POST EFFECTIVE AMENDMENT NO. 4

TO

APPLICATION-DECLARATION FOR APPROVAL OF

TAX ALLOCATION AGREEMENT

Amendment No. 3 to the foregoing Application/Declaration is hereby amended and restated to read in its entirety as follows:

Item 1. Description of Proposed Transaction.

BACKGROUND

Dominion Resources, Inc. ("DRI"), a registered holding company under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (the "Act"), amends the foregoing application to supplement the record and to request that the Commission release jurisdiction it reserved over a proposed tax allocation agreement ("Agreement"). The Commission previously reserved jurisdiction over the Agreement in its order dated December 28, 2001 (File No. 70-9555). DRI respectfully requests that the Commission authorize the use of the Agreement as revised to reflect the proposed changes described below ("proposed Agreement").

By order dated December 15, 1999, (File No. 70-9517), the Commission authorized the merger ("Merger") of Consolidated Natural Gas Company ("Old CNG"), also a registered holding company under the Act, into a wholly-owned subsidiary of DRI, which subsidiary as the survivor of the Merger changed its name to Consolidated Natural Gas Company ("CNG"). The Merger was consummated on January 28, 2000.

ACQUISITION INDEBTEDNESS

In the Merger, DRI acquired the outstanding shares of Old CNG common stock for $6.4 billion, consisting of approximately 87 million shares of DRI common stock and approximately $2.9 billion in cash. In addition, in connection with the acquisition, DRI shareholders exchanged approximately 33 million shares of DRI common stock for $1.4 billion. By orders dated December 15, 1999 (File No. 70-9517) and May 24, 2001 (File No. 70-9555), the Commission authorized DRI and its subsidiaries to engage in a program of external financing and intrasystem financing, and other related transactions, through December 31, 2004 (pursuant to the May 24, 2001 order). Pursuant to those orders, DRI issued securities and borrowed money as described below in order to raise funds to pay for the acquisition of CNG.

"Acquisition Indebtedness" means indebtedness incurred by DRI to finance the acquisition (including related costs) by Dominion Resources, Inc. of all of the issued and outstanding stock of CNG and any renewals or extensions thereof. Acquisition Indebtedness also includes indebtedness incurred by DRI for the purpose of refinancing the indebtedness relating to the acquisition (including related costs) of all of the issued and outstanding stock of CNG.

In January 2001, DRI issued $300 million of 8.4% Capital Securities due in January 2031 and $1 billion of 2-year fixed rate 6% notes to refinance the remaining bridge financing.

DRI initially financed the acquisition with bridge financing consisting of a $3.5 billion commercial paper program backed by a short-term credit facility and $1 billion of short-term, privately placed money market notes. At September 30, 2002, DRI issued the following securities, the proceeds of which were used to refinance a portion of the bridge financing:

$700 million of 10-year fixed rate 8.125% notes
$700 million of 5-year fixed rate 7.625% notes
$400 million of 3-year notes fixed rate 7.60% notes
$250 million of 14-year fixed rate 7.82% remarketable notes
$520 million of 10-year fixed rate 5.7% notes

The above refinancing included $70 Million in refinancing costs including premiums and fees.

At September 30, 2002 the total ("Acquisition Indebtedness") amounted to $4.3 billion. DRI's projected interest expense related to the Acquisition Indebtedness for the years ended December 31, 2000, 2001 and 2002 is approximately $152 million, $304 million and $308 million, respectively.

PROPOSED TAX ALLOCATION AGREEMENT

DRI requests that the Commission authorize DRI and its subsidiaries to enter into the proposed Agreement, a draft of which is filed as Exhibit B. Under the proposed Agreement, DRI intends to allocate the consolidated income tax among all associate companies based on each company's separate return tax liability or refund in such a manner as to assure that each subsidiary's share of consolidated income tax does not exceed its "separate return tax" as defined in Rule 45(c)(2). However, the proposed Agreement also provides that any tax benefits associated with all or a portion of the Acquisition Indebtedness, as that term is defined in the proposed Agreement will be allocated to DRI only and not to the subsidiaries as contemplated by Rule 45(c)(5). Although the allocation of the tax benefits to DRI is not in strict compliance with Rule 45(c), DRI believes, for the reasons stated below, that such tax sharing does not violate the original intent of Rule 45(c), that the treatment is consistent with the Commission's treatment of holding company expenses, and as such, the Commission should grant it relief to enter into the proposed Agreement.

RULE 54

DRI currently meets all of the conditions of Rule 53(a), except for clause (1). At June 30, 2003, DRI's "aggregate investment", as defined in Rule 53(a)(1), in "exempt wholesale generators" ("EWGs") and "foreign utility companies" ("FUCOs"), was approximately $4,204.7 million (of which approximately $4,196.5 million was in EWGs). With respect to Rule 53 (a) (1), however, the Commission has determined that DRI's financing of its investment in EWGs and FUCOs in an amount not to exceed 100% of its "average consolidated retained earnings" plus $4.5 billion would not have either of the adverse effects set forth in Rule 53 (c)<sup>2</sup>. At June 30, 2003, DRI's "average consolidated retained earnings" were $1,688.1 million, and therefore, DRI's investment in EWG's and FUCO's continues to be within the authorized limit.

In addition, DRI and its subsidiaries are in compliance and will continue to comply with the other provisions of Rule 53 (a) and (b), as demonstrated by the following determinations:

- (i) The DRI system maintains books and records, and prepares financial statements, in accordance with Rule 53 (a) (2). Furthermore, DRI has undertaken to provide the Commission access to such books and records and financial statements as it may request;
- (ii) No more than 2% of the employees of DRI's domestic public utility companies render services at any one time, to its EWGs or FUCOs;
- (iii) DRI has submitted (a) a copy of each Form U-1 and Rule 24 certificate that has been filed with the Commission under Rule 53 and (b) a copy of Item 9 of the Form U5S and Exhibits G and H thereof to each state regulator having jurisdiction over the retail rates of DRI's public utility subsidiaries;
- (iv) Neither DRI nor any subsidiary has been the subject of a bankruptcy or similar proceeding (unless a plan of reorganization has been confirmed in such proceeding);
- (v) DRI's "average consolidated retained earnings" for the four most recent quarterly periods have not decreased by 10% or more from the average for the previous four quarterly periods; and
- (vi) In the previous fiscal year, DRI did not report operating losses attributable to its investment in EWGs/FUCOs exceeding 3% of DRI's consolidated retained earnings.

See Dominion Resources, Inc. Holding Company Act Release No. 35-27485, dated December 28, 2001 (the "Rule 53 (c) Order"). DRI continues to assert that its investment in EWGs and FUCOs will not adversely affect the DRI system.

The proposed transactions, considered in conjunction with the effect of the capitalization and earnings of DRI's EWGs and FUCOs, would not have a material adverse effect on the financial integrity of the DRI system, or an adverse impact on DRI's public-utility subsidiaries, their customers, or the ability of State commissions to protect such public-utility customers. The Rule 53 (c) Order was predicated, in part, upon an assessment of DRI's overall financial condition which took into account, among other factors, DRI's consolidated capitalization ratio and its retained earnings, both of which have improved since the date of the order. In the aggregate DRI's EWG and FUCO investments have been profitable for all quarterly periods ending March 31, 2000 through June 30, 2003. DRI's EWG and FUCO investments also were profitable for the period from December 31, 2001 through June 30, 2003. As of September 30, 2001, the most recent period for which financial statement information was evaluated in the Rule 53 (c) Order, DRI's consolidated capitalization consisted of 33.4% common equity, 6.4% preferred stock and 60.2% debt (including long and short-term debt and preferred stock). As of June 30, 2003, the consolidated capitalization ratios of DRI, with consolidated debt including all short-term debt and non-recourse debt of its EWGs and FUCOs, were as follows:

As of June 30, 2003

Common shareholders' equity	39
Preferred stock	6
Long-term and short-term debt	55
	100

DRI's consolidated retained earnings increased from $1,199 million as of March 31, 2000 to $1,903 million as of June 30, 2003 and grew from $922 million as of December 31, 2001 to $1,903 million as of June 30, 2003. DRI's EWGs and FUCOs have made a positive contribution to earnings by contributing approximately $2,155.2 million in revenues from March 31, 2000 through June 30, 2003, and net income of $498.4 million for the same period. DRI's EWG and FUCO contributions to revenues and net earnings from December 31, 2001 to June 30, 2003 were $1,248.6 million and $214.6 million, respectively. Accordingly, since the date of the Rule 53 (c) Order, the capitalization and earnings attributable to DRI's investments in EWGs and FUCOs has not had an adverse impact on DRI's financial integrity.

RETENTION OF JURISDICTION

DRI requests that the Commission continue to reserve jurisdiction over the other authority and matters over which it reserved jurisdiction in its order dated December 28, 2001 (File No. 70-9555), including the effect of recharacterization of public utility assets as eligible facilities or their transfer to EWGs and the remaining increased authority to invest in EWGs and FUCOs sought in this proceeding.

Item 2. Fees, Commissions and Expenses

The fees and expenses incurred associated with this amended Application are estimated as $25,000.00.

Item 3. Applicable Statutory Provisions

OVERVIEW

Pursuant to Section 12(b) of the Act, it is unlawful for any registered holding company or subsidiary to lend or in any manner extend its credit to or indemnify any company in the same holding-company system "in contravention of such rules and regulations or orders as the Commission deems necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers or to prevent the circumvention of the provisions of this title or the rules, regulations, or orders thereunder."<sup>3</sup>

Rule 45(a) of the Act generally prohibits any registered holding company or subsidiary company from, directly or indirectly, lending or in any manner extending its credit to, indemnifying, or making any donation or capital contribution to, any company in the same holding company system, except pursuant to a Commission order. Rule 45(c) provides, however, that approval under Rule 45(a) is not required for the filing of a consolidated tax return pursuant to a tax allocation agreement between eligible associate companies in a registered holding company system that complies with Rule 45(c). To the extent that a tax allocation agreement does not comply with the requirements of Rule 45(c) it must be (and in specific cases, has been) approved by the Commission under Section 12(b) and rule 45(a).

Under Rule 45(c)(2) the consolidated tax may be apportioned among the members of the group in proportion to either the corporate taxable income of each member or the separate return tax of each member, but, in either case, the tax apportioned to any subsidiary shall not exceed the "separate return tax" of that subsidiary. As such, the amount of consolidated tax allocated to any member of the consolidated group cannot exceed the amount of tax that subsidiary would have paid computed as though it were not a member of a consolidated group.

Rule 45(c)(4) provides that an allocation agreement may exclude companies not having positive corporate taxable income for the year (i.e., loss subsidiaries) from the allocation provided for under Rule 45(c)(2), provided that the agreement contains an "appropriate and equitable provision for preserving to each subsidiary company so excluded the equivalent of any rights which such company would have had under the applicable tax law, had it filed a separate return to use in other years any loss or credit availed of by the group through the consolidated return."

As an alternative to Rule 45(c)(4), Rule 45(c)(5) provides that a tax allocation agreement may include all members of the group in the tax allocation, recognizing negative corporate taxable income or a negative corporate tax, according to the allocation method chosen. However, Rule 45(c)(5) goes on to provide that "an agreement under this paragraph shall provide that those associate companies with a positive allocation will pay the amount allocated and those subsidiary companies with a negative allocation will receive current payment of their corporate tax credits. In addition, the agreement must also provide a method of apportioning such payments, and for the carrying over of uncompensated benefits, if the consolidated loss is too large to be used in full. Such method may also assign priorities to specific kinds of benefits.

Under Rule 45(c)(5) therefore, only "subsidiary companies" may be paid for their negative tax allocation. Conversely, any company that does not meet the definition of "subsidiary company" (i.e., the holding company in a holding company system) may not receive "current payment of its corporate tax credits". DRI's proposed Agreement adopts the Rule 45 (c)(5) allocation method, except that, under the proposed Agreement DRI will retain the benefit (in the form of the reduction in consolidated tax) that is attributable to the interest expense on the acquisition debt, rather than reallocate that tax savings to its subsidiary companies. In this respect, the proposed Agreement does not comply with all of the requirements of Rule 45(c). The proposed Agreement will therefore have the effect of assigning the tax benefit associated with the interest expense on the Acquisition Indebtedness to the entity that is legally obligated for its payment - DRI, as guarantor of the Acquisition Indebtedness. At the same time, in accordance with Rule 45(c)(2), the portion of the consolidated tax allocated to many of DRI's subsidiaries will not exceed the "separate return tax" of such subsidiary (the "separate return limitation"). Thus, the proposed Agreement will not have the effect of shifting a larger portion of the group's tax liability to any member of the group than such company would otherwise pay on a separate return basis.

PROPOSED AGREEMENT DOES NOT VIOLATE THE INTENT AND PURPOSE OF THE 1981 AMENDMENTS TO RULE 45

DRI believes that permitting DRI to keep the tax benefits associated with its Acquisition Indebtedness does not violate the intent and purpose of the 1981 amendments to Rule 45. In its 1981 release, the Commission indicated that the distinction between "associate companies" and "subsidiary companies" was intended to preclude the holding company from sharing in the consolidated return savings. The Commission stated, "[e]xploitation of utility companies by holding companies through asserted misallocation of consolidated tax return benefits was among the abuses examined in the investigations underlying the Act."<sup>4</sup> The Release goes on to explain that "[t]he corporate relationships required by the Act assure that the deductible corporate expenses of the holding company itself will always create a consolidated tax saving, since Section 13(a) of the Act precludes such expenses being passed on to the subsidiaries, through service charges or contract, so as to transform them into corporate deductions of the subsidiaries. In light of the legislative history referred to, an expense reimbursement of the holding company, in the guise of a tax allocation, would seem inconsistent with Section 13(a)." In essence, the Commission based its proposed rule change on the need to counter abusive allocations of expense reimbursements, which are prohibited under Section 13(a).

HCAR No. 21767, Oct. 29, 1980

However, abusive expense allocations are not the issue in DRI's case. First of all, DRI's taxable losses result primarily from its interest expense incurred on acquisition indebtedness. In fact on its separate 2000 federal income tax return, DRI interest expense comprised approximately 90% of the total tax deductions. As indicated above, the interest expense was related to debt that was incurred in order to purchase and carry DRI's investments in its subsidiaries, the liability for which is solely DRI's. The subsidiaries have no liability for the debt. The debt was not incurred to fund the operations of any of the subsidiaries and the subsidiaries are not obligated in any manner with respect to the repayment of the debt. The debt is also unsecured. As such, the lenders have no rights to the assets owned by the subsidiaries or any security interest in or claim on the assets (including the common stock of the subsidiaries) owned by DRI. In summary, the Acquisition Indebtedness incurred by DRI was incurred as investment debt, the repayment of which will come from the investment income realized by DRI in the form of dividends paid from current and accumulated retained earnings of its subsidiaries as permitted by Rule 46.<sup>5</sup>

DRI is not seeking to recover its corporate costs from its subsidiaries nor are the subsidiaries reimbursing DRI for its interest expenses. Instead, DRI simply wishes to allocate the tax benefits provided to the appropriate entity that incurred the costs. The Commission has also indicated that the Act does not dictate the result in Rule 45(c) and that the Commission has discretion in approving tax allocation agreements that do not strictly comply with Rule 45(c), so long as the policies and provisions of the Act are satisfied.<sup>6</sup> In The National Grid Group plc, HCAR No. 27154 (Mar. 15, 2000), the Commission stated that "if a tax allocation agreement does not comply in all respects with the provisions of Rule 45(c), it may nonetheless be approved by the Commission under Section 12(b) and Rule 45(a)". In this respect, if the Commission finds that DRI's proposal to keep the tax benefits associated with its Acquisition Indebtedness expenses are not abusive or exploitative, the Commission has the authority to grant relief.

Finally, the tax allocation method used in the proposed Agreement is consistent with the separate return limitation required under Rule 45(c)(2) and will not impact the rates or revenue requirements of the utility subsidiaries of DRI. As such, the Agreement does not result in the utility subsidiaries subsidizing the operations of non-utility subsidiaries, nor does it provide a subsidy to the utility subsidiaries by the non-utility subsidiaries.

By Commission order dated October 5, 2000, CNG was authorized to pay dividends out of its paid-in capital account to DRI. The amount of such dividends is limited to CNG's retained earnings immediately prior to its merger with a subsidiary of DRI on January 28, 2000. See HCAR No. 27242.

"Staff Recommendations and Examination Findings of Service Companies under The Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935," Report of the Staff of the Office of Public Utility Regulation, Division of Investment Management, U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, June 2001.

RULE 45(C)(5) METHOD OF ALLOCATION CREATES ACCOUNTING IRREGULARITIES THAT ULTIMATELY RESULT IN UNINTENDED CONTRIBUTIONS TO CAPITAL.

Under Rule 45(c)(5), "associate companies" with a positive allocation are required to pay the amount allocated, but only subsidiaries companies (i.e., non-holding companies) may receive current payment for their corporate tax credits. Rule 45(c)(5) goes on to require that the agreement shall provide a method of apportioning such payments. Most companies have, as a result, devised methods to apportion the tax benefits of the holding company to those subsidiaries with a positive tax allocation, including non-utility subsidiaries. As a result, the cash payments made by those companies that initially have positive tax allocations, and who receive an allocated portion of the Holding Company's tax benefit, are reduced by the portion of tax benefits allocated to them, resulting in a lower payment.

However, for financial reporting purposes, the provision for income taxes that appears on the financial statements of a respective company within a holding company system is unaffected by the allocation of the Holding Company's tax cash benefits required under Rule 45(c)(5). Those companies that receive an allocation under their respective tax allocation agreement will pay less than the actual taxes accrued for the period. Likewise, the holding company does not receive any payment for the tax benefits recorded on the balance sheet. As a result, both the holding company and the companies within the group that participated in the allocation of the holding company's tax benefits will record tax benefits or tax liabilities, respectively, that will not be received or paid leaving a balance to be adjusted.

There appear to be only two remedies to this situation. One would be to adjust the tax provisions, and as a result, the net income of the respective companies. We believe that this method is inappropriate and clearly exceeds the intent and purpose of Section 13(a) and Rule 45(c). The other would be to record a contribution to capital by the holding company to the subsidiary on the books of holding company and subsidiary. The holding company's adjustment would transfer the tax benefit receivable to the respective "investment in subsidiaries" account while the subsidiary would transfer the balance in the taxes payable account to the "additional paid in capital" account.

Item 4. Regulatory Approval

No other state commission and no federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed Agreement.

Item 5. Procedure

It is submitted that a recommended decision by a hearing or other responsible officer of the Commission is not needed for approval of the proposed transaction. The Division of Investment Management may assist in the preparation of the Commission's decision. There should be no waiting period between the issuance of the Commission's order and the date on which it is to become effective.

ARTICLE II.

Preparation and Filing of Tax Returns; Allocation of Taxes

Section 2.1 Federal Returns.

(a) A U.S. consolidated federal income tax return shall be prepared and filed by DRI for each taxable year in respect of which this Agreement is in effect and for which the Consolidated Group is required or permitted to file a consolidated federal income tax return. DRI and all its subsidiaries shall execute and file such consents, elections and other documents that may be required or appropriate for the proper filing of such returns.

(b) (i) The Consolidated Group will elect, on a timely basis, in accordance with Code Section 1552(b) and Section 1.1552-1(c)(2) of the Regulations to allocate its consolidated tax liability (other than alternative minimum tax ("AMT") and its related credits) among its Members under the method described in Sections 1.1502-33(d)(3) and 1.1552-1(a)(2) commencing with the consolidated taxable year ended December 31, 2000. The fixed percentage to be used for purposes of Regulations section 1.1502-33(d)(3)(i) is 100%. The general effect of such method is to first allocate the consolidated tax liability among the Members of the Consolidated Group on the basis of the percentage of the total consolidated tax which the tax of such Member (other than AMT and its related credits) if computed on a separate return basis would bear to the total amount of the taxes (other than AMT and its related credits) for all Members of the group so computed. Then such method allocates an additional amount (the "Tax Benefit Amount") to each Member up to, but not greater than, the excess, if any, of its Separate Return Tax liability (other than AMT and its related credits) over the amount allocated to such Member in the previous sentence. The total of the Tax Benefit Amounts allocated to Members shall result in payments to, and an increase in the earnings and profits of, the Members who had items of deduction, loss or credits to which such Tax Benefit Amount is attributable. This election is intended to comply with Rule 45(c)(5) under the Act, as modified by Section 2(d) below.

(ii) The allocation of the alternative minimum tax liability incurred by the DRI Group and the resulting minimum tax credit shall be allocated in the manner set forth in Proposed and Temporary Treasury Regulation Sections 1.1502-55. This method generally allocates (i) any AMT paid by the Dominion Resources, Inc. Group based on the relative separate adjusted AMT of each Member and (ii) the minimum tax credit (AMTC) on the basis of the AMT previously assigned to such Member and assuming that AMTC is utilized on a "first in/first out" methodology, and that to the extent that AMTC arising in one year is not fully utilized, such AMTC is utilized proportionately by the Members previously assigned AMT for that year.

(c) Each Member's allocable share of the consolidated income tax liability as determined in Section 2.1(b) hereby shall be used in both (i) the determination of each Member's earnings and profits and (ii) determining the amounts to be paid (as provided in Section 3.4 of this Agreement) by Members to DRI with respect to each Member's share of the Consolidated Group's Tax liability and payments from DRI to Members with respect to the use of a Member's tax attributes.

(d) (i) The aggregate of all amounts paid by Members of the Consolidated Group (the "Paying Members") as a result of the excess of each Members' Separate Return Tax liability (as determined under Section 1.1552-1(a)(2)(ii) of the Regulations) over the amount allocated to such Member as its share of the Consolidated Tax Liability under Code Section 1552 (i.e., the Tax Benefit Amount) shall be paid by Dominion Resources, Inc. to the other Members (the "Loss Members") which had tax deductions, losses and credits to which such payments by the Paying Members are attributable. The apportionment of such payments among Loss Members shall be in a manner that reflects the Consolidated Group's absorption of such tax attributes in the manner described in Section 2.1(e) below. The payments to the Loss Members for their tax attributes shall be pursuant to a consistent method which reasonably reflects such items of loss or credit (such consistency and reasonableness to be determined by the Designated Official).

(ii) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 2.1(d)(i), the Tax Benefit Amount allocated to DRI and paid to DRI as a result of its being a Loss Member shall be limited to the lesser of the tax benefit of it's interest deduction attributable to Acquisition Indebtedness or the tax benefit of it's separate tax loss. The portion of DRI's tax benefits which cannot be allocated and paid to DRI due to the operation of this Section shall be reallocated to Paying Members of the Consolidated Group other than DRI in accordance with the principles contained in section 2.1(b)(i).

(e) In apportioning the payments to Loss Members for the Tax Benefit Amount pursuant to Section 2.1(d) hereof:

(i) any consolidated net operating loss ("NOL") shall be allocated among the group Members pursuant to Regulations Section 1.1502-21(b). To the extent the consolidated NOL is carried back, any Member's individually allocable NOL shall be deemed carried back and utilized in proportion to the amount that the Member's NOL bears to the consolidated NOL. Analogous principles shall apply in the case of NOL carryforwards;

(ii) with respect to each type of credit used to offset all or a portion of the Consolidated Tax Liability otherwise payable, such credit shall be allocated among the Members by crediting to each Member an amount of credit which that Member would have available to utilize on a separate return basis in a manner consistent with the method set forth in Section 2.1(e)(i) above.

(iii) the cost of any credit recapture which results in the payment of tax shall be specifically allocated to the Member whose credit is recaptured determined in a manner consistent with the provisions of Section 2.1(e)(i) above.

(f) The allocation of tax shall be subject to further adjustment from time to time on account of the payment of additional tax or the receipt of a refund attributable to either the filing of an amended return or on account of the results of an audit conducted by the Internal Revenue Service or other relevant taxing authority.

Section 2.2 Other Taxes. (a) DRI will prepare and file (or cause to be prepared and filed) all returns of Other Taxes which are required to be filed with respect to the operations of DRI and its subsidiaries. In the event any taxing authority requires or permits that a combined, consolidated or unitary return be filed for Other Taxes, which return includes both DRI and a subsidiary, DRI may elect to file such return and shall have the right to require any Member to be included in such return. DRI will advise each of its subsidiaries included in each Other Return and each governmental office in which any Other Return is filed. Other Taxes shall be allocated among the DRI Group in a manner that is consistent with the method set forth in Article 2 hereof. Furthermore, amounts due to or from DRI with respect to Other Taxes, shall be determined in a manner consistent with Sections 2.1(b) and 2.1(d).

(b) Each Member of the DRI Group that does not file an Other Return together with any other Member of the DRI Group shall be solely responsible and obligated to pay the tax liability with respect to such return from its own funds. Such returns shall be prepared and filed by DRI or the Member filing the Other Return.

(c) If any Member of the DRI Group is required to file a combined, consolidated or unitary return for Other Taxes with another Member of the DRI Group, but not with DRI (an "Other Taxes Subgroup"), then DRI shall have the rights, powers and obligations to file such tax returns and apportion among and, collect and remit from, the applicable Members such Other Taxes as the rights, powers and obligations given to DRI under this Agreement with respect to the Consolidated Tax Liability. Such returns shall be prepared and filed by DRI. If the right to file a combined, consolidated or unitary return for Other Taxes is optional, then DRI shall decide which of its subsidiaries should, to the extent permitted by law, join in filing of such return.

Section 2.3 Member Tax Information. The Members of the Consolidated Group shall submit the tax information requested by the Designated Official of DRI in the manner and by the date requested, in order to enable the Designated Official to calculate the amounts payable by the Members pursuant to Article 3 hereof.

ARTICLE III.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR TAX; INTERCOMPANY PAYMENTS

Section 3.1 Responsibility. Assuming the Members of the Consolidated Group have fulfilled their obligations pursuant to this Article III, then DRI will be solely responsible for, and will indemnify and hold each Member of the Consolidated Group harmless with respect to, the payment of: (a) the Consolidated Tax Liability for each taxable period for which, as determined under Section 2.1 hereof, DRI filed a Consolidated Return or should have been filed; and (b) any and all Other Taxes due or payable with respect to any Other Return which is filed by DRI or should have been filed.

Section 3.2 Federal Tax Payments. (a) With respect to each Consolidated Return Year, the Designated Official of Dominion Resources, Inc. shall estimate and assess or pay to Members of the Consolidated Group their share of estimated tax payments to be made on a projected consolidated federal income tax return for each year. In making this determination, DRI shall elect a method for determining estimated tax and each Member shall follow that method. Such Members will pay, to DRI or be paid by DRI, such estimates not later than the 15th day of the 4th, 6th, 9th and 12th months of such Consolidated Return Year. With respect to any extension payment, the Designated Official of Dominion Resources, Inc. shall estimate and assess or pay to Members of the Consolidated Group their share of such extension payment. The difference between (1) a Member's estimated tax payments used for computation of the quarterly estimated payments plus their extension payments and (2) such Member's actual Tax Liability for any Consolidated Return Year as determined under Section 2.1(b) hereof, shall be paid to DRI or by DRI within sixty (60) days after the filing of the consolidated federal income tax return.

(b) DRI shall have sole authority, to the exclusion of all other Members of the Consolidated Group, to agree to any adjustment proposed by the Internal Revenue Service or any other taxing authority with respect to items of income, deductions or credits, as well as interest or penalties, attributable to any Member of the Consolidated Group during any Consolidated Return Year in which such Member was a Member of the Consolidated Group notwithstanding that such adjustment may increase the amounts payable by Members of the Consolidated Group under this Section 3.2 or Section 3.3 hereof. In the event of any adjustment to the Consolidated Tax Liability relating to items of income, deductions or credit, as well as interest or penalties, attributable to any Member of the Consolidated Group by reason of an amended return, claim for refund or audit by the Internal Revenue Service or any other taxing authority, the liability of all other Members of the Consolidated Group under paragraphs (a) of this Section 3.2 or Section 3.3 hereof shall be redetermined to give effect to such adjustment as if such adjustment had been made as a part of the original computation of such liability, and payment from a Member to DRI or by DRI to a Member, as the case may be, shall be promptly made after any payments are made to the Internal Revenue Service or any other taxing authority, refunds received or final determination of the matter in the case of contested proceedings. In such event, any payments between the parties shall bear interest at the then prevailing rate or rates on deficiencies assessed by the Internal Revenue Service or any other relevant taxing authority, during the period from the due date of the Consolidated Return (determined without regard to extensions of time for the filing thereof) for the Consolidated Return Year to which the adjustments were made to the date of payment.

Section 3.3 Other Tax Payments. Payments by a Member with respect to Other Taxes and required estimates thereof for which any other Member has joint and several liability shall be calculated and made by or to such Member in the same manner as that provided in Section 3.2. The principles set forth in Section 3.2 governing the determination and adjustment of payments as well as the method of payment to or from such Member with respect to federal income taxes shall be equally applicable in determining and adjusting the amount of and due date of payments to be made to or from such subsidiary with respect to Other Taxes and estimates thereof. Each Member shall pay, directly to the appropriate taxing authority, all taxes for which such Member is liable and for which no other Member has joint or several liability.

Section 3.4 Payment Mechanics. (a) Any payments to be made by a subsidiary of DRI pursuant to Section 2.1, 2.2, 3.2 or 3.3 hereof shall be made by such subsidiary to DRI by either promptly crediting as an offset against amounts owed to such Member by DRI or to the extent no amounts are owed to such Member by DRI, by cash payments to DRI. To the extent any payments are to be made to a subsidiary with respect to the use of such subsidiary's tax attributes by the Consolidated Group pursuant to Section 2.1, 2.2, 3.2 or 3.3 hereof, DRI shall make such payment to such subsidiary by either promptly crediting as an offset against amounts owned by such Member to DRI, or to the extent no amounts are owed to DRI by such Member, by cash payments to the Member.

(b) Tax payments by DRI with respect to any Consolidated Tax Liability shall be paid by DRI and shall be debited to the Member of the Consolidated Group for their respective shares of such Consolidated Tax Liability as determined pursuant to Article II hereof. Tax Refunds received by DRI with respect to any Consolidated Tax Liability, shall be paid by DRI to the Member of the Consolidated Group entitled to such Tax Refund, as determined.

(c) DRI shall be responsible for maintaining the books and records reflecting the inter-company accounts reflecting the amounts owned, collected and paid with respect to Taxes pursuant to this Agreement.

(d) DRI may delegate to other Members of the Consolidated Group responsibilities for the collection and disbursement of monies as required under this Agreement as well as responsibilities for maintaining books and records as required under this Agreement.

Section 3.5 Administration. The provisions of this Agreement shall be administered by the Designated Official of DRI. The interpretations of this Agreement by the Designated Official of DRI shall be conclusive.

ARTICLE IV.

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION

AT RICHMOND,

May 27, 2003
APPLICATION OF

PUE-2003-00126

CASE NO.

VIRGINIA ELECTRIC AND POWER COMPANY
DOMINION RESOURCES, INC.

For exemption of a Tax Allocation Agreement and a Cash Contribution from the filing and prior approval requirements of the Affiliates Act pursuant to Section 56-77 B of the Code of Virginia or, in the alternative, approval to enter into such Agreement and Cash Contribution

ORDER DENYING EXEMPTION AND GRANTING APPROVAL

On April 1, 2003, Virginia Electric and Power Company ("Virginia Power") and Dominion Resources, Inc. ("DRI") (collectively the "Applicants"), filed an application with the State Corporation Commission (the "Commission") requesting an exemption of a Tax Allocation Agreement ("Tax Agreement") and Cash Contribution ("Contribution") from the filing and prior approval requirements of the Affiliates Act pursuant to Seciton 56-77 B of the Code of Virginia (the "Code") or, in the alternative, approval to enter into the Tax Agreement and Contribution pursuant to the Affiliates Act.

DRI, which is headquartered in Richmond, Virginia, is a registered holding company under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("PUHCA") and subject to regulation by the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"). DRI's principal subsidiaries are Virginia Power, Consolidated Natural Gas Company ("CNG"), and Dominion Energy, Inc.

Virginia Power is a Virginia public service corporation that generates, transmits, and distributes electricity within a 30,000 square mile area in Virginia and northeastern North Carolina. Virginia Power sells electricity to approximately 2.2 million retail customers, including governmental agencies, and to wholesale customers such as rural electric cooperatives, municipalities, power marketers, and other utilities. Virginia Power has trading relationships beyond its retail service territory and buys and sells wholesale electricity and natural gas off-system.

Federal Regulations

The Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"), through Title 17, Code of Federal Regulations ("C.F.R.") Section 250.45(c) ("Rule 45(c)"), requires holding companies registered under the PUHCA to file with the SEC written tax allocation agreements covering the holding company, its regulated utilities, and other consolidated subsidiaries (the "Group Members") in order to have the ongoing authority to file consolidated income tax returns with the federal government. On January 10, 2003, DRI filed an application with the SEC requesting approval of the Tax Agreement (the "SEC Application"). DRI requested specific approval of a provision in the Tax Agreement that allows the holding company to retain the tax benefits related to $4.3 billion in acquisition debt and related costs incurred to finance the fiscal 2000 acquisition of CNG. At this time, the SEC Application remains pending.

The Applicants currently list 140 affiliates that are Group Members under the Tax Agreement. The Applicants list 29 affiliates that are not parties to the Tax Agreement. The unconsolidated affiliates are partnerships or entities in which DRI holds a minority interest.

Tax Allocation Methodology

Rule 45(c)(2) states that:

The consolidated tax shall be apportioned among the several members of the group in proportion to (i) the corporate taxable income of each such member, or (ii) the separate return tax of each such member, but the tax apportioned to any subsidiary shall not exceed the separate return tax of such subsidiary.

Article II, Section 2.1(b) of the Tax Agreement describes DRI's general methodology for allocating federal taxes. First, DRI multiplies 100% of the consolidated federal tax liability by the ratio of each Group Member's separate return tax, excluding alternative minimum taxes ("AMT") and related AMT credits ("AMTC"), divided by the sum of the Group Members' separate return tax. This step allocates the consolidated liability.

Second, DRI allocates an additional amount to each Group Member up to, but not exceeding, the difference between the Group Member's separate tax liability and the amount allocated in the first step. This step adjusts each Group Member's tax liability to a separate return tax level.

Third, DRI allocates any AMT liability based on the relative separate adjusted AMT of each Group Member, and any AMTC based on each Group Member's previously assigned AMT liability on a "first in/first out" basis. To the extent that any AMTC is not fully utilized, then it is utilized proportionately by Group Members previously assigned AMT for that year.

Holding Company Tax Benefits

Rule 45(c)(5) states that, in general:

[The] agreement may include all members of the group in the tax allocation. An agreement under this paragraph shall provide that those associate companies with a positive allocation will pay the amount allocated and those subsidiary companies with a negative allocation will receive current payment of their corporate tax credits.

In accordance with Rule 45(c)(5), Article II, Section 2.1(c) of the Tax Agreement states that each Group Member's share of the consolidated federal tax liability will be used to determine the amounts paid by positive tax Group Members ("Paying Members") to DRI and the payments made by DRI to negative tax Group Members ("Loss Members"). Article II, Section 2.1 (d) of the Tax Agreement goes on to state that DRI will pay to the Loss Members the aggregate of the excess of the Paying Members' separate return tax liability over their consolidated tax liability. Article II, Section 2.1(b)(i) affirms that the total of the tax amounts allocated to Group Members shall result in payments to Loss Members.

In 1981, though, an SEC amendment precluded registered holding companies, which are usually Loss Members, from sharing in consolidated return tax savings because of concerns about the possibility of improper upstream cash distributions. More recently, the SEC revised its regulatory position to allow holding companies to retain selected tax benefits related to acquisition debt.

The SEC Application requests specific approval for DRI's retention of the tax benefits associated with the $4.3 billion in acquisition debt costs incurred to consummate the CNG merger. DRI states that the tax benefits at issue relate to unsecured holding company debt used to finance DRI's investment in CNG. As such, the acquisition debt neither funds subsidiary operations nor obligates DRI's subsidiaries to repay it. DRI says it will payoff the acquisition debt through the investment income realized through dividends paid from the current and accumulated earnings of its subsidiaries. Also, DRI represents that it is not seeking recovery of its interest expenses or corporate costs from its subsidiaries. DRI notes that the SEC has granted relief on this issue in a similar case.<sup>1</sup>

Therefore, DRI has proposed in Article II, Section 2.1(d)(ii) of its Tax Agreement that:

National Grid Group plc, HCAR No. 27154 (March 15, 2000).

The Tax Benefit Amount allocated to DRI and paid to DRI as a result of its being a Loss Member shall be limited to the lesser of the tax benefit of its interest deduction attributable to Acquisition Indebtedness or the tax benefit of its separate tax loss. The portion of DRI's tax benefits which cannot be allocated and paid to DRI due to the operation of this section shall be reallocated to Paying Members of the Consolidated Group other than DRI.

Other Tax Allocation Provisions

Rule 45(c)(5) further states that the consolidated tax agreement:

Shall provide a method of apportioning such payments, and carrying over uncompensated benefits, if the consolidated loss is too large to be used in full.

Article II, Section 2.1(e) of the Tax Agreement states that consolidated net operating losses ("NOL") will be allocated using the general methodology previously described. To the extent that consolidated NOL are carried back, each Group Member's allocated NOL shall be carried back and utilized according to the proportion that its individual NOL bears to the consolidated NOL. Similar principles will apply for NOL carryforwards, tax credits, and tax credit recaptures.

Article II, Section 2.1(f) of the Tax Agreement states that federal tax allocations will be subject to periodic adjustment as a result of amended returns or Internal Revenue Service audits.

Article II, Section 2.2 of the Tax Agreement deals with "Other Taxes," which states that, in general, taxes owed to state, municipal, or other political subdivisions shall be allocated among the Consolidated Group in a manner consistent with the methodology used for federal taxes. Group Members that file an unconsolidated Other Return are solely responsible and obligated to pay the tax liability reflected by that return.

Legal Provisions

Article III of the Tax Agreement, which deals with the legal responsibility and the inter-company payments for the consolidated tax return, states that DRI assumes legal responsibility for the payment of the consolidated tax liability. DRI will assess or pay Group Members their share of estimated tax payments, all within sixty days after the consolidated return filing, DRI and the Group Members will settle the difference between the estimated and actual consolidated tax liability.

Article III also says that DRI shall have sole authority to deal with the IRS and other taxing authorities concerning any adjustments related to the consolidated return. DRI shall be responsible for maintaining the books and records with the inter-company accounts reflecting the amounts owed, collected and paid with respect to the consolidated return.

Article IV, Section 4.2 states that the Tax Agreement shall be effective with respect to all taxable years ending on or after January 28, 2000. Section 4.4 states that each party to the Tax Agreement shall pay its own expenses, including legal and accounting fees, incident to the Tax Agreement. The Applicants represent that the Group Members are individually responsible for any cost they incur in applying the provisions of the Tax Agreement to their respective subsidiary. Group Members are not responsible for any cost incurred by DRI. Section 4.16 states that Members leaving the Consolidated Group shall be assigned their allocable portion of the consolidated tax liability and will settle with DRI any differences between estimated and actual tax liabilities within sixty days after leaving the Consolidated Group.

Cash Contribution

The Applicants' accounting treatment for income taxes has created a problem on Virginia Power's balance sheet. The Applicants interpret Statement of Financial Accounting Standards 109 to mean that Virginia Power's separate return tax should be the current tax liability that is booked for financial accounting purposes. The Applicants represent that DRI's holding company tax benefits are not allocated to Virginia Power for the purpose of determining Virginia Power's federal tax liability. Therefore, Virginia Power records its current year separate return tax expense and liability when it debits Federal Income Tax -Current Year and credits Accrued Federal Income Tax - Current.

At the time of settlement though, Virginia Power, consistent with the application of Rule 45(c), does not remit the full amount of its separate return tax to DRI. Instead, Virginia Power reduces its tax payments to DRI by its share of DRI's holding company tax benefits that are allocated among the subsidiaries with positive taxable income.

The result is that Virginia Power, over time, accumulates in its federal tax liability account amounts that are never payable to DRI. In order to correct this problem, the Applicants propose that Virginia Power, on an annual basis, transfer the residual balance of its federal tax liability account, after paying its allocable share of consolidated taxes, to its paid in capital account. Accordingly, DRI will transfer an equivalent amount from its federal income tax receivables account to its investment in subsidiaries account.

NOW THE COMMISSION, upon consideration of the application and representations of the Applicants and having been advised by its Staff, is of the opinion and finds that the Applicants' request for exemption of the Tax Agreement and Cash Contribution from the filing and prior approval requirements of the Affiliates Act should be denied.

The Tax Agreement is a formal, legal arrangement between a registered holding company and its consolidated subsidiaries that distributes cash income tax payments and refunds among the Group Members. The parties are exchanging cash, not services, so the Tax Agreement does not fall under the Applicants' existing Service Agreement. Likewise, the Tax Agreement provides tangible incremental benefits to the holding company and the Group Members by minimizing their total federal income tax liability through the filing of a consolidated return. Therefore, the Tax Agreement is not simply a cost allocation methodology. Finally, the PUHCA, Rule 45(c), and the SEC's 1981 amendment to Rule 45(c) make clear that the federal government has had and continues to have concerns that holding companies may misuse the allocation of consolidated income taxes to drain cash from their subsidiary utilities. We have the same concerns and, therefore, the Tax Agreement should be reviewed from a public interest standpoint.

On a similar note, the proposed Cash Contribution must be reviewed within the context of the Affiliates Act because it involves the exchange of rights between affiliated parties. DRI is exchanging a receivable for an increase in its equity interest in Virginia Power. Virginia Power, in turn, is exchanging equity ownership for a reduction in an obligation.

However, we believe that the Tax Agreement as proposed is, in general, an equitable means of assigning consolidated tax liabilities to member companies. In addition, we believe the Applicants' Cash Contribution proposal is a reasonable method for handling the difference between Virginia Power's separate return and paid taxes. The Tax Agreement benefits Virginia Power as a positive separate return company because Virginia Power has the opportunity to receive consolidated tax benefits, which can reduce its tax liability and boost its cash flow. Therefore, we find that the Tax Agreement and Cash Contribution proposal are in the public interest and should be approved.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

- 1) Pursuant to Section 56-77 B of the Code of Virginia, Virginia Electric and Power Company and Dominion Resources, Inc.'s request for an exemption of a Tax Allocation Agreement and Cash Contribution from the filing and prior approval requirements of the Affiliates Act is hereby denied.
- 2) Pursuant to Section 56-77 of the Code of Virginia, Virginia Electric and Power Company is hereby granted approval to participate in the Tax Allocation Agreement between Dominion Resources, Inc., and its subsidiaries under the terms and conditions and for the purposes described herein. This approval is conditioned upon the subsequent approval of the Tax Allocation Agreement as presented by the SEC. Applicants shall promptly notify the Commission of the SEC's action in regard to its pending application.
- 3) Pursuant to Section 56-77 of the Code of Virginia, Virginia Electric and Power Company and Dominion Resources, Inc., hereby receive approval to make the Cash Contribution under the terms and conditions and for the purposes described herein.
- 4) Virginia Electric and Power Company shall file with the Commission an executed copy of the Tax Allocation Agreement within 30 days from the date of this Order, subject to extension by the Director of Public Utility Accounting.

- 5) Commission approval shall be required for any changes in the terms and conditions of the Tax Allocation Agreement.
- 6) The approval granted herein shall have no ratemaking implications. The Commission reserves the right to reflect ratemaking adjustments to Virginia Electric and Power Company's income taxes in the course of the Commission's review and analysis of Virginia Power's cost of service in the future.
- 7) The approval granted herein shall not preclude the Commission from exercising the provisions of Sections 56-78 and 56-80 of the Code of Virginia hereafter.
