Building a Global Force in Financial Services

The Manulife offer for your Canada Life shares is a compelling opportunity for you to:

Receive Cdn. $40 for shares that were worth Cdn. $31 in December and Cdn. $17.50 just over three years ago

Choose between cash and shares in Manulife – a larger, more dynamic international company

Receive payment in your local currency

Your decision to tender your Canada Life shares now:

Has no effect on your Canada Life policy

Does not limit your choices later

Can help turn two companies with complementary operations into one of the world's largest insurance companies

And it is your decision.

To learn more, please look inside...

January 24, 2003

Dear Canada Life Shareholder:

I wrote you on December 27th enclosing the offer from Manulife Financial to purchase your shares of Canada Life Financial Corporation. By this time, we hope you are actively considering tendering your shares to our offer. Some Canada Life shareholders have already accepted our offer in advance of the scheduled February 28th expiry and tendered their shares.

We are offering full and fair value

We encourage you to join them and tender your shares now – secure in the knowledge that you can change your mind later. If you prefer to take more time to examine the Manulife offer, we are confident you will find we are offering full and fair value for your shares. We are providing you with attractive choices and making it as convenient as possible for you to tender your shares to the offer. But we know that, in the end, it is your decision.

Manulife is offering you a choice of Cdn. $40 (US$26.10)⁽¹⁾ in cash or 1.055 Manulife shares for each of your Canada Life shares. The offer is substantially more than the market value of your Canada Life shares before Manulife announced its offer and more than double the issue price at the time of Canada Life's demutualization.

We believe no other company is a better strategic fit with Canada Life than Manulife. That is why we are prepared to pay a 30 percent premium over the market price prior to the announcement of our offer on December 9th. That belief appears to be well grounded since, more than seven weeks later, no other alternative has emerged.

The Manulife offer is attractive to Canada Life shareholders.

The Manulife offer is attractive to Canada Life shareholders not just because of the premium, but because of the choice it provides. Some will find the cash attractive, of course, depending on their circumstances. We have agreed to pay shareholders in Canada, the United States, the United Kingdom and Ireland in local currency.

⁽¹⁾United States dollar values shown are based on the exchange rate as of January 22, 2003. Actual proceeds to be received will be based on the exchange rate at the time of payout as described in the Offering Circular.

Table of Contents

Participate in the growth potential of Manulife.

Accepting Manulife shares is an opportunity to become an owner of a financially strong, larger, more dynamic organization that will combine the complementary operations of the two companies into a Canadian-based global force in financial services. It will offer a wide range of leading products and services in North America, Europe and Asia. Canada Life shareholders who elect to receive Manulife shares can participate in the growth potential of Manulife, which combines a financially strong base with a management track record that over the past eight years includes delivering compound annual growth rates of 15 percent in funds under management, 21 percent in premiums and deposits, and 26 percent in earnings per share.

This offer is about you as an owner of Canada Life shares.

We are gratified by the response to our offer so far, but we have also learned that some shareholders need more clear and practical information in order to make a decision. In many cases, because they received shares as a result of holding Canada Life insurance policies, they are both policyholders and shareholders. We are writing only to people who have been identified as Canada Life shareholders and it is important to understand that this offer is about you as an owner of Canada Life shares – not as a customer. Your decision to accept our offer does not affect your life insurance or annuity policy – it will continue to be honored.

The final decision is yours.

We made this offer because we believe it is in the best interests of the shareholders of Canada Life and of Manulife. For their own reasons, the management and Board of Directors of Canada Life don't agree. The important thing to remember is that, in the end, the final decision is yours. You and your fellow shareholders are the owners of Canada Life; not the Board, and not management. You are entitled to decide what is in your best interests.

To receive the benefits of the offer, you will need to act.

If you agree that the Manulife offer is attractive, it will not be enough to wait for the offer to be completed. To receive the benefits of the offer, you will need to act. We have set out to persuade enough Canada Life shareholders to tender their shares so that we will have two-thirds of Canada Life's shares after the offer is completed. Every share – and every single shareholder – counts. It is their collective voice – your voice – that will determine whether the Manulife offer is successful. Your decision to tender your shares may very well be what allows you, and so many other shareholders, to receive the full value for their Canada Life investment. On the other hand, should Manulife's Cdn. $40 (US$26.10) offer not be completed successfully, you should understand that there is no reason to expect Canada Life shares to maintain their current price.

Table of Contents

Manulife believes its offer will be appealing to you as a shareholder. And we are doing all we can to make this process as clear and easy for you as possible. We have previously sent you the formal offer and a Letter of Transmittal. If you have already submitted this, you do not need to do anything further. We thank you for your support.

We can help.

If you have not yet tendered your shares to the offer, we can help. Along with this letter, we are sending you some answers to commonly asked questions and simple instructions to guide you through the steps necessary to tender your shares. Also included is an additional green Letter of Transmittal, which we have personalized. We encourage you to complete and submit it in the enclosed reply envelope along with your Canada Life share certificate or ownership statement, if you have not already done so.

If you need further information or have any other questions, we also encourage you to visit us on the Internet at www.manulife.com or call:

Once again, we ask you to consider both the immediate and long-term value in our offer. Review our materials. Contact us. Consult with your financial advisor. Then make your own decision.

We hope and believe that you will decide to take action and support the Manulife offer by tendering your Canada Life shares.

Yours very truly,

Dominic D. Alessandro
President and Chief Executive Officer

Shareholders Ask

Q: What do I have to do to take advantage of this offer?

A: The process is easy. Just complete the enclosed green Letter of Transmittal form and mail it to us so that we receive it by February 28, 2003, along with your Share certificate or Share Ownership Statement in the enclosed reply envelope. Step-by-step instructions for filling out the form are provided with this package. Or, you can call our hotlines and the specialists there would be happy to guide you through the form and answer any questions you might have.

Q: What do I do if I cannot find my Share Certificate or Share Ownership Statement?

A: You will need to get a replacement to send in with the form. This can only be done through Canada Life's transfer agent, Computershare Investor Services. Please call them to request a replacement: in Canada and the United States at 1-833-284-9137; in the United Kingdom at 0870-702-0164; and in Ireland at 0044-870-702-0164.

Q: How will I be taxed on these shares (or cash) when I get them?

A: The tax treatment of shares and or cash received through this offer will depend on your individual tax situation and the country in which you live. We have outlined the general tax treatment below. For specific advice we strongly recommend you contact a tax advisor or your local tax authority.

In Canada, provided you file the necessary tax elections (we will send you the appropriate forms separately), there will be no immediate taxation on the shares received, and any cash you receive together with the shares may also be tax free. If you receive cash only, however, any capital gain realized will be immediately taxable.

In the United Kingdom and Ireland: Tax on the shares received in this offer would be deferred until you decide to sell the shares. Any cash you receive would likely result in a capital gain subject to tax. There may be capital gains exemptions available that you can use to reduce or eliminate the tax on cash received.

In the United States: Tax is immediately payable on any shares or cash received in this offer.

Q: Will I be paid in Canadian dollars or local currency?

A: Manulife will pay in local currency for shareholders who receive cash under the offer. Shareholders living in Canada will be paid in Canadian dollars, those in the United States will be paid in US dollars, those in the United Kingdom in pounds sterling and those in Ireland in Euro.

Q: Is this a fair offer?

A: This offer gives you the opportunity to realize a 30% higher value for your shares than was possible on the date of the announcement of the offer and more than double the price of the shares when Canada Life demutualized and went public in October of 1999. If you receive Manulife shares, you will participate through share ownership in the future growth potential of a dynamic Canadian global financial leader.

Table of Contents

Q: Has the Board of Canada Life approved the offer? Is this their decision or mine?

A: The decision about your shares is completely up to you. Only you can decide what is best for you and your financial future.

Q: What if I change my mind?

A: Manulife is confident that you will find our offer attractive, reflecting the full and fair value of your shares in Canada Life. However, if you change your mind after tendering, you can withdraw your shares at any time until Manulife takes them up.

Policyholders Ask

Q: Why did I get this mailing? I never bought shares of Canada Life.

A: You are receiving this mailing because you are listed as a shareholder of Canada Life. When Canada Life demutualized and became a public company in October of 1999, shares in the company were distributed to all eligible policyholders. You did not have to do anything to get these shares, they were simply given to you because you were an eligible policyholder.

Q: Does this affect my Canada Life insurance policy?

A: Absolutely not. This offer has no effect on your policy, its benefits or obligations.

Q: Can I get more insurance if I take this offer?

A: Manulife's offer relates only to Canada Life shares and not to insurance policies. If you are interested in purchasing more insurance, please contact your insurance agent or financial advisor.
