The Fund seeks long-term capital appreciation through investment primarily in equity and equity-linked securities of issuers domiciled in Europe.

Investments in funds involve risks, including the loss of principal.

The shares of most closed-end funds, including the Fund, are not continuously offered. Once issued, shares of closed-end funds are bought and sold in the open market. Shares of closed-end funds frequently trade at a discount to net asset value. The price of the Fund's shares is determined by a number of factors, several of which are beyond the control of the Fund. Therefore, the Fund cannot predict whether its shares will trade at, below or above net asset value.

This Fund is diversified and primarily focuses its investments in equity securities of issuers domiciled in Europe, thereby increasing its vulnerability to developments in that region. Investing in foreign securities, particularly those of emerging markets, presents certain risks, such as currency fluctuations, political and economic changes, and market risks. Any fund that concentrates in a particular segment of the market or in a particular geographical region will generally be more volatile than a fund that invests more broadly.

The European Union, the United States and other countries have imposed sanctions on Russia as a result of the Russian military intervention in the Ukraine. These sanctions have adversely affected Russian individuals, Russian issuers and the Russian economy. Russia, in turn, has imposed sanctions targeting Western individuals, businesses and products including food products. The various sanctions have adversely affected, and may continue to adversely affect, not only the Russian economy but also the economies of many countries in Europe. Potential developments in the Ukraine, and the continuation of current sanctions or the imposition of additional sanctions may materially adversely affect the value of the Fund's portfolio.

In June 2016, citizens of the United Kingdom voted that the United Kingdom should leave the European Union and in March 2017, the United Kingdom initiated its withdrawal from the European Union, which is expected to take place by March 2019. Significant uncertainty exists regarding the timing and terms of the United Kingdom's anticipated withdrawal from the European Union and the effects such withdrawal may have on the United Kingdom, other European countries and the global economy.

Letter to the Shareholders (Unaudited)

Dear Shareholder,

For its most recent semiannual period ended June 30, 2017, the total return of The European Equity Fund Inc. (the "Fund") in U.S. dollars (USD) was 16.96% based on net asset value and 19.43% based on market price. During the same period, the total return of the Fund's benchmark, the MSCI Europe Index, was 15.36%! In euro terms, the MSCI Europe Index had a total return of 6.68%. The Fund's discount to net asset value averaged 11.07% for the first six months of 2017, compared with 11.65% for the first six months of 2016.

Positive momentum in European equity markets from the second half of 2016 carried well into 2017. Both the first and second quarter of 2017 showed positive returns in EUR. These returns were substantially enhanced for USD-based investors due to the strong appreciation of the euro vs. the USD. The continuing rise in economic leading indicators continued to offer a tailwind for equity markets. The Eurozone Purchasing Managers Index ("PMI") rose to a six-year high in February and maintained this high level in the second quarter.² The unemployment rate in the Eurozone dropped to the lowest level since May 2009.

Political stress in the Eurozone receded during the first half of 2017. On March 29, the U.K. formally triggered Article 50 to exit the European Union. In France, Emmanuel Macron won the presidency against Marine Le Pen in May, and in the following parliamentary election, Macron's "En Marche!" won 319 of 577 seats. In the UK, Prime Minister Theresa May called for early elections, but the Conservative Party lost its majority in the House of Commons in the election. Investors expect the election outcome to lower the chances of a "hard" Brexit. At the end of June, Britain began negotiations to leave the European Union.

Markets began to discuss a less expansionary European Central Bank (ECB) policy during the period. However, so far the ECB has pledged to keep its substantial stimulus in place until the end of the year. The ECB upgraded its 2017 and 2018 growth and inflation forecasts and said there was no longer any urgency to take further action to counter deflation. The ECB also signaled an end to its rate-cut cycle at its June meeting.

Europe's two key export markets, the United States and China, demonstrated signs of strength. The bulk of U.S. economic data remained robust but lost momentum in the second quarter. The ISM index dropped but remained at high levels.³ The U.S. Federal Reserve Board (the Fed) continued its less expansionary policy and hiked its target rate by 25 basis points successively to reach 1.25% by the end of June.⁴ In China, the official PMI rose to a five-year high and China's first-quarter GDP growth was slightly stronger than expected, at 6.9% year-over-year. China's foreign reserves fell to a six-year low below $3,000bn at the beginning of the year as the pressure on the yuan continued, but they steadily improved in line with better trade data in the following five months. Demand for European products remained high.

Following a strong fourth-quarter 2016 performance, the first half of 2017 also delivered excellent returns but with differing sector leadership. The best sector returns came from technology (+11%) and industrials (+10%). Companies within both sectors delivered well above-average positive surprises during earnings season. Technology stocks are benefiting from three core trends: 1) corporate spending on big data solutions and cloud adaptation; 2) consumer spending including a new smartphone cycle with higher ASPs (average selling price); and 3) industrial spending on the so-called "Internet of things," i.e., the intelligent communication between machines. On the other hand, energy, the leading performer for the fourth quarter, was the only sector to post meaningful losses, with a 13% decline. This was largely due to downward pressure on crude oil prices in March.

Due to the favorable earnings season, analysts' revisions are clearly in positive territory, which has not happened in Europe since 2010-2011. Remarkably, growth in export earnings is switching back from U.S.-exposed stocks to emerging market-exposed stocks as the negative effect of the recessions in Brazil and Russia has now subsided, while exports to Asia are growing. In addition, domestic demand is also supportive for earnings.

Given the Fund portfolio's defensive strategy, the relative performance of the Fund held up well, with the portfolio clearly outperforming despite the continued bull market. The Fund's more cyclical positioning paid off, despite the fact that the starting beta of the portfolio was only 90%.⁵ Our timely reduction of quality growth stocks in favor of value recovery stocks was driven by signals from our investment phase model. This model analyzes which factors, such as growth, value or quality, determine the return of stocks according to a given phase of the investment cycle.

This also resulted in some sector shifts. Consumer discretionary was reduced with the sale of two holdings, while health care and financials holdings were increased. In the health care sector, the Fund's position in Actelion Ltd.,* a Swiss biopharmaceutical firm, was successfully acquired at a premium. We therefore increased the Fund's health care holdings and added a steadily growing health care provider, Fresenius Medical Care. The increase in the Fund's financials position was driven by increases in existing positions and the relative outperformance of Fund holdings.

* Not held in the portfolio as of June 30, 2017.

Economic Outlook

Given the supportive levels of lead indicators in most key economies, it looks likely that the global economy will maintain its growth path in the second half of this year.

In terms of market sentiment and positioning, much of the hype surrounding global reflation and growth has receded. Judging by feedback from our numerous company meetings, we would expect revenue momentum to continue in Europe. Operating leverage should then also lead to margin expansion. There currently still is a large gap in profit margins in comparison to previous peak margins and to the United States. In addition, financial leverage remains at historical lows after years of deleveraging. We may well see some releveraging in line with further ECB comments regarding tapering.

Mergers and acquisitions deal momentum is picking up in Europe, while in the United States it is slowing down at high levels. This new trend should not be a surprise given the fact that European valuations, as measured by price-to-book, are at a 34% discount to U.S. levels, although the gap is beginning to close.

Market risk is expected to arise mainly from political events/developments and the geopolitical situation (e.g., growing potential U.S. trade protectionism and unfavorable geopolitical developments).

Potential risks for the second half of the year include the danger of U.S. protectionism, a lack of U.S. tax reform and China's Party Congress in October/November. The issue of Eurozone coherence is unlikely to resurface until 2018. On the other hand, should economic activity surprise positively, overshooting inflation and interest rates could become a risk in the United States.

Sincerely,

³ The Institute of Supply Management (ISM) Manufacturing Index tracks U.S. manufacturing activity.

⁴ A basis point is equal to one hundredth of a percentage point and is often used to illustrate differences and changes in fixed-income yields.

⁵ Beta measures a security's sensitivity to the movements of the fund's benchmark or the market as a whole.

Outlook Interview with the Portfolio Manager (Unaudited)

Portfolio Manager

Gerd Kirsten

Question: Is Europe still trading at a value discount to the United States after the recent period of outperformance?

Answer: Yes, on a number of accounts. First of all, current price/earnings ratios with 12-month forward expected earnings are 14.9x for Europe versus 17.5x for the United States.¹ Using a more long-term measure, price-to-book, the historical average discount for Europe has been 18% over the last 20 years. Now, it is still over 30%. Finally, while in the United States corporate bond yields exceed dividend yields, in Europe dividend yields on equities have now grown to a historically large gap over comparable corporate bond yields.² This is especially true for the Eurozone, where corporate bond yields are down to 1.2%, while the average dividend yield is 3.6%.

Question: Do you see risks to European earnings growth due to the recent largely unexpected rise of the euro?

Answer: No, not at this point. The rise of the euro versus the U.S. dollar in the first half of 2017 was not caused by interest rate policies, as the relative tightening of the Fed versus the ECB should have kept a strong USD. The strength of the euro can therefore be explained by a renewed confidence of global investors in the recovery of Europe. Strong inflows into European equity funds support this. For the first time in years, earnings growth in Europe could exceed that of the United States. While the windfall for European exporters from a weaker euro is now gone, they can operate with healthy profit margins at these levels, which are still at the lower end of historical ranges.

Question: From which sectors in Europe will earnings growth come in this year?

Answer: It is a healthy mix of sectors. Some are rebounding from depressed 2016 levels, like energy and mining; some are steadily recovering, like banks and capital goods; and others are continuing their growth path, like pharmaceuticals and foods and beverages. We had increased positions in industrials and financials already in the second half of 2016 and at the beginning of this year, in order to benefit from these earning trends.

¹ Price-to-earnings ratio is a formula that compares a company's current share price with its per-share earnings.

² The yield of an investment is the expected income return derived from accrued interest or dividends. Yield is expressed as an annual percentage rate.

For purposes of its industry concentration policy, the Fund classifies issuers of portfolio securities at the industry sub-group level. Certain of the categories in the above Schedule of Investments consist of multiple industry sub-groups or industries.

Fair Value Measurements

Various inputs are used in determining the value of the Fund's investments. These inputs are summarized in three broad levels. Level 1 includes quoted prices in active markets for identical securities. Level 2 includes other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, prepayment speeds and credit risk). Level 3 includes significant unobservable inputs (including the Fund's own assumptions in determining the fair value of investments). The level assigned to the securities valuations may not be an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities.

The following is a summary of the inputs used as of June 30, 2017 in valuing the Fund's investments.

Notes to Financial Statements (Unaudited)

A. Accounting Policies

The European Equity Fund, Inc. (the "Fund") was incorporated in Delaware on April 8, 1986 as a diversified, closed-end management investment company. Investment operations commenced on July 23, 1986. The Fund reincorporated in Maryland on August 29, 1990 and, on October 16, 1996, the Fund changed from a diversified to a non-diversified company. The Fund became a diversified fund on October 31, 2008.

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP") requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimates. The Fund qualifies as an investment company under Topic 946 of Accounting Standards Codification of U.S. GAAP. The following is a summary of significant accounting policies followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

Security Valuation. The Fund calculates its net asset value ("NAV") per share for publication at the close of regular trading on Deutsche Börse XETRA, normally 11:30 a.m., New York time.

Various inputs are used in determining the value of the Fund's investments. These inputs are summarized in three broad levels. Level 1 includes quoted prices in active markets for identical securities. Level 2 includes other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, prepayment speeds and credit risk). Level 3 includes significant unobservable inputs (including the Fund's own assumptions in determining the fair value of investments). The level assigned to the securities valuations may not be an indication of the risk or liquidity associated with investing in those securities.

Equity securities are valued at the most recent sale price or official closing price reported on the exchange (U.S. or foreign) or over-the-counter market on which they trade prior to the time of valuation. Securities for which no sales are reported are valued at the calculated mean between the most recent bid and asked quotations on the relevant market or, if a mean cannot be determined, at the most recent bid quotation. Equity securities are generally categorized as Level 1.

Investments in open-end investment companies are valued and traded at their NAV each business day and are categorized as Level 1.

Purchased options are generally valued at the settlement prices established each day on the exchange on which they are traded and are categorized as Level 1.

Securities and other assets for which market quotations are not readily available or for which the above valuation procedures are deemed not to reflect fair value are valued in a manner that is intended to reflect their fair value as determined in accordance with procedures approved by the Board and are generally categorized as Level 3. In accordance with the Fund's valuation procedures, factors considered in determining value may include, but are not limited to, the type of the security; the size of the holding; the initial cost of the security; the existence of any contractual restrictions on the security's disposition; the price and extent of public trading in similar securities of the issuer or of comparable companies; quotations or evaluated prices from broker-dealers and/or the appropriate stock exchange (for exchange-traded securities); an analysis of the company's or issuer's financial statements; an evaluation of the forces that influence the issuer and the market(s) in which the security is purchased and sold; and, with respect to debt securities, the maturity, coupon, creditworthiness, currency denomination and the movement of the market in which the security is normally traded. The value determined under these procedures may differ from published values for the same securities.

Disclosure about the classification of the fair value measurements is included in a table following the Fund's Schedule of Investments.

Securities Transactions and Investment Income. Investment transactions are accounted for on a trade date plus one basis for daily NAV calculation. However, for financial reporting purposes, investment security transactions are reported on trade date. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date net of foreign withholding taxes. Certain dividends from foreign securities may be recorded subsequent to the ex-dividend date as soon as the Fund is informed of such dividends. Realized gains and losses from investment transactions are recorded on an identified cost basis. Proceeds from litigation payments, if any, are included in net realized gain (loss) for investments.

Securities Lending. Brown Brothers Harriman & Co., as lending agent, lends securities of the Fund to certain financial institutions under the terms of its securities lending agreement. During the term of the loans, the Fund continues to receive dividends generated by the securities and to participate in any changes in their market value. The Fund requires the borrowers of the securities to maintain collateral with the Fund consisting of either cash or liquid, unencumbered assets having a value at least equal to the value of the securities loaned. When the collateral falls below specified amounts, the lending agent will use its best effort to obtain additional collateral on the next business day to meet required amounts under the securities lending agreement. During the six months ended June 30, 2017, the Fund invested the cash collateral into a joint trading account in affiliated money market funds including Deutsche Government & Agency Securities Portfolio, managed by Deutsche Investment Management Americas Inc. Deutsche Investment Management Americas Inc. receives a management/administration fee (0.13% annualized effective rate as of June 30, 2017) on the cash collateral invested in Deutsche Government & Agency Securities Portfolio. The Fund receives compensation for lending its securities either in the form of fees or by earning interest on invested cash collateral net of borrower rebates and fees paid to a lending agent. Either the Fund or the borrower may terminate the loan at any time and the borrower, after notice, is required to return borrowed securities within a standard time period. There may be risks of delay and costs in recovery of securities or even loss of rights in the collateral should the borrower of the securities fail financially. If the Fund is not able to recover securities lent, the Fund may sell the collateral and purchase a replacement investment in the market, incurring the risk that the value of the replacement security is greater than the value of the collateral. The Fund is also subject to all investment risks associated with the reinvestment of any cash collateral received, including, but not limited to, interest rate, credit and liquidity risk associated with such investments.

The Fund had no securities on loan at June 30, 2017.

Foreign Currency Translation. The books and records of the Fund are maintained in United States dollars.

Assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currency are translated into United States dollars at the prevailing exchange rates at period end. Purchases and sales of investment securities, income and expenses are translated at the rate of exchange prevailing on the respective dates of such transactions. Net realized and unrealized gains and losses on foreign currency transactions represent net gains and losses between trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, the acquisition and disposition of foreign currencies, and the difference between the amount of net investment income accrued and the U.S. dollar amount actually received. The portion of both realized and unrealized gains and losses on investments that results from fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates is not separately disclosed but is included with net realized and unrealized gain/appreciation and loss/depreciation on investments.

At June 30, 2017, the exchange rate was EUR €1.00 to USD $1.14.

Contingencies. In the normal course of business, the Fund may enter into contracts with service providers that contain general indemnification clauses. The Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Fund expects the risk of loss to be remote.

Taxes. The Fund's policy is to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, which are applicable to regulated investment companies, and to distribute all of its taxable income to its shareholders.

Additionally, the Fund may be subject to taxes imposed by the governments of countries in which it invests. Such taxes are generally based on income and/or capital gains earned or repatriated. Estimated tax liabilities on certain foreign securities are recorded on an accrual basis and are reflected as components of interest income or net change in unrealized gain/loss on investments. Tax liabilities realized as a result of security sales are reflected as a component of net realized gain/loss on investments.

Under the Regulated Investment Company Modernization Act of 2010, net capital losses incurred post-enactment may be carried forward indefinitely, and their character is retained as short-term and/or long-term. Previously, net capital losses were carried forward for eight years and treated as short-term losses. As a transition rule, the Act requires that post-enactment net capital losses be used before pre-enactment net capital losses.

At December 31, 2016, the Fund had a net tax basis capital loss carryforward of approximately $19,102,000 of pre-enactment losses, which may be applied against any realized net taxable capital gains of each succeeding year until fully utilized or until December 31, 2017 (the expiration date), whichever occurs first.

At December 31, 2016, the Fund had a net tax basis capital loss carryforward of approximately $6,887,000, which may be applied against realized net taxable capital gains indefinitely, including short-term losses ($4,482,000) and long-term losses ($2,405,000).

The Fund has reviewed the tax positions for the open tax years as of December 31, 2016 and has determined that no provision for income tax and/or uncertain tax provisions is required in the Fund's financial statements. The Fund's federal tax returns for the prior three fiscal years remain open subject to examinations by the Internal Revenue Service.

Dividends and Distributions to Shareholders. The Fund records dividends and distributions to its shareholders on the ex-dividend date. The timing and character of certain income and capital gain distributions are determined annually in accordance with United States federal income tax regulations, which may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences primarily relate to investments in foreign currency denominated investments, investments in foreign passive investment companies, and certain securities sold at a loss. As a result, net investment income (loss) and net realized gain (loss) on investment transactions for a reporting period may differ significantly from distributions during such period. Accordingly, the Fund may periodically make reclassifications among certain of its capital accounts without impacting the NAV of the Fund.

The tax character of current year distributions will be determined at the end of the current fiscal year.

Options. An option contract is a contract in which the writer (seller) of the option grants the buyer of the option, upon payment of a premium, the right to purchase from (call option), or sell to (put option), the writer a designated instrument at a specified price within a specified period of time. Certain options, including options on indices and interest rate options, will require cash settlement by the Fund if exercised. For the six months ended June 30, 2017, the Fund entered into options for hedging purposes.

If the Fund writes a covered call option, the Fund foregoes, in exchange for the premium, the opportunity to profit during the option period from an increase in the market value of the underlying security above the exercise price. If the Fund writes a put option it accepts the risk of a decline in the value of the underlying security below the exercise price. Over-the-counter options have the risk of the potential inability of counterparties to meet the terms of their contracts. The Fund's maximum exposure to purchased options is limited to the premium initially paid. In addition, certain risks may arise upon entering into option contracts, including the risk that an illiquid secondary market will limit the Fund's ability to close out an option contract prior to the expiration date and that a change in the value of the option contract may not correlate exactly with changes in the value of the securities hedged.

There were no open option contracts as of June 30, 2017. For the six months ended June 30, 2017, the investment in purchased option contracts had a total value generally indicative of a range from $0 to approximately $160,000.

The following table summarizes the amount of realized gains and losses on derivative instruments recognized in the Fund's earnings during the six months ended June 30, 2017, and the related location in the accompanying Statement of Operations is summarized in the following table by primary underlying risk exposure:

Realized Gain (Loss) Purchased Options

Equity Contracts (a) $ (229,319)

The above derivatives are located in the following Statement of Operations account:

(a) Net realized gain (loss) from investments (includes purchased options)

B. Investment Advisory and Administration Agreements

The Fund is party to an Investment Advisory Agreement with Deutsche Asset Management International GmbH ("Deutsche AM International GmbH"). The Fund also has an Administration Agreement with Deutsche Investment Management Americas Inc. ("DIMA"). Deutsche AM International GmbH and DIMA are affiliated companies.

Under the Investment Advisory Agreement with Deutsche AM International GmbH, Deutsche AM International GmbH directs the investments of the Fund in accordance with its investment objectives, policies and restrictions. Deutsche AM International GmbH determines the securities, instruments and other contracts relating to investments to be purchased, sold or entered into by the Fund.

The Investment Advisory Agreement provides Deutsche AM International GmbH with a fee, computed weekly and payable monthly, at the annual rate of 0.80% of the Fund's average weekly net assets up to and including $50 million, 0.70% of such assets in excess of $50 million and up to and including $100 million, and 0.60% of such assets in excess of $100 million.

Accordingly, for the six months ended June 30, 2017, the fee pursuant to the Investment Advisory Agreement was equivalent to an annualized rate of 0.76% of the Fund's average daily net assets.

Under the Administration Agreement with DIMA, DIMA provides all of the non-investment advisory services to the Fund. The Administration Agreement provides DIMA with a fee, computed weekly and payable monthly, of 0.20% of the Fund's average weekly net assets.

C. Transactions with Affiliates

Deutsche AM Service Company ("DSC"), an affiliate of DIMA, is the transfer agent, dividend-paying agent and shareholder service agent of the Fund. Pursuant to a sub-transfer agency agreement between DSC and DST Systems, Inc. ("DST"), DSC has delegated certain transfer agent and dividend-paying agent functions to DST. DSC compensates DST out of the shareholder servicing fee it receives from the Fund. For the six months ended June 30, 2017, the amount charged to the Fund by DSC aggregated $6,000, of which $1,000 is unpaid.

Under an agreement with DIMA, DIMA is compensated for providing typesetting and certain regulatory filing services to the Fund. For the six months ended June 30, 2017, the amount charged to the Fund by DIMA included in the Statement of Operations under "Reports to shareholders" aggregated $5,611, all of which is unpaid.

Deutsche Bank AG, the German parent of DIMA and Deutsche AM International GmbH, and its affiliates may receive brokerage commissions as a result of executing agency transactions in portfolio securities on behalf of the Fund, that the Board determined were effected in compliance with the Fund's Rule 17e-1 procedures. For the six months ended June 30, 2017, Deutsche Bank did not receive brokerage commissions.

Certain Officers of the Fund are also officers of DIMA or Deutsche AM International GmbH.

The Fund pays each Director who is not an "interested person" of DIMA or Deutsche AM International GmbH retainer fees plus specified amounts for attended board and committee meetings.

The Fund may invest cash balances in Deutsche Central Cash Management Government Fund, which is managed by DIMA. The Fund indirectly bears its proportionate share of the expenses of Deutsche Central Cash Management Government Fund. Deutsche Central Cash Management Government Fund does not pay DIMA an investment management fee. Deutsche Central Cash Management Government Fund seeks maximum current income to the extent consistent with stability of principal.

D. Portfolio Securities

Purchases and sales of investment securities, excluding short-term investments, for the six months ended June 30, 2017 were $17,726,949 and $18,658,436, respectively.

E. Capital

During the six months ended June 30, 2017 and the year ended December 31, 2016, the Fund purchased 150,500 and 408,200 of its shares of common stock on the open market at a total cost of $1,225,564 and $3,169,561 ($8.14 and $7.76 average per share), respectively. The average discount of these purchased shares comparing the purchased price to the NAV at the time of purchase was 11.48% and 11.80%, respectively.

F. Share Repurchases

On July 27, 2015, the Fund announced that the Board of Directors approved an extension of the current repurchase authorization permitting the Fund to repurchase up to 874,000 shares during the period from August 1, 2015 through July 31, 2016. The Fund repurchased 248,011 shares between August 1, 2015 and July 31, 2016. On July 25, 2016, the Fund announced that the Board of Directors approved an extension of the current repurchase authorization permitting the Fund to repurchase up to 847,000 shares during the period August 1, 2016 through July 31, 2017. The Fund repurchased 389,700 shares between August 1, 2016 and June 30, 2017. On July 31, 2017, the Fund announced that the Board of Directors approved an extension of the current repurchase authorization permitting the Fund to repurchase up to 404,000 shares during the period August 1, 2017 through July 31, 2018.

Repurchases will be made from time to time when they are believed to be in the best interests of the Fund. There can be no assurance that the Fund's repurchases will reduce the spread between the market price of the Fund's shares referred to below and its NAV per share.

Monthly updates concerning the Fund's repurchase program are available on its Web site at deutschefunds.com.

G. Concentration of Ownership

From time to time, the Fund may have a concentration of several shareholder accounts holding a significant percentage of shares outstanding. Investment activities of these shareholders could have a material impact on the Fund. At June 30, 2017, there were three shareholders that held approximately 18%, 6% and 6%, respectively, of the outstanding shares of the Fund.

H. Payments by Affiliates

During the period ended June 30, 2017, the Advisor agreed to reimburse the Fund $415 for losses incurred on trades executed incorrectly. The amount reimbursed was less than 0.01% of the Fund's average net assets, thus having no impact on the Fund's total return.

I. Change in Investment Objective and Related Fundamental Investment Policy of the Fund

At the Annual Meeting of Stockholders initially called to order and adjourned on June 27, 2017 and reconvened on June 30, 2017, stockholders voted to approve a proposal to change to the Fund's investment objective from seeking "long-term capital appreciation through investment primarily in equity or equity-linked securities of issuers domiciled in countries that are members of the European Union" to seeking "long-term capital appreciation through investment primarily in equity or equity-linked securities of issuers domiciled in countries in Europe;" and to make corresponding changes to the Fund's related fundamental investment policy to provide that, "under normal circumstances, at least 80% of the Fund's net assets (plus any assets funded with leverage) will be invested in equity or equity-linked securities of issuers domiciled in countries in Europe."

Report of Annual Meeting of Stockholders (Unaudited)

The Annual Meeting of Stockholders (the "Meeting") of The European Equity Fund, Inc. was held on June 27, 2017. The Meeting was adjourned until, and reconvened on, June 30, 2017 to permit the solicitation of additional votes with respect to a proposal. At the close of business on May 15, 2017, the record date for the determination of stockholders entitled to vote at the Meeting, there were issued and outstanding 8,079,560 shares of the Fund's common stock, each share being entitled to one vote, constituting all of the Fund's outstanding voting securities. At the Meeting, the holders of 6,074,727 shares of the Fund's common stock were represented in person or by proxy, constituting a quorum. At the Meeting, the following matters were voted upon by the stockholders. The resulting votes are presented below:

Federal law gives you the right to limit only

— sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes — information about your creditworthiness

Why can't I limit all sharing?

— affiliates from using your information to market to you

— sharing for non-affiliates to market to you

State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing.

Definitions

Affiliates

Companies related by common ownership or control. They can be financial or non-financial companies. Our affiliates include financial companies with the DWS or Deutsche Bank ("DB") name, such as DB AG Frankfurt.

Companies not related by common ownership or control. They can be financial and non-financial companies.

Non-affiliates

Non-affiliates we share with include account service providers, service quality monitoring services, mailing service providers and verification services to help in the fight against money laundering and fraud.

Joint marketing

A formal agreement between non-affiliated financial companies that together market financial products or services to you. Deutsche Asset Management does not jointly market.

Rev. 05/2017

There are three closed-end funds investing in European equities advised and administered by wholly owned subsidiaries of the Deutsche Bank Group:

— The Central and Eastern Europe Fund, Inc. (formerly The Central Europe, Russia and Turkey Fund, Inc.) — investing primarily in equity or equity-linked securities of issuers domiciled in Central and Eastern Europe (with normally at least 80% in securities of issuers domiciled in countries in Central and Eastern Europe) and concentrating in the energy sector (with more than 25% of the fund's total assets in issuers conducting their principal activities in that sector).

— The European Equity Fund, Inc. — investing primarily in equity or equity-linked securities of issuers domiciled in Europe (with normally at least 80% in securities of issuers domiciled in Europe).

— The New Germany Fund, Inc. — investing primarily in equity or equity-linked securities of middle market German companies with up to 20% in other Western European companies (with no more than 15% in any single country).

Please consult your broker for advice on any of the above or call 1-800-349-4281 (in the U.S.) or 00-800-2287-2750 (outside of the U.S.) for shareholder reports.

The European Equity Fund, Inc. is diversified and focuses its investments primarily in equity and equity-linked securities of issuers domiciled in Europe, thereby increasing its vulnerability to developments in that region. Investing in foreign securities presents certain risks, such as currency fluctuations, political and economic changes, and market risks. Any fund that concentrates in a particular segment of the market or in a particular geographical region will generally be more volatile than a fund that invests more broadly.

ITEM 10. SUBMISSION OF MATTERS TO A VOTE OF SECURITY HOLDERS

There were no material changes to the procedures by which stockholders may recommend nominees to the Fund's Board. The Nominating and Governance Committee will consider nominee candidates properly submitted by stockholders in accordance with applicable law, the Fund's Articles of Incorporation or By-laws, resolutions of the Board and the qualifications and procedures set forth in the Nominating and Governance Committee Charter and this proxy statement. The Nominating and Governance Committee's Charter requires that a stockholder or group of stockholders seeking to submit a nominee candidate (i) must have beneficially owned at least 5% of the Fund's common stock for at least two years, (ii) may submit only one nominee candidate for any particular meeting of stockholders, and (iii) may submit a nominee candidate for only an annual meeting or other meeting of stockholders at which directors will be elected. The stockholder or group of stockholders must provide notice of the proposed nominee pursuant to the requirements found in the Fund's By-laws. Generally, this notice must be received not less than 90 days nor more than 120 days prior to the first anniversary of the date of mailing of the notice for the preceding year's annual meeting. Such notice shall include the specific information required by the Fund's By-laws. The Nominating and Governance Committee will evaluate nominee candidates properly submitted by stockholders on the same basis as it considers and evaluates candidates recommended by other sources.
