Item 8.01. Other Events

Lamperd Develops A New Next To Lethal WASP Round

Lamperd Less lethal has developed a new, more aggressive series of WASP round ammunition for standard firearms: the 9mm, 5.56, 7.62 and soon the 40 cal. These rounds are NOT in the Less Lethal category and have been designed to meet the needs when an active shooter situation presents itself: such as in schools, public buildings, and Military peace keeping. THESE ROUNDS HAVE LESS PENETRATION THAN STANDARD AMMUNITION, WILL NOT PASS THROUGH THE TARGET AND HIT A BYSTANDER AND DO NOT RICOCHET LIKE STANDARD AMMUNITION. The new WASP rounds are designed to cause grievous bodily harm or death. We have created a new introduction video of this ammunition in use. The video is in a school setting and can be seen on the main page of www.lamperdtraining.com. It is also being posted on YouTube.

To compliment the development of these new rounds the Lamperd training programs will be expanded. We anticipate a need for extensive training of the people using these rounds, those who do not normally use firearms. Lamperd's plan is to train these people on the use of these products and other products that may be appropriate for their situation.
