PROXY STATEMENT

FOR THE ANNUAL MEETING OF SHAREHOLDERS
To Be Held May 17, 2007

We are providing this proxy statement to the shareholders of AtheroGenics, Inc. in connection with the solicitation of proxies by AtheroGenics to be voted at the 2007 Annual Meeting of Shareholders and at any adjournments of that meeting. The annual meeting will be held at the Westin Buckhead Atlanta, 3391 Peachtree Road, Atlanta, Georgia 30326, on Thursday, May 17, 2007, at 9:00 a.m., Eastern Time.

When used in this proxy statement, the terms we, us, our and AtheroGenics refer to AtheroGenics, Inc.

The approximate date on which we are first sending this proxy statement and form of proxy card to shareholders is April 25, 2007.

VOTING

General

The securities that can be voted at the annual meeting consist of common stock of AtheroGenics, no par value per share, with each share entitling its owner to one vote on each matter submitted to the shareholders. The record date for determining the holders of common stock who are entitled to receive notice of and to vote at the annual meeting is March 16, 2007.

Quorum and Vote Required

The presence, in person or by proxy, of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of common stock of AtheroGenics as of the record date is necessary to establish a quorum at the annual meeting and conduct business. As of the record date, 39,467,927 shares of common stock were outstanding and eligible to vote. Accordingly, 19,733,965 shares must be present at the annual meeting either in person or by proxy in order to hold the annual meeting and conduct business. Your shares will be counted as present at the annual meeting if you properly submit a proxy (even if you do not provide voting instructions) or attend the annual meeting and vote in person.

In voting on the proposal to elect three directors (Proposal 1), shareholders may vote in favor of the nominees, withhold their votes as to the nominees or withhold their votes as to specific nominees. The vote required to approve Proposal 1 is governed by Georgia law and is a plurality of the votes cast by the holders of shares entitled to vote, provided a quorum is present. This means the three nominees receiving the greatest number of votes will be elected. In accordance with Georgia law, votes that are withheld will be counted in determining whether a quorum is present but will have no other effect on the election of the directors.

In voting on the proposal to ratify the audit committee's appointment of the independent registered public accounting firm (Proposal 2), shareholders may vote in favor of the proposal, vote against the proposal or abstain from voting. The vote required to approve Proposal 2 is governed by Georgia law, which provides that the proposal is approved if the number of votes cast for the proposal exceeds the number of votes cast against the proposal, provided a quorum is present. As a result, abstentions will be considered in determining whether a quorum is present but will not be considered in determining the number of votes required to obtain the necessary vote to approve the proposal.

Table of Contents

Under the rules that govern most domestic stock brokerage firms, firms that hold shares in street name for beneficial owners may, to the extent that such beneficial owners do not furnish voting instructions with respect to any or all proposals submitted for shareholder action, vote in their discretion upon proposals which are considered discretionary proposals under those rules. These votes are considered as votes cast in determining the outcome of any discretionary proposal. Brokerage firms that have received no instructions from their clients as to non-discretionary proposals do not have discretion to vote on these proposals. If the brokerage firm returns a proxy card without voting on a non-discretionary proposal because it received no instructions, this is referred to as a broker non-vote on the proposal. Although these broker non-votes will be considered in determining whether a quorum exists at the annual meeting, they will not be considered as votes cast in determining the outcome of any proposal. AtheroGenics believes that Proposals 1 and 2 are discretionary.

As of March 16, 2007 (the record date for the annual meeting), the directors and executive officers of AtheroGenics beneficially owned or controlled approximately 1,366,322 outstanding shares of common stock of AtheroGenics, constituting approximately 3.5% of the outstanding common stock. AtheroGenics believes that these holders will vote all of their shares of common stock in favor of each of the two proposals.

We will announce preliminary voting results at the meeting. We will publish the final results in our quarterly report on Form 10-Q for the second quarter of 2007. We will file that report with the Securities and Exchange Commission, or SEC, and you can get a copy from:

our website at www.atherogenics.com by clicking on the Investor Relations link, followed by the SEC Filings link, the SEC's website at www.sec.gov,

Proxies

Shareholders should specify their choices with regard to each of the proposals on the enclosed proxy card. All properly executed proxy cards delivered by shareholders to AtheroGenics in time to be voted at the annual meeting and not revoked will be voted at the annual meeting in accordance with the specifications noted on the proxy cards. In the absence of such specifications, the shares represented by a signed and dated proxy card will be voted FOR the election of the director nominees and FOR the ratification of the appointment of the independent registered public accounting firm. If any other matters properly come before the annual meeting, the persons named as proxies will vote upon these matters according to their judgment.

Any shareholder delivering a proxy has the power to revoke it at any time before it is voted: (1) by giving written notice to the Corporate Secretary of AtheroGenics, at 8995 Westside Parkway, Alpharetta, GA 30004; (2) by executing and delivering to the Corporate Secretary a proxy card bearing a later date; or (3) by voting in person at the annual meeting. However, under the rules of the national securities exchanges, including the Nasdaq Global Market, or Nasdaq, any beneficial owner of AtheroGenics' common stock whose shares are held in street name by a brokerage firm that is a member of those organizations may revoke his or her proxy and vote his or her shares in person at the annual meeting only in accordance with applicable rules and procedures of those organizations, as employed by the beneficial owner's brokerage firm.

Edgar Filing: ATHEROGENICS INC - Form DEF 14A

In addition to soliciting proxies through the mail, we may solicit proxies through our directors, officers and employees in person and by telephone or facsimile. We may also request brokerage firms, nominees, custodians and fiduciaries to forward proxy materials to the beneficial owners of shares held of record by them. AtheroGenics will bear all expenses incurred in connection with the solicitation of proxies.

The corporate governance and nominating committee has not established any specific minimum qualifications that must be met for recommendation for a position on the board of directors. In considering potential candidates, the committee will include in their assessment attributes that they believe will be most beneficial to the functioning of the board. These attributes, as well as others that are deemed necessary or appropriate, include fulfillment of necessary independence requirements, the highest ethical standards and integrity, an ability to provide wise, informed and thoughtful counsel to senior management on a range of issues and individual backgrounds that provide a diverse experience and knowledge commensurate with our needs.

The corporate governance and nominating committee will use its network of contacts and may also engage a consulting or professional search firm to assist in locating qualified candidates for the board of directors. In 2006, a third-party search firm was contracted to assist in finding qualified candidates to fill the vacancies on the board of directors. The committee will also consider nominations submitted by the

RELATED PERSON TRANSACTIONS

In accordance with our audit committee charter, our audit committee is responsible for reviewing the terms, conditions and arrangements involving any related party or potential conflict of interest transaction and for overseeing our code of business conduct and ethics, which includes disclosure requirements applicable to our employees and our directors relating to conflicts of interest. Accordingly, our audit committee is responsible for reviewing and approving the terms and conditions of all transactions that involve AtheroGenics, one of our directors or executive officers or any of their immediate family members. Other than as described below we have not entered into any such transactions since January 1, 2006 that meet the requirements for disclosure in this proxy statement. If there were to be such a transaction, we would need the approval of our audit committee prior to entering into such transaction.

Emory University License Agreement

In January 1995, we entered into a license agreement with Emory University. Under the terms of the Emory license agreement, Emory granted to us an exclusive right and license to make, use and sell products utilizing inventions claimed in several patents developed by employees of Emory. The Emory employees who developed the licensed patents include Russell M. Medford, M.D., Ph.D., our President, Chief Executive Officer and director, and R. Wayne Alexander, M.D., Ph.D., a member of our board of directors. The Emory license agreement required us to make royalty payments to Emory based on certain percentages of net revenue we derive from sales of products utilizing inventions claimed in the licensed patents and from sublicensing of the licensed patents. The Emory license agreement also provided for milestone payments to Emory upon the occurrence of certain events relating to the development of products utilizing the licensed patents. Drs. Alexander, Medford and/or Margaret K. Offermann, M.D., Ph.D., Dr. Medford's wife, will receive a portion of our payments to Emory under the Emory license agreement. We paid a signing fee to Emory upon the execution of the Emory license agreement and an additional amount for achievement of the first and second milestone under the agreement. The Emory license agreement was amended in August 2005 to eliminate any further milestone payments and to provide that Emory will receive a percentage of any milestone payments or royalties received by AtheroGenics related to the development and sale of products utilizing the Emory patents. In December 2005, under the terms of our collaboration agreement with AstraZeneca, all amounts due under the Emory license agreement became the responsibility of AstraZeneca.

COMPENSATION DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

The Compensation Committee

The compensation committee is responsible for setting the overall compensation strategy and compensation policies for our senior executive officers and directors, including determining the forms and amount of compensation appropriate to achieve our strategic objectives. The compensation committee's functions are more fully described in its charter which can be viewed at the investor relations page on our website at www.atherogenics.com. The charter of the compensation committee requires that the compensation committee be comprised of at least three members of the board of directors, and the compensation committee currently consists of Mr. Bryson, as Chairman, Dr. Alexander and Mr. Henos. As required by the charter, the board of directors has determined that each member of the compensation committee is independent as that term is defined under the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission, or SEC, and the applicable listing standards of Nasdaq.

Named Executive Officers for 2006

The compensation committee reviews, analyzes and approves the compensation of our senior executive officers, including the Named Executive Officers or NEOs included in the tables set forth following this compensation discussion and analysis. The NEOs for 2006 include our chief executive officer, our chief financial officer, and the three other executive officers that had the highest total compensation for 2006, calculated in accordance with the rules and regulations of the SEC. Our NEOs are:

Dr. Medford, President and Chief Executive Officer;

Mr. Colonnese, Executive Vice President, Commercial Operations and Chief Financial Officer;

Dr. Scott, Executive Vice President, Research & Development and Chief Medical Officer;

Mr. Gaynor, Senior Vice President, General Counsel and Corporate Secretary; and

Dr. Montgomery, Senior Vice President, Business Development & Alliance Management.

Compensation Philosophy, Policies and Principles

As a research-based pharmaceutical company focused on the discovery, development and commercialization of novel drugs for the treatment of chronic inflammatory diseases, our long-term success depends on our ability to discover, develop and market innovative medicines. To be successful, we must attract, motivate and retain highly talented individuals within all levels of our company who are committed to our long-term success. To this end, the compensation committee's philosophy is to implement programs that are designed to:

Provide competitive compensation that will attract, retain and reward highly qualified executives who contribute to our long-term success. The compensation committee believes compensation should reflect the value of the job in the marketplace and views this as a key to attracting and retaining a highly skilled work force.

Align management's interests with shareholders by including long-term equity incentives in executive compensation.

Provide compensation that rewards performance. Our programs should deliver compensation reflective of individual and company performance. Where individual and/or company performance exceeds expectations or falls short of expectations, compensation should reflect these results.

Table of Contents

Provide compensation that encourages the long-term focus required for success in the pharmaceutical industry. To this end, all employees receive a mix of base salary, short-term incentive compensation (in the form of an annual cash bonus) and long-term equity based compensation; however, employees at higher levels have an increasing proportion of their compensation tied to longer-term performance because they are in a position to have greater influence on long-term results.

Provide compensation and benefit programs that are fair and equitable. While programs and individual pay levels will always reflect differences in job responsibilities, geographies and marketplace considerations, the overall structure of compensation and benefit programs should be broadly similar across the organization.

Orchestrate compensation and benefit programs to motivate and inspire employee behavior that fosters a high-performance culture that maximizes the opportunity for achievement of our business goals and objectives.

Process

Determining Compensation

The compensation committee believes that a successful compensation program requires analysis and review of both overall company performance and individual contributions and accomplishments. With regard to overall company performance, senior management recommends operating objectives to the compensation committee for consideration and approval. The compensation committee then selects operating objectives which it believes strongly correlate to key goals and enhanced shareholder value over time. These overall company goals are then sent to the full Board for final approval at the beginning of each year. Individual performance for each NEO (other than the Chief Executive Officer) is evaluated by the Chief Executive Officer and communicated to the compensation committee as a basis for determining compensation for each such NEO. The compensation committee separately evaluates the individual performance of our Chief Executive Officer in connection with determining the appropriate level of compensation for the Chief Executive Officer. The performance of each NEO is evaluated based on his or her contribution to our overall company performance, including the achievement of the overall Company objectives and other individual accomplishments.

Role of Executives in Establishing Compensation

Generally, the Chief Executive Officer makes recommendations to the compensation committee in connection with the establishment of base salary and bonus compensation amounts for other senior executives. The compensation committee establishes the Chief Executive Officer's base salary and bonus compensation without input from management. Also, as discussed above, management recommends to the compensation committee the operating criteria for performance-based bonuses applicable to our senior executives; however, the compensation committee makes the final determinations regarding the appropriate criteria for these awards. The compensation committee regularly invites the Chief Executive Officer, the Chief Financial Officer and other senior executives to attend compensation committee meetings in order to receive operating information from these officers and to discuss goals, objectives and performance. The compensation committee does not delegate any of its duties to management and holds executive sessions without the members of management present.

Role of Compensation Consultants and Benchmarking

To meet its compensation objectives discussed above, the compensation committee seeks to achieve an appropriate balance of (1) the compensation paid to a particular individual and the compensation paid to other executives at comparable companies and (2) salary and incentive compensation. In an attempt to attain these goals, the compensation committee regularly reviews competitive data on executive compensation. To this end, the compensation committee has authority to retain and terminate any compensation consultant to be used to assist in the evaluation of our compensation practices. For 2006, the compensation committee engaged James F. Reda & Associates, LLC to serve as its compensation consultant and to compile data for a group of competitive companies. These companies were identified by James F. Reda & Associates with input from management and approved by the compensation committee. The competitive market group included pharmaceutical companies similarly-situated to us with at least one pharmaceutical product in development. Annual revenue levels and market capitalization were also used in formulating the market group.

Table of ContentsComponents of Executive Compensation

Our executive compensation program consists of the following primary components:

base salary;

annual cash bonus; and long-term incentives in the form of stock options.

In addition, our compensation program includes certain health and welfare benefits. Each component is described in more detail below. In determining compensation for our senior executive officers, we use the competitive data discussed above to ensure that these officers receive a level of compensation and a mix of compensation components that is fair and competitive; however, we do not target our overall compensation package or mix of compensation components to meet any specified ranges within this competitive data.

Base Salary

Our base salary program is designed to provide competitive base cash compensation. The compensation committee, in connection with recommendations from the Chief Executive Officer, annually reviews and approves base salaries for our senior executive officers. The compensation committee considers factors which include a review of the competitive data described above, individual performance over time and each individual's role and responsibilities within our organization when setting base salaries. The compensation committee sets base salaries that are appropriate given the performance, experience and credentials of the relevant officer.

The compensation committee approved the base salaries for the NEOs, as set forth in the following table:

Name	2005 Base Salary ($)	2006 Base Salary ($)
Russell M. Medford, M.D., Ph.D.	$ 368,706	$ 383,454
Mark P. Colonnese	283,820	309,058
Robert A.D. Scott, M.D.	286,741	310,324
Joseph M. Gaynor, Jr.(1)	125,000	265,000
W. Charles Montgomery, Ph.D.	260,000	280,134

(1) Mr. Gaynor joined us effective June 30, 2005. Accordingly, this amount reflects only six months of compensation for 2005.

Historically, the only annual base salary increases approved by the compensation committee have been cost of living increases and those increases are effective January 1st of each year. The compensation committee does, however, increase base salaries in connection with promotions as the compensation committee believes that additional base compensation is appropriate as the senior executive officer incurs additional responsibilities and obligations within our organization. The increases in the base salaries of Mr. Colonnese, Dr. Scott and Dr. Montgomery are attributable to their respective promotions that were effective May 1, 2006. The increase in the base salary of Mr. Gaynor is attributable to his promotion that was effective July 1, 2006.

Annual Cash Bonuses

Annual cash bonus payments are designed to motivate and retain senior executive officers by providing at-risk compensation contingent upon achieving certain company objectives, which are in turn key objectives related to increasing shareholder value. Typically, management recommends to the compensation committee the target ranges of bonus payouts under our annual cash bonus program (expressed as a percentage of the applicable officer's base salary) and the appropriate objectives upon which payment of the annual cash bonus is to be determined. The compensation committee takes into account management's recommendations with respect to these items, but the compensation committee makes the final determinations as to the appropriate target bonus levels and performance objectives. The compensation committee generally acts with respect to these matters at the beginning of our fiscal year. Our performance objectives have historically been operating in nature and focused on overall company performance as opposed to any specific individual objectives. The compensation committee does have the discretion, however, to take into account individual contributions to company performance and achievement of overall company objectives when awarding annual cash bonus compensation. For 2006, our performance objectives included, among others, completion of our ARISE study within certain time parameters, management of our commercial partnerships and certain research and discovery objectives. Our bonus targets typically range between 25% to 38% of the applicable officer's base salary. The 2006 bonus targets for our named executive officers can be seen below in the Grant of Plan-Based Awards table set forth in the section entitled Executive Compensation.

In the interest of shareholder value, we proposed, and management agreed, to forego the annual cash bonuses to our named executive officers for 2006 because as of the end of our 2006 fiscal year we had not yet received the results of our ARISE Study. We may make special bonus payments to our named executive officers during 2007 depending on the results of this study. Additionally, the compensation committee is waiting for these results to determine the performance objectives for our 2007 annual bonus program.

Long-Term Incentives

The compensation committee believes equity-based compensation performs an essential role in retaining and motivating our executive officers by providing them incentives that are linked to our long-term success and maximizing shareholder value. The compensation committee believes the grant of such equity-based compensation further aligns the interests of our executive officers with those of its shareholders. The compensation committee determines the appropriate level of equity-based compensation by reference to the competitive data discussed above, the executive's position and role within our organization and historical grants to the applicable executive. Individual contributions to overall company performance and achievement of company objectives may also be taken into account.

Historically, the granting of stock options to executive officers has been a major component of executive compensation. The compensation committee believes that stock option awards provide a significant link to company performance and maximizing shareholder value as the award will have value only if the market value of the company's common stock increases above the exercise price of the option and the individual remains employed with the company over the vesting period. Stock options are granted to employees annually, typically in December of each year. These option awards are approved by the compensation committee and have a grant date as of the last business day of the year in which the grant occurs. The grants do not fall within a period of 30 days before the release of company earnings. Grants are not issued until approved by the compensation committee. These awards are issued at the fair market value of a share of our common stock as of the last business day of the year, which value is determined by reference to the closing price of a share of our common stock on Nasdaq on such date. The awards generally vest four years from the date of the grant and expire ten years from the date of the grant.

In light of the recent publicity surrounding the back-dating of stock options, we reviewed our option grant history and grant procedures and did not find any material issues with respect to our historical or current practices. We have implemented policies and procedures designed to safeguard against this issue. For example, grants of options to an employee are approved by the compensation committee (or the full board of directors in the absence of compensation committee approval) with such action occurring on or prior to the date of grant. In addition, grants made to newly hired employees are effective as of the last business day of the month in which the employee is hired.

Employee Benefits

We provide employee benefits to our senior executive officers that are offered to all of our employees. These include matching contributions in connection with our 401(k) Plan, the payment of premiums for long-term disability and life insurance policies, and other health-related benefits including medical, dental, life and accidental death or disability insurance plans. The compensation committee has reviewed the benefits provided to the senior executive officers in 2006 and believes that they are reasonable and appropriate. Additional information on the aggregate incremental cost to us of providing these benefits to the NEOs in 2006 is shown in the Summary Compensation Table. We do not provide our senior executive officers with any perquisites.

Table of Contents

Change of Control and Severance Arrangements

We have entered into employment agreements with our NEOs which provide for the payment of severance to these employees in connection with certain terminations of their employment, including terminations in connection with a change of control. These severance and change of control provisions are discussed below.

We have included provisions regarding change of control in our employment agreements because we want our senior executives to act in the best interest of our company in the event of a potential change of control and to remove any potential influence of personal financial concerns. Further, we believe these provisions are consistent with market practices for similarly situated executives and assist us in retaining highly talented individuals. In addition, the trigger requiring the payment of severance is that there be both a change of control and a termination of the current level of employment. This is often referred to as a double trigger. The double-trigger largely ensures that we will become obligated to make payments under these provisions only if the applicable executive's employment terminates following a change of control and further supports our goal of aligning the interests of our executives with those of our shareholders. In addition, our 1997, 2001 and 2004 Equity Ownership Plans generally provide for accelerated vesting if, within 24 months of a change of control, the grantee's employment is terminated through a constructive discharge or involuntary termination. For additional detail regarding these severance payments, see the section below entitled Potential Payments Upon Termination or Change in Control.

These agreements also provide for severance payments in connection with a termination of the NEO without cause, non-renewal of the executive's employment agreement or a constructive termination. We believe the severance amounts provided under these circumstances are appropriate, taking into account the time it is expected for one of these NEOs to find another job in the event of such a separation. The payments and other benefits are provided because we consider these separations to be initiated by us and to be typically beyond the control of the individual NEO. Separation benefits are intended to ease the consequences to an employee of an unexpected termination of employment. We benefit by requiring a general release from the separated employee. For additional detail regarding these severance payments, see the section below entitled Potential Payments Upon Termination or Change in Control.

Insider Trading Policy

We have implemented a written insider trading compliance policy which includes our policies with respect to stock ownership, retention, shorting, hedging, derivatives and margin transactions. We expect our employees, officers and directors not to engage in speculative transactions that are designed to result in profit based on either short-term fluctuations or negative movement in the price of our securities.

Tax Implications of Executive Compensation

Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, limits the amount of individual compensation for certain executives that may be deducted by the employer for federal income tax purposes in any one fiscal year to $1 million unless such compensation is performance-based. The determination of whether compensation is performance-based depends upon a number of factors, including shareholder approval of the plan under which the compensation is paid, the exercise price at which equity-based awards are granted, the disclosure to and approval by the shareholders of applicable performance standards, the composition of the compensation committee, and certification by the compensation committee that performance standards were satisfied. Historically, annual incentive compensation for our NEOs has not been structured to qualify under Section 162(m) as our compensation packages for these executive officers have not exceeded the thresholds established by Section 162(m). The compensation committee will have the discretion on a go-forward basis to structure compensation in a manner that does not meet the requirements of Section 162(m) because we believe that Section 162(m) considerations represent only one of many factors that should be taken into account in determining overall compensation.

Table of ContentsSummary/Conclusion

The compensation committee believes that our compensation programs achieve their desired goals of providing senior executives with a pay opportunity that is competitive within our industry and among companies of comparable size and complexity and, as a result, successfully attracts and retains highly qualified key executives. The compensation committee continues to monitor competitive industry compensation practices and our operating goals and may adopt certain changes to its philosophy and policies in response to changes in industry practice or company goals as it deems desirable or necessary in future years.

COMPENSATION COMMITTEE REPORT

The compensation committee, comprised of independent directors, reviewed and discussed the above Compensation Discussion and Analysis, or CD&A, with AtheroGenics management. Based on the review and discussions, the compensation committee recommended to our board of directors that the CD&A be included in this proxy statement.

Table of ContentsGrant of Plan-Based Awards

The following table sets forth information concerning the individual grants of stock options to each of the named executive officers during the fiscal year ended December 31, 2006. All options were granted under our 2004 Equity Ownership Plan. Each option has a ten-year term, subject to earlier termination if the optionee's service with us terminates. Options vest at the rate of 25% on the first anniversary of the vesting commencement date. Following that date, the remaining options vest over three-consecutive twelve month periods at a rate of two percent per month during the initial eleven months of each period and three percent in the final month of each such period. All options were granted with exercise prices equal to the fair market value on the date of the grant.

Employment AgreementsOverview

AtheroGenics entered into individual Employment Agreements, effective September 25, 2006, with each of Russell M. Medford, M.D., Ph.D., our President and Chief Executive Officer, Mark P. Colonnese, our Executive Vice President, Commercial Operations and Chief Financial Officer, Robert A. D. Scott, M.D., our Executive Vice President, Research and Development and Chief Medical Officer, Joseph M. Gaynor, Jr., our Senior Vice President, General Counsel and Secretary and W. Charles Montgomery, Ph.D., our Senior Vice President, Business Development and Alliance Management (each an executive).

Each agreement is effective for an initial term of one (1) year, with automatic extensions for successive one-year terms with the exception of Dr. Medford's which has an initial term of two (2) years. Each agreement provides for an annual base salary as follows: Dr. Medford: $383,454; Mr. Colonnese: $316,000; Dr. Scott: $316,000; Mr. Gaynor: $275,000 and Dr. Montgomery: $285,000. The annual salaries may be increased from time to time at AtheroGenics discretion. In addition, each executive is entitled to cash incentive compensation awards each year, subject to achievement of company and personal performance goals. For 2006, the target incentive compensation is 38% of base salary for Dr. Medford, 30% of base salary for Mr. Colonnese and Dr. Scott, and 28% for Mr. Gaynor and Dr. Montgomery. The executives are also entitled to receive stock awards and options as determined by our board of directors, and to receive employee benefits and perquisites as provided to all of our executive management personnel.

Upon termination of the executive's employment by AtheroGenics other than due to death, disability, mandatory retirement or cause (as defined below), each agreement provides for severance benefits to be paid to the executive including: (1) one to two times annual base salary, (2) up to 100% to 200% of the target annual incentive, and (3) up to 12 months to 24 months' acceleration of stock option vesting. The amount of each item listed above is based on the affected executive's level and term of employment. The executive must sign a general release of claims in favor of AtheroGenics in order to receive the salary and annual incentive severance payment.

Upon a change of control (as defined below), each agreement provides that 18 to 36 months of vesting for unvested stock options will be accelerated. If within 24 months of a change of control there is a termination of employment that would entitle the executive to severance (as described above), this entitles the executive to the following benefits (in lieu of the above): (1) a salary severance payment of two to three times annual base salary, (2) 100% to 300% of target annual incentive for the year of termination, (3) immediate vesting for all unvested stock options, and (4) an additional excise tax gross-up payment, if applicable. The amount of each item listed above is based on the affected executive's level and term of employment.

Table of Contents

Under the agreements, the executives agree not to compete with AtheroGenics, to provide a one-year non-solicitation obligation, and to maintain the confidentiality of company information. These agreements supersede and replace any and all previous employment agreements with these executives.

Definitions

Termination for cause means the termination of the executive's employment as a result of conduct by the executive amounting to (1) fraud or dishonesty against AtheroGenics, (2) willful misconduct, or repeated refusal to follow the reasonable directions of our board of directors or chief executive officer, (3) knowing violation of law in the course of performance of the duties of executive's employment with AtheroGenics, (4) any violation of our formal policies regarding nondiscrimination and equal employment opportunity, sexual harassment and other forms of unlawful workplace harassment, or insider trading of our securities (whether directly or indirectly), (5) repeated and frequent absences from work without a reasonable excuse, (6) intoxication with alcohol or drugs while on AtheroGenics premises during regular business hours, (7) a conviction or plea of guilty or nolo contendere to a felony or other crime of moral turpitude in the course of his employment (e.g., fraud, theft, embezzlement and the like), (8) gross negligence in the performance of executive's duties; or (9) a breach or violation of the terms of the respective employment agreement.

A change of control shall be deemed to have occurred if: (1) a tender offer shall be made and consummated for the ownership of 50% or more of our outstanding voting securities, (2) AtheroGenics shall be merged or consolidated with another corporation and as a result of such merger or consolidation less than 50% of the outstanding voting securities of the surviving or resulting corporation shall be owned in the aggregate by our former shareholders, (3) AtheroGenics shall sell all or substantially all of its assets to another corporation which corporation is not wholly owned by us, (4) a person or other legal entity shall acquire 50% or more of our outstanding voting securities (whether directly, indirectly, beneficially or of record), or (5) individuals who, as of the date hereof, together with those directors (x) for whose election proxies shall have been solicited by the board and (y) who are then serving as directors appointed by the board to fill pre-existing vacancies on the board or vacancies caused by death or resignation, but not by either removal or to fill newly created directorships, constitute our board of directors, or the incumbent board, cease to constitute at least a majority of our board of directors as a result of an actual or threatened election contest with respect to the election or removal of directors or other actual or threatened solicitation of proxies or consents by or on behalf of a person other than the incumbent board.

Potential Payments Upon Termination or Change in Control

We have entered into employment agreements and maintain certain plans that may require us to make certain payments and/or provide certain benefits to the named executive officers in the Summary Compensation Table in the event of a termination of employment or change in control. See Employment Agreements above for a description of the severance and change of control arrangements for the named executive officers. The following assumptions were used in calculating the amounts shown in the table:

The termination or change in control occurs on December 29, 2006 the last business day of the calendar year.

We used the executive officer's base salary as of December 29, 2006.

Involuntary termination is the executive's (1) involuntary separation from service other than as a result of death, disability, mandatory retirement or termination for cause or (2) receipt of notice of our intent not to extend the period of employment.

Involuntary termination after change in control must occur within 24 months of the change in control.

In the event of voluntary termination the executive will receive any base salary earned through that date and shall be entitled to any benefits that have accrued and vested under any of our benefit plans.

The closing price of our stock on December 29, 2006 was $9.91 per share. The value of the vesting acceleration is calculated by multiplying the number of unvested options as December 29, 2006, by the difference between the closing price of our stock and the exercise price of the unvested options. Since the closing price was lower than the price of the unvested options, no compensation for accelerated vesting is recognized.

Health insurance amount represents insurance premiums at a rate paid by us at December 29, 2006. Payments will be paid through COBRA.

Payment of the termination amount is contingent upon the executive signing (and not revoking) a general release of all claims.

SECTION 16(a) BENEFICIAL OWNERSHIP REPORTING COMPLIANCE

Section 16(a) of the Exchange Act requires our directors and executive officers to file reports of holdings and transactions in AtheroGenics stock with the SEC. Based solely on a review of copies of reports and certain written representations from our executive officers and directors, we believe that all Section 16(a) filing requirements were met during 2006 except for late Form 4 filings reporting an option grant for Mr. Colonnese, Dr. Scott and Dr. Montgomery and a Form 3 filing reporting initial beneficial ownership for Dr. Barker.

REPORT OF THE AUDIT COMMITTEE

The audit committee operates in accordance with its written charter, which sets forth the responsibilities of the audit committee. The audit committee oversees our financial reporting process on behalf of the board of directors. Management has the primary responsibility for the financial statements and the reporting process, including the systems of internal controls. In fulfilling its oversight responsibilities, the committee reviewed the audited financial statements as of and for the period ended December 31, 2006 with management, including a discussion of the quality, not just the acceptability, of the accounting principles, the reasonableness of significant judgments, and the clarity of disclosures in the financial statements. The committee also reviewed with management their evaluation of the systems of internal controls and procedures for financial reporting, and disclosure controls and procedures.

The committee reviewed with the independent registered public accounting firm, or independent auditors, who are responsible for expressing an opinion on the conformity of those audited financial statements with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, their judgments as to the quality, not just the acceptability, of our accounting principles, the adequacy of the controls and procedures for financial reporting and such other matters as are required to be discussed with the committee under generally accepted auditing standards. In addition, the committee has discussed with the independent auditors the auditors' independence from management and AtheroGenics, including the matters identified in the written disclosures delivered to the committee by the independent auditors as required by the Independence Standards Board.

The committee discussed with the independent auditors the overall scope and plans for their respective audits. The committee met with independent auditors, with and without management present, to discuss the results of their examinations, their evaluations of our internal controls, and the overall quality of our financial reporting.

Based on the reviews and discussions referred to above, the committee recommended to the board of directors (and the board has approved) that the audited financial statements be included in the Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2006 for filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The board of directors, upon the recommendation of the audit committee, has also appointed Ernst & Young LLP as AtheroGenics' independent auditors for fiscal 2007, subject to shareholder ratification at the annual meeting.

The pre-approval policy is detailed as to the particular service or category of services and is subject to a specific budget. The services include the engagement of the independent registered public accounting firm for audit services, audit-related services, and tax services.

If AtheroGenics has a need to engage the independent registered public accounting firm for other services, which are not considered subject to the general pre-approval as described above, then the audit committee must approve each such specific engagement as well as the projected fees. If the timing of the project requires an expedited decision, then the audit committee has delegated to the Chairman of the committee the authority to pre-approve such engagement, subject to fee limitations. The Chairman must report all such pre-approvals to the entire audit committee for ratification at the next committee meeting.
