Sales & Account Management Talking Points on Express Scripts Proposed Acquisition of Caremark

The following is a set of talking points developed for Sales & Account Management to use when talking to key external contacts about our proposed acquisition of Caremark.

Express Scripts has proposed to acquire Caremark in a transaction that will create the world's preeminent pharmacy benefit management company. In doing so, we are reaffirming our belief in our business model and reinforcing our strategy of alignment with plan sponsors and patients.

Together we will have the size, scale and financial strength to enhance our value proposition and thus deliver more effective products and services to our plan sponsors and patients.

We're excited by the opportunity this will give us to make the use of prescription drugs, including biopharmaceuticals, safer and more affordable for plan sponsors and patients.

In particular, combining the collective resources of our two organizations will benefit plan sponsors and patients through greater use of cost-effective generic and lower-cost brand drugs, specialty pharmacy, home delivery and flexible retail networks.

Our companies share years of industry experience and success in pharmacy benefit management and specialty management, with longstanding commitments to quality service for plan sponsors and patients.

At Express Scripts, our commitment to quality service will continue to be strong between now and when the proposed transaction closes next year, as well as through the subsequent integration period.

Express Scripts has a proven track record of integrating acquisitions that concentrates on identifying and fostering best practices. We have completed five significant acquisitions since 1998, including ValueRx, Diversified, NPA, CuraScript and Priority Healthcare.

As you may know, Caremark recently entered into a merger agreement with CVS. We believe our proposal is superior and more compelling for Caremark, its stockholders, plan sponsors and patients. That's our message to Caremark's management, Board and stockholders as we look forward to their agreement and support for our proposal.
