BARCLAYS STRENGTHENS ITS POSITION IN AFRICA WITH ACQUISITION OF NILE BANK IN UGANDA

Barclays Bank PLC ("Barclays") and the shareholders of Nile Bank are pleased to announce that they have reached agreement in principle for Barclays to acquire 100% of the share capital of Nile Bank. The acquisition will lead to Barclays and Nile Bank combining their distribution network, customer base and know-how to establish a leading position in the market and to drive further business growth. Barclays expects the transaction to complete during the first quarter of 2007, subject to finalisation of confirmatory due diligence and documentation and to receipt of regulatory approval.

Nile Bank is the seventh largest commercial bank in Uganda with 18 branches, 228 employees and a strong retail customer base. It was the first Ugandan bank to extend its branch network beyond Kampala, the capital city, and the first indigenous bank to offer cash machines to its customers. At the end of 2005 Nile Bank had assets of UGX 134bn (GBP38.4m) and revenues of UGX 18bn (GBP5.3m).

The enlarged operations will comprise 25 branches and around 400 employees, signifying Barclays ongoing commitment to the Ugandan economy.

Commenting on the transaction, Nick Mbuvi, Managing Director of Barclays Bank of Uganda said: "Nile Bank's domestic banking expertise in Uganda and strong expertise in the small and medium-sized business sector will enable us significantly to strengthen and expand our presence in Uganda. We look forward to welcoming the Nile Bank staff into Barclays. Their local industry experience will be crucial to developing this business. This acquisition signals Barclays commitment to developing its African businesses and to being a leading contributor to Africa's future."

Richard Byarugaba, Managing Director of Nile Bank, Uganda, said: "We are confident that Barclays is well positioned to build upon the strength of this business to the benefit of our Ugandan customers. Barclays global reach, scale and widely recognised brand makes it the ideal choice for Nile Bank. Our combined teams will create exciting growth opportunities for our customers and our employees.

"We are pleased that our management, staff and customers will benefit from the opportunity to participate in such a dynamic and international business."
