Help Protect Your Fortune: Diversify with Gold

You have to choose between trusting to the natural stability of gold and the natural stability of the honesty and intelligence of the members of the Government. And, with due respect for these gentlemen, I advise you, as long as the Capitalist system lasts, to vote for gold.

George Bernard Shaw

CHALLENGE

In the last ten to fifteen years, the volatility of the equities market has proven to be a harrowing ride for investors. In light of economic and political uncertainty, and with retirement looming large for the boomer generation, many investors are searching for ways to more effectively manage risk and ultimately enhance the overall performance of their portfolios.

Is there a safe haven from uncertainty? How can investors better manage risk in their portfolios to ultimately preserve wealth?

SOLUTION

Investors may want to consider allocating a portion of their portfolio assets to gold bullion investments. As illustrated to the right, gold has typically shown low-to-negative correlation with conventional asset classes. That is, the price of gold has been largely unrelated to the price of traditional asset classes such as US equities, cash, fixed income, real estate or international equities. It is its low-to-negative correlation with other asset classes that makes gold an attractive portfolio diversification tool.

BENEFITS

Although it is prudent to maintain a well-diversified portfolio, studies have suggested that equity markets tend to become more closely correlated during periods of market turbulence. Commodities, however, tend to become less correlated with major asset classes during such periods.¹ Including gold in a portfolio could potentially lower overall risk without necessarily decreasing returns. It may reduce the likelihood of suffering large losses during any time period, including during periods of market volatility.

Investors are cautioned that these statements are only projections. Actual events or results may differ materially. Whether or not actual results and developments will conform to the Sponsor's expectations and predictions, however, is subject to a number of risks and uncertainties, including, but not limited to fluctuations in the price of gold; reductions in the amount of gold represented by each Share due to the payment of Trust expenses and the impact of the termination of the fee reduction under the Trust Indenture; purchasing activity in the gold market associated with the purchase of Baskets from the Trust; the lack of experience of the Sponsor and its management in operating an investment vehicle such as the Trust; unanticipated operational or trading problems; the lack of protections associated with ownership of shares in an investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 or the protections afforded by the Commodity Exchange Act of 1936; the lack of a market for the Shares; the level of support from the World Gold Council; competition from other methods of investing in gold; the impact of large-scale distress sales of gold in times of crisis; the impact of substantial sales of gold by the official sector; the effect of a widening of interest rate differentials between the cost of money and the cost of gold; the loss, damage, theft or restrictions on access to the Trust's gold; the lack of adequate sources of recovery if the Trust's gold is lost, damaged, stolen or destroyed, including a lack of insurance; the failure of gold bullion allocated to the Trust to meet the London Good Delivery Standards; the failure of sub-custodians to exercise due care in the safekeeping of the Trust's gold; the limited ability of the Trustee and the Custodian to take legal action against sub-custodians; the insolvency of the Custodian; the Trust's obligation to reimburse the Purchaser and the Market Agent for certain liabilities in the event the Sponsor fails to indemnify them; competing claims over ownership of intellectual property rights related to the Trust; and other factors identified in the Risk Factors section of the Prospectus filed with the SEC and in other filings made by the Trust from time to time with the SEC. Neither the Trust, Marketing Agent nor the Sponsor is under a duty to update any of the forward-looking statements to conform such statements to actual results or to reflect a change in the Sponsor's or Marketing Agent's expectation or projections.

Investors should be aware that there is no assurance that gold will maintain its long-term value in terms of purchasing power in the future. In the event that the price of gold declines, the Sponsor expects the value of an investment in the Shares to similarly decline.

Shareholders will not have the protections associated with ownership of shares in an investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 or the protections afforded by the Commodity Exchange Act of 1936. The Trust is not registered as an investment company under the Investment Company Act of 1940 and is not required to register under such act.
