Item 2.05 Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities.

Capital One Financial Corporation (Capital One or the Company) today announced via press release that it will cease residential mortgage origination operations of its wholesale mortgage banking unit, GreenPoint Mortgage, effective immediately. Current conditions in the secondary mortgage markets create significant near-term profitability challenges, given the company s originate and sell business model. Further, recent and continuing developments in the mortgage markets reduce the long-term outlook for profitability in the business, as the company expects markets for prime non-conforming mortgage products are likely to remain challenged for the foreseeable future. GreenPoint will cease making new loan commitments immediately; however, it will continue to meet its contractual obligations to customers for loan commitments that are in the pipeline with rates locked. A copy of the Company s press release is attached to this report.

The Company estimated that the total after-tax charges associated with this closure will be approximately $860 million or $2.15 per share, the vast majority of which is expected to be incurred in 2007. Approximately $650 million of these expenses result from the non-cash write-down of goodwill associated with the acquisition of GreenPoint Mortgage as part of the North Fork Bancorporation in December 2006. The remaining $210 million of after-tax charges includes approximately $100 million in after-tax restructuring charges associated with severance benefits and facilities closure, and approximately $110 million after-tax valuation adjustment related to ongoing operations in the third quarter.
