ITEM 8.01. Other Events.

On January 31, 2008, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit in Washington, D.C. unanimously ruled in favor of TiVo Inc. in connection with EchoStar's appeal of the district court judgment of patent infringement against EchoStar with respect to several claims (so called software claims) in TiVo's U.S. Patent No. 6,233,389, entitled Multimedia Time Warping System. It also upheld the full award of damages from the district court and ordered that the stay of the district court's injunction against EchoStar's infringing digital video recorders, which was issued pending appeal, will dissolve when the appeal becomes final. The district court's judgment of infringement by EchoStar of certain other claims of the patent (so called hardware claims) was reversed and remanded for further proceedings.
