JOHNSTOWN, Penn., Aug. 26 /PRNewswire-FirstCall/ -- AmeriServ Financial, Inc. (Nasdaq: ASRV) officials today announced that the former Ronald Reagan Atrium I Nursing and Rehabilitation Center in Pittsburgh will soon be returned to the community as a children, youth and family services center. AmeriServ Financial took possession of the facility in January, and immediately began seeking bids for a new buyer. A sale of the facility to The Bradley Center was completed in July. The Bradley Center provides social services to children, youths and their families.

A priority was placed on identifying potential buyers from the nursing home industry, or other community service organizations beneficial to Allegheny County, according to Gary McKeown, AmeriServ Financial Senior Vice President and Chief Lending Officer.

"We were aware of our obligation to respect the importance of the facility to the people of Allegheny County. We spoke with several senior care providers and other similar organizations, including The Bradley Center, who were eager and financially qualified to provide needed social services to Allegheny County," said McKeown

With the sale of the facility now complete, AmeriServ Financial recovers all the debt and most of the expenses incurred by the bank. The bank's non-performing assets have now been reduced by approximately $4 million from the level reported at the time the bank took possession of the property in January.

"It is our hope that with this completed sale, everyone involved can be satisfied that something positive has now come from a bad situation," said McKeown.

AmeriServ Financial, Inc., is the parent of AmeriServ Financial Bank and AmeriServ Trust & Financial Services Company in Johnstown, AmeriServ Associates of State College, and AmeriServ Life Insurance Company.
