income on the ex-dividend date.

Use of estimates—The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Federal income taxes—The Fund intends to comply with the general qualification requirements of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies such as the Fund. The Fund plans to distribute annually at least 90% of its taxable income, including net long-term capital gains, to its shareholders. In order to avoid imposition of the excise tax applicable to regulated investment companies, the Fund intends to declare as dividends in each calendar year an amount equal to at least 98% of its net investment income and 98% of its net realized capital gains (including undistributed amounts from previous years).

The following information is based upon the Federal income tax basis of portfolio investments as of June 30, 2010:

Gross unrealized appreciation	$4,420,615
Gross unrealized depreciation	(1,382,725)
Net unrealized appreciation	$3,037,890
Federal income tax basis	$17,079,062

Expenses—The Fund’s service providers bear all of their expenses in connection with the performance of their services. The Fund bears all of its expenses incurred in connection with its operations including, but not limited to, investment advisory fees (as discussed in Note 3), legal and audit fees, taxes, insurance, shareholder reporting and other related costs. As noted in Note 3, the Fund’s investment advisor, as part of its responsibilities under the Investment Advisory Agreement, is required to provide certain internal administrative services to the Fund at such investment advisor's expense. The Investment Advisory Agreement provides that the Fund may not incur annual aggregate expenses in excess of two percent (2%) of the first $10 million of the Fund's average net assets, one and a half percent (1.5%) of the next $20 million of the average net assets, and one percent (1%) of the remaining average net assets for any fiscal year. Any excess expenses are the responsibility of the investment advisor.

Fair Value Accounting—Effective January 1, 2008, the Fund adopted the accounting standard for fair value measurements, which established a framework for measuring fair value and expands disclosure about fair value measurements. The standard was issued to bring conformity to the definition of fair value; prior to the standard, there was no conformity in the accounting guidance regarding the definition of fair value.

Valuation Hierarchy

The standard establishes a three-level valuation hierarchy for disclosure of fair value measurements. The valuation hierarchy is based upon the transparency of inputs to the valuation of an asset or liability as of the measurement date. The three levels are defined as follows:

Level 1 – inputs to the valuation methodology are quoted prices (unadjusted) for identical assets or liabilities in active markets in which the Fund can participate.

Level 2 – inputs to the valuation methodology include quoted prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets, and inputs that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly, for substantially the full term of the financial instrument.

Level 3 – inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement, and include inputs that are available in situations where there is little, if any, market activity for the related asset or liability.

A financial instrument's categorization within the valuation hierarchy is based upon the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

The following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for instruments measured at fair value, as well as the general classification of such instruments pursuant to the valuation hierarchy.

All of the Fund's common stock investments of $20,116,951 and cash equivalents of $572,696 are classified within the Level 1 of the valuation hierarchy as quoted prices are available in an active market.

(3) Certain Service Providers Arrangements

Investment advisor—For its services under the Investment Advisory agreement, the investment advisor receives a monthly fee calculated at an annual rate of three-quarters of one percent (0.75%) of the weekly net asset value of the Fund, as long as the weekly net asset value is at least $3.8 million. The investment advisor is not entitled to any compensation for any week in which the average weekly net asset value falls below $3.8 million. Pursuant to the Investment Advisory Agreement, the investment advisor is required to provide certain internal administrative services to the Fund at the investment advisor's expense.

Effective June 1, 2007, following shareholder approval of the Investment Advisory Agreement, Sims Capital Management LLC ("SCM") began serving as the Fund's investment advisor. Pursuant to the Investment Advisory Agreement, SCM is responsible for the management of the Fund's portfolio, subject to oversight by the Fund's Board of Directors. SCM is 50% owned by Luke E. Sims, the President, CEO and a Director of the Fund, as well as an owner of more than five percent of the Fund's outstanding shares. David C. Sims, the Fund's Chief Financial Officer, Chief Compliance Officer and Secretary owns the remaining 50% of SCM.

Custodian—Bank of America Corporation serves as the Fund's custodian pursuant to a custodian agreement. As the Fund's custodian, Bank of America receives fees and compensation of expenses for services provided including, but not limited to, an annual account charge, annual security fee, security transaction fee and statement of inventory fee.

Transfer Agent—Transfer agent American Stock Transfer & Trust Company ("AST") is the Fund's transfer agent and dividend disbursing agent pursuant to custody agreements. AST receives fees for services provided including, but not limited to, account maintenance fees, activity and transaction processing fees and reimbursement for its out-of-pocket expenses. AST is also the agent under the Fund's Dividend Reinvestment and Cash Purchase Plan.

(4) Dividend Reinvestment and Cash Purchase Plan.

The Fund has a Dividend Reinvestment and Cash Purchase Plan ("Plan") which allows shareholders to reinvest cash dividends and make cash contributions. Pursuant to the terms of the DRIP, cash dividends may be used by the DRIP agent to either purchase shares from the Fund or in the open market, depending on the most favorable pricing available to DRIP participants. Voluntary cash contributions from DRIP participants are used to purchase Fund shares in the open market. A complete copy of the DRIP is available on the Fund's website (www.eaglecapitalgrowthfund.com) or from AST, the DRIP agent.

(5) Distributions to Shareholders.

The Fund did not make a distribution to shareholders between January 1, 2010 and June 30, 2010.

(6) Fund Investment Transactions.

Purchases and sales of securities, other than short-term securities, for the six-month period ended June 30, 2010 were $10,652,447 and $7,959,399, respectively.

Financial Highlights.

The Financial Highlights present a per share analysis of how the Fund's net asset value has changed during the periods presented. Additional quantitative measures expressed in ratio form analyze important relationships between certain items presented in the financial statements. The total investment return based on market value assumes that shareholders bought into the Fund at the bid price and sold out of the Fund at the bid price. In reality, shareholders buy into the Fund at the asked price and sell out of the Fund at the bid price. Therefore, actual returns may differ from the amounts and percentages shown.

2010 Annual Shareholder Meeting

The Fund's 2010 annual meeting of shareholders ("Annual Meeting") was held on April 15, 2010, for the following purposes:

1. To elect a Board of six (6) Directors.
2. To ratify the selection of Plante & Moran, PLLC as the independent registered public accountants of the Fund for the calendar year ending December 31, 2010.
