On September 27, 2010, Southwest Airlines Co. (Southwest) launched a website in connection with its proposed acquisition of AirTran Holdings, Inc. (AirTran). The website www.lowfaresfarther.com includes a video featuring Gary C. Kelly, Southwest's Chairman of the Board, President and Chief Executive Officer. A transcript of the video is included below.

On behalf of Southwest Airlines, we are thrilled with the opportunity to welcome AirTran Airways and their outstanding Crew Members to our Southwest Family. While it is subject to regulatory and AirTran stockholder approvals, the Boards of each airline have approved this transaction. Once we close, probably next year, it will take us months to integrate AirTran into Southwest. The opportunity to blend two like-minded Customer Service organizations is truly exciting.

Like Southwest, AirTran is a high-quality, low-cost operation with a low-fare brand, and enthusiastic Crew Members. While smaller than Southwest, AirTran has a significant and popular presence in Atlanta, the largest U.S. market currently not on the Southwest route map.

AirTran also brings us more access to New York and Washington, D.C., as well as a host of smaller U.S. cities, and a handful of destinations in the Caribbean and Mexico.

When it's done, Southwest can grow roughly 25 percent, with exciting new destinations, 138 more Boeing aircraft, and more flights to many incredible destinations.

Customers will benefit as we expand our network, diversify into new markets, and bring low fares and great Customer Service. We will continue to build upon the outstanding Customer Experience and strong Culture of both Southwest and AirTran.

Above all, we'll remain focused on operational performance and Safety.

I invite you to explore this website and return often as we'll be updating it with ongoing developments and announcements.

In the meantime, we thank you for your interest in Southwest and AirTran. We look forward to the opportunity to serve you soon.
