RISK FACTORS

An investment in our common stock involves a significant degree of risk. You should carefully consider the following risk factors and all other information contained in or incorporated by reference into this prospectus before purchasing our common stock. If any of the risks discussed in this prospectus actually occur, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected. If this were to happen, the price of our shares could decline significantly and you may lose all or a part of your investment. The risk factors described below are not the only ones that may affect us. Our forward-looking statements in this prospectus are subject to the following risks and uncertainties. Our actual results could differ materially from those anticipated by our forward-looking statements as a result of the risk factors below. See "Forward-Looking Statements."

Risks Related to Our Business

Our limited operating history makes evaluating our business and prospects difficult.

We have been involved in the LED based business since July 2001, but have only recently begun to direct all of our efforts to commercialization of the OnScreen™ technology. Our limited operating history in this industry and the unproven nature of the OnScreen™ technology makes evaluation of our future prospects very difficult. To date we have not achieved profitability and we cannot be certain that we will sustain profitability on a quarterly or annual basis in the future. You should carefully consider our prospects in light of the risks and difficulties frequently encountered by early stage companies in new and rapidly evolving technology.

We have all the risks of a new product developer in the LED technology business.

The Company, as the owner of the OnScreen™ LED sign technology patents, assumed the responsibility for completing the development of the OnScreen™ technology and determining which products to commercialize utilizing the OnScreen™ technology. Because this is a new and unproven technology, there is a risk that the technology, operation and development of products could be unsuccessful or that we will not be successful in marketing any products developed with the OnScreen™ technology. Such failures would negatively affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

There is no assurance we will achieve profitability.

To date we have not received significant revenue from the OnScreen™ technology. We have focused our scope of operation to the singular product line of the OnScreen™ LED sign technology. For the year ended December 31, 2005 we had a net loss of $8,482,125. We will need to begin generating significant revenues from the OnScreen™ LED architecture product line to offset current operational and development losses if the Company is to cover its current overhead expenses, including further development costs and marketing expenses. There is no assurance that we will achieve profitability.

During 2005 and 2006, the Company funded its operations with net proceeds of approximately $15.7 million we received from financing activities. The Company believes that equity financing or debt will be available to fund its operations until revenue streams are sufficient to fund operations; however, the terms and timing of such equity or debt cannot be predicted. The Living Window™ product line was commercialized during 2005 and the RediAlert™ product line was commercialized the late first half of 2006. The Company cannot assure that it will generate revenues by that date or that its revenues will be sufficient to cover all operating and other expenses of the Company. If revenues are not sufficient to cover all operating and other expenses, the Company will require additional funding.

We will be dependent on third parties and certain relationships to fulfill our obligations.

Because we have contracted the manufacturing of the OnScreen™ LED technology to unrelated companies that are better equipped financially and technologically to design and manufacture OnScreen™ LED technology end products, we are heavily dependent on these third parties to adequately and promptly provide the end product. The Company is dependent upon its ability to maintain the agreements with these designers and manufacturers and other providers of raw materials and components who provide the necessary elements to fulfill our product delivery obligations at the negotiated prices.

Our marketing focus is on government agencies.

Our marketing focus is to sell our RediAlert™ products to government agencies, such as departments of transportation, police departments and other emergency personnel. Our RediAlert™ is our first product directed toward this market. Generally, the inspection, approval process and funding involved with government agencies can take many months and are subject to cancellation by the governmental agency at any time and without penalty. Our business could suffer if we are not successful in marketing our products to a significant number of governmental agencies or if contracts we may enter into with any such agencies were to be cancelled.

The market for LED signage is extremely competitive.

Because the LED signage industry is highly competitive, we cannot assure you that we will be able to compete effectively. We are aware of several other companies that offer LED products, utilizing different technology than our OnScreen™ LED technology. All of these competitors have been in business longer than we have and have significantly greater assets and financial resources than are currently available to us. We expect competition to intensify as innovation in the LED industry advances and as current competitors expand their market into the portable, lightweight signage that is the initial market for the OnScreen™ LED architecture. We cannot assure you that we will be able to compete successfully against current or future competitors. Competitive pressures could force us to reduce our prices and may make it more difficult for us to attract and retain customers.

We depend on key personnel and will need to recruit new personnel as we grow.

As a small company we are currently dependent on the efforts of a limited number of management personnel. We believe that given the large amount of responsibility being placed on each member of our management team, the loss of the services of any member of this team at the present time would harm our business.

If we are successful in expanding our product and customer base, we will need to add additional key personnel as we continue to grow. If we cannot attract and retain enough qualified and skilled staff, the growth of our business may be limited. Our ability to provide services to customers and expand our business depends, in part, on our ability to attract and retain staff with professional experiences that are relevant to technology development and other functions we perform. Competition for personnel with these skills is intense. We may not be able to recruit or retain the caliber of staff required to carry out essential functions at the pace necessary to sustain or expand our business.

We believe our future success will depend in part on the following:

- the continued employment and performance of our senior management,
- our ability to retain and motivate our officers and key employees, and
- our ability to identify, attract, hire, train, retain, and motivate other highly skilled technical, managerial, marketing, sales and customer service personnel.

Table of Contents

If we fail to adequately protect our patents, trademarks and proprietary rights, our business could be harmed. We regard our patents, trademarks, trade secrets and similar intellectual property as critical to our success. We rely on trademark and patent law, trade secret protection and confidentiality or license agreements with our employees, customers, partners and others to protect our proprietary rights. Despite these precautions, it may be possible for a third party to copy or otherwise obtain and use our intellectual property without our authorization. Although we have been granted registration rights for our OnScreen™ trademark, there is no assurance our pending trademark applications for RediAlert, RediAd, Living Window, Rapid Dispatch Emergency Signs or RediDMS will be approved. Effective trademark, patent and trade secret protection may not be available in every country in which we may in the future offer our products. Therefore, we may be unable to prevent third parties from infringement on or otherwise decreasing the value of our trademarks, patents and other proprietary rights.

If we are to remain competitive, we must be able to keep pace with rapid technological change. Our future success depends, in part, on our ability to develop or license leading technologies useful in our business, enhance the ease of use of existing products, develop new products and technologies that address the varied needs of our customers, and respond to technological advances and emerging industry standards and practices on a cost-effective and timely basis. If we are unable, for technical, legal, financial or other reasons, to incorporate new technology in new features or products, we may not be able to adapt in a timely manner to changing market conditions or customer requirements.

We may infringe intellectual property rights of third parties. Litigation regarding intellectual property rights is common in the software and technology industries. We may, in the future, be the subject of claims for infringement, invalidity or indemnification claims based on such claims of other parties' proprietary rights. These claims, whether with or without merit, could be time consuming and costly to defend or litigate, divert our attention and resources, or require us to enter into royalty or licensing agreements. There is a risk that such licenses would not be available on reasonable terms, or at all. Although we believe we have full rights to use our current intellectual property without incurring liability to third parties, there is a risk that our products infringe the intellectual property rights of third parties.

Third parties may infringe on our intellectual property rights There can be no assurance that other parties will not claim infringement by us with respect to our current or future technologies. We expect that participants in our markets will be increasingly subject to infringement claims as the number of services and competitors in our industry segment grows. Any such claim, with or without merit, could be time-consuming, result in costly litigation, cause service upgrade delays or require us to enter into royalty or licensing agreements. Such royalty or licensing agreements might not be available on terms acceptable to us, or at all. As a result, any such claim of infringement against us could have a material adverse effect upon our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Risks Related to Our Common Stock

Our Common Stock price may be volatile, which could result in substantial losses for individual stockholders. The market price for our Common Stock is volatile and subject to wide fluctuations in response to factors, including the following, some of which are beyond our control, which means our market price could be depressed and could impair our ability to raise capital:

· actual or anticipated variations in our quarterly operating results;

Table of Contents

- announcements of technological innovations or new products or services by us or our competitors;
- changes in financial estimates by securities analysts;
- conditions or trends relating to the LED industry;
- changes in the economic performance and/or market valuations of other LED related companies;
- additions or departures of key personnel;
- fluctuations in the stock market as a whole.

Our Certificate of Incorporation limits director liability, thereby making it difficult to bring any action against them for breach of fiduciary duty.

As permitted by Colorado law, the Company's Articles of Incorporation limits the liability of directors to the Company or its stockholders for monetary damages for breach of a director's fiduciary duty, with certain exceptions. These provisions may discourage shareholders from bringing suit against a director for breach of fiduciary duty and may reduce the likelihood of derivative litigation brought by shareholders on behalf of the Company against a director.

We may be unable to meet our future capital requirements.

We are substantially dependent on receipt of additional capital to effectively execute our business plan. If adequate funds are not available to us on favorable terms we will not be able to develop new products or enhance existing products in response to competitive pressures, which would affect our ability to continue as a going concern. We cannot be certain that additional financing will be available to us on favorable terms when required, or at all. If we raise additional funds through the issuance of equity, equity-related or debt securities, such securities may have rights, preferences or privileges senior to those of the rights of our common stock and our stockholders may experience additional dilution.

Penny stock regulations may impose certain restrictions on marketability of our stock.

The Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") has adopted regulations which generally define a "penny stock" to be any equity security that has a market price (as defined) of less than $5.00 per share or an exercise price of less than $5.00 per share, subject to certain exceptions. As a result, our Common Stock is subject to rules that impose additional sales practice requirements on broker-dealers who sell such securities to persons other than established customers and accredited investors (generally those with assets in excess of $1,000,000 or annual income exceeding $200,000, or $300,000 together with their spouse). For transactions covered by these rules, the broker-dealer must make a special suitability determination for the purchase of such securities and have received the purchaser's written consent to the transaction prior to the purchase. Additionally, for any transaction involving a penny stock, unless exempt, the rules require the delivery, prior to the transaction, of a risk disclosure document mandated by the Commission relating to the penny stock market. The broker-dealer must also disclose the commission payable to both the broker-dealer and the registered representative, current quotations for the securities and, if the broker-dealer is the sole market maker, the broker-dealer must disclose this fact and the broker-dealer's presumed control over the market. Finally, monthly statements must be sent disclosing recent price information for the penny stock held in the account and information on the limited market in penny stocks. Consequently, the "penny stock" rules may restrict the ability of broker-dealers to sell our securities.

We have never paid dividends on our Common Stock and do not expect to pay any in the foreseeable future. Preferred Shares impose restrictions on our ability to pay Common Stock dividends.

A potential purchaser should not expect to receive a return on their investment in the form of dividends on our Common Stock. We have never paid cash dividends on our Common Stock and we do not expect to pay dividends in the foreseeable future. Our ability to pay dividends on our Common Stock is restricted by the terms of our agreements with the holders of our Series A and Series B Convertible Preferred Stock. Holders of our Series A Convertible Preferred Stock are entitled to annual dividends of 10%. As of November 30, 2006, we have 90,543 Series A convertible Preferred shares outstanding. In the past, we have fulfilled our dividend obligations on the Series A and Series B Convertible Preferred Stock through a combination of the issuance of additional shares of our Series A Convertible Preferred Stock and cash payments.

On December 31, 2005 dividends payable for the Series A Convertible Preferred Stock was $144,956 and on November 30, 2006 dividends payable for the Series A Convertible Preferred Stock was $59,850. Holders of our Series B Convertible Preferred Stock are entitled to annual dividends of $1.00 per share. As of this filing, all Series B Convertible Preferred Stock had been converted to common shares.

Substantial sales of our Common Stock could cause our stock price to rapidly decline.

The market price of our Common Stock may fall rapidly and significantly due to sales of our Common Stock from other sources such as:

- Common Stock underlying the conversion rights of our Series A and Series B Convertible Preferred Stock.
- Common Stock underlying the exercise of outstanding options and warrants.
- Common Stock, which are available for resale under Rule 144 or are otherwise freely tradable and which are not subject to lock-up restrictions.

Any sale of substantial amounts of our Common Stock in the public market, or the perception that these sales might occur, whether as a result of the sale of Common Stock received by shareholders upon conversion of our Series A or Series B Convertible Preferred Stock, exercise of outstanding warrants or options or otherwise, could lower the market price of our Common Stock. Furthermore, substantial sales of our Common Stock in a relatively short period of time could have the effect of depressing the market price of our Common Stock and could impair our ability to raise capital through the sale of additional equity securities.

The covenants with our Series A and Series B Convertible Preferred Stock shareholders restrict our ability to incur debt outside the normal course, acquire other businesses, pay dividends on our Common Stock, sell assets or issue our securities without the consent of holders of a majority of the Series A and Series B Convertible Preferred Stock outstanding. Such arrangements may adversely affect our future operations or may require us to make additional concessions to the holders of the Series A and Series B Convertible Preferred Stock in order to enter into transactions or take actions management deems beneficial and in the best interests of the holders of our Common Stock.

Each Selling Stockholder's percentage of ownership in the following table is based upon 144,833,721 shares of common stock as of issued November 30, 2006. These broker-dealers may be compensated with discounts, concessions or commissions from the Selling Stockholders or the purchasers of shares for whom such broker-dealers may act as agents or to whom they sell as principal or both. The compensation as to a particular broker-dealer might be greater than customary commissions. Market makers and block purchasers purchasing the shares will do so for their own account and at their own risk. These provisions may restrict certain activities of, and limit the timing of purchases and sales of any of the shares by, the Furthermore, under Regulation M, persons engaged in a distribution of securities are prohibited from simultaneously engaging in market making and certain other activities with respect to such securities for a specified period of time prior to the commencement of such distributions, subject to specified exceptions or exemptions. All of these limitations may affect the marketability of the shares.

The estimated offering expenses consist of: a SEC registration fee of $3,123, printing expenses of $2,000, accounting fees of $2,000, legal fees and expenses of $2,000, transfer agent fees of $1,000, state Blue Sky registration fees of $2,000 and miscellaneous expenses of $1,000. Under Regulation M, the selling stockholders or their agents may not bid for, purchase, or attempt to induce any person to bid for or purchase, shares of our Common Stock while such selling stockholders are distributing shares covered by this prospectus. Accordingly, except as noted below, the selling stockholders are not permitted to cover short sales by purchasing shares while the offering is taking place. The Selling Stockholders are advised that if a particular offer of Common Stock is to be made on terms constituting a material change from the information set forth above with respect to this Plan of Distribution, then, to the extent required, a post-effective amendment to the accompanying registration statement must be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Overview

OnScreen Technologies, Inc. (the Company) has pioneered and is commercializing innovative thermal management solutions capable of revolutionizing the LED display, semiconductor and electronic packaging industries. Utilizing its patent-pending thermal technologies and architecture, the Company has developed highly advanced, proprietary LED display solutions and cooling applications that provide increased performance and are less expensive to install and support than competing products and technologies.

The Company is primarily focused on commercialization of its innovative thermal cooling technology, WayCool, and the commercial adoption of its sign display platform product under the name RediAlert™. Additionally, the Company is continuing efforts towards development and commercialization of its Tensile technology. The Company's product lines utilize the OnScreen™ direct view LED (light emitting diode) sign display technology (sometimes referred to as the "OnScreen™ LED architecture" or "OnScreen™ technology" or "OnScreen™ LED technology"). The Company's plan is to focus all of its resources on the commercialization of the OnScreen™ technology.

The Company's LED products are specially designed to provide display solutions into vertical markets including commercial and government. The OnScreen™ LED architecture provides a platform for the production of LED display products in the current market that is lighter than competitive products and provides a corresponding reduction in wind loading. These architectural benefits yield products that could be easy to install, are portable and require less support infrastructure, which opens new markets for LED message display products.

The Company's RediAlert™ Rapid Dispatch Emergency Signs product line provides the world's first truly portable LED product for Emergency Response and commercial advertising using the OnScreen™ LED sign technology. Powered by battery and transported by any vehicle, these products give highly visible emergency information or advertising messages in less than five minutes of set up time. The Company began shipping the RediAlert™ product line during the third quarter of 2006.

The Company does not expect to record any significant growth in revenues until the WayCool technology is commercialized and its RediAlert™ product line is fully deployed nationwide.

The Company incurred a net loss of $10,871,585 for the nine months ended September 30, 2006. This net loss of $10,871,585 includes non-cash charges of $2,710,440 for compensation and services expense including amortization of deferred compensation related to equity given or to be given to employees and consultants for services provided, $2,358,217 of non-cash amortization of the intrinsic value of convertible debt and the debt discount, and $2,780,000 of non-cash loss for the value of warrants issued as a settlement.

Management has continued to raise the capital needed to fund the development and marketing of the Company's OnScreen™ products during 2006. During the nine months ended September 30, 2006 the Company received proceeds of $7.7 million for unsecured notes less $0.4 million of expenses. These funds will assist the Company to continue to develop its OnScreen™ products and continue the Company's operations until the Company brings the OnScreen™ products to market. However, the Company anticipates expanding and developing its technology and product lines which will require additional funding.

Intellectual Property

The Company relies on various intellectual property laws and contractual restrictions to protect its proprietary rights in products, logos, trademarks and services. These include confidentiality, invention assignment and nondisclosure agreements with the Company's employees, contractors, suppliers and strategic partners. The confidentiality and nondisclosure agreements with employees, contractors and suppliers are in perpetuity or for a sufficient length of time so as to not threaten exposure of proprietary information. The Company continues to file and protect its intellectual property rights, trademarks and products through continued filings with the US Patent and Trademark Office and, as applicable, internationally.

Critical Accounting Policies

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that have a significant impact on the results the Company will report in the Company's financial statements. Some of the Company's accounting policies require the Company to make difficult and subjective judgments, often as a result of the need to make estimates of matters that are inherently uncertain. Actual results may differ from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions.

Asset Impairment

The Company reviews its long-lived assets for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of the asset exceeds its fair value and may not be recoverable. In performing the review for recoverability, the Company estimates the future cash flows expected to result from the use of the asset and its eventual disposition. If the sum of the expected future cash flows (undiscounted and without interest charges) is less than the carrying amount of the asset, an impairment loss is recognized as the excess of the carrying amount over the fair value. Otherwise, an impairment loss is not recognized. Management estimates the fair value and the estimated future cash flows expected. Any changes in these estimates could impact whether there was impairment and the amount of the impairment.

Valuation of Non-Cash Capital Stock Issuances

The Company values its stock transactions based upon the fair value of the equity instruments. Various methods can be used to determine the fair value of the equity instrument. The Company may use the fair value of the consideration received, the quoted market price of the stock or a contemporaneous cash sale of the common or preferred stock. Each of these methods may produce a different result. Management uses the method it determines most appropriately reflects the stock transaction. If a different method was used it could impact the expense and equity stock accounts.

Patent Costs

The Company estimates the patents it has filed have a future beneficial value to the Company; thus, it capitalizes the costs associated with filing for its patents. At the time the patent is approved, the patent costs associated with the patent will be amortized over the useful life of the patent. If the patent is not approved, at that time the costs will be expensed. A change in the estimate of the patent having a future beneficial value to the Company will impact the other assets and expense accounts of the Company.

Revenue Recognition

The recognition of the Company's revenues requires judgment, including whether a sale includes multiple elements, and if so, whether vendor-specific objective evidence (VSOE) of fair value exists for those elements. Customers receive certain elements of our products over a period of time. These elements include installation and training services. The ability to identify VSOE for those elements and the fair value of the respective elements could materially impact the amount of earned and unearned revenue. Also, the Company offers an extended warranty for which the revenues are initially recorded as deferred revenue and recorded to revenue ratably over the applicable warranty period. The Company does not have any history as to the costs expected to be incurred in performing these services. Therefore, revenues may be recorded that are not in proportion to the costs expected to be incurred in performing these services.

The Company invested $76,375 in patent costs and $800,000 in technology rights during the first nine months of 2006. The Company expects its investment in patent costs will continue throughout 2006 as it invests in patents to protect the rights to use its OnScreen™ product developments.

Financing activities

During the first nine months of 2006, the Company received $7,294,950 of proceeds from unsecured convertible notes. The Company paid $375,475 on an unsecured notes payable during the first nine months of 2006. The Company plans on raising the capital needed to fund the further development and marketing of the Company's products.

Recap of liquidity and capital resources

The Company is seeking to raise additional capital for the commercialization of its OnScreen™ technology product lines which the Company believes will provide sufficient cash to meet its short-term working capital requirements for the next twelve months. As the Company continues to expand and develop its technology and product lines, additional funding will be required. The Company will attempt to raise these funds through borrowing instruments or issuing additional equity.

The Company received $726,000 of proceeds from a private placement of convertible notes and $150,000 of proceeds in other notes during the third quarter of 2006 and the Company is continuing to raise funds. The proceeds from the sale of such securities should be sufficient to satisfy the Company's short-term working capital requirements.

Management of the Company believes that equity financing or debt will be available to fund its operations until revenue streams are sufficient to fund operations; however, the terms and timing of such equity or debt cannot be predicted and there is no assurance that such financing will close. Management expects the OnScreen™ LED technology to be commercialized during 2006 and 2007. The Company cannot assure that it will generate material revenues by that date or that its revenues will be sufficient to cover all operating and other expenses of the Company. If revenues are not sufficient to cover all operating and other expenses, the Company will require additional funding. There is no assurance the Company will be able to raise such additional capital. The failure to raise additional capital or generate product sales in the expected time frame will have a material adverse effect on the Company.

The significant increase during 2006 compared to prior year is primarily the result of an inventory write-down of impaired inventory to market value of $595,167. While the Company's sales are low, it expects the cost of sales to fluctuate between periods as a percentage of its revenues.

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses

Selling, General and Administrative (SG&A) expenses includes such items as wages, consulting, general office expenses, business promotion expenses and costs of being a public company including legal and accounting fees, insurance and investor relations.

SG&A expenses increased from $3,847,681 for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 to $5,578,666 for the same period during 2006. This increase of $1,730,985 is primarily the result of increased non-cash expenses of approximately $1.6 million as well as the Company is putting in place the infrastructure in to support the distribution of the Onscreen™ product lines.

For the three months ended September 30, 2006 compared to the same period in 2005, SG&A expenses decreased $602,590 primarily the result of lower non-cash expenses.

To conserve its cash, the Company continues to pay certain expenses through equity compensation versus cash compensation and during the nine months ended September 30, 2006, the Company recorded approximately $2.5 million related to equity compensation that was granted to certain employees and consultants for their services provided to the Company.

Research and Development

The increase of $75,347 and $975,347 in research and development during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2006, respectively compared to the same period in 2005 is a result of activities to further research and develop the OnScreen™ technology and products. During the nine months ended September 30, 2006, the Company recorded approximately $200,000 of non-cash compensation for research and development consulting services provided to the Company. The Company anticipates increasing its expenditures in research and development during the remainder of 2006 compared to 2005.

During 2005, 43% of revenues were derived from three customers at 19%, 12% and 12%. During 2004, 36% of revenues were derived from two customers at 25% and 11%.

Cost of revenue

The cost of revenue for the year ended December 31, 2005 and 2004 was $170,533 and $0, respectively. The cost of revenue exceeded sales during 2005, mainly because of the mobile LED truck which had revenues of $41,167 and cost of revenue of $78,321 which was mainly depreciation on the mobile LED truck.

While the Company is introducing its new products and until it sells larger volumes to get economies of scale, it expects the cost of sales to fluctuate between periods as a percentage of its revenues.

The Company will continue to incur interest on these notes until they are paid off.

Net Loss

The net loss increased $577,896 for the year ended December 31, 2005 compared to the same period in 2004. The increase in net loss during 2005 compared to 2004 is mainly the result of recording the $1,676,481 of non-cash intrinsic value of convertible debt and amortization of debt discount related to the convertible notes payable and an increase of research and development costs of approximately $375,000 and interest expense of approximately $272,000. This is offset by a decrease of selling and administrative expenses of approximately $2 million.

Preferred Stock Dividends

DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS

Industry Overview

The use of bright LEDs in large and small scale products has been expanding over the past several years. LED's have become the technology of choice for many products because they offer significant advantages in brightness, energy efficiency and longer product life over traditional illumination choices. Until the advent of high-brightness LED display technology, few options existed for videotext and motion displays to be viewed in direct sunlight.

Energy consumption is a limiting factor in the advancement of outdoor LED displays. Because significant energy is required to illuminate a LED motion display in direct sunlight, significant heat is generated when powering LED's to brightness adequate to be seen in direct sunlight. Current LED packages and heat transfer mechanisms generally do not easily accommodate close pixel spacing on this generation of products - a limiting visual factor when viewed from any distance less than a couple hundred feet. This also means that, until now, a commercial product with real market potential, i. e., outdoor television and medium scale display advertising, has been technically difficult and expensive to produce.

To date, the leading cause preventing a larger proliferation of large-scale LED products has been cost. The Company believes that a more cost effective display technology can result in a significantly deeper market penetration for these displays.

OnScreen™ LED Technology

OnScreen Technologies, Inc. has created a range of products with significant architectural benefits and brighter visibility than the current generation of sign displays. Our sign displays are visible in direct sunlight and substantially reduce many of the disadvantages associated with current displays, including sun-loading, wind-loading and excessive weight. The OnScreen™ LED technology delivers simple light weight, see-through arrays that eliminate the need for complex modules. In our products, LEDs are equally spaced in a configuration that allows light and air to pass through the system, thereby permitting rapid heat transfer and avoiding overheating.

Materials and Manufacturing Cost

OnScreen Technologies, Inc. has developed an open LED configuration that permits nearly unobstructed flow of air through the LED screen, thereby significantly reducing wind loading. This also reduces the weight of the sign system and the cost of the structure that supports the sign system. These advantages are present to some extent in all OnScreen™ LED sign product lines.

Structure Benefits

Wind loading is reduced because of the "grid design" that permits air to pass through the LED grid and, at the same time, the ambient fluid air dissipates the heat from the LEDs. Because of this lighter weight and the reduced wind loading of the OnScreen™ LED architecture, the foundation and support structure can be reduced in size and cost. In a typical large scale sign deployment, the cost allocation is approximately 30% sign and 70% installation and infrastructure.

Storage, Shipping, Handling and Setup Cost

Our products are lighter than competitive systems and offer significant savings in storage, shipping, handling and installation costs because of the "foldable" feature of several models that can be shipped laid back-to-back with greatly decreased volume and weight, resulting in lower shipping cost.

Life Cycle Cost

Because of higher LED junction temperature in traditional LED displays, LED lifetime, brightness, and efficiency degrade over time. Our products are designed to dramatically reduce the LED junction-to-environment thermal resistance, resulting in a lower junction temperature for any given brightness level. This yields higher brightness at lower power levels, thus reducing operating cost and increasing reliability.

Weight

The unique OnScreen™ LED architecture reduces the weight-per-unit area compared to current systems primarily due to efficient placement of LEDs on a grid structure with void empty space through which convective air cooling freely passes. This architecture eliminates some of the heavy external cooling needed for traditional displays versus complex rigid solid circuit board modules in present LED displays.

Brightness

Greatly increased brightness can be achieved through the use of innovative optics that address spatial tuning, horizontal axis optics, angular aperture control and optical efficiency. While brightness resulting from the OnScreen™ LED architecture can be optimized through the use of our innovative pixel packages, standard off the shelf pixels are used as well, depending on the application.

RediAlert™

The Company is committed to complete production in its government emergency response product line. The first of this product line is the RediAlert™ Rapid Dispatch Emergency Signs. The RediAlert™ design is based on an arrangement of LEDs placed periodically along the edge of narrow horizontal louver like slats similar to Venetian blinds that provide structural integrity without sacrificing other advantages. The initial RediAlert™ product uses a thin, light-weight rigid support material as the principal structure to hold the LEDs and supply the necessary circuitry, while permitting the OnScreen™ LED “see through” display and lightweight design. The systematic elimination of support material results in a unique screen effect capable of permitting free flow of air between the slats and creating the appearance of an opaque background for easy reading of the sign in bright sunlight conditions.

The RediAlert™ is capable of displaying three lines of variable text for messaging at emergency response incidents where it is important to quickly convey a message to motorists and pedestrians. Independently powered by 12VDC battery power, this easily deployable, folding 3' x 5' illuminated screen provides law enforcement and emergency management personnel with the latest in technology and equipment to assist in communicating with the public. RediAlert™ products are designed to collapse and fit into the trunk of emergency vehicles. These products are capable of being deployed by a single person within minutes and represent a significant market for the Company. Our target markets include the rapidly expanding Homeland Security effort, federal and state homeland defense, law enforcement, military, emergency response and traffic control.

RediDMS™

This product line is in development stage. The RediDMS™, Dynamic Message Signs (DMS) is a stationary sign capable of displaying variable text that will be remotely controlled by means of a wireless modem. The components of this product are similar to the RediAlert™ in that the louver configuration is a fundamental element. The Company intends to outsource the manufacture of the RediDMS™ and initially market the RediDMS™ through standard Department of Transportation (DOT) programs. Contractual relationships with established Department of Transportation contractors are currently being pursued by the Company.

It is intended that the DOT usage of the RediDMS™ will include messages relating to Amber Alert, Emergency Ahead, Homeland Security Warnings and other emergency warnings. The primary benefits of RediDMS™ are associated with the reduced infrastructure because of its light weight.

Living Window™

The full color Living Window™ that is currently in development is intended to be the basis of a product line that features a new generation of bright full color LED products specifically designed for the retail industry and point of purchase advertising markets. This product line features electrical conductors imbedded in a rigid grid material that also serves as the structural member on to which the LEDs are mounted. Our design permits a product that consists of approximately 70% vacant space, through which ambient air can freely flow to permit heat transfer.

This product line can provide highly effective advertising to several different vertical retail markets, such as auto dealerships, grocery stores, movie theaters, malls, and restaurants. This product will be marketed under the name, Living Window™. The full color Living Window™ will enable retailers to communicate a bright three-to-six-line text message directly to customers through a 15 to 30 square feet, lightweight, see-through sign that is lighter than most comparable products and which can be easily installed in a window or suspended in an indoor environment. Living Window™ enables any business owner to use a remote computer to display a message or change the existing message in a matter of seconds on one or more signs located in one or multiple remote locations. One of the most appealing factors of Living Window™ is its revolutionary product design that does not interfere with the integrity of the building architecture. The transparent design allows ambient light to enter, customers to see in and employees to see out, all while a variety of text and graphics modes are being displayed.

Tensile Roll-Up

The innovative Tensile technology is currently in the design and prototyping stage. Tensile is a revolutionary LED sign design that features flexibility of the LED screen in addition to lightweight, see-through features as used in the other OnScreen™ sign products. The unique open design permits easy flow of ambient air through the X-Y grid for better heat dissipation. Full color and video motion are intended to be standard features. This product is designed for indoor and outdoor video displays, signage, indoor and outdoor lighting, including complex forms and decorative elements such as light-walls, light sculpture, and chandeliers. Among the advantages of Tensile is the ability to retrofit existing signage infrastructure with little modification due to the lightweight and advanced thermal management characteristics of Tensile. Furthermore, these innovative characteristics also allow Tensile to be used in new applications and locations where LED technology could not previously be used due to weight, thermal management and structural constraints.

LED Sign Market Potential

The Company believes that there are no new architectural developments in the area of LED sign technology that addresses the key limitations of current LED display systems. The Company is focusing its efforts towards further defining the market environment, size, growth, trends, competitive analysis, product roadmap, partnering strategy and commercial sales program. Specific applications of the OnScreen™ LED technology include: billboards, store windows, large screen indoor and outdoor products, outdoor commercial and residential televisions, curved and complex shaped displays, artistic light displays, Amber Alert project, Homeland Security, roadway “intelligent transportation systems” (ITS) and see-through displays on buildings. An additional potential marketing strategy is directed toward licensing the OnScreen™ LED technology intellectual property to worldwide manufacturers of LED sign products and components.

OnScreen Technologies, Inc. is currently pursuing markets related to LED products that include:

- Rapidly deployed, highly mobile, emergency response products, RediAlert™. This product is directed toward government emergency response and public safety matters such as homeland security, Amber alert, automobile accidents, traffic control and public information.
- Stationary or fixed highway signage designed to display highway traffic messages, emergency messages, and commercial advertising messages, RediDMS™. Although these products will be mounted along roadways for the purpose of traffic control and emergency information, when the circumstances permit, these products can be used for roadway advertising. This product is intended to include an optional wireless modem capable of transmitting data to be displayed on the sign at a moments notice.
- Indoor, see through window, commercial advertising products, Living Window™. Our market focus is retail level such as automobile dealerships, restaurants and other retail markets. This product is intended to include an optional wireless modem capable of transmitting and receiving data to be displayed on the sign.
- Outdoor, rapidly deployed, mobile, commercial advertising products, RediAd™. The primary commercial market objective is the short term, nonrecurring daily or weekly specials, initial retail openings, holiday/special events and sporting events.

Market Analysis

In August 2003, OnScreen Technologies, Inc. contracted with Principia Partners, an independent third party new product research consulting firm, for a comprehensive market analysis of standard LED display application programs to analyze and assist the Company in determining the saleable features and breadth of applications for the OnScreen™ LED technology and the viable options for generating returns via intellectual property licensing of the OnScreen™ LED technology. Based upon the market segmentation analysis and assuming that there are no technological breakthroughs in direct competition with the OnScreen™ LED technology, the Company believes that there exists a directly addressable North American market of over $5 billion for OnScreen™ LED technology-based products for large format outdoor advertising and retail applications. The market potential for the transportation applications of Onscreen™ LED technology products in North America is estimated to be over $2 billion.

OnScreen Technologies, Inc. Business Strategy

The implemented Company business strategy includes an expanding basis of innovative ideas and products based on the OnScreen™ LED technology. The Company continues to develop and purchase OnScreen™ LED architecture related new product ideas and enhance its current technology. Examples of potential areas to which the company will look to create market opportunity include: LED pixel packages, custom mounting hardware, ventilation support systems and electronic subsystems.

Licensing

The Company intends to implement a broad intellectual property licensing program for select products in order to commercialize various segments of the OnScreen™ LED technology, including Tensile for retail and large outdoor format applications, on a larger scale than is possible with the financial resources currently available to the Company. Through this program, the OnScreen™ LED technology is intended to be exploited through the development of worldwide license and royalty agreements. This strategy has been adopted for several reasons:

- It is considerably less capital intensive than developing manufacturing and marketing capabilities.
 - It provides revenue streams immediately through advance licensing fees.
- It provides an opportunity to fund further research and to build/develop the intellectual property portfolio surrounding the Company.
 - It can provide continuous long-term revenue streams.
- It provides a more rapid adaptation and proliferation of the OnScreen™ LED technology.
 - It expedites finding potential corporate “partners”.
 - It provides the opportunity for greater margins.

These benefits are intended to be used as the primary method for promoting rapid adoption of WayCool (Please see below the section “OnScreen™ WayCool Thermal Management Technology”) through licensing agreements with various suppliers in the microprocessor-based electronics markets. These include potential licensing relationships with chip original equipment manufacturers (OEMs), original development manufacturers (ODMs), as well as potential relationships with companies serving the after-market retail market segment. It is intended that a worldwide licensing strategy for WayCool will open significant business opportunities for this technology in a number of vertical market applications. WayCool is discussed below in the section entitled OnScreen™ WayCool Thermal Management Technology.

Outsource Manufacturing

The Company outsources the manufacture and assembly of the OnScreen™ LED technology product lines.

Intellectual Property Rights to OnScreen™

The following scenario describes the evolution of the license and ownership of the OnScreen™ LED technology patent:

- On or about July 23, 2001, the Company entered into a Contract and License Agreement (hereafter the “License Agreement”) with the inventor of the OnScreen™ LED technology which agreement entitled the Company to 75% of the revenue generated from the direct view OnScreen™ LED sign technology with angular dimension greater than 30 inches and guaranteed the inventor a minimum royalty of $50,000 the first year, $100,000 the second year and $250,000 each year thereafter.
 - On January 10, 2005 and February 16, 2005, the inventor/owner of the OnScreen™ LED technology patent conveyed ownership of the OnScreen™, WayCool and WayFast patents to CH Capital, a related party of the Company, for value received. This conveyance is subject to the above stated OnScreen™ license rights of the Company.
- On February 16, 2005, in consideration for the payment of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000), CH Capital conveyed to the Company the OnScreen™ patent rights. This conveyance vested in the Company the ownership of the OnScreen™ LED technology patent.
- On March 24, 2006, CH Capital assigned to the Company all right, title and interest to the WayCool patent in consideration for eight hundred thousand dollars ($800,000) and a three year warrant for 7,040,485 common shares at a per share price of $0.20. The $800,000 amount represents reimbursement for the time and money CH Capital spent acquiring and developing the WayCool technology.

Fusion Three, LLC Settlement

In August 2002, the Company entered into an agreement with Fusion Three, LLC whereby Fusion Three, LLC paid the annual $50,000 Company minimum royalty fee (See above, Intellectual Property Rights to OnScreen™) in consideration for the Company's conveying to Fusion Three, LLC 5% of the Company's interest in the OnScreen License Agreement. In December 2002 the Company and Fusion Three, LLC entered into an addendum to the August 2002 agreement whereby Fusion Three, LLC paid the $100,000 second year minimum royalty fee in consideration for an additional 10% of the Company's interest in the OnScreen License Agreement. On January 14, 2004, the inventor agreed to accept $175,000 in lieu of the $250,000 third year minimum royalty fee payment. This payment was made by the Company to the inventor.

On February 3, 2004, we reached a Master Settlement and Release Agreement with Fusion Three, LLC whereby, in consideration for the exchange of mutual releases and Fusion Three, LLC relinquishing its claim to any of the OnScreen™ technology; we paid to Fusion Three, LLC $150,000 plus agreed to pay annually declining percentages of revenue derived from the commercialization of the direct view LED video display technology as follows: 5% in 2005 declining to 2% in year 2008 and thereafter. In the event of a change of control of the Company, the percentage of revenue stated above would terminate and a single payment transaction fee would be paid to Fusion Three, LLC ranging from 10% of the OnScreen appraised value up to $100,000,000, 7.5% for the appraised value between $100,000,001 and $200,000,000, 5% of the appraised value between $200,000,001 and $300,000,000, and 4% of the appraised value between $300,000,001 and $400,000,000 and 3% for the appraised value between $400,000,001 and $500,000,000 and 2% for any appraised amounts between $500,000,001 and $600,000,000.

During April 2006 the Company negotiated the terms of a full and final settlement with Fusion Three, LLC whereby Fusion Three, LLC relinquished all rights and claims to any revenues and fees in consideration for our issuing to Fusion Three, LLC a three year warrant authorizing Fusion Three, LLC to purchase up to five million six hundred thousand (5,600,000) shares of our common stock at a per share price of $0.20. We also agreed to issue Fusion Three, LLC a warrant to purchase up to one million two hundred thousand (1,200,000) shares of our common stock at a per share price of $0.35 for 300,000 shares; $0.50 for 300,000 shares; $0.75 for 300,000 shares and $1.00 for 300,000 shares before November 15, 2007. Regarding all of the common shares underlying the warrants, we are obligated to file a Form SB-2 registration statement with the SEC within no more than one hundred twenty (120) days from the date of the agreement.

Intellectual Property Protection

We rely on various intellectual property laws and contractual restrictions to protect our proprietary rights in products and services. These include confidentiality, invention assignment and nondisclosure agreements with our employees, contractors, suppliers and strategic partners. The confidentiality and nondisclosure agreements with employees, contractors and suppliers are in perpetuity or for a sufficient length of time so as to not threaten exposure of proprietary information. In addition, we intend to pursue the registration of our trademarks and service marks in the United States and internationally.

- February 10, 2006 Patent Cooperation Treaty applications were filed relating to the aerodynamic RediAlert™ LED sign system design.
- March 24, 2006 CH Capital assigned to the Company all right, title and interest of the WayCool patent. This assignment has been recorded and is a matter of record with the United States Patent and Trademark Office.

On February 25, 2004, we were notified by the United States Patent and Trademark Office that the examining attorney reviewed the “OnScreen™” trademark application and found no similar registered or pending mark registered under Trademark Act Section 2(d), U.S.C. Section 1052(d) TMEP sect 1105.01. We were, however, required to disclaim the unitary expression “onscreen technology” because the individual component words of a complete descriptive phrase are not registerable. This disclaimer does not impair the “OnScreen™” trademark nor the “OnScreen™ technology” words when used in conjunction with the trademark.

On May 2, 2006 the United States Patent and Trademark Office permitted registration of the mark, RediAlert™, under the Trademark Act of 1946, as amended.

We continue to pursue our applications for trademark registration relating to “Ready Dispatch Emergency Sign”, “Living Window” and “RediDMS” relating to our OnScreen™ LED architecture signage.

The Company continuously reviews and updates the existing patent and trademark filings and files new documentation both nationally and internationally (Patent Cooperation Treaty) in a continuing effort to maintain up to date patent and trademark protection.

There is no assurance that our patents and trademark registrations will be granted. Furthermore, we are exposed to the risk that other parties may claim we infringe their existing patent and trademark rights, which could result in our inability to develop and market our products unless we enter into licensing agreements with the technology owner or could force us to engage in costly and potentially protracted litigation.

OnScreen™ WayCool Thermal Management Technology

Among the challenges and limitations in the development of high-end desktop computers and workstations is the thermal dissipation associated with advanced processors. It is anticipated that the next generation of high-end processors using dual core design pushes the thermal envelope even further. This thermal challenge has been approached by manufacturers of high-powered processors by advancing heatsink and fan technology beyond the state of the art known only a few years ago. The OnScreen™ WayCool Thermal Management Technology is designed as an answer to this challenge. WayCool provides a straightforward technology to effectively improve management of operating temperatures of electronics over conventional approaches, as verified by external testing and evaluation.

WayCool Market Analysis

The Company received a report in May 2005 prepared by an independent third party new product research consulting firm that provided a comprehensive market compilation and analysis of the semiconductor industry shipments in the personal computer and server markets for major producers as well as an evaluation of the market impact of the WayCool Thermal Management Technology in context with the total semiconductor industry demand. The principal focus of the report was to determine a preliminary business valuation for WayCool in providing a viable solution for computer processor chip thermal management.

The report of the independent third party research firm found that the semiconductor industry is expected to move to the use of advanced cooling solutions to solve an increasing need for higher processing speeds so as to better manage greater power requirements. It is expected that exponential increases in thermal output could limit traditional thermal management solutions over the next three years.

The potential market opportunity for WayCool is very large. Third party analysis indicates that a market potential of over $5 billion exists in the vertical market of PC and server applications. The potential application of WayCool to other types of electronics, such as video display chips and other types of microprocessor-based electronics is estimated to equal or exceed the single market potential of PCs and servers.

Intellectual Property Rights to WayCool Thermal Management Technology

On January 10, 2005 and February 16, 2005, the inventor/owner of the OnScreen™ LED technology patent conveyed ownership of the OnScreen™, WayCool and WayFast patents to CH Capital, for value received. CH Capital is a California general partnership controlled by Bradley J. Hallock, currently a shareholder and director and William Clough, currently a shareholder, corporate secretary, corporate counsel and director.

On February 16, 2005, in consideration for the payment of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000), CH Capital conveyed to the Company the OnScreen™ patent rights. This conveyance vested in the Company the ownership of the OnScreen™ LED technology patent.

March 24, 2006 CH Capital assigned to the Company all right, title and interest of the WayCool patent in consideration for a one time payment of eight hundred thousand dollars ($800,000) plus three year warrants that represent 7,040,485 common shares. The $800,000 amount represents reimbursement for the time and money CH Capital spent to acquire and develop the WayCool technology. This assignment has been recorded and is a matter of record with the United States Patent and Trademark Office. The Company now owns all right, title and interest of the WayCool patent.

We believe that the terms with CH Capital are fair and reasonable for a variety of reasons, including that CH Capital provided the upfront funding in connection with the WayCool technology development at a time when we did not have sufficient funds or human or technical resources to evaluate and pursue the commercial viability of the WayCool technology. At the time CH Capital acquired rights to WayCool, it was an unproven and non-validated technology. We also believe that the equity component consideration relating to warrants issued to CH Capital is fair and reasonable inasmuch as the terms of said warrants are tied to the terms negotiated on an arms-length basis with outside investors in connection with our fund raising efforts.

Employees

As of September 30, 2006, the Company had fifteen fulltime employees. None of our employees is represented by a labor union. We consider our relations with our employees to be good. We plan to add additional staff as needed to handle all phases of our business.

Description of Property

Effective November 11, 2005, the Company relocated its corporate home office to 600 NW 14th Avenue, Suite 100, Portland, Oregon 97209. The Company retains a field office in Safety Harbor, Florida. In October 2005, the Company signed a lease with Market Place I & II, LLC to lease 7,500 square feet of office space at 600 NW 14th Avenue, Suite 100, Portland, Oregon 97209 beginning November 1, 2005 through December 31, 2010, which lease is renewable for an additional five years at the option of the Company. The initial monthly base rent is $9,062.50 for December 2005 through October 2007, thereafter the rent increases slightly.

WayCool Thermal Management Technology

On January 10, 2005 and February 16, 2005, the inventor/owner of the OnScreen™ LED technology patent conveyed ownership of the OnScreen™, WayCool and WayFast patent to CH Capital, a related party. CH Capital is a California general partnership controlled by Mr. Bradley J. Hallock, currently a shareholder and a director and Mr. William Clough who currently is a shareholder, corporate secretary, corporate counsel and director. WayCool is a chip technology which provides for electronic assembly/system with reduced cost, mass and volume and increased efficiency and power density.

On February 16, 2005, in consideration for the payment of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000), CH Capital conveyed to us the OnScreen™ patent rights. This conveyance now vests in us the ownership of the OnScreen™ LED technology patent subject to the revenue rights of Fusion Three as described below.

By Letter of Intent dated June 10, 2005, CH Capital agreed to convey to us the patent rights relating to the WayCool technology. Effective March 24, 2006, we purchased from CH Capital all right, title and interest in and to the WayCool invention, patent application and Patent Letters to issue therefrom in consideration for a one time payment of eight hundred thousand dollars ($800,000) and agreed to issue CH Capital a three year warrant to acquire up to seven million forty thousand four hundred eighty five (7,040,485) shares of our common stock at an exercise price of $0.20 per share. The $800,000 amount represents reimbursement for the time and money CH Capital spent acquiring and developing the WayCool technology. Accordingly, we now own all right, title and interest in the WayCool patent and related technology rights.

Management believes that the potential commercialization opportunity for WayCool is significant. We believe that the terms with CH Capital are fair and reasonable for a variety of reasons, including, CH Capital provided the upfront funding in connection with the WayCool technology development at a time when we did not have sufficient funds or human or technical resources to evaluate and pursue the commercial viability of the WayCool technology. At the time CH Capital acquired rights to WayCool, it was an unproven and invalidated technology. We also believe that the equity component consideration relating to warrants issued to CH Capital is fair and reasonable inasmuch as the terms of said warrants will be tied to the terms negotiated on an arms-length basis with outside investors in connection with our fund raising efforts.

Fusion Three, LLC Settlement

In August 2002, the Company entered into an agreement with Fusion Three, LLC whereby Fusion Three, LLC paid an annual $50,000 Company license fee in consideration for the Company's conveying to Fusion Three, LLC 5% of the Company's interest in the OnScreen License Agreement. In December 2002 the Company and Fusion Three, LLC entered into an addendum to the August 2002 agreement whereby Fusion Three, LLC paid a $100,000 second year revenue guarantee in consideration for an additional 10% of the Company's interest in the OnScreen License Agreement. On January 14, 2004, the inventor agreed to accept $175,000 in lieu of the $250,000 third year annual revenue guarantee payment.

stated above would terminate and a single payment transaction fee would be paid to Fusion Three, LLC ranging from 10% of the OnScreen appraised value up to $100,000,000, 7.5% for the appraised value between $100,000,001 and $200,000,000, 5% of the appraised value between $200,000,001 and $300,000,000, and 4% of the appraised value between $300,000,001 and $400,000,000 and 3% for the appraised value between $400,000,001 and $500,000,000 and 2% for any appraised amounts between $500,000,001 and $600,000,000.

During April 2006 the Company negotiated the terms of a full and final settlement with Fusion Three, LLC whereby Fusion Three, LLC relinquishes all rights and claims to any revenues and fees in consideration for our issuing to Fusion Three, LLC a three year warrant authorizing Fusion Three, LLC to purchase up to five million six hundred thousand (5,600,000) shares of our common stock at a per share price of $0.20. Penny Stock Considerations

Penny Stock Regulation Broker-dealer practices in connection with transactions in "Penny Stocks" are regulated by certain penny stock rules adopted by the Securities and Exchange Commission. Penny stocks generally are equity securities with a price of less than $5.00 (other than securities registered on certain national securities exchanges or quoted on the NASDAQ system). The penny stock rules require a broker-dealer, prior to a transaction in a penny stock not otherwise exempt from the rules, to deliver a standardized risk disclosure document that provides information about penny stocks and the risk associated with the penny stock market. The broker-dealer must also provide the customer with current bid and offer quotations for the penny stock, the compensation of the broker-dealer and its salesperson in the transaction, and monthly account statements showing the market value of each penny stock held in the customer's account. In addition, the penny stock rules generally require that prior to a transaction in a penny stock; the broker-dealer must make a written determination that the penny stock is a suitable investment for the purchaser and receive the purchaser's written agreement to the transaction. These disclosure requirements may have the effect of reducing the level of trading activity in the secondary market for a stock that becomes subject to the penny stock rules.

For the foreseeable future, the Company's securities will likely have a trading price of less than $5.00 per share and will not be traded on any exchanges; therefore, we will be subject to Penny Stock Rules. As a result of the aforesaid rules regulating penny stocks, the market liquidity for our securities could be severely adversely affected by limiting the ability of broker-dealers to sell our securities and the ability of shareholders sell their securities in the secondary market.

Shares Eligible for Future Sale

As of November 30, 2006, we had outstanding 144,833,721 shares of Common Stock. Of these shares, 55,714,025 shares are freely tradable without restriction or limitation under the Securities Act.

The 89,119,696 shares of Common Stock held by existing shareholders as of November 30, 2006 that are "restricted" within the meaning of Rule 144 adopted under the Securities Act (the "Restricted Shares"), may not be sold unless they are registered under the Securities Act or sold pursuant to an exemption from registration, such as the exemption provided by Rule 144 promulgated under the Securities Act. The Restricted Shares were issued and sold by us in private transactions in reliance upon exemptions from registration under the Securities Act and may only be sold in accordance with the provisions of Rule 144 of the Securities Act, unless otherwise registered under the Securities Act.

As of November 30, 2006 we had issued and outstanding 90,543 shares of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock, of which 90,543 are "restricted" within the meaning of Rule 144 as noted above.

As of November 30, 2006, no shares of Series B Convertible Preferred Stock were issued and outstanding.

The possibility of future sales by existing stockholders, including Selling Stockholders, under Rule 144 or otherwise will, in the future, have a depressive effect on the market price of our Common Stock, and such sales, if substantial, might also adversely affect our ability to raise additional capital.

A Special Meeting of Shareholders of OnScreen Technologies, Inc. was held on June 29, 2006 for the purpose of amending the Article of Incorporation of OnScreen Technologies, Inc. to increase the authorized number of Common Shares from 150,000,000 to 200,000,000. The shareholders approved the proposed amendment to the Article of Incorporation. The following votes were tabulated:

Although there is no current plan to issue the additional authorized common shares for future capitalization, the Company's Board of Directors believes that it is desirable to have additional authorized shares of Common Stock available for possible future financings, possible future acquisition transactions and other general corporate purposes. Without limitation of the foregoing, the additional shares may be issued in connection with capital raising transactions through the sale of Common Stock and/or securities convertible into or exercisable for Common Stock in the private and/or public equity markets to support a higher level of growth, respond to competitive pressures, develop new products and services and support new strategic partnership expenditures and strategic partnering or acquisition transactions involving the issuance of our securities. The Company's Board of Directors believes that having such additional authorized shares of Common Stock available for issuance in the future should give the Company greater flexibility and may allow such shares to be issued without the expense and delay of a special shareholders' meeting.

In the absence of a proportionate increase in our earnings and book value, the increase in the aggregate number of outstanding shares of Common Stock caused by the issuance of the additional shares would dilute the earnings per share (including projected future earnings per share) and book value per share of all outstanding shares of our Common Stock. If such factors were reflected in the price per share of the Common Stock, the potential realizable value of a stockholder's investment could be adversely affected. An issuance of additional shares of Common Stock could, therefore, have an adverse effect on the potential realizable value of a stockholder's investment. The holders of outstanding shares of Common Stock have no preemptive rights to purchase additional shares.

The increase in the authorized number of shares of Common Stock could have other effects on our stockholders. The increase could deter takeovers, in that additional shares could be issued (within the limits imposed by applicable law) in one or more transactions that could make a change in control or takeover of us more difficult. For example, additional shares could be issued by us so as to dilute the stock ownership or voting rights of persons seeking to obtain control. Similarly, the issuance of additional shares to certain persons allied with our management could have the effect of making it more difficult to remove our current management by diluting the stock ownership or voting rights of persons seeking to cause such removal.

The 2006 Annual Meeting of Shareholders was held on December 6, 2006, to elect 3 directors to hold office for two-year terms and one director to hold office for a one year term. The Board of Directors fixed the close of business on October 12, 2006 as the record date for the determination of shareholders entitled to receive notice of, and to vote at, the Annual Meeting. All such stockholders of record were properly notified and proxies were distributed. The following votes were tabulated:

The vote for William J. Clough, Seat 1 (two year term) of the Board of Directors was:

The vote for Bradley J. Hallock, Seat 3 (two year term) of the Board of Directors was:

Table of ContentsPART II*INFORMATION NOT REQUIRED IN PROSPECTUS*Indemnification of Directors and Officers

The Colorado General Corporation Act provides that each existing or former director and officer of a corporation may be indemnified in certain instances against certain liabilities which he or she may incur, inclusive of fees, costs and other expenses incurred in connection with such defense, by virtue of his or her relationship with the corporation or with another entity to the extent that such latter relationship shall have been undertaken at the request of the corporation; and may have advanced such expenses incurred in defending against such liabilities upon undertaking to repay the same in the event an ultimate determination is made denying entitlement to indemnification. The Company's bylaws incorporate the statutory form of indemnification by specific reference.

Insofar as indemnification for liabilities may be invoked to disclaim liability for damages arising under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the Securities Act of 1934 (collectively, the "Acts"), as amended, it is the position of the Securities and Exchange Commission that such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Acts and are therefore, unenforceable.

At September 30, 2006, the Company has $2,155,981 of unrecognized compensation costs related to non-vested awards and the Company expects to recognize this expense over the vesting period of the stock options.

During 2005, the Company accounted for the stock options and warrants issued to employees, by applying the intrinsic value-based method of accounting prescribed by Accounting Principles Board (“APB”) Opinion No. 25, “Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees,” and related interpretations. Under the intrinsic value based method, compensation cost is measured on the date of grant as the excess of the fair market value of the underlying stock over the exercise price. Such compensation amounts are amortized over the respective vesting periods of the options.

The following table illustrates the effect on net loss and loss per share as if the fair value based method of accounting had been applied to stock-based employee compensation, as required by SFAS No. 123(R), for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2005:

	Three months ended September 30, 2005	Nine months ended September 30, 2005

Deduct: Fair value of stock-based employee compensation costs	(12,598)	(149,597)
Pro forma net loss	(2,460,947)	(5,828,711)
Loss per common share available to common stockholders:
Basic and Diluted - as reported	(0.03)	(0.08)
Basic and Diluted - pro forma	(0.03)	(0.08)

The Company estimates the fair value of each stock option and warrant at the grant date by using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model.

UNDERTAKINGS

The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes:

(1) To file, during any period in which offers or sales are being made, a post-effective amendment to this registration statement to:

(i) Include any Prospectus required by Section 10(a)(3) of the Securities Act;

(ii) Reflect in the Prospectus any facts or events which, individually or together, represent a fundamental change in the information in the registration statement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any increase or decrease in volume of securities offered (if the total dollar value of securities offered would not exceed that which was registered) and any deviation from the low or high end of the estimated maximum offering range may be reflected in the form of Prospectus filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to Rule 424(b) if, in the aggregate, the change in volume and price represents no more than a 20% change in the maximum aggregate offering price set forth in the "Calculation of the Registration Fee" table in the effective registration statement; and

(iii) Include any additional or changed material information on the plan of distribution.

(2) That, for the purpose of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, treat each such post-effective amendment as a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of the securities at that time to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

(3) To remove from registration by means of a post-effective amendment any of the securities being registered which remain unsold at the termination of the offering.

(4) For purposes of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, treat the information omitted from the form of Prospectus filed as part of this registration statement in reliance upon Rule 430A, and contained in a form of Prospectus filed by the small business issuer under Rule 424(b)(1) or (4) or 497(h) under the Securities Act as part of this registration statement as of the time the Commission declares it effective.

(5) For determining any liability under the Securities Act, treat each post-effective amendment that contains a form of Prospectus as a new registration statement for the securities offered in the registration statement, and that offering of the securities at the time as the initial bona fide offering of those securities.

Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, may be permitted to directors, officers and controlling persons of the Registrant pursuant to the foregoing provisions, or otherwise, the Registrant has been advised that in the opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and is, therefore, unenforceable. In the event that a claim for indemnification against such liabilities (other than the payment by the Registrant of expenses incurred or paid by a director, officer or controlling person of the Registrant in the successful defense of any action, suit or proceeding) is asserted by such director, officer or controlling person in connection with the securities being registered, the Registrant will, unless in the opinion of its counsel the matter has been settled by controlling precedent, submit to a court of appropriate jurisdiction the question of whether such indemnification by it is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and will be governed by the final adjudication of such issue.
