Item 7.01 Regulation FD Disclosure.

On November 16, 2006, T. Jay Collins, our President and Chief Executive Officer, will deliver a presentation at the 2006 Lehman Brothers Small Cap Conference in Dana Point, CA. Also on November 16, 2006, Marvin J. Migura, our Chief Financial Officer, will deliver a presentation at the Bank of America 2006 Energy Conference in Key Biscayne, FL. Both presentations are available on our web site by using the Investor Relations link on our website, www.oceaneering.com or by going directly to www.oceaneering.com/InvestorRelations.asp.

Please note that certain information contained in the presentation, as well as certain written and oral statements made or incorporated by reference from time to time by us or our representatives in our reports and filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, news releases, conferences, teleconferences, web postings or otherwise, are forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 and are subject to the Safe Harbor provisions of those statutes. Forward-looking statements are generally accompanied by words such as estimate, project, predict, believe, expect, anticipate, plan, forecast, budget, goal or other words that convey the uncertainty of future events or outcomes. Among items, the forward-looking statements include statements about:

Our earnings per share (EPS) outlook for 2006 and 2007, including specific operating income contribution estimates for ROVs, Subsea Products, and Subsea Projects;

2006 EPS expected to nearly double 2005 results;

2007 EPS anticipated to grow approximately 20% over 2006 results;

Anticipated growth in deepwater oil and gas production;

Future floating rig new builds;

Expansion of our ROV fleet for both drill support and construction service;

Drill support contracting opportunities on the existing floating rig fleet and announced future new builds;

2006 ROV operating income anticipated to be over 50% better than 2005 due to an increase in fleet size, higher fleet utilization, and higher average pricing;

2007 ROV operating income forecast to grow $25 to $35 million over 2006 results due to an increase in fleet size and higher average pricing;

Subsea completions expected to more than triple in this decade;

Subsea tree orders forecast;

Subsea umbilical and tree control hardware CAPEX forecast for 2006-2008 expected to increase 180% over 2003-2005;

Edgar Filing: OCEANEERING INTERNATIONAL INC - Form 8-K

2006 Subsea Products operating income anticipated to be almost four times 2005 results due to an improvement in profitability across all product lines;

2007 Subsea Products operating income forecast to grow $35 to $45 million over 2006 results due to an improvement in profitability across all product lines;

Forecast that cumulative subsea tree installations in the Gulf of Mexico will approximately double between the end of 2005 and 2010.

Anticipation that Subsea Projects service demand for deepwater inspection, repair, and maintenance services will increase in 2007;

Anticipation that Subsea Projects service demand for hurricane damage work will last the next few years, albeit at a lower level than in 2006;

2006 Subsea Projects operating income anticipated to be more than double 2005 results;

2007 Subsea Projects operating income projected be about the same as 2006 results;

Anticipated industry award and commencement of several large hurricane damage repair projects in 2007;

Our projected 2006 and 2007 Cash Flow from Operations (as defined and reconciled to GAAP measures in the Supplemental Financial Information to the presentation); and

Our projected 2006 and 2007 EBITDA (as defined and reconciled to GAAP measures in the Supplemental Financial Information to the presentation).

These forward-looking statements are based on our current information and expectations that involve a number of risks, uncertainties, and assumptions. Among the factors that could cause the actual results to differ materially from those indicated in the forward-looking statements are:

worldwide demand for oil and gas;

general economic and business conditions and industry trends;

the ability of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) to set and maintain production levels and pricing;

the level of production by non-OPEC countries;

domestic and foreign tax policy;

Edgar Filing: OCEANEERING INTERNATIONAL INC - Form 8-K

laws and governmental regulations that restrict exploration and development of oil and gas in various offshore jurisdictions;

rapid technological changes;

the political environment of oil-producing regions;

the price and availability of alternative fuels;

competitive factors;

overall economic conditions; and our ability to obtain new projects and the timing of new projects we do obtain.

Should one or more of these risks or uncertainties materialize, or should the assumptions underlying the forward-looking statements prove incorrect, actual outcomes could vary materially from those indicated. For additional information regarding these and other factors that could cause our actual results to differ materially from those expressed in our forward-looking statements, see our filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including our Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2006 and our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2005.

We do not undertake any obligation to update or revise any of our forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.
