GOL Launches Flights to Campina Grande

São Paulo, October 4, 2005 GOL Linhas Aéreas Inteligentes (NYSE: GOL and Bovespa: GOLL4), Brazil's low-fare, low-cost airline, announced that tomorrow it will begin operating flights six times per week to Campina Grande in the Brazilian State of Paraíba (population 3.4 million). The new flights will connect through Campina Grande Recife São Paulo (Guarulhos) and, on the return, through São Paulo (Guarulhos) Recife Campina Grande, with connections to all other destinations served by GOL.

Campina Grande is the second largest city of Paraíba and one of the most important in the northeast interior. The city connects the five regions making up the Borborema Plateau – an area which includes 79 cities and approximately 44 percent of the State of Paraíba with a population of over one million. The region is known for its economic development and technology industry, and for being a popular tourist destination.

Campina Grande has already been named the High Tech Oasis of the Northeast and is nationally recognized in electronics, computer science and software development. As one of the most important cities in the northeast interior, recognized nationally for its economic development and thriving technology sector, Campina Grande will increase the number of destinations served by GOL to 44, said Tarcísio Gargioni, vice-president of Marketing and Services at GOL. As part of GOL's expansion plans, this new flight will satisfy the increasing demand in the region for high quality, low-fare transportation."
