Vale ratifies agreement with workers in Canada

Rio de Janeiro, July 9, 2010 Vale S.A. (Vale) announces that new five-year collective bargaining agreements have been ratified with United Steelworkers (USW) Locals 6500 and 6200 representing production and maintenance employees in Sudbury and Port Colborne, Ontario, Canada. The settlements mark the end of a strike that began in July, 2009.

We are very happy with the results of the ratification vote, said Tito Martins, Vale's Executive Director for Base Metals. The agreement establishes a new working relationship with our employees and the union and allows us to move forward with our long-term, sustainable growth plans. We achieved what we needed to achieve for the long-term health of the business with the introduction of a new Defined Contribution pension plan and changes to the existing bonus system that include a cap on earnings and a new, more realistic trigger point. We look forward to returning to normal production and building the future together with employees.

This press release may include declarations about Vale's expectations regarding future events or results. All declarations based upon future expectations, rather than historical facts, are subject to various risks and uncertainties. Vale cannot guarantee that such declarations will prove to be correct. These risks and uncertainties include factors related to the following: (a) the countries where Vale operates, mainly Brazil and Canada; (b) the global economy; (c) capital markets; (d) the mining and metals businesses and their dependence upon global industrial production, which is cyclical by nature; and (e) the high degree of global competition in the markets in which Vale operates. To obtain further information on factors that may give rise to results different from those forecast by Vale, please consult the reports filed with the Brazilian Comissão de Valores Mobiliários (CVM), the French Autorité des Marchés Financiers (AMF), and with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), including Vale's most recent Annual Report on Form 20F and its reports on Form 6K.
