Issued: Friday 29 June 2012, London UK - LSE Announcement

GSK sets 20 July for expiration of tender offer to acquire Human Genome Sciences

- Expiration is after HGS process bid deadline of 16 July
- Enables HGS shareholders to evaluate outcome of process and GSK's offer

GlaxoSmithKline plc (LSE: GSK) today announced it has extended its tender offer to acquire all of the outstanding shares of Human Genome Sciences (NASDAQ: HGS) for US$13.00 per share in cash to 5:00 p.m. New York City time on 20 July 2012.

GSK's tender offer will expire after 16 July, the deadline set by HGS for submission of definitive acquisition proposals in its strategic alternatives review process which began on 19 April after GSK made a private proposal on 11 April. GSK believes the three months that will have passed since the start of this process is more than adequate time for the HGS Board to bring it to completion. Extension of the tender offer to 20 July will provide HGS shareholders the opportunity to evaluate the outcome of the HGS Board's process relative to GSK's offer. Based on circumstances at that time, GSK will consider all available options regarding its offer but can make no assurance that the tender offer will be further extended. As GSK has clearly stated, the company remains willing to meet and review its offer with HGS at any time.

GSK's offer, which is not conditioned on due diligence or financing, represents a premium of 81 percent to HGS's closing share price of US$7.17 on 18 April, the last trading day before HGS publicly disclosed GSK's private offer. GSK's offer reflects the value of Benlysta, darapladib, albiglutide, HGS's operating and financial assets, and expected cost synergies of at least US$200 million. For HGS shareholders, it provides immediate liquidity at a substantial premium while eliminating further exposure to the significant execution risk inherent in HGS achieving its future growth objectives.

Given its near 20-year relationship with HGS and ownership of 50% of Benlysta as well as the vast majority of the economics associated with albiglutide and darapladib, GSK continues to believe it is uniquely positioned to deliver on the opportunity of the proposed combination.

The closing of the tender offer is subject to the terms and conditions detailed in the amended tender offer documents as filed on Schedule TO with the SEC on 10 May and 23 May. Except for the extension of the tender offer expiration date, all other terms and conditions of the offer remain unchanged. The tender offer was previously scheduled to expire at 5:00 p.m. New York City time, on Friday 29 June. As of the close of business on 28 June, approximately 375,526 had been tendered and not withdrawn, pursuant to the offer.

Lazard and Morgan Stanley are acting as financial advisors to GSK and Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton and Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz are providing legal advice.
