RMC Employee Voicemail/ Email
Thursday, December 2, 2004

Good afternoon, this is Greg Evans with a voicemail to all Robert Mondavi Corporation employees. On Monday and Tuesday, the senior leadership teams from Robert Mondavi Corporation and Constellation Brands met to discuss the plan to bring the two companies together upon the close of the merger. These were productive meetings, both in terms of getting through some of the decisions and continuing to get a better understanding of how each team works.

While there is still much work ahead around the integration plan, we did finalize some elements, which I will share with you.

Constellation's strategy is to build on the heritage and strength of The Robert Mondavi Corporation by leveraging Constellation's routes-to-market in the US and around the world. To retain Robert Mondavi's valuable brand equity, continue to grow sales volumes and further strengthen the portfolio, the Robert Mondavi Winery will continue to operate, as an estate, as part of Franciscan, led by Jon Moramarco. Our lifestyle brands including Woodbridge, Robert Mondavi Private Selection and Papio will be integrated into Constellation Wines US, under the leadership of Jose Fernandez.

While the plan is to retain many Robert Mondavi employees, there will be position eliminations in the sales, general and administrative areas. Details of these reductions are being worked out by the integration team and those details will be shared with all employees by mid January. Wherever possible, the team will be looking for opportunities to place impacted Robert Mondavi employees in positions within Constellation.

Regarding Woodbridge Winery, Robert Mondavi Winery and the Lodi Distribution Center, there will be minimal staffing impact to these facilities.

Edgar Filing: MONDAVI ROBERT CORP - Form DEFA14A

As planned, we will move forward with most position eliminations for December 3rd. There are a few exceptions, and those employees have already been notified that they will no longer be impacted by previously announced position eliminations.

Constellation has committed that all employees affected by position eliminations will receive the same severance benefits that we offered to our recently-separated employees. Obviously, this announcement is painful because it means that we will be saying goodbye to additional friends and colleagues who have contributed to our business success. We want to acknowledge our appreciation for those contributions. Again, we recognize this continues to be highly stressful time for the organization. As always, we appreciate your professionalism and support of your colleagues in this challenging time.

Besides the additional details that will be provided about individual positions in January, there will be some other key communication dates around the merger. On December 22, we will host our annual shareholder meeting in San Francisco. Assuming shareholder approval of the merger the transaction will be finalized promptly thereafter.

Over the next few weeks, the integration team will work together on the specific details of the integration. As they work through and develop the plans, I will keep you updated when additional information is available.
