Conclusion

- [] Aetna is in the middle of a turnaround
- [] Turnaround efforts are successfully underway and at a critical stage
- [] Aetna's corporate governance is appropriate, particularly given its turnaround strategy
- [] Aetna's Board is overwhelmingly independent, active and engaged
- [] Aetna's Board and new Management team agree on a new strategy; we have the right Board to lead the Company
- [] Providence focused on single issue; has no meaningful insight into business or industry
- [] If Providence's proxy contest succeeds it would disrupt Board and could jeopardize our turnaround efforts
- [] Shareholders should support the Company's experienced, independent nominees
