(1) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies and Operations

(a) Organization and Basis of Presentation

Intrepid Capital Corporation (the Company), incorporated in 1998, is a Florida-based financial services holding company that conducts its business through its wholly-owned subsidiary, Intrepid Capital Management, Inc. (ICM).

ICM, a registered investment advisor, manages equity, fixed-income, and balanced portfolios for public and private companies, labor unions, endowments, foundations, and high net worth individuals and families. ICM has received authority to act as an investment manager in several states to meet the needs of its customers throughout the United States.

In a transaction effective October 30, 2001, the Company discontinued its resinous material operations formerly conducted through Enviroq Corporation (Enviroq) by selling all of the issued and outstanding capital stock of Sprayroq, Inc. (Sprayroq), Enviroq's 50% owned subsidiary. Enviroq remains a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company which held the promissory notes received in connection with the sale (see note 9), but conducts no operations currently.

In a transaction effective December 31, 2001, the Company acquired all of the outstanding stock of ICC Investment Advisors, Inc., the operations of which were conducted through its wholly-owned subsidiary, The Investment Counsel Company (ICC). Subsequent to the acquisition, ICC was merged with and into ICM.

In a transaction effective June 16, 2003, the Company discontinued its investment banking operations conducted through Allen C. Ewing & Co. (Ewing), and accordingly, the Company has reported its operations as discontinued for all periods presented. Pursuant to the terms of a Stock Purchase Agreement dated May 2, 2003, the purchaser acquired all of the issued and outstanding capital stock of Ewing (see note 2). With the sale of Ewing, the Company's sole operating business segment is its investment management services.

Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements

(b) Principles of Consolidation

The accompanying consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its subsidiaries, ICM and Enviroq. Also included are the accounts of Ewing which have been reported as discontinued operations (see note 2). All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

(c) Earnings Per Share

Net income per share of common stock is computed based upon the weighted average number of common shares and share equivalents outstanding during the period. Stock warrants and convertible instruments, when dilutive, are included as share equivalents. For the three and nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, diluted net loss per share is the same as basic net loss per share as the effects of including potentially dilutive securities in the computation is anti-dilutive. The potentially dilutive securities excluded from the calculation of earnings per share consisted of Preferred Stock convertible into 1,166,666 shares of Common Stock in addition to unexercised options and warrants.

(e) Comprehensive Income

No differences between total comprehensive income (loss) and net income (loss) existed in the financial statements reported for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2003 and 2002.

(f) Stock Option Plan

The Company applies the intrinsic value-based method of accounting prescribed by Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25,

Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees ( APB 25 ) in accounting for its stock options. As such, compensation expense would be recorded on the date of grant only if the current market price of the underlying stock exceeded the exercise price. As allowed by Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation ( FAS 123 ) and Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 148, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation Transition and Disclosure ( FAS 148 ), the Company has elected to apply the intrinsic value-based method of accounting described above, and has adopted the disclosure requirements of FAS 123 and FAS 148.

On January 21, 2003, stock options to purchase 32,500 shares were issued under the Company's Non Employee Directors Incentive Stock Option Plan. The options have a weighted average exercise price of $2.17 and a term of 5 years. Additionally, on January 21, 2003, non qualified stock options to purchase 240,000 shares were issued and have a weighted average exercise price of $2.04 and a term of 5 years.

INTREPID CAPITAL CORPORATION AND SUBSIDIARIES

Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements

September 30, 2003

The per share weighted-average fair value of Non Employee Directors Incentive Stock Options and non qualified stock options granted on January 21, 2003 were $0.36 and $0.39, respectively, using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model with the following weighted average assumptions: expected dividend yield 0%, risk free interest rate of 4%, expected volatility 50%, and an expected life of 5 years.

As permitted under FAS 148 and FAS 123, the Company has elected to continue to apply the provisions of APB 25 and provide the pro forma disclosures required by FAS 148 and FAS 123. Accordingly, no compensation cost has been recognized for its stock options in the consolidated financial statements. Had the Company determined compensation cost based on the fair value at the date of grant for its stock options under SFAS 123, the Company's net income (loss) for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2003 and 2002 would have been reduced to the pro forma amounts indicated below:

On June 16, 2003, the Company sold Ewing pursuant to the terms of a Stock Purchase Agreement dated May 2, 2003. The purchaser acquired all of the issued and outstanding capital stock of Ewing for an aggregate purchase price of $300,000, which was paid in cash by purchaser at the closing of the transaction. The Company used $247,783 of the net proceeds to reduce debt and $37,500 to reduce deferred compensation. The Company recorded a $58,932 gain on the sale of discontinued operations.

Ewing's assets and liabilities as of September 30, 2003 and December 31, 2002 consisted of the following:

(6) Liquidity

The Company's current assets consist generally of interest in an equity fund, accounts receivable, and prepaid assets. The Company has financed its operations with funds provided by operations, proceeds from notes payable, liquidation of cash surrender value of insurance policies, and proceeds from the divestiture of Ewing (see note 2). The Company has developed and is implementing a strategically focused plan that includes internal revenue growth, cost reductions, and operational efficiencies.

The Company believes that the divestiture of Ewing will allow management to focus on leveraging the Company's expertise in investment management services. By more closely aligning sales, client relationship management, and fund management, the Company believes that additional revenue sources can be derived from current relationships. The Company has taken steps, and is continuing to take additional steps, which will allow the Company to deliver superior service and performance at a reduced cost. These steps have led to a reduction in recurring operating costs, as well as a more beneficial debt reduction schedule for the Company. Management is also looking at creating back-office efficiencies through the use of technology, work flow processes, and the consolidation of functions. Management believes that an improved organizational structure is beneficial to the Company today, and will be beneficial to the Company's future success.

INTREPID CAPITAL CORPORATION AND SUBSIDIARIES

Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements

September 30, 2003

While management believes that it will be able to support its current operations, debt service requirements (see note 3) and capital needs through its current cash flow, management continues to explore and identify potential debt and equity sources of capital from private investors, which would give the Company more flexibility in its operations and debt reduction initiatives. Management cannot provide any assurances that such a transaction will take place. If adequate funds are not available, the Company's refocused strategy would be significantly limited, and such funding limitation would have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, results of operations, and financial condition.

(7) Goodwill and Intangible Assets

Goodwill at September 30, 2003 of $3,564,898 was recorded as a part of the purchase of ICC and, accordingly, was allocated to the investment management segment. The Company's goodwill was recorded after the Company's adoption of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets (FAS 142) and is being carried at cost. Management tests for impairment on an annual basis and between annual tests in certain circumstances in accordance with FAS 142.

The Company has determined that certain identifiable intangible assets exist which are attributable to the estimated fair value of investment management contracts and customer relationships which were acquired through the purchase of ICC and have been allocated to the investment management segment. At September 30, 2003, identifiable intangible assets amounted to $694,600, net of accumulated amortization of $196,624. Amortization expense was $85,223 for the nine months ended September 30, 2003.

(8) Forbearance Agreement

On July 31, 2003, the Company entered into a Forbearance Agreement with Wachovia Bank, National Association as a result of the Company's non-payment of the $100,000 monthly principal payments due in May, June and July 2003 under the Renewal Promissory Note dated March 25, 2003. The Forbearance Agreement required that the Company make an immediate payment of $50,000 in principal plus $4,129 of accrued interest, a $50,000 principal payment by October 15, 2003 and a forbearance fee of $5,000 no later than November 15, 2003. On August 1, 2003, the Company paid $54,129 in accordance with the terms of the Forbearance Agreement. On October 23, 2003, the Company repaid Wachovia Bank, National Association in the amount of $262,095. Payment included $250,000 in principal, $2,595 in interest, and $9,500 for the bank's legal fees associated with the agreement.

(9) Satisfaction of Subordinated Indebtedness

On July 21, 2003, the Company entered into a Satisfaction of Subordinated Indebtedness agreement to permit the discounting and prepayment of two subordinated promissory notes receivable in the amounts of $150,000 and $173,919 owed to Enviroq Corporation, a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company, from Sprayroq of Ohio, Inc. The Company received a total sum of $200,000 in prepayment of the outstanding principal balance of $323,919 and accrued interest of $15,116. The Company recorded a loss in the amount of $139,035 on the settlement of the notes.

ITEM 2. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OR PLAN OF OPERATION

As provided by the safe harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, the Company cautions that statements in this Quarterly Report on Form 10-QSB that are forward-looking statements represent management's belief and assumptions based on currently available information. Forward-looking statements can be identified by the use of words such as believes, intends, may, should, anticipates, expected, estimated, projected or comparable terminology, or by discussion of strategies or trends. Although the Company believes the expectations reflected in such forward-looking statements are reasonable, it cannot give any assurances that these expectations will prove to be correct. Such statements, by their nature, involve substantial risks and uncertainties that could significantly impact expected results, and actual future results could differ materially from those described in such forward-looking statements. While it is not possible to identify all factors, the Company continues to face many risks and uncertainties. Among the factors that could cause actual future results to differ materially are the risks and uncertainties discussed in this Quarterly Report on Form 10-QSB and those described from time to time in the Company's other filings with the SEC and the risk that the underlying assumptions made by management in this Quarterly Report on Form 10-QSB are not, in fact, correct. Should one or more of these risks materialize (or the consequences of such a development worsen), or should the underlying assumptions prove incorrect, actual results could differ materially from those forecasted or expected. The Company disclaims any intention or obligation to update or revise any forward-looking statement whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

The discussion and analysis of the Company's financial condition and results of operations are based on the Company's consolidated financial statements which have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The preparation of these financial statements requires us to make estimates and judgments that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, revenues and expenses, and related disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities. We base these estimates on historical experience and on various other assumptions that management believes are reasonable under the circumstances; additionally we evaluate these results on an on-going basis. Actual results may differ from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions.

The Company has a significant amount of goodwill and identifiable intangible assets recorded on its financial statements. The Company's identifiable intangible assets consist of investment management contracts and customer relationships. Management's allocation of purchase price to these identifiable intangible assets requires estimates about the amount and useful lives of identifiable intangible assets acquired. These estimates require a significant degree of estimates based on management's assumptions regarding future cash flows, account retention, expected profit margins, and applicable discount rates and are subject to uncertainty and may differ significantly from actual results under different assumptions or conditions.

The Company completed its initial assessment of impairment for goodwill and identifiable intangible assets during the first quarter of 2003. Management assessed the recoverability of the identifiable intangible assets and determined there to be no impairment based on its estimates and analysis of future cash flows. Management will continue to assess recoverability whenever events or circumstances indicate they may be impaired and monitor the future results of the investment management segment. In addition, the Company will review goodwill and intangible assets for impairment in accordance with existing accounting pronouncements and has set an annual impairment test date for goodwill of December 31. Such review will involve the Company's determination of reporting unit fair values through estimation of projected cash flows, discount rates, future performance and other variables, which will require a significant amount of judgment by the Company's management.

Discontinued Operations

During the first quarter of 2003, the Company decided to pursue the divestiture of Ewing, which formerly constituted a separate operating segment, the investment banking segment, and accordingly, the Company has reported its operations as discontinued for all periods presented.

On June 16, 2003, the Company sold Ewing pursuant to the terms of a Stock Purchase Agreement dated May 2, 2003. The purchaser acquired all of the issued and outstanding capital stock of Ewing for an aggregate purchase price of $300,000, which amount was paid in cash by purchaser at the closing of the transaction. The Company used $247,783 of the net proceeds to reduce debt and $37,500 to reduce deferred compensation. The Company recorded a $58,932 gain on the sale of discontinued operations.

Revenues from Ewing were $0 and $505,853 for the three months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The income (loss) from discontinued operations for Ewing was $0 and ($362,524) for the three months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

Revenues from Ewing were $699,554 and $8,381,652 for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The income (loss) from discontinued operations for Ewing was ($87,940) and $2,032,571 for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The Company's current assets consist generally of interest in an equity fund, accounts receivable, and prepaid assets. The Company has financed its operations with funds provided by operations, proceeds from notes payable, liquidation of cash surrender value of insurance policies, and proceeds from the divestiture of Ewing (see note 2). The Company has developed and is implementing a strategically focused plan that includes internal revenue growth, cost reductions, and operational efficiencies.

The Company believes that the divestiture of Ewing will allow management to focus on leveraging the Company's expertise in investment management services. By more closely aligning sales, client relationship management, and fund management, the Company believes that additional revenue sources can be derived from current relationships. The Company has taken steps, and is continuing to take additional steps, which will allow the Company to deliver superior service and performance at a reduced cost. These steps have led to a reduction in recurring operating costs, as well as a more beneficial debt reduction schedule for the Company. Management is also looking at creating back-office efficiencies through the use of technology, work flow processes, and the consolidation of functions. Management believes that an improved organizational structure is beneficial to the Company today, and will be beneficial to the Company's future success.

While management believes that it will be able to support its current operations and capital needs through its current cash flow, management continues to explore and identify potential equity sources of capital from private investors, which would give the Company more flexibility in its operations and debt reduction initiatives. Management cannot provide any assurances that such a transaction will take place. If adequate funds are not available, the Company's refocused strategy would be significantly limited, and such funding limitation would have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, results of operations, and financial condition.

For the nine months ended September 30, 2003, the net cash used in operating activities of $633,025 was primarily attributable to salary and benefits costs related to nonperforming sales staff and excess administrative staff primarily incurred during the first six months of 2003, offset by the receipt of a $420,000 tax refund, and an increase of $157,374 in accounts payable and accrued expenses. Net cash provided by investing activities of $599,961 was primarily due to the net proceeds of $247,283 received from the divestment of Ewing in June 2003 and the prepayment of two subordinated promissory notes receivable in the amount of $200,000 (face value of $323,919). Net cash provided by financing activities of $55,896 was attributable to proceeds of $592,949 from notes payable and $120,000 from life insurance cash surrender value loans offset by principal payments on notes payable of $522,806 and preferred stock dividends paid of $134,247.

Results of Operations

The Company has invested and plans to continue to focus on the development of its investment management segment. ICM has several portfolio styles, ranked by independent sources such as Effron-PSN, CheckFree Investment Services, Nelson Information and Money Manager Review, in the top percentile of all investment managers for both performance and risk control. The Company is investing in human capital through the retention of portfolio management professionals and investment management sales professionals, and has sales promotion efforts, through advertising and marketing, aimed at branding and broadening ICM's investment management market share and presence.

The Company is currently experiencing operational losses for 2003 as a result of its expenditures on sales and administrative salaries and expenses primarily incurred during the first six months of 2003. Management has taken corrective measures to reduce sales and administrative costs, and believes that its current operational expenses are justified by the investment management revenue, which management expects to see increasing throughout the remainder of 2003 and in 2004.

Three Months Ended September 30, 2003 Compared to the Three Months Ended September 30, 2002

Total revenues were $1,046,327 for the three months ended September 30, 2003, compared to $915,654 for the three months ended September 30, 2002, representing a 14.3% increase.

Quarterly management fees are billed on the first day of each quarter based on each account value at the market close of the prior quarter. AUM was $532.9 million at June 30, 2003, compared to $452.1 million at June 30, 2002. At September 30, 2003, AUM was $553.9 million compared to $458.2 million at September 30, 2002.
