PRI supplies advanced factory automation systems, software, and services that optimize the productivity of semiconductor and precision electronics manufacturers, as well as OEM process tool manufacturers.

The merger, which is expected to close in the first calendar quarter of 2002, is contingent upon the fulfillment of certain conditions in the Merger Agreement including, but not limited to, all required regulatory approvals, the approval of the merger by the stockholders of PRI and the approval of the issuance of the Registrant's Common Stock in the merger by the stockholders of the Registrant.

PRI has agreed not to solicit alternative takeover proposals. Upon the termination of the Merger Agreement following the occurrence of certain events enumerated in the Merger Agreement, PRI will pay a termination fee to the Registrant equal to $14,000,000.

Subject to stockholder approval, upon consummation of the merger, the Registrant will change its name to Brooks-PRI Automation, Inc., the Registrant's board of directors will be increased from five to seven, and Mitchell G. The merger is intended to qualify as a tax-free reorganization within the meaning of Section 368 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and will be accounted for as a purchase transaction.

Both the Registrant and PRI have amended their respective stockholder rights plans to provide that the plans will not apply to the merger.

This description of the Merger Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Merger Agreement filed as Exhibit 2.1 and incorporated by reference.

A joint press release issued by the Registrant and PRI announcing the execution of the Merger Agreement is attached as Exhibit 99.1 and is incorporated by reference.
