Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

On December 16, 2010, Eagle Materials Inc. (Company) entered into the Second Amended and Restated Credit Agreement (Credit Agreement) with the banks and financial institutions party thereto, including JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. as Administrative Agent, Bank of America, N.A. and Branch Banking and Trust Company as Co-Syndication Agents, and Regions Bank and Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. as Co-Documentation Agents, establishing a 5-year $300 million, senior revolving credit facility. The Credit Agreement also provides that the Company may request an increase of the aggregate commitment by an amount up to $100 million although no lender is obligated to increase its commitment. The Credit Agreement matures on December 16, 2015 and replaces the Company's previous $350 million revolving credit facility which was scheduled to mature on June 30, 2011.

Borrowings under the Credit Agreement will bear interest, at the Company's option, at a floating rate equal to either (a) the Alternate Base Rate (as defined in the Credit Agreement), plus a margin between 0.00% and 1.25%, depending on the Company's ratio of consolidated indebtedness to consolidated EBITDA, which is defined as earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization, or (b) the eurodollar deposit rate in the London interbank market, plus a margin between 1.00% and 2.25%, depending on the ratio of our consolidated debt to consolidated EBITDA. The Company will pay a commitment fee equal to 0.10% to 0.35% of the unused commitment, depending on the ratio of our consolidated debt to consolidated EBITDA. Any proceeds from borrowings under the Credit Agreement may be used for general corporate purposes. Loans under the credit facility may be prepaid without premium or penalty.

The Credit Agreement contains customary representations and warranties and customary affirmative and negative covenants that, among other things, restrict the Company's and certain of its subsidiaries' ability, in certain circumstances, to (1) incur indebtedness, (2) create liens, (3) engage in fundamental transactions or material asset sales, (4) make certain investments, loans or advances, (5) enter into certain swap or similar agreements, (6) make certain restricted payments, (7) engage in certain transactions with affiliates, (8) enter into certain types of restrictive agreements, and (9) enter into certain sale and lease-back transactions. The restrictions imposed by these negative covenants are, in several instances, reduced or eliminated during times that the Company's ratio of consolidated indebtedness to consolidated EBITDA is less than or equal to 3.00 to 1.00, on a rolling four quarter basis. The Credit Agreement also contains financial covenants requiring minimum interest coverage ratio and maximum leverage ratio. The Company's ratio of consolidated EBITDA to consolidated interest expense may not be less than 2.50 to 1.00, on a rolling four quarter basis. The Company's ratio of consolidated indebtedness to consolidated EBITDA may not exceed 3.50 to 1.00, on a rolling four quarter basis.

The Credit Agreement contains customary default provisions, including, but not limited to, the failure to make required payments; material breaches of representations, warranties or certifications; the failure to observe or perform certain covenants, conditions or agreements; the failure to pay or default of certain other indebtedness; certain adverse material monetary judgments, bankruptcy, insolvency and a change of control; and the invalidity or unenforceability of the subsidiary guaranty, described below. If any such Events of Default (as defined in the Credit Agreement) have occurred and are continuing, then the lenders would be permitted to declare any outstanding amounts immediately payable and would be permitted to terminate future lending commitments.

Borrowings under the Credit Agreement are guaranteed by all major operating subsidiaries of the Company.

The Credit Agreement is being filed with this Current Report on Form 8-K as Exhibit 10.1. The foregoing descriptions of the Credit Agreement is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the Credit Agreement, which is incorporated herein by reference.

Item 1.02. Termination of a Material Definitive Agreement

Such termination occurred at the time the Company entered into the Second Amended and Restated Credit Agreement described in Item 1.01 of this Current Report on Form 8-K, which description is incorporated herein by reference.
