The purpose of this Form 8-K is to provide information regarding products, both new and planned, to be presented at the Pittsburgh Conference on Analytical and Applied Spectroscopy (Pittcon). The conference is scheduled for March 13, 2006 through March 16, 2006 in Orlando, Florida U.S.A. These products are tools used by scientists in life science, industrial, and academic laboratories in their pursuit of better methods of treating diseases, monitoring the environment and manufacturing quality pharmaceuticals, chemicals, plastics, foods, beverages and numerous other products. Detailed descriptions of these products can be found within press releases posted at the Company's web site (www.waters.com). Key products featured in these press releases include:

New Waters ACQUITY UPLC systems to expand the applications reach of UPLC technology including: the ACQUITY UPLC SQD system incorporating a new single quadrupole mass spectrometry detector; an ACQUITY UPLC optimized for amino acid analysis and an ACQUITY UPLC system optimized for bio-therapeutic analyses and peptide mapping.

New Waters ACQUITY UPLC modules and accessories to enhance system performance including: advanced and high sensitivity absorbance detection modules including a new tunable UV detector and new photodiode array detector; and a new column manager for multi-column applications and column temperature control.

New mass spectrometry instrumentation including a new liquid chromatography time of flight device, the LCT Premier XE.

New Software and Informatics offerings including: a new Method Validation Application Manager for Waters Empower software; a new version of Waters electronic laboratory notebook, eLab Notebook version 3; and a new versions of Waters scientific data management software, SDMS version 7.

This release contains forward-looking statements regarding future results and events, including statements regarding future growth and customer demand that involve a number of risks and uncertainties. For this purpose, any statements contained herein that are not statements of historical fact may be deemed forward-looking statements. Without limiting the foregoing, the words, believes, anticipates, plans, expects, intends, appears, estimates, projected, and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements. The forward-looking statements included in this release represent the Company's estimates or views as of the date of this release report and should not be relied upon as representing the Company's estimates or views as of any date subsequent to the date of this release. The Company specifically disclaims any obligation to update these forward-looking statements in the future.
