NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

SEPTEMBER 30, 2002
(Unaudited)

1. Organization and Description of the Business

Knight Trading Group, Inc. and its subsidiaries (the Company) operate in securities market-making and asset management business lines. The Company's securities market-making business line is comprised of the following operating subsidiaries:

Domestic Subsidiaries

Knight Securities (KS) operates as a market maker in over-the-counter equity securities (OTC securities), primarily those traded in the Nasdaq stock market and on the OTC Bulletin Board (OTCBB).

Knight Capital Markets (KCM) operates as a market maker in the Nasdaq Intermarket, the over-the-counter market for New York Stock Exchange (NYSE) and American Stock Exchange (AMEX)-listed securities.

Knight Financial Products (KFP) operates as a market maker in options on individual equities, equity indices and fixed income futures instruments in the U.S.

Knight Execution Partners (KEP) operates a professional execution services business in options and equities.

International Subsidiaries

Knight Roundtable Europe (KREL), which wholly owns Knight Securities International, Ltd. (KSIL), a U.K. registered broker-dealer, provides agency execution services for European investors in European and U.S. equities. The Company also provided market-making services in U.K. equity securities, however, this service was discontinued effective October 15, 2002. The Company owns an approximate 85% interest in KREL.

Knight Securities Japan (KSJ) operates as a market maker in Japanese equity securities. The Company owns 60% of KSJ through a joint venture with Nikko Cordial Group.

The Company also maintains an asset management business for institutional investors and high net worth individuals through its Deephaven Capital Management (Deephaven) subsidiary.

2. Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of consolidation and form of presentation

The accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its majority and wholly-owned subsidiaries and, in the opinion of management, reflect all adjustments, consisting only of normal recurring adjustments, necessary for a fair statement of the results for the interim period. All significant intercompany transactions and balances have been eliminated. Certain footnote disclosures normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles have been condensed or omitted pursuant to SEC rules and regulations, although the Company believes that the disclosures are adequate to make the information presented not misleading. The nature of the Company's business is such that the results of an interim period are not necessarily indicative of the results for the full year. These consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the financial statements and notes thereto included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2001 as filed with the SEC.

Certain prior period amounts have been reclassified to conform to the current year presentation.

Cash equivalents

Cash equivalents represent money market accounts, which are payable on demand, or short-term investments with an original maturity of less than 30 days. The carrying amount of such cash equivalents approximates their fair value due to the short-term nature of these instruments.

Strategic investments

Strategic investments include equity ownership interests of less than 20% in financial services-related companies that are accounted for under the equity method or the cost basis of accounting. The equity method of accounting is used for investments in limited partnerships. Strategic investments, which include Nasdaq and other financial services-related companies, are reviewed on an ongoing basis to ensure that the valuations have not been impaired.

Market-making activities

Securities owned and securities sold, not yet purchased, which primarily consist of listed and OTC equities and listed options contracts, are carried at market value and are recorded on a trade date basis. Net trading revenue (trading gains, net of trading losses) and commissions and related expenses, including compensation and benefits, execution and clearance fees and payments for order flow, are also recorded on a trade date basis. Payments for order flow represent payments to broker-dealers and institutions for directing their order executions to the Company. The Company records interest income net of transaction-related interest charged by clearing brokers for facilitating the settlement and financing of securities transactions. Interest expense for the three months ended September 30, 2002 and 2001 was $4,254,903 and $6,882,170, respectively. Interest expense for the nine months ended September 30, 2002 and 2001 was $12,468,582 and $18,766,087, respectively.

Asset management fees

The Company earns asset management fees for sponsoring and managing the investments of the Deephaven Market Neutral Master Fund (the Deephaven Fund). Such fees are recorded monthly as earned and are calculated as a percentage of the Deephaven Fund's monthly net assets, plus a percentage of a new high net asset value (the Incentive Allocation Fee), as defined, for any six-month period ended June 30th or December 31st. A new high net asset value is generally defined as the amount by which the net asset value of the Deephaven Fund exceeds the greater of either the highest previous net asset value in the Deephaven Fund, or the net asset value at the time each investor made his purchase. If the Deephaven Fund recognizes a loss in the second half of a calendar year, the Incentive Allocation Fee is recalculated on an annual rather than a semi-annual basis.

Securities borrowed and securities loaned

Securities borrowed and securities loaned, which are included in Receivable from and Payable to brokers and dealers, are recorded at the amount of cash or other collateral advanced or received. Securities borrowed transactions require the Company to deposit cash or similar collateral with the lender. With respect to securities loaned, the Company receives collateral in the form of cash in an amount generally in excess of the market value of securities loaned. The Company monitors the market value of securities borrowed and loaned on a daily basis. Securities borrowed and securities loaned transactions are conducted with banks and other securities firms.

Estimated fair value of financial instruments

The Company's securities owned and securities sold, not yet purchased are carried at market value, which is estimated using market quotations available from major securities exchanges, clearing brokers and dealers.

Table of Contents

KNIGHT TRADING GROUP, INC.

Management estimates that the fair values of other financial instruments recognized on the Consolidated Statements of Financial Condition (including receivables, payables and accrued expenses) approximate their carrying values, as such financial instruments are short-term in nature, bear interest at current market rates or are subject to frequent repricing.

Accounting for derivatives

The Company's derivative financial instruments, comprised of listed options and futures, are all held for trading purposes and are carried at market value.

Goodwill and Intangible Assets

The Company adopted the provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 142 Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets as of January 1, 2002. This statement established new standards for accounting for goodwill and intangible assets acquired outside of, and subsequent to, a business combination. Under the new standards, goodwill and intangible assets with an indefinite useful life are no longer being amortized, but are tested for impairment annually or when an event occurs or circumstances change that signify the existence of impairment. Other intangible assets continue to be amortized over their useful lives, which have been determined to be 15 years.

Minority interest

Minority interest represents minority owners' share of net income or losses and equity in the Company's majority-owned consolidated subsidiaries.

Restricted stock

The Company records as unamortized stock-based compensation in Stockholders' equity the fair market value on the date of grant of shares associated with restricted stock awards and amortizes the balance to compensation expense over the vesting period.

Treasury stock

The Company records its purchases of treasury stock at cost as a separate component of Stockholders' equity. The Company obtains treasury stock through purchases in the open market or through privately negotiated transactions.

Foreign currencies

The functional currencies of the Company's consolidated foreign subsidiaries are the U.S. dollar and the Japanese Yen. Assets and liabilities in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars using current exchange rates at the date of the Consolidated Statements of Financial Condition. Revenues and expenses are translated at average rates during the periods. The foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the translation of financial statements of a subsidiary whose functional currency is not the U.S. dollar are included as a separate component of Stockholders' equity. Gains or losses resulting from foreign currency transactions are included in Investment income and other.

Depreciation, amortization and occupancy

Fixed assets are being depreciated on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of three to seven years. Leasehold improvements are being amortized on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the life of the related office lease or the expected useful life of the assets. The Company records rent expense on a straight-line basis over the life of the lease. The Company capitalizes certain costs associated with the acquisition or development of internal-use software and amortizes the software over its estimated useful life of three years, commencing at the time the software is placed in service.

Writedown of fixed assets

Writedowns of fixed assets are recognized when it is determined that the fixed assets are no longer actively used or are determined to be impaired. The amount of the impairment writedown is determined by the difference between the carrying amount and the fair value of the fixed asset. In determining the impairment, an estimated fair value is obtained through research and inquiry of the market. Fixed assets are reviewed for impairment on a quarterly basis.

Lease loss accrual

It is the Company's policy to identify excess real estate capacity and where applicable, accrue for such future costs. In determining the accrual, a nominal cash flow analysis is performed, and costs related to the excess capacity are accrued for.

Income taxes

The Company records deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax consequences of temporary differences between the financial reporting and tax bases of assets and liabilities and are measured using the enacted tax rates and laws that will be in effect when such differences are expected to reverse. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are included in Other assets and Accounts payable, accrued expenses and other liabilities, respectively.

Stock-Based Compensation

The Company applies Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees and related interpretations in accounting for its stock option plans. Accordingly, no compensation expense has been recognized for the fair values of the options granted to employees.

Other

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Intangible assets deemed to have definite lives are being amortized over their useful lives, which have been determined to be 15 years. During the quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2002, the Company recorded amortization expense relating to these intangible assets of $620,682 and $1,862,046, respectively. The estimated amortization expense relating to the intangible assets for each of the five succeeding years approximates $2.5 million.

6. Investment in Deephaven Sponsored Fund and Strategic Investments

The Company's wholly-owned subsidiary, Deephaven, is the investment manager and sponsor of the Deephaven Fund, which engages in various trading strategies involving equities, debt instruments and derivatives. The underlying investments in the Deephaven Fund are carried at market value. Of the $1.2 billion of assets under management in the Deephaven Fund as of September 30, 2002, the Company had an investment of $154.5 million. In addition, certain officers, directors and employees of the Company have invested approximately $50.3 million in the Deephaven Fund, in the aggregate, as of September 30, 2002.

During the three months ended September 30, 2002, the Company recognized a $1.1 million gain on the sale of its investment in BRUT, Inc. Strategic investments, which include Nasdaq and other financial services-related companies, are reviewed on an ongoing basis to ensure that the valuations have not been impaired.

7. Significant Customers

The Company considers significant customers to be customers who account for 10% or more of the total U.S. equity shares traded by the Company during the period. One customer accounted for 22.0% and 17.7% of the Company's total U.S. equity shares traded during the third quarter and first nine months of 2002, respectively. Rebates paid to this firm for U.S. equity and U.S. options contract order flow amounted to $4.0 million and $12.0 million during the third quarter and first nine months of 2002, respectively.

8. International Charges

During the third quarter of 2002, the Company incurred a charge of $277,000 related to the writedown of our remaining Nasdaq Japan investment.

Additional charges for the nine months ended September 30, 2002 were $32.0 million. The charges consisted of $13.1 million related to the writedown of our investment in Nasdaq Europe, $3.6 million related to the initial writedown of our investment in Nasdaq Japan, $5.9 million related to fixed assets that are no longer actively used, $4.7 million related to contract terminations, $3.8 million related to costs associated with excess real estate capacity and $900,000 related to other charges.

Effective October 15, 2002, the Company discontinued its U.K. market-making operations. The Company expects that it will incur severance and other charges relating to this closure of up to $0.05 per share in the fourth quarter of 2002.

9. Writedown of Assets and Lease Loss Accrual

The Writedown of assets and lease loss accrual for the three months ended September 30, 2002 was $1.4 million. The writedown primarily consists of $1.1 million related to fixed assets that are no longer actively used and $254,000 related to a writedown of an impaired strategic investment. Additional writedowns included in the nine months ended September 30, 2002 consist of $3.1 million related to costs associated with excess real estate capacity, $2.5 million related to an impaired strategic investment, $2.7 million related to fixed assets that are no longer actively used and $735,000 related to a writedown of exchange seats.

Writedowns included in the three months ended September 30, 2001 include $6.6 million related to costs associated with excess real estate capacity. Additional writedowns included in the nine months ended September 30, 2001 consists of $10.0 million related to the writedown of an impaired strategic investment and $1.6 million related to the writedown of exchange seats.

10. Commitments and Contingent Liabilities

The nature of the Company's business subjects it to claims, lawsuits, regulatory examinations and other proceedings in the ordinary course of business. The results of these matters cannot be predicted with certainty. There can be no assurance that these matters will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's results of operations in any future period, depending partly on the results for that period, and a substantial judgment could have a material adverse impact on the Company's financial condition and results of operations. However, it is the opinion of management, after consultation with legal counsel that, based on information currently available, the ultimate outcome of these matters will not have a material adverse impact on the business, financial condition or operating results of the Company.

The Company leases office space under noncancelable operating leases. The office leases contain certain escalation clauses whereby the rental commitments may be increased if certain conditions are satisfied and specify yearly adjustments to the lease amounts based on annual adjustments to the Consumer Price Index. Rental expense under the office leases was as follows:

For the three months ended September 30, 2002	$ 3,419,917
For the three months ended September 30, 2001	1,852,943
For the nine months ended September 30, 2002	12,230,464
For the nine months ended September 30, 2001	6,767,452

During the normal course of business, the Company collateralizes certain leases, employment agreements or other contractual obligations through letters of credit or segregated funds held in escrow accounts. As of September 30, 2002, the Company has provided an $11.0 million letter of credit as a guarantee for one of the Company's lease obligations. In addition, the Company has agreed to provide letters of credit or maintain escrow accounts, if requested, to collateralize employment contracts in an aggregate amount of approximately $10.1 million. As of September 30, 2002 the Company has $3.7 million in an escrow account to collateralize such obligations.

The Company has an agreement, in principle, with one of its subsidiaries clearing brokers, obligating the Company to generate and pay clearing fees totalling a minimum of $12.0 million during an eighteen month period from the commencement of clearing services, which is expected to commence within the next six months.

11. Comprehensive Income/(Loss)

Comprehensive income/(loss) includes net income/(loss) and changes in equity except those resulting from investments by, or distributions to, stockholders. Comprehensive income/(loss) is as follows:

	Three months September 30,		Nine months ended September 30,
	2002	2001	2002	2001

12. Earnings per Share

Basic earnings per common share (EPS) has been calculated by dividing net income by the weighted average shares of Class A Common Stock outstanding during each respective period. Diluted EPS reflects the potential reduction in EPS using the treasury stock method to reflect the impact of common share equivalents if stock awards such as stock options and restricted stock were exercised or converted into common stock.

(Loss)/income and shares used in diluted calculations	$ (39,653,138)	121,658,913	$ 25,044,623	125,845,652
Basic earnings per share		$ (0.33)		$ 0.20
Diluted earnings per share		$ (0.33)		$ 0.20

For the three months ended September 30, 2002 and 2001, 773,635 and 1,170,559 shares of common stock equivalents, respectively, were not included in the calculation of weighted average shares for diluted EPS. For the nine months ended September 30, 2002, 844,955 shares of common stock equivalents were not included in the calculation of weighted average shares for diluted EPS. The common stock equivalents were not included because the Company incurred losses during the periods and the effect of their inclusion would be anti-dilutive.

13. Stock-Based Compensation

The Company established the Knight/Trimark Group, Inc. 1998 Long Term Incentive Plan and the Knight/Trimark Group, Inc. 1998 Nonemployee Director Stock Option Plan (together, the Plans) to provide long-term incentive compensation to selected employees and directors of Knight Trading Group and its subsidiaries. The Plans are administered by the compensation committee of the Company's Board of Directors, and allow for the grant of options, restricted stock and restricted stock units, as defined by the Plans.

It is the Company's policy to grant options for the purchase of shares of Class A Common Stock at not less than market value, which the Plans define as the average of the high and low sales prices on the date prior to the grant date. Options and restricted stock awards generally vest over a three or four-year period and expire on the fifth or tenth anniversary of the grant date, pursuant to the terms of the agreements. The Company has the right to fully vest employees in their option grants and restricted stock awards upon retirement.

The Company issued 415,756 restricted shares, outside of the Plans, from treasury stock during the third quarter of 2002 as stock-based compensation. Such grants were made at fair market value and with terms consistent with the Plans.

The Company recognizes compensation expense for the fair values of the restricted shares of Class A Common Stock granted to employees. The unamortized portion of the restricted shares is recognized as compensation expense over the vesting period. Compensation expense related to grants of restricted stock for the three months ended September 30, 2002 and 2001 was $557,976 and $72,577, respectively. Compensation expense for the nine months ended September 30, 2002 was $1,013,372 and $104,535, respectively.

14. Net Capital Requirements

KS, KCM, KFP and KEP are registered as broker-dealers with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), and are subject to the SEC's Uniform Net Capital Rule which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital. Additionally, KS and KCM are members of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. (NASD), and KFP and KEP are members of the Chicago Board Options Exchange, the American Stock Exchange, the Pacific Exchange, the Philadelphia Stock Exchange and the International Stock Exchange. KFP is also a member of the Chicago Board of Trade and the Chicago Mercantile Exchange. KSIL and KSJ are subject to regulatory requirements in the countries in which they operate, including the requirements of the Financial Services Authority in the United Kingdom and the Financial Supervisory Agency in Japan. As of September 30, 2002, the Company was in compliance with these capital adequacy requirements.

The following table sets forth our net capital levels and requirements for our broker-dealer subsidiaries at September 30, 2002 (in millions):

Entity	Net Capital	Minimum Net Capital	Excess Net Capital
KS	$175.3	$2.3	$173.0
KFP	36.7	0.2	36.5
KCM	30.1	1.0	29.1
KEP	2.0	0.2	1.8
KSIL	7.5	3.1	4.4
KSJ*	23.6	2.8	20.8

* Amounts for KSJ were translated from Japanese Yen to the U.S. dollar using the September 30, 2002 exchange rate.

15. Business Segments

The Company has two reportable business segments: securities market-making and asset management. Securities market-making includes two reporting units, domestic and international. Domestic securities market-making primarily represents market-making in U.S. equity securities listed on Nasdaq, on the OTCBB of the NASD, in the Nasdaq Intermarket and in U.S. options on individual equities, equity indices and fixed income futures instruments. International securities market-making includes market-making in equities in Europe and Japan and in options in Europe and Australia. Options market-making in Europe and Australia was discontinued during the second quarter of 2002. Equities market-making in Europe was discontinued effective October 15, 2002. The asset management segment consists of investment management and sponsorship of the Deephaven Fund.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

The following discussion of our results of operations should be read in conjunction with our consolidated financial statements and notes thereto included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2001 as filed with the SEC. This discussion contains forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties, including those discussed in our Form 10-K. Our actual results may differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of certain factors, including, but not limited to, those set forth elsewhere in this document and in our Form 10-K.

Overview

We are a leading market maker in equity securities and in options on individual equities, equity indices and fixed income futures instruments. Additionally, we maintain an asset management business for institutions and high net worth individuals. Our principal operating subsidiaries are:

Knight Securities (KS): KS is one of the largest market makers operating in Nasdaq. KS's U.S. equity share volume totaled 41.4 billion and 26.4 billion, or 80% and 84% of our total U.S. equity share volume, for the three months ended September 30, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

Knight Capital Markets (KCM): Through KCM, we are one of the largest market makers in the Nasdaq Intermarket, the over-the-counter market for all NYSE and AMEX listed equity securities. KCM's U.S. equity share volume totaled 10.1 billion and 5.0 billion, or 20% and 16% of our total U.S. equity share volume for the three months ended September 30, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

Knight Financial Products (KFP): Through KFP, we operate as a market maker in listed options on individual equities, equity indices and fixed income futures instruments in the U.S. KFP's U.S. option contract volume amounted to 13.5 million and 8.7 million for the three months ended September 30, 2002 and 2001, respectively. KFP's international options market-making businesses in the U.K. and Australia were discontinued during the second quarter of 2002.

Knight Execution Partners (KEP): KEP operates a professional execution services business in options and equities.

Deephaven Capital Management (Deephaven): Through Deephaven, we perform investment management services and sponsor a private investment fund for institutions and high net worth individuals. Deephaven's assets under management totaled approximately $1.2 billion at September 30, 2002. Included in this balance is an investment of approximately $154.5 million held by the Company and approximately $50.3 million of investments held by certain officers, directors and employees of the Company.

Knight Roundtable Europe, Ltd. (KREL): Through KREL, and its U.K. broker-dealer, Knight Securities International Ltd. (KSIL), we provide agency execution services for European investors in European and U.S. equities. The Company also provided market-making services in U.K. equity securities, however, this service was discontinued effective October 15, 2002. Our majority interest in KREL is approximately 85%. The remaining 15% is owned by 21 European and U.S. broker-dealers and banks.

Knight Securities Japan (KSJ): Through KSJ, we operate as a market maker in equity securities in Japan. We own a majority interest of 60% of the business of KSJ. The remaining 40% is owned by Nikko Cordial Group. For additional discussion related to KSJ, see section entitled "Knight Securities Japan" in this Section.

We have two reportable business segments: securities market-making and asset management. Securities market-making primarily includes the operations of KS, KCM, KFP, KEP, KSIL and KSJ. The asset management segment includes the operations of Deephaven.

Certain Factors Affecting Results of Operations

Our results of operations may be materially affected by market fluctuations, regulatory changes and by economic factors. We have experienced, and expect to continue to experience, significant fluctuations in quarterly operating results due to a variety of factors, including, but not limited to, the value of our securities positions, the volume of our market-making activities, the dollar value of securities traded, volatility in the securities markets, our ability to manage personnel and expenses, our ability to manage our client base, the amount of revenue derived from limit orders as a percentage of net trading revenues, the amount of and volatility in the results of our statistical arbitrage and program trading portfolios, changes in payments for order flow and clearing costs, the addition or loss of sales and trading professionals, legislative, legal and regulatory changes, the amount and timing of capital expenditures and divestitures, the incurrence of costs associated with acquisitions and dispositions, investor sentiment, technological changes and events, competition and market and economic conditions. Such factors may also have an impact on our ability to achieve our strategic objectives, including, without limitation to, increases in our market share and revenue capture in our market-making activities. If demand for our market-making services declines and we are unable to adjust our cost structure on a timely basis, our operating results and strategic objectives could be materially and adversely affected.

As a result of the foregoing factors, period-to-period comparisons of our revenues and operating results are not necessarily meaningful and such comparisons cannot be relied upon as indicators of future performance. There also can be no assurance that we will be able to return to the rates of revenue growth that we have experienced in the past, that we will be able to improve our operating results or that we will be able to regain our profitability levels on a quarterly basis.

Trends

We believe that our business is currently, or may be, impacted by several trends that may affect our financial condition and results of operations. First, the effects of decimalization, including declining spreads, has resulted in a significant decline in revenue per share in our equities market-making business. Second, decimalization has triggered an industry shift from market makers trading OTC equities solely as principal to executing trades on a riskless principal or agency basis with institutions paying commissions or commission-equivalents, as declining spreads reduce profits for principal equity trading firms and as firms become more risk-averse in their capital commitments. Third, non-traditional trading venues, such as electronic communications networks (ECNs) and other alternative trading systems now account for a significant amount of Nasdaq trading volume. Also, direct access trading solutions and application service providers are growing in popularity. Fourth, program trading now represents a growing portion of U.S. equity transactions. Finally, the effects of decimalization and market conditions have resulted in consolidation in the equities and options market-making industries. We expect these trends to continue.

Market Conditions

Market conditions thus far in 2002 have continued the downward trend experienced in the prior year. At September 30, 2002, the Nasdaq Composite Index was down 40% from December 31, 2001 and down 22% from September 30, 2001. Similarly, the DJIA was down 24% and 14% from December 31, 2001 and September 30, 2001, respectively, and the S&P 500 was down 29% and 22% from December 31, 2001 and September 30, 2001, respectively.

Revenues

Our revenues consist principally of net trading revenue from U.S. securities market-making activities. Net trading revenue, which represents trading gains net of trading losses, is primarily affected by changes in U.S. equity trade and share volumes and U.S. option contract volumes, our revenue capture per U.S. equity share and per U.S. option contract, dollar value of U.S. equities and U.S. options traded, our ability to derive trading gains by taking proprietary positions, changes in our execution standards, volatility in the marketplace, our mix of broker-dealer and institutional clients and by regulatory changes and evolving industry customs and practices.

Securities transactions with clients are executed as principal or agent. Profits and losses on principal or riskless principal transactions are included within net trading revenue, and fees earned on agency transactions are included within commissions and fees. We also receive fees for providing certain information to market data providers and for directing trades to certain destinations for execution. Commissions and fees are primarily affected by changes in our trade and share volumes in listed securities, changes in commission rates as well as by changes in fees earned for directing trades to certain destinations for execution.

Asset management fees represent fees earned for sponsoring and managing the Deephaven Fund. Asset management fees are primarily affected by the rates of return earned on the fund we manage and changes in the amount of assets under management.

We earn interest income from our cash held at banks and cash held in trading accounts at clearing brokers, net of transaction-related interest charged by clearing brokers for facilitating the settlement and financing of securities transactions. Net interest is primarily affected by interest rates, the changes in cash balances held at banks and clearing brokers and our level of securities positions in which we are long compared to our securities positions in which we are short.

Expenses

Our operating expenses largely consist of employee compensation and benefits, payments for order flow and execution and clearance fees. A substantial portion of these expenses vary in proportion to our trading revenue and volume. Employee compensation and benefits expense fluctuates, for the most part, based on changes in net trading revenue, our profitability and our number of employees. Payments for order flow fluctuate based on U.S. equity share and option volume, the mix of market orders and limit orders, the mix of orders received from broker-dealers and institutions who accept payments for order flow and changes in our payment for order flow policy. Execution and clearance fees primarily fluctuate based on changes in equity trade and share volume, option contract volume, the mix of trades of OTC securities compared to listed securities, clearance fees charged by clearing brokers and fees paid to access ECNs.

Employee compensation and benefits expense primarily consists of salaries and wages paid to all employees and profitability based compensation, which includes compensation and benefits paid to market-making and sales personnel based on their individual performance, and incentive compensation paid to other employees based on our overall profitability. At September 30, 2002, approximately 65% of our employees were directly involved in market-making, sales or customer service activities. Compensation for employees engaged in market-making and sales activities is determined primarily based on a percentage of gross trading profits net of expenses including payments for order flow, execution and clearance costs and overhead allocations (net profitability). Employee compensation and benefits will, therefore, be affected by changes in payments for order flow, execution and clearance costs and the overhead costs we allocate to employees engaged in market-making and sales activities. Effective November 2002, the compensation model for our market-making personnel will change to a salary and discretionary bonus structure. Our sales force will continue to be compensated based on a percentage of net profitability.

Execution and clearance fees primarily represent clearance fees paid to clearing brokers for equities and options transactions, transaction fees paid to Nasdaq, payments made to third parties for exchange seat leases, execution fees paid to third parties, primarily for executing trades in listed securities on the NYSE and AMEX and for executing orders through ECNs.

Payments for order flow represent payments to certain broker-dealers and institutional clients, in the normal course of business, for directing their order flow in U.S. equity securities and U.S. option contracts to us.

Table of Contents

Payments for order flow change as we modify our payment rates and as our percentage of customers whose policy is not to accept payments for order flow varies.

Communications and data processing expense primarily consists of costs for obtaining market data, telecommunications services and systems maintenance.

Depreciation and amortization expense results from the depreciation of fixed assets and leasehold improvements and the amortization of intangible assets with definite lives related to our purchases of various options-related businesses. In accordance with SFAS No. 142, as of January 1, 2002, goodwill is no longer being amortized.

Occupancy and equipment rentals expense primarily consists of rental payments on office and equipment leases.

Professional fees consist of fees paid to computer programming, systems and management consultants, as well as legal and other professional fees.

Business development expense primarily consists of travel, promotional and advertising costs.

International charges consists of charges related to the reduction of European businesses as well as charges related to permanent impairments to strategic investments held by our international businesses.

The writedown of assets and lease loss accrual related to our domestic businesses consists of losses related to excess real estate, fixed assets that are no longer actively used, permanent impairments to strategic investments and exchange seats.

Other expenses primarily consist of administrative expenses and other operating costs such as recruitment fees, regulatory fees and general office expenses.

Results of Operations

Three Months Ended September 30, 2002 and 2001

The net loss for the three months ended September 30, 2002 was $3.4 million, compared to a net loss of $5.7 million for the comparable period in 2001. Revenues decreased 8.3% to $120.0 million for the three months ended September 30, 2002 from $130.9 million for the comparable period in 2001, primarily related to decreased average revenue capture per U.S. equity share and U.S. option contract as well as lower fund returns.

Expenses decreased 10.5% to $126.3 million for the three months ended September 30, 2002, from $141.1 million for the comparable period in 2001. Our expenses for the three months ended September 30, 2002 and 2001 included $1.7 million and $6.6 million, respectively, in international charges, writedowns of assets and lease loss accruals. Excluding these charges, expenses decreased 7.3% to $124.6 million for the three months ended September 30, 2002, from $134.4 million for the comparable period in 2001. This decrease was primarily related to lower employee compensation and benefits expense and communications and data processing expense due to lower headcount.

Net trading revenue from equity security market-making, which is almost entirely comprised of revenues from U.S. equity market-making, increased 4.8% to $68.8 million for the three months ended September 30, 2002, from $65.7 million for the comparable period in 2001. This change was primarily due to an increase in U.S. equity share volume, offset by a decrease in average revenue capture per U.S. equity share. Average revenue capture per U.S. equity share has continued to be impacted by a reduction in spreads due to decimalization. In addition, revenue capture per U.S. equity share was further impacted by a reduction in the average market price of shares traded due to the high share volume of low priced Bulletin Board and Pink Sheet stocks, which have a lower revenue capture per share opportunity. Equity security market-making was not profitable during the third quarter of 2002.

Net trading revenue from options market-making decreased 20.5% to $29.7 million for the three months ended September 30, 2002 from $37.4 million for the comparable period in 2001. The decrease in options market-making net trading revenue was due to the decrease in revenue capture per U.S. option contract, offset by an increase in U.S. option contracts executed. U.S. option contract volume increased, in part, due to KFP's purchases of additional exchange posts during 2001, which increased our overall options market-making coverage.

Commissions and fees increased slightly to $9.9 million for the three months ended September 30, 2002, from $9.7 million for the comparable period in 2001. This increase is primarily due to increased volume in our options order routing activities.

Asset management fees decreased 42.2% to $6.1 million for the three months ended September 30, 2002, from $10.5 million for the comparable period in 2001. The decrease in fees was primarily due to a decrease in fund returns from 2.6% for the third quarter of 2001 to 1.1% for the third quarter of 2002.

Interest income, net decreased 74.6% to $1.7 million for the three months ended September 30, 2002, from $6.6 million for the comparable period in 2001. This decrease was primarily due to lower cash balances held at our clearing brokers due to changes in the composition of our market-making positions, increases in our investment in the Deephaven Fund, and lower interest rates.

Investment income and other income increased 240.5% to $3.9 million for the three months ended September 30, 2002, from $1.1 million for the comparable period in 2001. This increase was related to a $1.1 million gain from the sale of its investment in BRUT, Inc. and increases in income from other strategic investments.

Expenses

Employee compensation and benefits expense decreased 10.0% to $48.3 million for the three months ended September 30, 2002, from $53.6 million for the comparable period in 2001. The decrease was primarily due to changes in incentive compensation and other compensation accruals as a result of a decrease in gross trading profits, margins and headcount offset, in part, by increased severance costs. Incentive compensation is adjusted on a quarterly basis by senior management based on changes in profitability, changes in key personnel, retention risks and other factors. Due to the decrease in revenues and our profitability, headcount was reduced during 2001 and 2002. Our number of full time employees decreased to 1,034 at September 30, 2002, from 1,377 full time employees at September 30, 2001. As a result of these headcount reductions, severance costs increased to $2.4 million in the three months ended September 30, 2002, from $1.5 million for the comparable period in 2001.

Execution and clearance fees increased 13.4% to $30.2 million for the three months ended September 30, 2002, from $26.6 million for the comparable period in 2001. The increase is primarily related to the increase in U.S. equity trades and shares and U.S. options contracts executed.

Payments for order flow increased slightly to $14.5 million for the three months ended September 30, 2002, from $14.4 million for the comparable period in 2001. The small increase was primarily due to the increases in our U.S. equity share volumes, offset by reductions in our payment for order flow rates. We changed our payment for order flow policy in the second quarters of 2001 and 2002.

Communications and data processing expense decreased 34.7% to $8.6 million for the three months ended September 30, 2002, from $13.2 million for the comparable period in 2001. This decrease was generally attributable to a decrease in headcount and related technology costs and the reduction in our European operations.

Depreciation and amortization expense decreased 13.8% to $9.2 million for the three months ended September 30, 2002, from $10.6 million for the comparable period in 2001. This decrease was primarily due to the adoption of SFAS No. 142. The adoption of this statement decreased amortization expense by approximately $1.6 million in the third quarter 2002, compared to the third quarter 2001. The decrease was partially offset by the effect of the purchase of approximately $19.5 million of additional fixed assets and leasehold improvements between October 1, 2001 and September 30, 2002.

Occupancy and equipment rentals expense increased 36.0% to $5.6 million for the three months ended September 30, 2002, from $4.1 million for the comparable period in 2001. This increase was primarily attributable to additional leased office space in Jersey City, NJ, which is currently unoccupied.

Professional fees, Business development and Other expenses decreased 2.3%, 44.5% and 43.1%, respectively, for the three months ended September 30, 2002 compared to the prior period. The primary reason for the decreases was the result of lower consulting and legal fees, travel and entertainment and administrative costs.

International charges were $277,000 for the three months ended September 30, 2002. The charge is related to the writedown of our remaining investment in Nasdaq Japan.

During the three months ended September 30, 2002, charges of $1.4 million were incurred relating to our domestic businesses. The charges consist of $1.1 million related to fixed assets that are no longer actively used and $254,000 related to a impairment of a strategic investment.

Our effective tax rates of 29.0% and 11.2% for the three months ended September 30, 2002 and 2001, respectively, differ from the federal statutory rate of 35% due primarily to state income taxes, non-deductible foreign losses and the amortization of goodwill for the three months ended September 30, 2001.

Nine Months Ended September 30, 2002 and 2001

The net loss for the nine months ended September 30, 2002 was $39.7 million, compared to net income of $25.0 million for the comparable period in 2001. Revenues decreased 26.2% to $385.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2002 from $522.4 million for the comparable period in 2001, primarily related to decreased average revenue capture per U.S. equity share and U.S. option contract as well as lower fund returns.

Expenses decreased 6.4% to $453.1 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2002, from $484.3 million for the comparable period in 2001. Our expenses for the nine months ended September 30, 2002 and 2001 included $42.7 million and $18.2 million, respectively, in international charges, writedowns of assets and lease loss accruals. Excluding these charges, expenses decreased 11.9% to $410.4 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2002, from $466.1 million for the comparable period in 2001. This decrease was primarily related to lower employee compensation and benefits and communications and data processing expenses due to lower headcount.

Net trading revenue from equity security market-making decreased 25.4% to $238.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2002, from $319.5 million for the comparable period in 2001. Equity trading revenues are almost entirely comprised of revenues from U.S. equity market-making. This decrease in equity trading revenue was primarily due to decreased average revenue capture per U.S. equity share. Average revenue capture per U.S. equity share has continued to be impacted by a reduction in spreads due to decimalization and the reduction in the average market price of shares traded. The decrease in net trading revenues due to average revenue capture per U.S. equity share was offset, in part, by an increase in U.S. equity share volume. However, the majority of the increase in U.S. equity share volume was due to higher share volume in low-priced Bulletin Board and Pink Sheet stocks, which have a lower revenue capture per share opportunity.

Net trading revenue from options market-making decreased 20.4% to $84.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2002 from $106.0 million for the comparable period in 2001. The decrease was primarily due to lower average revenue capture per U.S. option contract, partially offset by the increase in U.S. option contract volume.

Commissions and fees decreased 15.6% to $30.9 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2002, from $36.6 million for the comparable period in 2001. This decrease is primarily due to lower commission based volumes and lower commission rates in our options order routing activities. Additionally, there was a decrease in fees we receive for providing certain information to market data providers.

Asset management fees decreased 37.0% to $20.0 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2002, from $31.8 million for the comparable period in 2001. The decrease in fees was primarily due to a decrease in fund returns from 10.8% for the first nine months of 2001 to 3.9% for the first nine months of 2002.

Interest income, net decreased 79.1% to $4.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2002, from $20.6 million for the comparable period in 2001. This decrease was primarily due to lower cash balances held at our clearing brokers, changes in the composition of our market-making positions as well as lower interest rates.

Investment income and other income decreased 5.1% to $7.4 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2002, from $7.8 million for the comparable period in 2001. This decrease was primarily due to a decrease in benefits received from a state employment incentive grant. The decrease was offset, in part, by an increase in income from the sale of a strategic investment.

Table of Contents*Expenses*

Employee compensation and benefits expense decreased 14.5% to $164.2 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2002, from $192.0 million for the comparable period in 2001. The decrease was primarily due to decreased incentive compensation as a result of a decrease in gross trading profits, margins and headcount, offset in part by increased severance costs. Incentive compensation is adjusted on a quarterly basis by senior management based on changes in profitability, changes in key personnel, retention risks and other factors. Due to a decrease in revenues and our profitability, employee headcount was reduced during 2001 and 2002. Our number of full time employees decreased to 1,034 at September 30, 2002, from 1,377 full time employees at September 30, 2001. As a result of these headcount reductions, severance costs increased to $8.8 million in the nine months ended September 30, 2002, from $4.2 million for the comparable period in 2001.

Execution and clearance fees increased to $88.2 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2002, from $86.8 million for the comparable period in 2001. Execution and clearance fees increased due to the increase in U.S. options contracts executed. The increase in execution and clearance fees was partially offset as a result of the reduction in clearing rates in our equities market-making businesses in 2001.

Payments for order flow decreased 21.4% to $50.6 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2002, from $64.3 million for the comparable period in 2001. The decrease was primarily due to changes in our payment for order flow policy initiated in the second quarters of 2001 and 2002. The decrease was partially offset by the increase in volumes for U.S. equity shares traded and U.S. options contracts executed.

Communications and data processing expense decreased 25.6% to $29.4 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2002, from $39.5 million for the comparable period in 2001. This decrease was generally attributable to a decrease in headcount and related technology costs and the reduction in our European operations.

Depreciation and amortization expense decreased 8.5% to $28.5 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2002, from $31.2 million for the comparable period in 2001. This decrease was primarily due to the adoption of SFAS No. 142. The adoption of this statement decreased amortization expense by approximately $4.8 million in the first nine months of 2002, compared to the first nine months of 2001. The decrease was offset, in part, by the effect of the purchase of approximately $19.5 million of additional fixed assets and leasehold improvements between October 1, 2001 and September 30, 2002.

Occupancy and equipment rentals expense increased 44.1% to $19.8 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2002, from $13.7 million for the comparable period in 2001. This increase was primarily attributable to additional leased office space in Jersey City, NJ, which is currently unoccupied.

Professional fees increased 4.8% to $13.5 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2002, from $12.8 million for the comparable period in 2001. The increase was due to an increase in one-time asset management consulting expenses related to the retirement of Deephaven's CEO as of the end of 2001, offset in part by a decrease in technology consulting expenses, and professional fees related to our European business in 2001.

Business development and Other expenses decreased 41.9% and 33.8%, respectively. The primary reason for the decreases was the result of lower travel and entertainment and administrative costs.

International charges were $32.2 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2002. During the first half of 2002, after performing a review of its unprofitable European operations, the Company eliminated market-making in French, German and Nasdaq Europe stocks and further reduced its European headcount by approximately 47% during the second quarter of 2002. The international charges incurred in the nine months ended September 30, 2002 included $13.1 million related to the writedown of our investment in Nasdaq Europe, $5.9 million related to fixed assets that are no longer actively used, $4.7 million related to contract terminations, $3.8 million related to the writedown of excess real estate and $900,000 of other charges. In addition to the charges taken for our European operations, KSJ incurred a $3.8 million charge related to the writedown of our investment in Nasdaq Japan.

During the nine months ended September 30, 2002, charges of $10.5 million were incurred related to our domestic businesses. The charges consist of $3.1 million of a lease loss accrual related to our excess real estate capacity, $3.8 million related to fixed assets that are no longer actively used, $2.8 million related to the writedown of impaired strategic investments and $735,000 related to a writedown of exchange seats.

Our effective tax rates of 29.2% and 53.6% for the nine months ended September 30, 2002 and 2001, respectively, differ from the federal statutory rate of 35% due primarily to state income taxes, non-deductible foreign losses and the amortization of goodwill for the nine months ended September 30, 2001.

Recently Issued Accounting Standards

In June 2002, the FASB issued SFAS No. 146, Accounting for Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities. This statement addresses financial accounting and reporting for costs associated with exit or disposal activities and nullifies Emerging Issues Task Force (EITF) Issue No. 94-3, Liability Recognition for Certain Employee Termination Benefits and Other Costs to Exit an Activity (including Certain Costs Incurred in a Restructuring). We intend to adopt the provisions of SFAS No. 146 on January 1, 2003. We do not anticipate that the adoption of this statement will have a material impact on our financial statements.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Historically, we have financed our business primarily through cash generated by operations, as well as the proceeds from our stock offerings. As of September 30, 2002, we had $3.3 billion in assets, 89% of which consisted of cash or assets readily convertible into cash, principally receivables from clearing brokers and securities owned. Receivables from clearing brokers include interest bearing cash balances held with clearing brokers, including, or net of, amounts related to securities transactions that have not yet reached their contracted settlement date, which is generally within three business days of the trade date. Securities owned principally consist of equity securities that trade in Nasdaq and on the NYSE and AMEX markets and listed options contracts that trade on national exchanges. At September 30, 2002, the Company had net current assets, which consists of net assets readily convertible into cash, of approximately $380.8 million. Additionally, our investment in the Deephaven Fund is $154.5 million at September 30, 2002 and can be liquidated upon request subject to a ninety-day written notification period and monthly redemption limits, or immediately by invoking our rights as the general partner of the Deephaven Fund.

Income before income taxes and minority interest plus depreciation and amortization and net non-cash writedowns was $4.6 million and $504,000 during the three months ended September 30, 2002 and 2001, respectively. Depreciation and amortization expense, which related to fixed assets and intangible assets, was $9.2 million and $10.6 million during the three months ended September 30, 2002 and 2001, respectively. Net non-cash writedowns consisted of $1.7 million in charges related to fixed assets no longer being used and impaired strategic investments. Capital expenditures were $1.6 million and $15.4 million for the three months ended September 30, 2002 and 2001, respectively. Capital expenditures in 2002 primarily related to the purchase of data processing and communications equipment, as well as leasehold improvements. In acquiring fixed assets, particularly technology equipment, we make a decision about whether to lease such equipment or purchase it outright based on a number of factors including its estimated useful life, obsolescence and cost. We increased our investment in the Deephaven Fund by $1.7 million and $17.6 million during the three months ended September 30, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

We have no debt at September 30, 2002 nor do we currently have any debt commitments for 2002. We do not anticipate that we will need to incur debt to meet our 2002 capital expenditure and operating needs.

On April 4, 2002, the Knight Board of Directors announced the authorization of a stock repurchase program, which allowed for the purchase of Class A Common Stock up to a total amount of $35 million. During the second quarter, the Company repurchased 3,888,000 shares for $21.8 million. In its July 16 meeting, the Board of Directors authorized an increase in the size of this repurchase program from $35 million to $70 million. During the third quarter, the Company repurchased an additional 2,870,000 shares totaling $13.1 million. As of September 30, 2002, the Company has repurchased 6,758,000 shares for $34.9 million. The Company may repurchase shares in the open market or through privately negotiated transactions, depending on prevailing market conditions, alternative use of capital and other factors. The Company cautions that there are no assurances that any further repurchases may actually occur. Knight Trading Group had approximately 118.3 million shares of common stock outstanding as of September 30, 2002. In addition, the Company repurchased an additional 304,700 shares for $1.5 million from October 1, 2002 through November 11, 2002.

As registered broker-dealers and market makers, KS, KCM, KFP and KEP are subject to regulatory requirements intended to ensure the general financial soundness and liquidity of broker-dealers and requiring the maintenance of minimum levels of net capital, as defined in SEC Rule 15c3-1. These regulations also prohibit a broker-dealer from repaying subordinated borrowings, paying cash dividends, making loans to its parent, affiliates or employees, or otherwise entering into transactions which would result in a reduction of its total net capital to less than 120.0% of its required minimum capital. Moreover, broker-dealers, including KS, KCM, KFP and KEP, are required to notify the SEC prior to repaying subordinated borrowings, paying dividends and making loans to its parent, affiliates or employees, or otherwise entering into transactions, which, if executed, would result in a reduction of 30.0% or more of its excess net capital (net capital less minimum requirement). The SEC has the ability to prohibit or restrict such transactions if the result is detrimental to the financial integrity of the broker-dealer. At September 30, 2002, KS had net capital of $175.3 million, which was $173.0 million in excess of its minimum net capital of $2.3 million, KCM had net capital of $30.1 million which was $29.1 million in excess of its minimum net capital of $1.0 million, KFP had net capital of $36.7 million which was $36.5 million in excess of its minimum net capital of $250,000 and KEP had net capital of $2.0 million which was $1.8 million in excess of its minimum net capital of $190,294. Additionally, KSIL and KSJ are subject to capital adequacy requirements of the Financial Services Authority in the United Kingdom and the Financial Supervisory Agency in Japan. KSIL had net capital of $7.5 million which was $4.4 million in excess of its minimum net capital of $3.1 million, and KSJ had net capital of approximately $23.6 million which was $20.8 million in excess of its minimum net capital of approximately $2.8 million.

We currently anticipate that available cash resources and credit facilities will be sufficient to meet our anticipated working capital and capital expenditure requirements for at least the next 12 months.

Knight Securities Japan

In 2000, the Company entered into a joint venture, KSJ, with Nikko Cordial Group to create an equity market-making operation in Japan. In July 2002, the Market Operating Committee of the Japanese Securities Dealers Association (JSDA) approved a proposal to amend its dealer market structure to create a mandatory central limit order book for retail-sized equity transactions. If approved by the JSDA, this new market structure could significantly impair the ability of KSJ to operate its original business plan of equity market-making.

In addition, Nasdaq announced in August 2002 that it would writedown its entire investment in Nasdaq Japan. As a result, KSJ wrote down its remaining investment of approximately $277,000 in Nasdaq Japan in the third quarter of 2002. Nasdaq Japan's withdrawal will have a substantial impact on KSJ's future prospects.

In light of economic conditions and these proposed changes in market structure, the Company is currently in the process of reviewing its business plan alternatives for Knight Securities Japan. As of September 30, 2002, the Company's investment in KSJ was approximately $18.8 million.

Table of ContentsCollateralized Loan to Former Officer

Upon the retirement of Mr. Irvin Kessler, the former chief executive officer of Deephaven, as of December 31, 2001, the Company entered into a consulting agreement with Mr. Kessler. In order to maintain Mr. Kessler's relationships with the Deephaven Fund investors and ensure Mr. Kessler would continue to invest in the Deephaven Fund, the Company agreed to provide Mr. Kessler with a full recourse collateralized loan of $25 million. On June 13, 2002, the Company entered into loan and security documents with Mr. Kessler providing for such a loan. The loan matures on March 31, 2003 and is callable at the discretion of the Company at any time, such prepayment to be made no later than 120 days after notice to Mr. Kessler of such demand for prepayment.

The Company has no other loans to any former or current officers or directors.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

Our market-making and trading activities expose our capital to significant risks. These risks include, but are not limited to, absolute and relative price movements, price volatility and changes in liquidity.

We employ automated proprietary trading and position management systems which provide real-time, on-line position management and inventory control. We monitor our risks by reviewing trading positions and their appropriate risk measures. We have established a system whereby transactions are monitored by senior management on a real-time basis as are individual and aggregate dollar and inventory position totals and real-time profits and losses. The management of trading positions is enhanced by review of mark-to-market valuations and position summaries on a daily basis.

In the normal course of our equities market-making business, we maintain inventories of exchange-listed and OTC equity securities. The fair value of these securities at September 30, 2002 was $115.8 million in long positions and $96.1 million in short positions. The potential change in fair value, using a hypothetical 10.0% decline in prices, is estimated to be a $2.0 million loss as of September 30, 2002 due to the losses in long positions offset by gains in short positions.

In the normal course of our options market-making business, we maintain inventories of options, futures and equities. Our main exposure is from equity price and volatility risk. We manage these exposures by constantly monitoring and diversifying our exposures and position sizes and establishing offsetting hedges. Our market-making staff and trading room managers continuously manage our positions and our risk exposures. Our systems incorporate trades and update our position profile using options pricing models on a real-time basis.

Our proprietary options position management system allows us to stress test our portfolio on a real-time basis. On a timely basis, risk reports are distributed to senior management and the firm's risk managers who incorporate this information in our market-making decisions. These reports identify potential exposures in terms of options and futures on individual securities and index contracts, organized in different ways such as industry sectors, under extreme price and volatility movements. At September 30, 2002, 10% movements in volatility and stock prices on our entire equity options and equity index options portfolios would have resulted in approximately the following gains (losses) in our options market-making portfolio:

	Change in Stock Prices
	10%	None	+10%
Change in Volatility
+10%	$(4.1 million)	$(4.0 million)	$(232,000)
None	(589,000)		4.1 million
10%	3.4 million	4.2 million	8.3 million

This stress analysis covers positions in options and futures, underlying securities and related hedges. The 10% changes in stock prices and volatility in the charts above make the assumption of a universal 10% movement in all of our underlying positions. The analysis also includes a number of estimates that we believe to be reasonable, but cannot assure that they produce an accurate measure of future risk.

Table of Contents

For working capital purposes, we invest in money market funds, commercial paper, government securities or maintain interest bearing balances in our trading accounts with clearing brokers, which are classified as Cash and cash equivalents and Receivable from brokers and dealers, respectively. These other amounts do not have maturity dates or present a material market risk, as the balances are short-term in nature and subject to daily repricing. Our Cash and cash equivalents held in foreign currencies are subject to the exposure of foreign currency fluctuations. These balances are monitored daily, and are not material to the Company's overall cash position.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

Within the 90-day period prior to the filing of this report, an evaluation was carried out under the supervision and with the participation of Knight Trading Group's management, including our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, of the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rule 13a-14(c) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934). Based upon that evaluation, the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer concluded that the design and operation of these disclosure controls and procedures were effective. No significant changes were made in our internal controls or in other factors that could significantly affect these controls subsequent to the date of their evaluation.

PART II. OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings

The Company owns subsidiaries which are regulated broker-dealers and which are subject to extensive and rapidly changing oversight under federal, state and applicable international laws. Changes in market structure and the need to remain competitive require constant changes to our systems and order handling procedures. The Company makes these changes while continuously endeavoring to comply with many complex laws and rules. Compliance, surveillance or trading issues, common in the securities industry, and which are monitored or reported to the self-regulatory organizations (SRO), are reviewed in the ordinary course of business by our primary regulators, the United States Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), NASD, Inc. (NASD) and the Chicago Board Options Exchange, Inc. In some instances, these issues may rise to an SRO disciplinary action and/or civil or administrative action.

From time to time, we and certain of our past and present officers, directors and employees are named as parties to legal actions, securities arbitrations or administrative claims. We are subject to several of these actions. Although there can be no assurances, at this time the Company believes, based on information currently available, that the ultimate resolutions of these claims or actions, individually or in the aggregate, are not material to the Company, nor would they have a material adverse effect on our financial condition or results of operations.

On December 27, 2001, pursuant to an employee arbitration agreement, a former employee of the Company filed an arbitration claim with NASD Dispute Resolution, Inc. seeking damages relating to his employment with KS. The former employee's central allegation involves his termination, however, he also alleged among other things, damages based on a purported improper trading practice. The former employee's allegations have come to the attention of the SEC and NASD, both of which are gathering information relating to the matter. The Company has learned that the SEC has issued a formal order of investigation in the matter. The Company is cooperating fully in providing information to the regulators, and is working closely with them. On June 4, 2002, The Wall Street Journal published an article concerning the aforementioned allegation. Following this article, a number of federal and state class action lawsuits were filed against the Company. These putative class actions appear to be based primarily upon the newspaper article and the allegations in the arbitration claim. The Company has investigated the allegations and believes them to be unfounded and without merit. The Company will vigorously defend itself and has denied the allegations in the arbitration matter, and will do so in the putative class actions. Although there can be no assurances, the Company believes, based on information currently available, that the ultimate resolutions of these reviews or actions, individually or in the aggregate, are not material to the Company, nor would they have a material adverse effect on our financial condition or results of operations.
