Jude T. Driscoll, executive vice president and head of fixed income, has been named interim chief executive officer of Delaware Investments and Lincoln National Investment Companies. Driscoll joined Delaware Investments in 2000. Prior to joining Delaware, he served as senior vice president at Conseco Capital Management and managing director at NationsBanc Montgomery Securities.

We wish Ed the best of luck in his new position. Clearly, Delaware has been revitalized and its struggling parts fixed, we are now firmly in a growth pattern," said Jon A. Boscia, chairman and chief executive officer of Lincoln Financial Group. "We have a strong team of investment and research professionals in place and Delaware's fund performance and net client flows have improved even in this difficult market environment.

Although we are disappointed to lose Ed, we are excited about Delaware's future. Delaware is in good hands. Our teams that are responsible for managing client assets remain in their roles and are committed to the business model of boutique asset class units within a larger structure," said Driscoll.

Lincoln has begun the search process to fill the position of president & chief executive officer of Delaware Investments and Lincoln National Investment Companies.

Delaware Investments is a diversified asset management organization that had assets under management of approximately $85 billion as of June 30, 2002. Delaware Investments provides investment products and services to individual investors through a broad line of mutual funds, managed accounts, retirement plan services, college savings plans and other investment products; and to institutional investors, primarily private and public pension funds, foundations, endowment funds, banks and insurance companies.
