OVBC DECLARES EXTRA DIVIDEND

GALLIPOLIS-- Jeffrey E. Smith, President and Chief Executive Officer of Ohio Valley Banc Corp. (OVBC) today reported that the Board of Directors has declared a special "Freedom Dividend". This will be the fifth dividend of the year for Ohio Valley Bank, a 129 year old institution. This extra dividend of $.16 per share will be payable on December 31, 2001 to shareholders of record December 21, 2001.

In a letter addressed to shareholders, Smith acknowledges that the events since September 11 have caused all Americans to assess the strengths and weaknesses of the country and to make adjustments in their lives ranging from inconvenience to sacrifice. He writes: "Since the experts have officially declared we are in a recession, we must all do our part to make it short lived. Your Board of Directors and Management team cannot control national events, the stock market nor interest rates. We can only do our part to keep "our house" in order and do our part to participate in re-igniting the economy."

This extra dividend totals $550,000 to OVBC shareholders and represents a reinvestment in the bank's region of the United States, "...the world's strongest economy". Smith further acknowledges that this special dividend is consistent with the banc corp's mission to "increase the value of our shareholders' investment" and "... comes at a time when we all need to do our part for America".

Ohio Valley Banc Corp common stock is traded on the NASDAQ Stock Market under the symbol OVBC. The holding company owns two subsidiaries: Ohio Valley Bank, with 17 offices in Ohio and West Virginia, and Loan Central, with four consumer finance company offices in Ohio.
