(3) Operating Results

Looking back at the global economy in the third quarter of 2014, the U.S. economy, buoyed by strong consumer spending, recovered steadily. In Europe, the economy remained sluggish, with deteriorating conditions in Russia potentially having a negative effect on the recovery in neighboring euro area countries. The pace of economic expansion in China was modest while other emerging countries in Southeast Asia and South America faced slowdowns in market growth due to economic stagnation. As for Japan, with the economy yet to recover from the decline following the rush in demand leading up to the hike in the country's consumption tax, growth fell short of the rate recorded in the same period of the previous year. As global growth projections get revised downward with each passing quarter, the outlook for the global economy grows increasingly uncertain.

Looking at the markets in which Canon operates amid these conditions, demand for office multifunction devices (MFDs) and laser printers maintained steady growth. Demand for interchangeable-lens digital cameras remained sluggish due to the delayed economic recovery in Europe and the still depressed demand in Japan following the rush in demand prior to the consumption tax increase, while in China demand showed hearty signs of recovery. As for digital compact cameras, demand continued to shrink in both developed countries and emerging markets. Looking at the market for inkjet printers, demand decreased slightly from the previous year. In the industry and others sector, a rebound in capital investment for both image sensors and memory devices led to a pickup in demand for semiconductor lithography equipment, while demand for lithography equipment used in the production of flat panel displays (FPDs) for tablets and TV screens increased, fueling continued customer investment.

The average values of the yen during the third quarter and first nine months of the year were ¥104.22 and ¥103.01 to the U.S. dollar, respectively, year-on-year depreciations of approximately ¥5 and ¥6, and ¥137.78 and ¥139.53 to the euro, respectively, year-on-year depreciations of approximately ¥7 and ¥12.

Third-quarter results

During the third quarter, although MFDs enjoyed hearty demand and industrial equipment sales increased, the delayed recovery in demand for interchangeable-lens digital cameras and the continued shrinking of the market for digital compact cameras led to reduced net sales. As a result, third-quarter net sales decreased 4.5% year on year to ¥872.2 billion. The gross profit ratio for the third quarter rose 0.5 points year on year to 49.5% thanks to a production shift to highly profitable high-added-value products and ongoing cost-cutting activities at production sites along with the depreciation of the yen. Despite an increase in foreign-currency-denominated operating expenses due to the depreciation of the yen, Group-wide efforts to thoroughly reduce spending contributed to limiting the increase in operating expenses to just ¥359.6 billion, an increase of 0.9% year on year. As a result, third-quarter operating profit decreased by 20.7% year on year to ¥71.8 billion. Other income for the quarter increased by ¥10.9 billion due to foreign currency exchange gains while income before income taxes decreased by 9.0% to ¥80.2 billion. Net income attributable to Canon Inc. decreased by 1.0% to ¥58.2 billion.

(3) Operating Results (continued)

Basic net income attributable to Canon Inc. stockholders per share for the third quarter was ¥52.67, an increase of ¥1.47 compared with the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

Nine-month results

During the first nine-months, although MFDs enjoyed hearty demand and industrial equipment sales increased significantly compared with those during the severe market conditions faced in the corresponding period of the previous year, the delayed recovery in demand for interchangeable-lens digital cameras and the continued shrinking of the market for digital compact cameras led to reduced net sales. As a result, net sales for the nine months ended September 30, 2014, totaled ¥2,667.3 billion, a year-on-year decline of 1.1%. The gross profit ratio for the first nine months of the year rose 1.9 points year on year to 50.5% thanks to a shift in production to highly profitable high-added-value products and improved factory utilization through optimized production along with the depreciation of the yen. Despite an increase in foreign-currency-denominated operating expenses due to the depreciation of the yen, Group-wide efforts to thoroughly reduce spending contributed to limiting the increase in operating expenses to just ¥1,081.4 billion, an increase of 1.4% year on year. As a result, operating profit for the first nine months increased by 8.7% year on year to ¥265.0 billion. Other income for the nine-month period increased by ¥7.9 billion due to foreign currency exchange gains while income before income taxes increased by 11.8% to ¥276.3 billion. Net income attributable to Canon Inc. increased by 12.3% to ¥186.7 billion.

Basic net income attributable to Canon Inc. stockholders per share for the first nine months was ¥167.10 a year-on-year increase of ¥22.70.

Looking at Canon's performance for the first nine months by business unit, within the Office Business Unit, although sales of color office MFDs increased significantly from the year-ago period, led by healthy growth of the imageRUNNER ADVANCE C5200 series along with well-received new models, total sales volume remained at the same level as the previous year due to sluggish demand for monochrome models. As for high-speed continuous-feed printers, the Océ ColorStream 3000 series enjoyed solid sales. Among laser printers, although color multifunction models recorded sales growth, total sales volume decreased slightly from the year-ago period owing to the decrease in demand for monochrome models. As a result, in addition to the positive effects of favorable currency exchange rates, sales for the business unit totaled ¥1,513.9 billion, a year-on-year increase of 2.4%, while operating profit totaled ¥218.5 billion, increasing 7.4%.

Within the Imaging System Business Unit, although sales volume of interchangeable-lens digital cameras declined owing to the shrinking market in Japan and other regional markets due to the delayed economic recovery, the advanced-amateur-model EOS 70D realized healthy growth, enabling Canon to maintain the top share in such major markets as Europe, the U.S. and Japan. As for digital compact cameras, despite a decline in total sales volume, sales of high-added-value models featuring high image quality and high-magnification zoom capabilities recorded solid growth, enabling the maintaining of a high market share. Looking at inkjet printers, amid the market contraction due to the delay in economic recovery, sales volume decreased from the previous year while sales of consumable supplies increased from the year-ago period. As a result, sales for the first nine months of the year totaled ¥941.0 billion, decreasing 8.9% year on year, while operating profit totaled ¥136.3 billion, a decrease of 3.8% year on year.

In the Industry and Others Business Unit, ongoing investment by memory device manufacturers in response to the healthy growth in demand for smartphones and tablets led to increased sales of semiconductor lithography equipment for the first nine months while a recovery in investment for panels used for tablets and TV screens boosted unit sales of FPD lithography equipment. Consequently, sales for the first nine months of the year totaled ¥282.1 billion, an increase of 10.1% year on year, while operating profit recorded a loss of ¥15.1 billion owing to investment into next-generation technologies, an improvement of ¥6.4 billion from the year-ago period.

First nine-month results by major geographic area are summarized as follows:

Japan

The Japanese economy has not recovered fully from the decline following the rush in demand leading up to the hike in the country's consumption tax. Net sales in Japan for the first nine months decreased by 3.3% from the year-ago period to ¥1,884.2 billion. On the other hand, operating profit increased by 6.5% year on year to ¥252.4 billion over the same period owing to cost savings.

Americas

Net sales for the first nine months decreased by 6.0% from the year-ago period to ¥730.5 billion owing to the delayed recovery in the interchangeable-lens digital camera market and the contraction of the digital compact camera market. Operating profit for the nine months totaled ¥15.5 billion, a decrease of 24.8% year on year.

Europe

Amid the increasing economic uncertainty, laser printer sales remained sluggish and the recovery in demand for interchangeable-lens digital cameras has been delayed. As a result, net sales for the first nine months decreased by 3.2% compared with the same period of the previous year to ¥817.9 billion. Operating profit on the other hand, realizing a turnaround, totaled ¥3.2 billion for the first nine months owing to efforts to curtail spending.

Asia and Oceania

While there have been some signs of demand recovery for interchangeable-lens digital cameras in China, a turnaround in demand for digital compact cameras and inkjet printers has been delayed. As a consequence, net sales decreased by 5.9% to ¥1,161.8 billion for the first nine months. Operating profit for the first nine months, however, increased by 4.4% to ¥56.0 billion thanks to increasing the ratio of highly profitable high-added-value products.

Cash Flows

During the first nine months of 2014, cash flow from operating activities totaled ¥398.6 billion, an increase of ¥55.2 billion compared with the previous year owing to the increase in profit as well as an improvement in working capital. Although capital investment was focused on new products, cash flow from investing activities increased ¥23.8 billion year on year to ¥231.4 billion as a result of an outlay for the acquisition of Milestone Systems aimed at enhancing the network camera business and several other companies. Accordingly, free cash flow totaled ¥167.2 billion, an increase of ¥31.4 billion compared with the corresponding year-ago period.

Cash flow from financing activities recorded an outlay of ¥250.7 billion, mainly arising from the dividend payout and the repurchasing of treasury stock.

Owing to these factors, as well as the impact of foreign currency translation adjustments, cash and cash equivalents decreased by ¥81.6 billion to ¥707.3 billion from the end of the previous year.

Management Issues to be Addressed

No material changes or issues with respect to business operations and finances have occurred during the nine months ended September 30, 2014.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

(1) Basis of Presentation and Significant Accounting Policies

(a) Basis of Presentation

The Company issued convertible debentures in the United States in May 1969 and established a program in which its American Depositary Receipts (ADRs) were traded in the U.S. over-the-counter market. Since then, under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933 and the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the Company has prepared its annual consolidated financial statements in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (U.S. GAAP) and filed them with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission on Form 20-F. The Company's ADRs were listed on the NYSE in September 2000 after being quoted on NASDAQ from February 1972 to September 2000.

Canon's quarterly consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with the recognition and measurement criteria of accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. Certain disclosures have been omitted.

The number of consolidated subsidiaries and affiliated companies that were accounted for by the equity method basis as of September 30, 2014 and December 31, 2013 are summarized as follows:

	September 30, 2014	December 31, 2013
Consolidated subsidiaries	261	257
Affiliated companies	9	11
Total	270	268

(b) Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company, its majority owned subsidiaries and those variable interest entities where the Company or its consolidated subsidiaries are the primary beneficiaries. All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated.

(c) Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In May 2014, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued a new accounting standard related to revenue from contracts with customers. This standard requires an entity to recognize revenue when promised goods or services are transferred to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. This standard is effective for annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2016 and is required to be adopted by Canon from the first quarter beginning January 1, 2017. Early adoption is not permitted. This standard may be applied retrospectively to each prior reporting period presented or retrospectively with the cumulative effect of initially applying this standard recognized at the date of initial application. Canon has not selected a transition method and is currently evaluating the effect that the adoption of this standard will have on its consolidated results of operations and financial condition.

Maturities of available-for-sale debt securities included in investments in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets were as follows at September 30, 2014:

	Millions of yen
	Cost	Fair value
Due after one year through five years	10	10
Due after five years	809	864
	819	874

Realized gains and losses are determined using the average cost method and are reflected in earnings. The gross realized gains were ¥2,350 million and ¥1,635 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively. The gross realized losses, including write-downs for impairments that were other than temporary, were ¥14 million and ¥2 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively. The gross realized gains were ¥22 million and ¥49 million for the three months ended September 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively. The gross realized losses, including write-downs for impairments that were other than temporary, were nil for the three months ended September 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively.

At September 30, 2014, substantially all of the available-for-sale securities with unrealized losses had been in a continuous unrealized loss position for less than twelve months.

Time deposits with original maturities of more than three months are ¥84,483 million and ¥47,914 million at September 30, 2014 and December 31, 2013, respectively, and are included in short-term investments in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets.

Aggregate cost of non-marketable equity securities accounted for under the cost method totaled ¥1,319 million and ¥14,794 million at September 30, 2014 and December 31, 2013, respectively. These investments were not evaluated for impairment at September 30, 2014 and December 31, 2013, respectively, because (a) Canon did not estimate the fair value of those investments as it was not practicable to estimate the fair value of the investments and (b) Canon did not identify any events or changes in circumstances that might have had significant adverse effects on the fair value of those investments.

(11) Derivatives and Hedging Activities

Risk management policy

Canon operates internationally, exposing it to the risk of changes in foreign currency exchange rates. Derivative financial instruments are comprised principally of foreign exchange contracts utilized by the Company and certain of its subsidiaries to reduce the risk. Canon assesses foreign currency exchange rate risk by continually monitoring changes in the exposures and by evaluating hedging opportunities. Canon does not hold or issue derivative financial instruments for trading purposes. Canon is also exposed to credit-related losses in the event of non-performance by counterparties to derivative financial instruments, but it is not expected that any counterparties will fail to meet their obligations. Most of the counterparties are internationally recognized financial institutions and selected by Canon taking into account their financial condition, and contracts are diversified across a number of major financial institutions.

Foreign currency exchange rate risk management

Canon's international operations expose Canon to the risk of changes in foreign currency exchange rates. Canon uses foreign exchange contracts to manage certain foreign currency exchange exposures principally from the exchange of U.S. dollars and euros into Japanese yen. These contracts are primarily used to hedge the foreign currency exposure of forecasted intercompany sales and intercompany trade receivables that are denominated in foreign currencies. In accordance with Canon's policy, a specific portion of foreign currency exposure resulting from forecasted intercompany sales are hedged using foreign exchange contracts which principally mature within three months.

Cash flow hedge

Changes in the fair value of derivative financial instruments designated as cash flow hedges, including foreign exchange contracts associated with forecasted intercompany sales, are reported in accumulated other comprehensive income (loss). These amounts are subsequently reclassified into earnings through other income (deductions) in the same period as the hedged items affect earnings. Substantially all amounts recorded in accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) as of September 30, 2014 are expected to be recognized in earnings over the next twelve months. Canon excludes the time value component from the assessment of hedge effectiveness. Changes in the fair value of a foreign exchange contract for the period between the date that the forecasted intercompany sales occur and its maturity date are recognized in earnings and not considered hedge ineffectiveness.

Derivatives not designated as hedges

Canon has entered into certain foreign exchange contracts to primarily offset the earnings impact related to fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates associated with certain assets denominated in foreign currencies. Although these foreign exchange contracts have not been designated as hedges as required in order to apply hedge accounting, the contracts are effective from an economic perspective. The changes in the fair value of these contracts are recorded in earnings immediately.

(12) Commitments and Contingent LiabilitiesCommitments

As of September 30, 2014, commitments outstanding for the purchase of property, plant and equipment approximated ¥42,090 million, and commitments outstanding for the purchase of parts and raw materials approximated ¥71,690 million.

Canon occupies sales offices and other facilities under lease arrangements accounted for as operating leases. Deposits made under such arrangements aggregated ¥13,517 million and ¥13,448 million at September 30, 2014 and December 31, 2013, respectively, and are included in noncurrent receivables in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets.

Future minimum lease payments required under noncancelable operating leases are ¥23,095 million (within one year) and ¥58,324 million (after one year), at September 30, 2014.

Guarantees

Canon provides guarantees for bank loans of its employees, affiliates and other companies. The guarantees for the employees are principally made for their housing loans. The guarantees of loans of its affiliates and other companies are made to ensure that those companies operate with less financial risk.

For each guarantee provided, Canon would have to perform under a guarantee if the borrower defaults on a payment within the contract periods of 1 year to 30 years, in the case of employees with housing loans, and of 1 year to 5 years, in the case of affiliates and other companies. The maximum amount of undiscounted payments Canon would have had to make in the event of default is ¥10,084 million at September 30, 2014. The carrying amounts of the liabilities recognized for Canon's obligations as a guarantor under those guarantees at September 30, 2014 were not significant.

Canon also issues contractual product warranties under which it generally guarantees the performance of products delivered and services rendered for a certain period or term. Estimated product warranty costs are recorded at the time revenue is recognized and are included in selling, general and administrative expenses. Estimates for accrued product warranty costs are based on historical experience. Changes in accrued product warranty cost for the nine months ended September 30, 2014 and 2013 is summarized as follows:

Legal proceedings

Canon is involved in various claims and legal actions arising in the ordinary course of business. Canon has recorded provisions for liabilities when it is probable that liabilities have been incurred and the amount of loss can be reasonably estimated. Canon reviews these provisions at least quarterly and adjusts these provisions to reflect the impact of the negotiations, settlements, rulings, advice of legal counsel and other information and events pertaining to a particular case. Based on its experience, although litigation is inherently unpredictable, Canon believes that any damage amounts claimed in outstanding matters are not a meaningful indicator of Canon's potential liability. In the opinion of management, any reasonably possible range of losses from outstanding matters would not have a material adverse effect on Canon's consolidated financial position, results of operations, or cash flows.

(13) Disclosures about the Fair Value of Financial Instruments and Concentrations of Credit RiskFair value of financial instruments

The estimated fair values of Canon's financial instruments at September 30, 2014 and December 31, 2013 are set forth below. The following summary excludes cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, finance receivables, noncurrent receivables, short-term loans, trade payables and accrued expenses for which fair values approximate their carrying amounts. The summary also excludes investments which are disclosed in Note 2.

	Millions of yen
	September 30, 2014		December 31, 2013
	Carrying amount	Estimated fair value	Carrying amount	Estimated fair value
Long-term debt, including current installments	(2,359)	(2,360)	(2,693)	(2,693)
Foreign exchange contracts:
Assets	200	200	254	254
Liabilities	(8,857)	(8,857)	(14,945)	(14,945)

The following methods and assumptions are used to estimate the fair value in the above table.

Long-term debt

Canon's long-term debt instruments are classified as Level 2 instruments and valued based on the present value of future cash flows associated with each instrument discounted using current market borrowing rates for similar debt instruments of comparable maturity. The levels are more fully described in Note 14.

Foreign exchange contracts

The fair values of foreign exchange contracts are measured based on the market price obtained from financial institutions.

Limitations of fair value estimates

Fair value estimates are made at a specific point in time, based on relevant market information and information about the financial instruments. These estimates are subjective in nature and involve uncertainties and matters of significant judgment and therefore cannot be determined with precision. Changes in assumptions could significantly affect the estimates.

Concentrations of credit risk

At September 30, 2014 and December 31, 2013, one customer accounted for approximately 18% and 15% of consolidated trade receivables, respectively. Although Canon does not expect that the customer will fail to meet its obligations, Canon is potentially exposed to concentrations of credit risk if the customer failed to perform according to the terms of the contracts.

(14) Fair Value Measurements

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability (an exit price) in the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. A three-level fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs used to measure fair value is as follows:

- Level 1 - Inputs are quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
 Level 2 - Inputs are quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active, inputs other than quoted prices that are observable, and inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means.
 Level 3 - Inputs are derived from valuation techniques in which one or more significant inputs or value drivers are unobservable, which reflect the reporting entity's own assumptions about the assumptions that market participants would use in establishing a price.

Assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis

The following tables present Canon's assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis consistent with the fair value hierarchy at September 30, 2014 and December 31, 2013.

Level 1 investments are comprised principally of Japanese equity securities, which are valued using an unadjusted quoted market price in active markets with sufficient volume and frequency of transactions. Level 2 cash and cash equivalents are valued based on market approach, using quoted prices for identical assets in markets that are not active. Level 3 investments are mainly comprised of corporate bonds, which are valued based on cost approach, using unobservable inputs as the market for the assets was not active at the measurement date.

Derivative financial instruments are comprised of foreign exchange contracts. Level 2 derivatives are valued using quotes obtained from counterparties or third parties, which are periodically validated by pricing models using observable market inputs, such as foreign currency exchange rates and interest rates, based on market approach.

The following table presents the changes in Level 3 assets measured on a recurring basis, consisting primarily of corporate bonds, for the nine months ended September 30, 2014 and 2013.

Finance receivables represent financing leases which consist of sales-type leases and direct-financing leases resulting from the sales of Canon's and complementary third-party products primarily in foreign countries. These receivables typically have terms ranging from 1 year to 6 years. Finance receivables are ¥259,494 million and ¥232,482 million at September 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively. Finance receivables which are individually evaluated for impairment at September 30, 2014 and 2013 are not significant.

Canon has policies in place to ensure that its products are sold to customers with an appropriate credit history, and continuously monitors its customers' credit quality based on information including length of period in arrears, macroeconomic conditions, initiation of legal proceedings against customers and bankruptcy filings. The allowance for credit losses of finance receivables are evaluated collectively based on historical experience of credit losses. An additional reserve for individual accounts is recorded when Canon becomes aware of a customer's inability to meet its financial obligations, such as in the case of bankruptcy filings. Finance receivables which are past due at September 30, 2014 and December 31, 2013 are not significant.
