The European Equity Fund, Inc., The New Germany Fund, Inc. and The Central Europe and Russia Fund, Inc.
Announce Results of Tender Offer Measurement Period

NEW YORK, NY December 3, 2012 - - The European Equity Fund, Inc. (NYSE: EEA), The New Germany Fund, Inc. (NYSE: GF) and The Central Europe and Russia Fund, Inc. (NYSE: CEE) (each, a “Fund,” and collectively, the “Funds”) announced today the results of a twelve-week measurement period that began on Monday, September 10, 2012 and expired on Friday, November 30, 2012, in accordance with each Fund’s previously announced Discount Management Program (the “Program”). At the conclusion of the measurement period, shares of common stock of EEA had traded at an average discount to net asset value (“NAV”) of -9.79%, shares of common stock of GF had traded at an average discount to NAV of -9.90% and shares of common stock of CEE had traded at an average discount to NAV of -10.18%, in each case during the twelve-week measurement period. The terms of the Program require a Fund to conduct a tender offer if its shares trade at an average discount to NAV of more than 10% during the applicable twelve-week measurement period. Therefore, CEE will conduct a tender offer for up to 5% of its outstanding shares at a price equal to 98% of NAV, and neither EEA nor GF will conduct a tender offer. The commencement of the tender offer for CEE is expected to occur following CEE’s anticipated year-end distribution. Additional details concerning the tender offer will be announced in the upcoming weeks.

The European Equity Fund, Inc. is a diversified, closed-end investment company seeking long-term capital appreciation through investment primarily (normally at least 80% of its assets) in equity or equity-linked securities of companies domiciled in European countries utilizing the Euro currency. Investing in foreign securities, particularly those of emerging markets, presents certain risks, such as currency fluctuations, political and economic changes, and market risks. Any fund that concentrates in a particular segment of the market will generally be more volatile than a fund that invests more broadly.

The New Germany Fund, Inc. is a diversified, closed-end investment company seeking capital appreciation primarily through investment in equity or equity-linked securities of small and mid-cap German companies. The Fund may invest up to 35% of its assets in large cap German companies and up to 20% in other Western European companies. Investing in foreign securities presents certain risks, such as currency fluctuations, political and economic changes, and market risks. Any fund that concentrates in a particular segment of the market will generally be more volatile than a fund that invests more broadly.

The Central Europe and Russia Fund, Inc. is a non-diversified, closed-end investment company seeking long term capital appreciation through investment primarily in equity or equity-linked securities of issuers domiciled in Central Europe and Russia. The Fund is non-diversified and can take larger positions in fewer issues, increasing its potential risk. Investing in foreign securities, particularly those of emerging markets, presents certain risks, such as currency fluctuations, political and economic changes, and market risks. Any fund that focuses in a particular segment of the market will generally be more volatile than a fund that invests more broadly.

Closed-end funds, unlike open-end funds, are not continuously offered. There is a one-time public offering and, once issued, shares of closed-end funds are bought and sold in the open market through a stock exchange. Shares of closed-end funds frequently trade at a discount to NAV. The price of a fund's shares is determined by a number of factors, several of which are beyond the control of the fund. Therefore, a fund cannot predict whether its shares will trade at, below or above NAV. There can be no assurance that the Program will be effective in reducing the Funds' market discounts.

Investments in funds involve risk. Additional risks of the Funds are associated with international investing, such as government regulations and differences in liquidity, which may increase the volatility of your investment. Foreign security markets generally exhibit greater price volatility and are less liquid than the US market. Additionally, the Funds focus their investments in certain geographical regions, thereby increasing their vulnerability to developments in that region and potentially subjecting the Funds' shares to greater price volatility. Some funds have more risk than others. These include funds, such as EEA, GF and CEE, that allow exposure to or otherwise concentrate investments in certain sectors, geographic regions, security types, market capitalization or foreign securities (e.g., political or economic instability, which can be accentuated in emerging market countries).
