LA JOLLA PHARMACEUTICAL COMPANY CONTINUES
SPECIAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS TO DECEMBER 12, 2005

SAN DIEGO, CA, December 2, 2005 La Jolla Pharmaceutical Company (Nasdaq: LJPC) announced today that it has adjourned its Special Meeting of Stockholders previously scheduled for 10:00 a.m. Pacific Time on Friday, December 2, 2005 to allow stockholders additional time to vote. Currently, approximately 52% of the outstanding shares of the Company have been voted and over 85% of the votes cast have been voted for approval of each of the four proposals. The meeting will reconvene at 10:00 a.m. Pacific Time on Monday, December 12, 2005 at the Company's offices at 6455 Nancy Ridge Drive, San Diego, California 92121.

To date, stockholders have voted a total of approximately 39 million shares, or about 52% of the Company's outstanding shares. Currently, approximately 92% of the 39 million shares have been voted in favor of the proposal to approve the proposed financing transaction (Proposal 1), 93% of the votes cast have been voted to approve the proposal to increase the number of authorized shares of the Company (Proposal 2), 88% of the votes cast have been voted to approve the proposed increase in the number of shares available under the Company's equity incentive plan (Proposal 3), and 89% of the votes cast have been voted to approve the reverse stock split proposal (Proposal 4).

There are currently a sufficient number of votes cast to approve Proposals 1 and 3. However, under Delaware law, Proposals 2 and 4 are required to be approved by at least 50% of the Company's outstanding shares. To date, approximately 49% of the Company's outstanding shares have voted to approve Proposal 2 and 47% of the Company's outstanding shares have voted to approve Proposal 4. The Company hopes that the adjournment will provide stockholders with sufficient time to cast the necessary additional 1% and 3% of outstanding shares to approve each of Proposals 2 and 4, respectively.

If any of Proposals 2, 3 or 4 do not pass at the reconvened meeting on December 12, the Company will be required, under the terms of the Securities Purchase Agreement that it entered into on October 6, 2005, to promptly hold another special meeting of stockholders in order to vote on Proposals 2, 3 and 4, as necessary. If a second special meeting of stockholders is held, the new investors would vote at the meeting. Accordingly, in order to avoid the expense associated with a second special meeting and to allow the Company and its employees and management to focus on the continued development of Riquent®, the Company has decided to adjourn the meeting to allow stockholders additional time to vote at the special meeting. When the special meeting reconvenes, if you have submitted a proxy, your shares will be voted according to your direction. You have the power to revoke or revise your proxy at any time before it is voted at the reconvened special meeting by submitting a written notice of revocation to our corporate secretary or by timely providing us with a valid proxy bearing a later date. Your proxy will not be voted if you attend the special meeting and elect to vote your shares in person (although attendance at the special meeting will not, in and of itself, revoke a proxy).

The Company urges stockholders who have not already done so to sign, date and return their proxy card as soon as possible. Stockholders who have questions or need more information about the special meeting should contact the Company's investor relations department at (858) 646-6615.

La Jolla Pharmaceutical Company is a biotechnology company developing therapeutics for antibody-mediated autoimmune diseases and inflammation afflicting several million people in the United States and Europe. The Company is developing Riquent® for the treatment of lupus kidney disease, a leading cause of sickness and death in patients with lupus. The Company is also developing small molecules to treat various other autoimmune and inflammatory conditions. The Company's common stock is traded on The Nasdaq Stock Market under the symbol LJPC.
