On November 10, 2005, Scudder Investments issued the following communication to Metris Companies 401(k) participants holding interests in the Metris Companies Stock Fund.

Important Information About The Metris Retirement Plan and Stock fund

HSBC Finance Corporation (HSBC) is proposing to acquire Metris Companies Inc. Metris would become a wholly-owned subsidiary of HSBC upon completion of the merger. Metris Retirement Plan (Plan) participants with balances in the Metris Companies Stock Fund (Stock Fund) will receive a proxy statement containing additional information about the proposed merger.

This letter serves as a notice of the additional changes to the Stock Fund and will allow you an opportunity to make any decisions you deem necessary prior to the proposed acquisition. Please read this notice carefully. Due to these changes, you temporarily will be unable to direct or diversify investments of, obtain a loan from, or request a distribution from the Stock Fund. This period, during which you will not be able to exercise these rights, is sometimes referred to as a blackout period. Whether or not you are planning retirement in the near future, we encourage you to carefully consider how these restrictions may affect your retirement planning and your overall financial plan.

Metris Companies Stock Fund

As of May 2, 2005, the Stock Fund was closed to new contributions and transfers in from other investment options in the Plan. However, you may transfer money out of the Stock Fund in to other investment options in the Plan. Your other investment options are shown in the chart below:

Scudder Stable Value Fund seeks to maintain a constant net asset value of $1.00 per share, but there can be no assurance that the stable net asset value will be maintained. It is possible to lose money. Investments in this fund are neither insured nor guaranteed by the US government. Scudder Stable Value Fund and Scudder Stock Index Fund are collective investment trusts, not mutual funds. Collective investment trusts have similar characteristics to mutual funds, but are structured differently. Collective investment trusts do not have prospectuses.

The Stock Fund holds Metris Companies stock and a certain target percentage of cash (approximately 10%) to provide for the Plan's liquidity needs. Pending stockholder approval of the merger (which currently is expected to occur in the fourth quarter of 2005), any remaining shares in the Stock Fund will be converted into a right to receive cash at a price determined under the merger agreement. Plan participants in the Stock Fund will receive a pro-rata share of those proceeds from the stock and any cash already held in the Stock Fund.

You should be aware of two important exceptions to the information discussed in the proxy statement that will be sent to you under separate cover.

1. The receipt of cash in exchange for shares of Metris Companies stock within the Plan will not be a taxable event, as long as the proceeds remain within the Plan.
2. As will be explained in the proxy statement, stockholders who vote against the merger may have certain dissenter's rights. However, Plan participants, for whom the trustee (Scudder Trust Company) holds the shares of Metris Companies stock, will not have direct dissenter's rights. Instead, if you direct the trustee of the Plan to vote against the merger with respect to your shares in the Stock Fund, the trustee will determine whether to exercise those rights on your behalf.

For more details, please refer to your proxy statement when you receive it.

We will provide you notice of the effective date of the merger after all required conditions and approvals are met. As of the effective date of the merger, you will no longer be permitted to perform any transactions with the Stock Fund. The exchange of Metris Companies stock for cash will take place during a blackout period, during which time you will not have access to the Stock Fund portion of your account.

Because of the uncertainty as to when the merger may be approved, we are not now able to provide an expected beginning or ending date for the blackout period. If the merger is approved, we will follow up with you regarding the blackout period dates. If you have questions or wish to check on whether there will be a blackout period, you may contact the Employee Service Center at 1-800-541-7705 and press 0 to speak to a Representative Monday to Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m., Eastern time.

During the blackout period, if any, you will be unable to direct or diversify your amount in the Stock Fund. It is very important that you evaluate the appropriateness of your current investment options before the blackout period begins. For your long-term retirement security, you should give careful consideration to the importance of a well-balanced and diversified investment portfolio, taking into account all your assets, income and investments.

Federal law generally requires that you be furnished notice of a blackout period at least 30 days in advance of the last date on which you could exercise your affected rights immediately before the commencement of any blackout period in order to provide you with sufficient time to consider the effect of the blackout period on your retirement and financial plans. As noted above, because the merger has not yet been approved, we are uncertain of when any blackout period may begin.

Changing Your Investment Choices Until the blackout period begins, you may direct and diversify your amount in the Stock Fund. Therefore, you may wish to consider taking action before the blackout period (if any) is imposed. Once the blackout period begins, then your existing balances in the Stock Fund will be exchanged for cash (as described above). The net proceeds will then automatically transfer to Scudder Stable Value Fund.

Scudder Stable Value Fund seeks to provide principal stability, a competitive yield (as compared to money market instruments) and reliable liquidity from a portfolio of high-quality instruments, including guaranteed insurance contracts (GICs), bank investment contracts (BICs), synthetic contracts, private placements and cash equivalents.
