Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements (Unaudited)

Note 1 Basis of Presentation

The unaudited consolidated financial statements of Origen Financial, Inc. (the Company), have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (US GAAP) for interim financial reporting and the instructions to Form 10-Q and Rule 10-01 of Regulation S-X of the Rules and Regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). However, they do not include all of the disclosures necessary for annual financial statements in conformity with US GAAP. The results of operations for the periods ended September 30, 2007 are not necessarily indicative of the operating results anticipated for the full year. Accordingly, these unaudited consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the audited consolidated financial statements included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2006. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with US GAAP also requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expense during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

The accompanying consolidated financial statements reflect, in the opinion of management, all adjustments necessary for a fair presentation of the interim financial statements. All such adjustments are of a normal and recurring nature.

Certain amounts for prior periods have been reclassified to conform with current financial statement presentation.

Note 2 Recent Accounting Pronouncements

Accounting for Certain Hybrid Instruments

In February 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 155 (SFAS 155), Accounting for Certain Hybrid Instruments, which allows financial instruments that have embedded derivatives to be accounted for as a whole (eliminating the need to bifurcate the derivative from its host) if the holder elects to account for the whole instrument on a fair value basis. SFAS 155 is effective for all financial instruments acquired or issued after the beginning of an entity's first fiscal year that begins after September 15, 2006. The adoption of SFAS 155 on January 1, 2007 did not have a material impact on the Company's financial position or results of operations.

Accounting for Servicing of Financial Assets

In March 2006, the FASB issued SFAS 156, Accounting for Servicing of Financial Assets—An Amendment of FASB Statement No. 140. Among other requirements, SFAS 156 requires an entity to recognize a servicing asset or servicing liability each time it undertakes an obligation to service a financial asset by entering into a servicing contract in any of the following situations: a transfer of the servicer's financial assets that meets the requirements for sale accounting; a transfer of the servicer's financial assets to a qualifying special-purpose entity in a guaranteed mortgage securitization in which the transferor retains all of the resulting securities and classifies them as either available-for-sale securities or trading securities; or an acquisition or assumption of an obligation to service a financial asset that does not relate to financial assets of the servicer or its consolidated affiliates. SFAS 156 is effective as of the beginning of an entity's first fiscal year that begins after September 15, 2006. The Company adopted SFAS 156 on January 1, 2007. The Company characterized servicing rights relating to all existing manufactured housing loans as a single class of servicing rights and did not elect to apply fair value accounting to these servicing rights. The adoption of SFAS 156 on January 1, 2007 did not have a material impact on the Company's financial position or results of operations.

Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes

In June 2006, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation No. 48 (FIN 48), Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes An Interpretation of FASB Statement No. 109. FIN 48 prescribes a recognition threshold and measurement attribute for the financial statement recognition and measurement of a tax position taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. FIN 48 also provides guidance on derecognition, classification, interest and penalties, accounting in interim periods, disclosure, and transition. The Company and its subsidiaries file income tax returns in the U.S. federal jurisdiction, and in various state and local jurisdictions. With few exceptions, the Company and its subsidiaries are no longer subject to U.S. federal or state and local income tax examinations by tax authorities for years before 2002. It is the Company's policy to include any accrued interest or penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits in income tax expense. The Company adopted the provisions of FIN 48 on January 1, 2007. No liability for unrecognized tax benefits as of January 1, 2007 was recorded as a result of the implementation of FIN 48. Additionally, the Company did not record any accrued interest or penalties relating to unrecognized tax benefits as of January 1, 2007.

Fair Value Measurements

In September 2006, the FASB issued SFAS 157, Fair Value Measurements. This statement defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value in US GAAP, and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. This statement applies under other accounting pronouncements that require or permit fair value measurements, the FASB previously concluded in those accounting pronouncements that fair value is the relevant measurement attribute. Accordingly, this statement does not require any new fair value measurements. SFAS 157 is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007, and interim periods within those fiscal years. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of the adoption of SFAS 157 on its financial position and results of operations.

Fair Value Option

On February 15, 2007, the FASB issued SFAS 159, The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities. Under SFAS 159, the Company may make an irrevocable election to report financial instruments and certain other items at fair value on a contract-by-contract basis with changes in value reported in earnings. SFAS 159 is effective for years beginning after November 15, 2007. At this time, the Company does not expect the adoption of SFAS 159 to have a material impact on its financial position or results of operations.

Table of ContentsOrigen Financial, Inc.*Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements (Unaudited)*Note 3 Per Share Data

Basic earnings per share (EPS) is computed by dividing net income by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Diluted EPS incorporates the potential dilutive effect of common stock equivalents outstanding on an average basis during the period. Dilutive common shares primarily consist of employee stock options, non-vested common stock awards, stock purchase warrants and convertible notes. The following table presents a reconciliation of basic and diluted EPS for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2007 and 2006 (in thousands, except per share data):

Diluted EPS	$ 0.11	$ 0.07	$ 0.29	$ 0.20

Antidilutive outstanding common stock options that were excluded from the computation of diluted earnings per share for the three months ended September 30, 2007 and 2006, were 222,207 and 248,500, respectively, and for the nine months ended September 30, 2007 and 2006, were 234,687 and 250,394, respectively. The common stock options are considered antidilutive if assumed proceeds per share exceed the average market price of the Company's common stock during the relevant periods. Assumed proceeds include proceeds from the exercise of the common stock options, as well as unearned compensation related to the common stock options.

Antidilutive outstanding convertible debt shares that were excluded from the computation of diluted earnings per share for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2007, 174,276 and 58,730, respectively. There was no convertible debt outstanding during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2006. The convertible debt shares are considered antidilutive for any period where interest expense per common share obtainable on conversion exceeds basic earnings per share.

Note 4 Investments

The Company follows the provisions of SFAS No. 115, Accounting For Certain Investments in Debt and Equity Securities, and the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) Statement of Position 03-3 (SOP 03-3), Accounting for Certain Loans or Debt Securities Acquired in a Transfer, in reporting its investments. The investments are carried on the Company s balance sheet at an amortized cost of $41.9 million at September 30, 2007. The fair value of these investments was approximately $42.9 million at September 30, 2007.

Investments Accounted for Under the Provisions of SFAS No. 115

The investments accounted for under the provisions of SFAS 115 are carried on the Company s balance sheet at an amortized cost of $38.3 million at September 30, 2007. These investments consisted of two asset backed securities with principal amounts of $32.0 million and $6.8 million at September 30, 2007. The investments are collateralized by manufactured housing loans and are classified as held-to-maturity. They have contractual maturity dates of July 28, 2033 and December 28, 2033, respectively. As prescribed by the provisions of SFAS 115 the Company has both the intent and ability to hold the investments to maturity. The investments will not be sold in response to changing market conditions, changing fund sources or terms, changing availability and yields on alternative investments or other asset liability management reasons. As there is no observable market for these investments, they are regularly measured for impairment through the use of a discounted cash flow analysis based on the historical performance of the underlying loans that collateralize the investments. These investments collateralize repurchase agreements with Citigroup as discussed in Note 7. If it is determined that there has been a decline in fair value below amortized cost and the decline is other-than-temporary, the cost basis of the investment is written down to fair value as a new cost basis and the amount of the write-down is included in earnings. Notwithstanding the indirect effects on credit markets resulting from the recent sub-prime mortgage fallout, there has not been a significant change in the performance of the loans supporting these asset backed securities. No impairment was recorded relating to these investments during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2007 and September 30, 2006.

Investments Accounted for Under the Provisions of SOP 03-3

Debt securities acquired with evidence of deterioration of credit quality since origination are accounted for under the provisions of SOP 03-3. The carrying value of investments accounted for under the provisions of SOP 03-3 was approximately $3.6 million at September 30, 2007, and is included in investments held to maturity in the consolidated balance sheet. During the three and nine months ended September 30, 2007 the Company did not purchase or sell any investments accounted for under the provisions of SOP 03-3. The investments are regularly measured for impairment through the use of a discounted cash flow analysis based on the historical performance of the underlying loans that collateralize the investments. If it is determined that there has been a decline in fair value below amortized cost and the decline is other-than-temporary, the cost basis of the investment is written down to fair value as a new cost basis and the amount of the write-down is included in earnings. No impairment was recorded relating to these investments during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2007. No impairment was recorded related to these securities during the three months ended September 30, 2006. An other-than-temporary impairment of $114,000 was recorded during the nine months ended September 30, 2006, as a result of a change in the Company s estimates of expected future cash flows.

The carrying amounts of loans receivable consisted of the following (in thousands):

	September 30, 2007	December 31, 2006
Manufactured housing loans securitized	$ 940,524	$ 825,811
Manufactured housing loans unsecuritized	218,758	130,828
Accrued interest receivable	6,144	4,840
Deferred loan origination costs	4,718	1,271
Discount on purchased loans	(4,736)	(3,155)
Allowance for purchased loans	(913)	(913)
Allowance for loan losses	(7,489)	(8,456)
	$ 1,157,006	$ 950,226

The Company originates and purchases loans collateralized by manufactured houses with the intent to securitize them. Under the current legal structure of the securitization program, the Company transfers manufactured housing loans it originates and purchases to a trust for cash. The trust then sells asset-backed bonds secured by the loans to investors. These loan securitizations are structured as financing transactions. When securitizations are structured as financings, no gain or loss is recognized, nor is any allocation made to interests that continue to be held by the transferor or servicing rights. Rather, the loans securitized continue to be carried by the Company as assets, and the asset-backed bonds secured by the loans are carried as a liability.

Total principal balance of loans serviced that the Company has previously securitized and accounted for as a sale was approximately $117.0 million at September 30, 2007. Delinquency statistics (including repossessed inventory) on those loans are as follows at September 30, 2007 (dollars in thousands):

Days delinquent	No. of Loans	Principal Balance	% of Portfolio
31-60	103	$3,685	3.2%

Table of ContentsOrigen Financial, Inc.*Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements (Unaudited)*Note 9 Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activity

In connection with the Company's strategy to mitigate interest rate risk and variability in cash flows on its securitizations and anticipated securitizations the Company uses derivative financial instruments such as interest rate swap contracts. It is not the Company's policy to use derivatives to speculate on interest rates. These derivative instruments are intended to provide income and cash flow to offset potential increased interest expense and potential variability in cash flows under certain interest rate environments. In accordance with SFAS 133 the derivative financial instruments are reported on the consolidated balance sheet at their fair value.

The Company documents the relationships between hedging instruments and hedged items, as well as its risk management objectives and strategies for undertaking various hedge transactions, at the inception of the hedging transaction. This process includes linking derivatives to specific liabilities on the consolidated balance sheet. The Company also assesses, both at the inception of the hedge and on an ongoing basis, whether the derivatives used in hedging transactions are highly effective in offsetting changes in cash flows of the hedged items. When it is determined that a derivative is not highly effective as a hedge or that it has ceased to be a highly effective hedge, the Company discontinues hedge accounting.

When hedge accounting is discontinued because the Company determines that the derivative no longer qualifies as a hedge, the derivative will continue to be recorded on the consolidated balance sheet at its fair value. Any change in the fair value of a derivative no longer qualifying as a hedge is recognized in current period earnings. For terminated cash flow hedges or cash flow hedges that no longer qualify as highly effective, the effective portion previously recorded in accumulated other comprehensive income is recorded in earnings when the hedged item affects earnings.

Cash Flow Hedge Instruments

The Company evaluates the effectiveness of derivative financial instruments designated as cash flow hedge instruments against the interest payments related to securitizations or anticipated securitization in order to ensure that there remains a high correlation in the hedge relationship and that the hedge relationship remains highly effective. To hedge the effect of interest rate changes on cash flows or the overall variability in cash flows, which affect the interest payments related to its securitization financing being hedged, the Company uses derivatives designated as cash flow hedges under SFAS 133. Once the hedge relationship is established, for those derivative instruments designated as qualifying cash flow hedges, the effective portion of the gain or loss on the derivative is reported as a component of other comprehensive income during the current period, and reclassified into earnings as part of interest expense in the periods during which the hedged transaction affects earnings pursuant to SFAS 133. The ineffective portion of the derivative instrument is recognized in earnings in the current period and is included in interest expense for derivatives hedging future interest payments related to recognized liabilities and other non-interest income for derivatives hedging future interest payments related to forecasted liabilities. No component of the derivative instrument's gain or loss has been excluded from the assessment of hedge effectiveness. During the three months ended September 30, 2007, the Company recognized net losses of $16,000 in interest expense due to the ineffective portion of the hedges related to recognized liabilities. No net ineffectiveness was recorded during the nine months ended September 30, 2007 for the hedges related to forecasted liabilities. During the nine months ended September 30, 2007, the Company recognized net losses of $15,000 in other non-interest income due to the ineffective portion of hedges related to forecasted liabilities. No ineffectiveness was recognized during the three months ended September 30, 2007 for the hedges related to forecasted liabilities. During both the three and nine months ended September 30, 2006, the Company recognized net losses of approximately $11,000 in interest expense and $1,000 in other income due to hedge ineffectiveness.

During the three and nine months ended September 30, 2007 the Company reclassified net gains of approximately $35,000 and $259,000, respectively, from accumulated other comprehensive income into earnings, attributable to previously terminated cash flow hedges, which have been recorded as an adjustment to interest expense. During the three and nine months ended September 30, 2006, the Company reclassified net gains of approximately $2,000 and $9,000, respectively, from accumulated other comprehensive income into earnings. Net unrealized losses of approximately $4.7 million related to cash flow hedges were included in accumulated other comprehensive income as of September 30, 2007. The Company expects to reclassify net gains of approximately $131,000 from accumulated other comprehensive income into earnings during the next twelve months. The remaining amounts in accumulated other comprehensive income are expected to be reclassified into earnings by April 2018. As of September 30, 2007 the fair value of the Company's derivatives accounted for as cash flow hedges approximated an asset of $1,000, which is included in other assets in the consolidated balance sheet and a liability of $6.3 million, which is included in other liabilities in the consolidated balance sheet.

Derivatives Not Designated as Hedge Instruments

As of September 30, 2007, the Company held two open interest rate swap contracts which were not designated as hedges. These interest rate swap contracts were entered into in connection with other interest rate swap contracts which are accounted for as cash flow hedges for the purpose of hedging the variability in expected cash flows from the variable-rate debt related to the Company's 2006-A and 2007-A securitizations. Changes in the fair values of the interest rate swap contracts not designated and documented as hedges are recorded through earnings each period and are included in other non-interest income. During the three and nine months ended September 30, 2007, the Company recognized net losses, related to the changes in the fair values of these contracts, of approximately $122,000 and $157,000, respectively. The fair values of these contracts at September 30, 2007 approximated an asset of $1,000 and a liability of $134,000, which are included in other assets and other liabilities in the consolidated balance sheet, respectively. During both the three and nine months ended September 30, 2006, the Company recognized net gains of approximately $3,000 related to changes in the fair value of derivatives not designated as hedge instruments.

Critical Accounting Policies

The Company's consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (US GAAP).

The financial information contained within our statements is, to a significant extent, financial information that is based on approximate measures of the financial effects of transactions and events that have already occurred. A variety of factors could affect the ultimate value that is obtained either when earning income, recognizing an expense, recovering an asset, or relieving a liability. In many instances we use a discount factor to determine the present value of assets and liabilities. A change in the discount factor could increase or decrease the values of those assets and liabilities and such changes would result in either a beneficial or adverse impact to our financial results. We use historical loss factors, adjusted for current conditions, to determine the inherent loss that may be present in our loan portfolio. Other estimates that we use are fair value of derivatives and expected useful lives of our depreciable assets. We value our derivative contracts at fair value using either readily available, market quoted prices or from information that can be extrapolated to approximate a market price. Any change in the estimates of future forfeitures of unvested stock awards and stock options could increase or decrease compensation expense. We are subject to US GAAP that may change from one previously acceptable method to another method. Although the economics of our transactions would be the same, the timing of events that would impact our transactions could change.

Understanding our accounting policies is fundamental to understanding our consolidated financial position and consolidated results of operations. Details regarding our critical accounting policies are described fully in Note 1 in the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements in our 2006 Annual Report on Form 10-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Net Interest Income

Interest income increased 26.1% to approximately $23.7 million compared to approximately $18.8 million. This increase resulted primarily from an increase of approximately $250.5 million or 26.8% in average interest earning assets from $935.0 million to $1,185.5 million. The increase in average interest earning assets was almost entirely due to an increase in manufactured housing loans. The weighted average net interest rate on the loans receivable portfolio remained consistent at 8.01%.

Interest expense increased $4.1 million, or 35.7%, to $15.6 million from $11.5 million. The majority of our interest expense relates to interest on our loan funding facilities. Average debt outstanding on our loan funding facilities increased $248.3 million to $1,000.0 million compared to $751.7 million, or 33.0%. The average interest rate on total debt outstanding increased from 5.90% to 6.12%.

The following table presents information relative to the average balances and interest rates of our interest earning assets and interest bearing liabilities for the three months ended September 30 (dollars in thousands):

The following table sets forth the changes in the components of net interest income for the three months ended September 30, 2007 compared to the three months ended September 30, 2006 (in thousands). The changes in net interest income between periods have been reflected as attributable to either volume or rate changes. For the purposes of this table, changes that are not solely due to volume or rate changes are allocated to rate changes.

Increase in net interest income			$ 672

Non-interest Income

Non-interest income increased $1.2 million to $5.6 million. This increase was largely attributable to a 30.6% increase of $1.1 million in servicing revenue, including loan servicing fees and late charges. The increase in servicing revenue was primarily attributable to an increase of $185.5 million or 11.8%, from $1,568.7 million to $1,754.2 million, in the average serviced loan portfolio, on which servicing fees are collected. Also, fees from third party platform lending increased by $0.3 million, or 75.0%.

Provision for Losses

Monthly provisions are made to the allowance for loan losses in order to maintain a level that is adequate to absorb inherent losses in the manufactured housing loan portfolio. The level of the allowance is based principally on the outstanding balance of the contracts held on our balance sheet, current loan delinquencies and historical loss trends. The provision for loan losses increased 37.5% to $2.2 million from $1.6 million. The provision for loan losses for the three months ended September 30, 2006 was reduced by approximately $600,000 as the result of a reduction in the portion of the allowance for loan losses initially established for estimated losses related to Hurricane Katrina and Hurricane Rita. No such reduction was recorded during the three months ended September 30, 2007. Net charge-offs were $2.0 million for the three month periods ended September 30, 2007 and September 30, 2006. As a percentage of average outstanding principal balance total net charge-offs, on an annualized basis, decreased to 0.7% compared to 0.9%. Current loan delinquencies are summarized under the heading Receivable Portfolio and Asset Quality.

Non-interest Expenses

Personnel expenses increased $0.2 million, or 3.5%, to $5.9 million compared to $5.7 million. The increase is the result of a $0.2 million increase in salaries and bonuses.

Other operating expenses, which consist of occupancy and equipment, professional fees, travel and entertainment and miscellaneous expenses increased approximately $0.1 million to $2.2 million. This increase is primarily the result of a $0.1 million increase in professional fees.

Results of OperationsComparison of the nine months ended September 30, 2007 and 2006*Net Income

Net income increased $2.5 million, or 51.0%, to $7.4 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2007 compared to net income of $4.9 million for the same period in 2006. The increase is the result of an increase of $0.8 million in net interest income after loan losses and an increase of $3.2 million in non-interest income offset by an increase in non-interest expenses of $1.5 million as described in more detail below.

Net Interest Income

Interest income increased 24.0% to approximately $67.1 million compared to approximately $54.1 million. This increase resulted primarily from an increase of approximately $222.0 million or 25.1% in average interest earning assets from $886.2 million to $1,108.2 million. The increase in average interest earning assets was almost entirely due to an increase in manufactured housing loans. The weighted average net interest rate on the loans receivable portfolio decreased to 8.09% from 8.16% due to a continuing positive change in the credit quality of the loan portfolio. Generally, higher credit quality loans will carry a lower interest rate.

Interest expense increased $11.3 million, or 36.1%, to $42.6 million from $31.3 million. The majority of our interest expense relates to interest on our loan funding facilities. Average debt outstanding on our loan funding facilities increased $219.6 million to $925.0 million compared to $705.4 million, or 31.1%. The average interest rate on total debt outstanding increased from 5.73% to 6.00%.

Non-interest Income

Non-interest income increased $3.2 million to $15.9 million. This increase was primarily attributable to an increase of $2.7 million in servicing revenue, including loan servicing fees and late charges and an increase of $0.4 million in third-party platform lending fees. The increase in servicing revenue was primarily attributable to an increase in the serviced loan portfolio on which servicing fees are collected. The average serviced loan portfolio increased $148.5 million or 9.6%, from $1,542.5 million to $1,691.0 million, in the average serviced loan portfolio, on which servicing fees are collected.

Provision for Losses

Monthly provisions are made to the allowance for loan losses in order to maintain a level that is adequate to absorb inherent losses in the manufactured housing loan portfolio. The level of the allowance is based principally on the outstanding balance of the contracts held on our balance sheet, current loan delinquencies and historical loss trends. The provision for loan losses increased 18.4% to $5.8 million from $4.9 million. The provision for loan losses for the nine months ended September 30, 2006 was reduced by approximately $1.6 million as the result of a reduction in the portion of the allowance for loan losses initially established for estimated losses related to Hurricane Katrina and Hurricane Rita. No such reduction was recorded during the nine months ended September 30, 2007. Net charge-offs were $6.8 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2007 compared to $6.5 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2006. As a percentage of average outstanding principal balance total net charge-offs, on an annualized basis, decreased to 0.9% compared to 1.0%. Current loan delinquencies are summarized under the heading Receivable Portfolio and Asset Quality.

Non-interest Expenses

Personnel expenses increased approximately $0.9 million, or 5.0%, to $18.9 million compared to $18.0 million. The increase is the result of a $0.9 million increase in salaries and bonuses.

Loan origination and servicing expenses increased approximately $0.3 million to $1.4 million from $1.1 million. The increase is primarily the result of an increase in lending activity in conjunction with timing differences related to the capitalization and amortization of certain loan origination and servicing expenses.

Other operating expenses, which consist of occupancy and equipment, professional fees, travel and entertainment and miscellaneous expenses increased approximately $0.3 million, or 4.8%, to $6.6 million from $6.3 million. This increase is primarily the result of a $0.2 million increase in occupancy and equipment expenses and an increase of $0.2 million in professional service fees, partially offset by a decrease of $0.1 million in miscellaneous office expenses.

Receivable Portfolio and Asset Quality

Net loans receivable outstanding increased 21.8% to $1,157.0 million at September 30, 2007 compared to $950.2 million at December 31, 2006. Loans receivable are comprised of installment contracts and mortgages collateralized by manufactured houses and in some instances real estate.

New loan originations for the three months ended September 30, 2007 increased 30.9% to $92.8 million compared to $70.9 million for the three months ended September 30, 2006. We additionally processed $31.1 million and $15.7 million in loans originated under third-party agreements for the three months ended September 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively. New loan originations for the nine months ended September 30, 2007 increased 31.3% to $276.0 million compared to $210.2 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2006. We additionally processed $85.9 million and $35.9 million in loans originated under third-party agreements for the nine months ended September 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively.

The following table sets forth the average loan balance, weighted average loan coupon and weighted average initial term of the loan receivable portfolio (dollars in thousands):

	September 30, 2007	December 31, 2006
Principal balance of loans receivable	$ 1,159,282	$ 956,639
Number of loans receivable	23,715	20,300
Average loan balance	$ 49	$ 47
Weighted average loan coupon (1)	9.44%	9.50%
Weighted average initial term	20 years	20 years

(1) The weighted average loan coupon includes an embedded servicing fee rate resulting from the securitization of the loans that are accounted for as financings.

Delinquency statistics for the manufactured housing loan portfolio are as follows (dollars in thousands):

	September 30, 2007			December 31, 2006
	No. of Loans	Principal Balance	% of Portfolio	No. of Loans	Principal Balance	% of Portfolio
Days delinquent
31 60	232	$8,999	0.8%	248	$9,354	1.0%
61 90	103	3,461	0.3%	86	3,159	0.3%
Greater than 90	140	5,620	0.5%	131	5,416	0.6%

We define non-performing loans as those loans that are 90 or more days delinquent in contractual principal payments. For the three and nine months ended September 30, 2007, the average outstanding principal balance of non-performing loans was approximately $5.7 million and $5.5 million, respectively, compared to $5.2 million and $5.8 million for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2006. Non-performing loans as a percentage of average loans receivable was 0.5% and 0.5% for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2007, respectively, as compared to 0.6% and 0.7% for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2006, respectively.

The improvement in our asset quality statistics reflects our continued emphasis on the credit quality of our borrowers and the improved underwriting and origination practices we have put into place. Lower levels of non-performing assets and net charge-offs should have a positive effect on future earnings through decreases in the provision for credit losses and servicing expenses as well as increases in net interest income.

At September 30, 2007 we held 204 repossessed houses owned by us compared to 145 houses at December 31, 2006. The book value of these houses, including repossession expenses, based on the lower of cost or market value was approximately $4.9 million at September 30, 2007 compared to $3.0 million at December 31, 2006, an increase of $1.9 million or 63.3%. Given the relatively small number and dollar amount of repossessed houses, a small change in the number of houses owned can result in a fairly large percentage increase or decrease.

Table of ContentsItem 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

The allowance for credit losses decreased $1.0 million to $7.5 million at September 30, 2007 from $8.5 million at December 31, 2006. Despite the 22.6% increase in the gross loans receivable balance, net of loans accounted for under the provisions of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) Statement of Position 03-3 (SOP 03-3), Accounting for Certain Loans or Debt Securities Acquired in a Transfer, the allowance for credit losses decreased 11.8% due to improvement in delinquency rates at September 30, 2007. Loans delinquent over 60 days decreased from 0.9% of the loan portfolio at December 31, 2006 to 0.8% of the loan portfolio at September 30, 2007. The allowance for credit losses as a percentage of gross loans receivable, net of loans accounted for under SOP 03-3 was approximately 0.66% at September 30, 2007 compared to approximately 0.92% at December 31, 2006. Net charge-offs were $2.0 million and $6.8 million for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2007, respectively, compared to $2.0 million and $6.5 million for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2006, respectively.

Changes to our underwriting practices, processes, credit scoring models, systems and servicing techniques in 2002 have resulted in superior performance by loans originated in and subsequent to 2002 as compared to loans originated by our predecessors prior to 2002. The pre-2002 loans, despite representing a diminishing percentage of our owned loan portfolio, have had a disproportionate impact on our financial performance.

The following tables indicate the impact of such pre-2002 loans:

While representing less than 4% of the owned loan portfolio at September 30, 2007, the pre-2002 loans accounted for approximately 21% of the defaults and 28% of the losses during the nine months ended September 30, 2007. Additionally, recovery rates were substantially lower for the pre-2002 loans leading to higher losses as compared to loans from 2002 and later. As these loans become a smaller percentage of the owned loan portfolio, the negative impact on earnings will diminish.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

During the third quarter of 2007 the capital markets encountered unprecedented disruption as a result of difficulties in the sub-prime mortgage market. While we are not participants in that market, we nonetheless were impacted by the unsettled market conditions. Spreads widened across all spectrums of the asset-backed securities market and providers of warehouse lending facilities and other forms of operating capital severely tightened conditions and applied significantly more conservative market value determination on the collateral underlying existing loan programs. We received and met several margin calls on our debt facilities during the quarter, with no disruptions in our operations. The issuance of $15 million of senior secured promissory notes during the quarter, as described more fully below and elsewhere in this document, enhanced our liquidity position and will serve as a buffer for any further margin calls.

We require capital to fund our loan originations, acquire manufactured housing loans originated by third parties and expand our loan servicing operations. At September 30, 2007 we had approximately $14.8 million in available cash and cash equivalents. As a REIT, we are required to distribute at least 90% of our REIT taxable income (as defined in the Internal Revenue Code) to our stockholders on an annual basis. Therefore, as a general matter, it is unlikely we will have any substantial cash balances that could be used to meet our liquidity needs. Instead, these needs must be met from cash provided from operations and external sources of capital. Historically, we have satisfied our liquidity needs through cash generated from operations, sales of our common and preferred stock, borrowings on our credit facilities and securitizations.

Cash provided by operating activities during the nine months ended September 30, 2007, totaled $14.7 million versus $11.9 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2006. Cash used in investing activities was $213.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2007 versus $142.6 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2006. Cash used to originate and purchase loans increased 39.2%, or $84.1 million, to $298.6 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2007 compared to $214.5 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2006. Principal collections on loans totaled $78.0 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2007 as compared to $64.0 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2006, an increase of $14.0 million, or 21.9%. The increase in collections is primarily related to the increase in the average outstanding loan portfolio balance, which was $1,047.5 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2007 compared to $828.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2006, in addition to improved credit quality and decreased delinquency as a percentage of the outstanding loans receivable balance.

The primary source of cash during the nine months ended September 30, 2007 was our 2007-A securitized financing transaction completed in May 2007. We securitized approximately $200.4 million in principal balance of manufactured housing loans, which was funded by issuing bonds of approximately $184.4 million. Approximately $182.4 million of proceeds was used to reduce the aggregate balance of notes outstanding under our Citigroup warehouse financing facility.

Continued access to the securitization market is very important to our business. The proceeds from successful securitization transactions generally are applied to paying down our short-term credit facilities giving us renewed borrowing capacity to fund new loan originations. Numerous factors affect our ability to complete a successful securitization, including factors beyond our control. These include the conditions in the asset-backed securities market generally and the manufactured housing asset-backed securities market specifically, including rating agencies' views on the manufactured housing industry; general market interest rate levels, the shape of the yield curve and spreads between rates on U.S. Treasury obligations and securitized bonds, all of which affect investors' demand for securitized debt. In the event these factors are unfavorable our ability to successfully complete securitization transactions is impeded and our liquidity and capital resources are affected negatively. There can be no assurance that current conditions will continue or that unfavorable conditions will not prevail.

We currently have a short term securitization facility used for warehouse financing with Citigroup. Under the terms of the agreement, originally entered into in March 2003 and amended periodically, most recently in August 2007, we pledge loans as collateral and in turn we are advanced funds. The facility has a maximum advance amount of $200 million at an annual interest rate equal to LIBOR plus a spread. Additionally, the facility includes a $55 million supplemental advance amount that is collateralized by the Company's residual interests in its 2004-A, 2004-B, 2005-A, 2005-B, 2006-A, 2007-A and 2007-B securitizations. The facility matures on March 13, 2008. The outstanding balance on the facility was approximately $238.7 million at September 30, 2007.

We have four repurchase agreements with Citigroup. Three of the repurchase agreements are for the purpose of financing the purchase of investments in three asset backed securities with principal balances of $32.0 million, $3.1 million and $3.7 million respectively. The fourth repurchase agreement is for the purpose of financing a portion of our residual interest in the 2004-B securitization with a principal balance of $4.0 million. Under the terms of the agreements we sell our interest in the securities with an agreement to repurchase them at a predetermined future date at the principal amount sold plus an interest component. Prior to June 30, 2007, the securities were financed at an amount equal to 75% of their value as determined by Citigroup. As of September 30, 2007, the securities were financed at an amount equal to 65%-75% of their value as determined by Citigroup. It is our intent to hold these securities until maturity. There is very little, if any, active trading of similar securities whereby Citigroup is able to readily benchmark the value of our securities for purposes of applying their allowable financing percentage. Accordingly, Citigroup has significant latitude in the determination of such values. Even though the credit performance of the loans underlying the securities did not deteriorate during the quarter ended September 30, 2007, and none of the securities was downgraded by any of the rating agencies, Citigroup exercised margin calls on these securities totaling $6.4 million during the quarter. Typically the repurchase agreements are rolled over for 30 day periods when they expire. The annual interest rates on the agreements are equal to LIBOR plus a spread. The repurchase agreements had outstanding principal balances of approximately $12.5 million, $1.2 million, $1.5 million and $1.7 million, respectively, at September 30, 2007.

On September 11, 2007, we, through our primary operating subsidiary, Origen Financial L.L.C., entered into the Bridge Financing (see Recent Developments). The Bridge Financing had an aggregate outstanding balance of $14.4 million at September 30, 2007. Proceeds from the Bridge Financing were used for general corporate purposes and to provide working capital.

We completed a securitization of approximately $140.0 million in principal balance of manufactured housing loans on October 16, 2007. The securitization was accounted for as a financing. As part of the securitization the Company, through a special purpose entity, issued $126.7 million of a single AAA rated floating rate class of asset-backed notes to a single qualified institutional buyer pursuant to Rule 144A under the Securities Act of 1933. Additional credit enhancement was provided by a guaranty from Ambac Assurance Corporation. The notes pay interest at one month LIBOR plus 120 basis points. Approximately $122.4 million of the proceeds was used to reduce the aggregate balance of notes outstanding under the Company's Citigroup warehouse facility.

In September 2005, the Securities and Exchange Commission declared effective our shelf registration statement on Form S-3 for the proposed offering, from time to time, of up to $200 million of our common stock, preferred stock and debt securities. In addition to such debt securities, preferred stock and other common stock we may sell under the registration statement from time to time, we have registered for sale 1,540,000 shares of our common stock pursuant to a sales agreement that we have entered into with Brinson Patrick Securities Corporation. Sales under the agreement commenced on June 5, 2007. We sold 7,820 and 23,683 shares of common stock under the sales agreement with Brinson Patrick Securities Corporation during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2007, respectively, at the price of our common stock prevailing at the time of each sale. We received proceeds, net of commissions, of $43,000 and $153,000, for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2007, respectively, as a result of these sales.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Our long-term liquidity and capital requirements consist primarily of funds necessary to originate and hold manufactured housing loans, acquire and hold manufactured housing loans originated by third parties and expand our loan servicing operations. We expect to meet our long-term liquidity requirements through cash generated from operations, but we will require external sources of capital, which may include sales of shares of our common stock, preferred stock, debt securities, convertible debt securities and third-party borrowings (either pursuant to our shelf registration statement on Form S-3 or otherwise). We intend to continue to access the asset-backed securities market for the long-term financing of our loans in order to match the interest rate risk between our loans and the related long-term funding source. Our ability to meet our long-term liquidity needs depends on numerous factors, many of which are outside of our control. These factors include general capital market and economic conditions, general market interest rate levels, the shape of the yield curve and spreads between rates on U.S. Treasury obligations and securitized bonds, all of which affect investors' demand for equity and debt securities, including securitized debt securities. As has recently been demonstrated, general market conditions can change rapidly, and accordingly the level of access to liquidity and the cost of such liquidity can be negatively impacted in ways disproportionate to the credit performance of an entity's underlying asset portfolio or the quality of its operations.

Cash generated from operations, borrowings under our Citigroup facility, loan securitizations, the Bridge Financing, borrowings against our securitized loan residuals, and issuances of convertible debt, equity interests or additional debt financing arrangements (either pursuant to our shelf registration statement on Form S-3 or otherwise) will enable us to meet our liquidity needs for at least the next twelve months depending on market conditions which may affect loan origination volume, loan purchase opportunities and the availability of securitizations. If market conditions require, loan purchase opportunities become available, or favorable capital opportunities become available, we may seek additional funds through additional credit facilities or additional sales of our common or preferred stock.

The risks associated with the manufactured housing business become more acute in any economic slowdown or recession. Periods of economic slowdown or recession may be accompanied by decreased demand for consumer credit and declining asset values. In the manufactured housing business, any material decline in collateral values increases the loan-to-value ratios of loans previously made, thereby weakening collateral coverage and increasing the size of losses in the event of default. Delinquencies, repossessions, foreclosures and losses generally increase during economic slowdowns or recessions. For our finance customers, loss of employment, increases in cost-of-living or other adverse economic conditions would impair their ability to meet their payment obligations. Higher industry inventory levels of repossessed manufactured houses may affect recovery rates and result in future impairment charges and provision for losses. In addition, in an economic slowdown or recession, servicing and litigation costs generally increase. Any sustained period of increased delinquencies, repossessions, foreclosures, losses or increased costs would adversely affect our financial condition, results of operations and liquidity.

Table of ContentsItem 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk

Market risk is the risk of loss arising from adverse changes in market prices and interest rates. Our market risk arises from interest rate risk inherent in our financial instruments. We are not currently subject to foreign currency exchange rate risk or commodity price risk.

The outstanding balance of our variable rate debt under which we paid interest at various LIBOR rates plus a spread, totaled $606.6 million and $281.9 million at September 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively. If LIBOR increased or decreased by 1.0% during the nine months ended September 30, 2007 and 2006, we believe our interest expense would have increased or decreased by approximately $3.6 million and $1.3 million, respectively, based on the $478.4 million and $180.3 million average balance outstanding under our variable rate debt facilities for the nine months ended September 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively. The increase or decrease in interest expense would have been offset by $2.1 million and $0.2 million during the nine months ended September 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively, as a result of our hedging strategies, as discussed below. We had no variable rate interest earning assets outstanding during the nine months ended September 30, 2007 or 2006.

The following table shows the expected maturity dates of our assets and liabilities at September 30, 2007. For each maturity category in the table the difference between interest-earning assets and interest-bearing liabilities reflects an imbalance between re-pricing opportunities for the two sides of the balance sheet. The consequences of a negative cumulative gap at the end of one year suggests that, if interest rates were to rise, liability costs would increase more quickly than asset yields, placing negative pressure on earnings (dollars in thousands).

We believe the negative effect of a rise in interest rates is reduced by the anticipated securitization of our loans receivable, which in conjunction with our hedging strategies, fixes our cost of funds associated with the loans over the lives of such loans.

Our hedging strategies use derivative financial instruments, such as interest rate swap contracts, to mitigate interest rate risk and variability in cash flows on our securitizations and anticipated securitizations. It is not our policy to use derivatives to speculate on interest rates. These derivative instruments are intended to provide income and cash flow to offset potential increased interest expense and potential variability in cash flows under certain interest rate environments.

We held eight separate open derivative positions at September 30, 2007. All eight of these positions were interest rate swaps. One of the positions is an interest rate swap related to our 2006-A securitization which locks in the interest rate on the outstanding balance of the 2006-A variable rate notes at 5.48% for the life of the notes. The outstanding notional balance on this interest rate swap was $176.7 million at September 30, 2007. Another one of the positions is an interest rate swap related to our 2007-A securitization which locks in the interest rate on the outstanding balance of the 2007-A variable rate notes at 5.12% for the life of the notes. The outstanding notional balance on this interest rate swap was $177.4 million at September 30, 2007.

Additionally, at September 30, 2007, we held four interest rate swaps for the purpose of locking in the interest rate on a portion of our anticipated 2007-B securitization transaction. The agreements fix the interest rate on notional amounts of $37.8 million, $25 million, $25 million and $20 million at 5.07%, 5.55%, 5.24% and 5.60%, respectively. The scheduled termination dates of the swaps are April 2018, July 2016, July 2016 and July 2016, respectively.

At September 30, 2007 we held two interest rate swaps which were not accounted for as hedges. Under the agreements, at September 30, 2007, we paid one month LIBOR and received fixed rates of 5.48% and 5.12% on outstanding notional balances of $0.5 million and $0.1 million, respectively. The scheduled termination dates of the swaps are April 2020 and August 2020, respectively.
