PROXY STATEMENT

This proxy statement is being furnished in connection with the solicitation of proxies by the board of directors of First Solar, Inc., a Delaware corporation (First Solar or the Company), for use at the annual meeting of the Company's shareholders to be held on Friday, May 23, 2008, at the Desert Willow Conference Center, 4340 East Cotton Center Boulevard, Phoenix, Arizona 85040, commencing at 10:00 a.m., local time, and at any adjournment or postponement. This proxy statement, the notice of annual meeting, the accompanying proxy and the annual report to shareholders are first being mailed to shareholders on or about April 21, 2008.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT THE ANNUAL MEETING

What is the purpose of the annual meeting?

At the annual meeting, shareholders are being asked to consider and vote upon the following matters:

the election of eight members of our board of directors to hold office until the next annual meeting of shareholders or until their respective successors have been elected and qualified; and the ratification of the appointment of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as our independent registered public accounting firm for the fiscal year ending December 27, 2008.

The shareholders will also transact any other business that may properly come before the annual meeting.

How does the board of directors recommend that I vote?

Our board of directors recommends that you vote your shares (1) FOR each of the nominees to the board of directors and (2) FOR the ratification of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as our independent registered public accounting firm for the 2008 fiscal year.

Who is entitled to vote?

The record date for the annual meeting is April 17, 2008. Only shareholders of record at the close of business on that date are entitled to notice of and to vote at the annual meeting. Attendance at the meeting will be limited to such shareholders of record, their proxies, beneficial owners having evidence of ownership on that date and invited guests of the Company.

The Company's sole outstanding capital stock is its common stock, par value $0.001 per share. Each holder of the Company's common stock is entitled to one vote per share on each matter submitted at the annual meeting. At the close of business on the record date there were 79,735,626 shares of the Company's common stock outstanding and eligible to vote at the annual meeting.

What is the difference between holding shares as a shareholder of record and as a beneficial owner?

Edgar Filing: FIRST SOLAR, INC. - Form DEF 14A

Most First Solar shareholders hold their shares through a broker or other nominee rather than directly in their own name.

If your shares are registered directly in your name with our transfer agent, Computershare Trust Company, N.A., you are considered, with respect to those shares, the shareholder of record, and these proxy materials are being sent directly to you by First Solar. As the shareholder of record, you have the right to grant your voting proxy directly to the Company or to vote in person at the annual meeting. First Solar has enclosed or sent a proxy card for you to use.

If your shares are held in a brokerage account or by another nominee, you are considered the beneficial owner of shares held in street name, and these proxy materials are being forwarded to you together with a voting instruction card by your broker, trustee or nominee, as the case may be. As the beneficial owner, you have the right to direct your broker, trustee or nominee how to vote, and you are also invited to attend the annual meeting.

Since a beneficial owner is not the shareholder of record, you may not vote your shares in person at the annual meeting unless you obtain a legal proxy from the broker, trustee or nominee that holds your shares giving you the right to vote the shares at the meeting. Your broker, trustee or nominee has enclosed or provided voting instructions for you to use in directing the broker, trustee or other nominee how to vote your shares.

How do I vote?

Shares held in your name as the shareholder of record may be voted by you in person at the annual meeting. Shares held beneficially in street name may be voted by you in person at the annual meeting only if you obtain a legal proxy from the broker, trustee or nominee that holds your shares giving you the right to vote the shares. Even if you plan to attend the annual meeting, we recommend that you also submit your proxy or voting instructions as described below so that your vote will be counted if you later decide not to attend the annual meeting.

A shareholder who holds shares of our common stock of record and not beneficially in street name may vote shares by giving a proxy via mail. To vote your proxy by mail, indicate your voting choices, sign and date your proxy and return it in the postage-paid envelope provided.

If you hold your shares through a broker, bank or other nominee, that institution will send you separate instructions describing the procedure for voting your shares.

Can I change my vote after I submit my proxy?

Yes, you may change your vote at any time prior to the vote at the annual meeting. If you are the shareholder of record, you may change your vote by granting a new proxy bearing a later date (which automatically revokes the earlier proxy), by providing a written notice of revocation to First Solar's Corporate Secretary at 350 West Washington Street, Suite 600, Tempe, Arizona 85281 prior to your shares being voted, or by attending the annual meeting and voting in person. Attendance at the annual meeting will not cause your previously granted proxy to be revoked unless you specifically so request. For shares you hold beneficially in street name, you may change your vote by submitting new voting instructions to your broker, trustee or nominee following the instruction they provided, or, if you have obtained a legal proxy from your broker or nominee giving you the right to vote your shares, by attending the annual meeting and voting in person.

How many shares must be present to hold the annual meeting?

A quorum must be present at the annual meeting for any business to be conducted. The presence at the annual meeting, in person or by proxy, of the holders of a majority of the shares of voting stock outstanding on the record date, determined by voting power, will constitute a quorum. Both abstentions and broker non-votes (described below) are counted for the purpose of determining the presence of a quorum. If a quorum is not present, the chairman of the annual meeting may adjourn the annual meeting until a quorum is present.

What is the voting requirement to approve each of the proposals?

In the election of directors, the affirmative vote of a plurality of the votes cast is required to elect the eight nominees as directors. This means that the eight nominees will be elected if they receive more affirmative votes than any other person. You may not accumulate your votes for the election of directors.

The proposal to ratify the appointment of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as our independent registered public accounting firm for the fiscal year ending December 27, 2008 requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the voting power of the Company's common stock present at the meeting in person or by proxy and entitled to vote as of the record date.

If you hold shares beneficially in street name and do not provide your broker with voting instructions, your shares may constitute broker non-votes. Generally, broker non-votes occur on a matter when a broker is not permitted to vote on that matter without instructions from the beneficial owner and instructions are not given. In tabulating the voting result for any particular proposal, shares that constitute broker non-votes are not considered entitled to vote or votes cast on that proposal. Thus, broker non-votes will not affect the outcome of any matter being voted on at the meeting, assuming that a quorum is obtained. Abstentions, on the other hand, have the same effect as votes against the matter.

What happens if a nominee is unable to stand for election?

If a nominee is unable to stand for election, the board of directors may either reduce the number of directors to be elected or cause a substitute nominee to be selected. If a substitute nominee is selected, the proxy holders will vote your shares for the substitute nominee, unless you have withheld authority.

Who pays for the costs of soliciting proxies?

The Company will pay the cost of soliciting proxies. The Company will reimburse brokerage firms and other custodians, nominees and fiduciaries for reasonable expenses incurred by them in sending proxy materials to the beneficial owners of voting stock. We have hired Georgeson Shareholders Communications Inc. to assist us in the distribution of proxy materials and the solicitation of votes. We will pay Georgeson Shareholders Communications Inc. a fee of less than $10,000 plus customary costs and expenses for these services. In addition to solicitation by mail, directors, officers and associates (which is our term for employees and is used throughout this proxy statement to mean employees) of the Company may solicit proxies personally or by facsimile, telegraph or telephone, without additional compensation.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

We adopted corporate governance guidelines that address the governance activities of the board of directors and include criteria for determining the independence of the members of our board. These guidelines are in addition to the requirements of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the Commission) and The NASDAQ Stock Market. The guidelines also include requirements for the standing committees of the board, responsibilities for board members and the annual evaluation of the board's and its committees' effectiveness. The corporate governance guidelines are available on our website at www.firstsolar.com. At any time that these guidelines are not available on our website, we will provide a copy upon written request made to Investor Relations, First Solar, Inc., 350 West Washington Street, Suite 600, Tempe, Arizona 85281.

Although we include references to our website throughout this proxy statement, any information that is included on our website is not part of this proxy statement.

Code of Business Conduct and Ethics

We have a code of business conduct and ethics that applies to all directors and associates, including our chief executive officer and senior financial officers. Audit Committee

The audit committee oversees our financial reporting process on behalf of the board of directors and reports to the board of directors the results of these activities, including the systems of internal controls established by management and the board of directors, our audit and compliance process and financial reporting. The audit committee, among other duties, engages the independent registered public accounting firm, pre-approves all audit and non-audit services provided by the independent registered public accounting firm, reviews with the independent registered public accounting firm the plans and results of the audit engagement, considers the compatibility of any non-audit services provided by the independent registered public accounting firm with the independence of such independent registered public accounting firm and reviews the independence of the independent registered public accounting firm. During 2007, the audit committee held 12 meetings.

J. Thomas Presby (Chair), Craig Kennedy and Paul H. Stebbins serve on our audit committee. Bruce Sohn served on our audit committee until becoming the president of the Company in March 2007, at which time Mr. Sweeney replaced him on the audit committee. Mr. Kennedy replaced Mr. Sweeney on the audit committee upon his appointment to the board of directors in September 2007. Each member of the audit committee meets the standards for financial knowledge for companies listed on The NASDAQ Stock Market. In addition, the board of directors has determined that Mr. Presby is qualified as an audit committee financial expert within the meaning of Commission regulations.

The audit committee operates pursuant to a written charter and is of the view that it has complied with its charter. A current copy of the audit committee's charter is available on our website at www.firstsolar.com.

Compensation Committee

The compensation committee reviews and recommends compensation and benefit plans for our officers and directors, including non-associate directors, reviews the base salary and incentive compensation for each executive officer, reviews and approves corporate goals and objectives relevant to our Chief Executive Officer's compensation, administers our incentive compensation program for key executive and management associates and reviews and approves employee benefit plans. During 2007, the compensation committee held eight meetings and acted by written consent seven times.

Michael Sweeney (Chair), Paul H. Stebbins and José H. Villarreal serve on our compensation committee.

The compensation committee operates pursuant to a written charter and is of the view that it has complied with its charter. A current copy of the compensation committee's charter is available on our website at www.firstsolar.com.

Compensation Committee Interlocks and Insider Participation

None of the members of our compensation committee has been an executive officer or associate of our Company during our last completed fiscal year. During our last completed fiscal year, none of our executive officers served as a member of the compensation committee of any entity that has one or more executive officers serving on our compensation committee.

Nominating and Governance Committee

The board of directors formed a nominating and governance committee on January 31, 2008. The nominating and governance committee reviews and assesses the composition and performance of the board and its committees, assesses candidates for appointment to the board and recommends to the board of directors whether such candidates should stand for election at the next meeting of stockholders, and reviews and assesses the Company's corporate governance policies and guidelines.

José H. Villarreal (Chair), Craig Kennedy, James F. Nolan, J. Thomas Presby, Paul H. Stebbins and Michael Sweeney serve on our nominating and governance committee.

The nominating and governance committee operates pursuant to a written charter and is of the view that it has complied with its charter. A current copy of the nominating and governance committee's charter is available on our website at www.firstsolar.com.

Nomination Procedures

Director nominees are recommended for selection by the board of directors by the nominating and governance committee. In considering new nominees for the board of directors, the nominating and governance committee considers qualified individuals who, if added to the board of directors, would provide the mix of director characteristics, experience, perspectives and skills appropriate for the Company. In accordance with the corporate governance guidelines adopted by the board of directors, criteria for selection of candidates include, but are not limited to: (i) roles and contributions valuable to the business community; (ii) personal qualities of leadership, character, judgment and whether the candidate possesses and maintains a reputation in the community at large of integrity, trust, respect, competence and adherence to the highest ethical standards; (iii) relevant knowledge and diversity of background and experience in such things as business, technology, finance and accounting, marketing, government relations and the like; and (iv) whether the candidate is free of conflicts and has the time required for preparation, participation and attendance at all meetings.

The board of directors does not have a specific policy for consideration of nominees recommended by security holders due to the fact that, as of April 14, 2008, the Estate of John T. Walton and its affiliates control approximately 44% of our outstanding common stock and their vote has a significant influence on whether any director nominee recommended by the board of directors or a security holder is elected to the board of directors. However, security holders can recommend a prospective nominee for the board of directors as described below. There have been no recommended nominees from security holders.

Our bylaws require that a shareholder who wishes to nominate an individual for election as a director at our annual meeting must give us advance written notice. The notice must be delivered to or mailed and received by the Corporate Secretary of the Company not later than 90 days or earlier than 120 days prior to the first anniversary of the preceding year's annual meeting. If the annual meeting for which the recommendation is submitted is more than 30 days before or more than 60 days after the first anniversary of the preceding year's annual meeting, such recommendation must be received by the Corporate Secretary of the Company not earlier than 120 days prior to the annual meeting and not later than 90 days prior to such annual meeting or the 10th day following the day on which public announcement of the annual meeting date is first made by the Company.

Shareholders may contact our Corporate Secretary at First Solar, Inc., 350 West Washington Street, Suite 600, Tempe, Arizona 85281 for a copy of the relevant bylaw provisions regarding the requirements for nominating director candidates and making shareholder proposals.

Shareholder Communications with Directors

A shareholder who wishes to communicate directly with the board of directors, a committee of the board of directors or with an individual director regarding matters related to First Solar should send the communication to:

First Solar, Inc.
Attn: Corporate Secretary
350 West Washington Street
Suite 600

We will forward all shareholder correspondence about First Solar to the board of directors, committee or individual director, as appropriate. Please note that we will not forward communications that are spam, junk mail and mass mailings, resumes and other forms of job inquiries, surveys, and business solicitations or advertisements.

Attendance at Shareholder Meetings

The Company does not have a policy on directors attending the annual shareholders' meetings. Last year's annual shareholders' meeting was held on May 25, 2007 in Phoenix, Arizona and was attended by two directors.

NON-ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR COMPENSATION

We use a combination of cash and stock-based incentive compensation to attract and retain qualified candidates to serve on our board of directors. In setting the compensation of non-associate directors, we consider the significant amount of time that the members of the board of directors expend in fulfilling their duties to First Solar as well as the experience level we require to serve on the board of directors. The board of directors, through its nominating and governance committee, annually reviews the compensation and compensation policies for non-associate members of the board of directors. Pursuant to our Corporate Governance Guidelines, in recommending non-associate director compensation the nominating and governance committee is guided by three goals: (i) compensation should fairly pay directors for work required for a company of our size and scope; (ii) compensation should align directors' interests with the long-term interests of our shareholders; and (iii) the structure of the compensation should be clearly disclosed to our shareholders.

Cash Compensation

Beginning in the second half of 2006, non-associate directors receive annual compensation of a $50,000 cash retainer (payable quarterly) and are not paid any fees for attending board meetings or committee meetings. Prior to the second half of 2006, we paid our non-associate directors $6,250 for each meeting attended.

Equity Compensation

We also compensate our independent directors with a $50,000 stock grant, payable quarterly. The chairman of the audit committee also receives an additional annual $25,000 stock grant, payable quarterly. With respect to such quarterly stock grants, our practice is to issue the stock at the end of the quarter to our independent directors. Our practice is not to time the date of these awards, and we do not take account of any internal "black outs", during which associates and directors are prohibited by our Insider Trading Policy from trading in our securities, or whether we are or are not in possession of undisclosed material facts and without regard to whether any undisclosed material facts could be perceived as potentially positive or negative.

COMPENSATION DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Overview

The compensation committee of our board of directors, or our compensation committee, has responsibility for establishing and overseeing our compensation program as it applies to our executive officers and for the Company generally.

In this Compensation Discussion and Analysis, the individuals in the Summary Compensation Table set forth after this Compensation Discussion and Analysis are referred to as the named executive officers. Generally, the types of compensation and benefits provided to the named executive officers are similar to those provided to our other executive officers. The named executive officers for fiscal 2007 are Michael J. Ahearn, our chief executive officer; Bruce Sohn, our president; Jens Meyerhoff, our chief financial officer; Kenneth M. Schultz, our executive vice president, global marketing and business development; and I. Paul Kacir, our vice president and corporate secretary. On January 15, 2008, John T. Gaffney joined us as our executive vice president and general counsel and on March 31, 2008, James R. Miller joined us as our executive vice president, product and global supply chain management.

Executive Compensation Policies

Our long-term success depends on our ability to continuously reduce solar electricity costs in order to expand global markets for solar electricity and extend our competitive cost advantage. This requires that we continue to discover, develop, commercialize and improve a continuing stream of manufacturing process and product improvements; expand our sales and manufacturing volumes in order to realize economies of scale and cost reductions; and discover and penetrate new markets for solar electricity that extend beyond the traditional subsidy-dependent markets. To execute these objectives rapidly and efficiently, it is critical that we attract, motivate and retain highly talented individuals at all levels of the organization who are committed to the Company's mission and core values.

The compensation committee bases its executive compensation programs on the following policies:

Compensation should be based on level of job responsibility, individual performance and Company performance.

Compensation should reflect the value of the job in the marketplace. To attract and retain a highly skilled work force, we must provide pay that remains competitive with the pay of other employers who compete with us for talent.

As associates progress to higher levels in the organization, an increasing proportion of their pay should be linked to Company performance and shareholder returns because they are better able to affect the Company's results. While all associates receive a mix of both annual and longer-term incentives, associates at higher levels have an increasing proportion of their compensation tied to longer-term performance because they are in a position to have greater influence on longer-term results.

Compensation should reward performance. Our programs should deliver top-tier compensation for top-tier individual and Company performance. Similarly, if individual performance falls short of expectations and/or Company performance lags expectations, the programs should deliver lower-tier compensation.

Performance-based compensation should foster the long-term focus required for success in the solar industry. We believe success can best be measured by our ability to earn a superior return on invested capital (or net assets) by focusing on reducing our product costs, thereby enabling us to reduce the price that we can charge for our products while still earning a superior return ultimately to levels that enable consumers to generate solar electricity cost competitively with conventional energy alternatives.

To be effective, performance-based compensation programs should enable associates to easily understand how their efforts can affect their pay, both directly through individual performance accomplishments and indirectly through contributing to the Company's achievement of its strategic and operational goals.

We generally do not adhere to rigid formulas or necessarily react to short-term changes in business performance in determining the amount and mix of compensation elements for our named executives. We consider competitive compensation paid by other companies comparable in size and stage of development, but do not attempt to maintain a certain target percentile within a peer group or otherwise exclusively rely on market data to determine executive compensation. We incorporate flexibility into our compensation program and in our assessment process to respond to and adjust for the evolving business environment in which we operate.

Compensation Committee Practices

The compensation committee has established a number of processes to assist it in ensuring that the Company's executive compensation program is achieving its objectives. Among these are the following:

Assessment of Company Performance

The compensation committee considers Company performance when determining annual bonus awards (as further discussed below). Company performance is assessed in relation to our mid-term goal of reducing retail solar electricity prices from our products. In determining compensation for 2007, the compensation committee made a subjective determination after considering Company performance and other factors against these objectives collectively. In making its determination, the compensation committee also receives a recommendation from management for any overall adjustment to the general assessment of Company performance based on an additional discretionary assessment of achievements met and corporate challenges overcome during the measurement period. The compensation committee performs this assessment annually after the end of the fiscal year.

Assessment of Individual Performance

Individual performance has a strong impact on the compensation of all associates, including the chief executive officer and the other executive officers. With respect to the chief executive officer, the independent directors, under the direction of the chair of the compensation committee, meet with the chief executive officer in executive session annually at the beginning of the year to agree upon the chief executive officer's performance objectives (both individual and Company objectives) for the year. At the end of the year, the independent directors meet in executive session under the direction of the chair of the compensation committee to conduct a performance review of the chief executive officer based on his achievement of the agreed-upon objectives, contribution to the Company's performance and other leadership accomplishments. This evaluation is shared with the chief executive officer by the chair of the compensation committee and is provided to the compensation committee for its consideration in setting the chief executive officer's compensation. For the other executive officers, including the other named executive officers, the compensation committee receives a performance assessment and compensation recommendation from the chief executive officer and also exercises its judgment based on the board's interactions with the executive officer. As with the chief executive officer, the performance evaluation of these executives is based on achievement of preset objectives by the executive and his or her organization, his or her contribution to the Company's performance and other leadership accomplishments. Based on these considerations, the compensation committee may award variable compensation to the chief executive officer and the executive officers for the previous year and sets the base salary for the coming year for the chief executive officer and the other executive officers, the performance objectives for the chief executive officer and the parameters for the corporate goals for the Company generally.

Benchmarking

The compensation committee benchmarks the Company's programs in two ways. First, the compensation committee benchmarks total compensation and the principal components thereof—base salary, annual bonus and equity-based compensation—against market surveys prepared by independent third parties in order to assess the compensation received by each named executive officer in relation to these benchmarks. Compensation levels under these market surveys are generally sensitive to company size and are influenced by whether or not the comparative jobs derive from technology-related industries generally or companies in the solar energy sector and analogous industries or sectors in which we have actually competed for talent, such as the semiconductor manufacturing sector, and which includes companies in these industries with comparable growth rates, revenue and profitability levels or size to the Company. Because the Company is growing rapidly and our business involves a mixture of technology and non-technology-related functions, we face unique challenges and opportunities and judgment is required in determining how to apply these factors for comparative purposes. The compensation committee makes a subjective determination of the relevant benchmark data after reviewing all of the factors concerning Company growth and individual job duties that it considers relevant. Second, the compensation committee assesses the design of and compensation payable under the Company's compensation programs against the compensation programs of a smaller number of peer companies within the technology, renewable energy and semiconductor industries and with which the Company believes it must compete to attract and retain superior talent. The compensation committee compares the peer companies' executive compensation programs as a whole, and also compares the pay of individual executives if the jobs are sufficiently similar to make the comparison meaningful. The compensation committee uses the peer group data from companies in similar or analogous industries to confirm data derived from compensation databases and to assess the risk of losing top talent to companies within or similar to what the compensation committee considers our peer group. In 2007, the peer group was the 2006 Radford Executive Survey, containing data representative of the technology industry generally, and the 2006 Towers-Perrin Executive Compensation Database containing general industry data, with data weighted to derive annual enterprise revenue of approximately $1 billion. For 2008, the peer group for benchmarking was refined to consist of 34 companies in the solar, renewable energy, hi-tech and high precision manufacturing, electronic components and high precision manufacturing sectors with comparable revenues, growth rates or market capitalization to the Company, consisting of the following companies:

Advanced Energy Industries Inc.	Ametek Inc.	Applied Materials Inc.
Asyst Technologies Inc.	Axcelis Technologies Inc.	Brooks Automation Inc.
BTU International Inc.	C&D Technologies Inc.	Cymer Inc.

Total Compensation Review

The compensation committee reviews each executive's base pay, bonus and equity-based compensation incentives annually with the guidance of the compensation committee's independent consultant. In addition to these primary compensation elements, the compensation committee reviews each executive's perquisites and other compensation, as well as any payments that would be required under various severance and change-in-control scenarios. Following the 2007 review, the compensation committee determined that these elements of compensation were reasonable in the aggregate.

Components of Executive Compensation for 2007

Each of the primary elements of our executive compensation is discussed below, including a description of the particular element and how it fits into our overall executive compensation package. In the descriptions below, we highlight particular objectives that specific elements of our executive compensation program are designed to address. However, it should be noted that we have designed our compensation program so that each element complements the other and collectively serve all of our executive compensation objectives described above. Whether or not specifically mentioned, we believe that each element of our executive compensation program, to a greater or lesser extent, serves each of our objectives.

For 2007, the compensation of named executive officers consisted of base salary, a cash bonus award, a benefits package and restricted stock unit grants, as well as a grant of stock options for those named executive officers that joined the Company during the year. The following is a summary of the components of our compensation:

The following is a discussion of the compensation committee's considerations in establishing each of the components for the executive officer compensation for 2007.

Base Salary

Base salary is the guaranteed element of an associate's annual cash compensation. The value of base salary for each named executive officer reflects the requirements of such executive's employment agreement, long-term performance and skill set, including the market value of that skill set. For details relating to the employment agreements, see

Executive Compensation—Employment Agreements and Arrangements. Based on the foregoing and the benchmarking process described under Compensation Committee Practices—Benchmarking, the compensation committee set base salaries for 2007 at market (50th percentile) base salary levels for each of the named executive officers. As discussed under our compensation objectives, we believe that as associates progress to higher levels in the organization, a greater proportion of overall compensation should be directly linked to Company performance and shareholder returns. Establishing base salaries at the 50th percentile for all named executive officers has the effect of more heavily weighting the compensation of more highly compensated executives toward incentive compensation and equity-based compensation than that of the other executives. The compensation committee currently intends to maintain the base salaries of its named executive officers at approximately market base salary levels in the future.

Cash Bonuses and Incentive Compensation

The bonuses paid for 2007 to named executive officers appear in the Summary Compensation Table under the Non-Equity Incentive Plan Compensation column and were determined based on the terms of the employment agreements with our named executive officers as well as a general assessment of the Company's performance as outlined in Compensation Committee Practices—Assessment of Company Performance and Compensation Committee Practices—Assessment of Individual Performance. For details relating to the employment agreements, see

Executive Compensation—Employment Agreements and Arrangements. Bonuses for 2007 were also prorated for named executive officers, and generally for other associates, if they were not employed by the Company for the full fiscal year. In 2007, the Company established a bonus program applicable to associates of the Company generally, including the chief executive officer and the named executive officers, in order to encourage teamwork and reward excellent performance with respect to corporate and organizational objectives under First Solar's 2006 Amended and Restated Omnibus Incentive Compensation Plan (the "2006 Omnibus Plan").

The compensation committee considered the following when establishing the awards for 2007:

Bonus Targets. Bonus targets were based on job responsibilities, internal relativity and peer group data. Our objective was to set bonus targets such that total annual cash compensation was within the broad middle range of peer group companies and a substantial portion of that compensation was linked to Company performance. Consistent with our executive compensation policy, individuals with greater job responsibilities had a greater proportion of their total cash compensation tied to Company performance through the bonus plan. For 2007, the compensation committee, based on the recommendation of the chief executive officer, concluded that the bonus levels set forth in the employment contracts of certain executive officers, including the named executive officers, no longer adequately reflected the changing nature and growth of the Company and their evolving scope and role within the Company. Thus, the compensation committee established the following bonus targets for 2007 (expressed as a percentage of base salary): Mr. Ahearn (85%), Mr. Meyerhoff (60%), Mr. Sohn (70%), Mr. Schultz (60%) and Mr. Kacir (45%).

Company Performance Measures. For all associates, including the named executive officers, the compensation committee assessed Company performance based on accomplishment of the primary corporate organizational objectives established at the beginning of 2007. These objectives included specific goals for production volumes, conversion efficiencies, sales revenue, cost per watt metrics, production expansion goals and whether the company is developing the infrastructure necessary to support our planned growth under our long-term strategic plan. Each Company corporate organizational objective was assigned a percentage weighting. As well, each Company performance metric had a target goal with higher targets (or stretch targets) that would result in multipliers between 1.0 and 2.0, and minimum goals for each metric which would result in multipliers between 0.5 and 1.0 times, to the metric's weighting. Failure to meet the minimum goal would result in a zero multiplier for that metric and no contribution to the bonus goal. The results of the Company in 2007 were then assessed in relation to each of the metrics and the chief executive officer then made a recommendation to the compensation committee taking into consideration generally whether the Company remained on track to meet its corporate strategic goal of making the retail price of solar electricity generated from its products competitive with conventional electricity in the medium-to long-term. The compensation committee believes that a mix of corporate and organizational performance measures will encourage associates, including the named executive officers, to focus appropriately on improving both annual financial results and the long-term value of the business, which is dependent upon continued reductions in solar electricity costs generated from our products. In 2007, the Company met or exceeded all of the stretch goals for the primary corporate organizational performance metrics and was meeting its corporate strategic goal, resulting in a 2.0 times bonus payout for all associates, including the named executive officers, of their respective bonus targets. For example, if an associate had a 10% of base salary bonus target, for 2007 they received a bonus equivalent to 20% of base salary. Similar Company corporate organizational performance objectives have been set for 2008 for production, module conversion efficiency, watts per module, cost per watt, total watts sold and plant expansion and organizational build-out with updated performance goals for each of the metrics. The base performance metric for each primary corporate organizational objective (that would result in a 1.0 times multiplier to the objective's relative weighting) is set in accordance with the Company's operating plan for the fiscal year. The stretch goals are then set above the base target ranging at a level which we believe would indicate a significant improvement on the base metric, similarly minimum targets below which the multiplier is discounted are set below the base target. Meeting the base metric would indicate that the Company is meeting its operating goals designed to achieve the Company's corporate and organizational goals, meeting the stretch goals would require the Company exceeding those goals in a meaningful way and conversely failing to achieve the minimum metrics would be as a result of the Company falling short of its operating goals. As in 2007, the particular bonus target for an associate would then be multiplied by the weighted average of the achieved corporate organizational objective and adjusted at the discretion of the chief executive officer and the compensation committee based on whether the Company was meeting its corporate strategic goals. The methodology for calculating the annual incentive compensation is illustrated below:

Equity-Based Compensation

To attract and retain associates of the highest caliber, we believe it is important to provide our associates with the opportunity to share in the success of the Company in a manner commensurate with their ability to influence our success. We believe that all associates, not only executives, of the Company should have an equity stake in the Company to align their interest more closely with those of our shareholders. By having an equity interest in the Company, the associate becomes one of the owners of the Company, along with the other shareholders, and has the same interest in seeing the Company succeed as do our shareholders. We also believe that the level of equity ownership should be commensurate with the associate's job responsibilities, recognizing that higher level roles may have a greater influence on the ability of the Company to meet its objectives and succeed, and should also be reflective of the compensation practices particular to the region in which the associate is located.

For our executive officers, including our named executive officers, this includes a larger exposure to equity-based compensation, primarily through grants of stock options at fair market value and restricted stock units, rather than providing only cash compensation. Accordingly, if the Company's performance improves, the executive will benefit together with our shareholders, and if the Company's performance does not change or if it deteriorates, the executive will derive less remuneration and his or her total compensation may be below market levels.

With respect to new associates, for certain roles, particularly as the role has more leverage on the success of our business, a combination of restricted stock units, options and other equity-based compensation forms, including outright stock grants or cash incentives, may be appropriate or necessary to attract the associate to the Company. Any equity-based compensation granted to new associates, including restricted stock units and stock options, is granted in accordance with our 2006 Omnibus Plan and any options are issued at fair market value as of the date of grant.

In 2003, the Company established an equity-based compensation program for its associates under the First Solar Holdings, LLC 2003 Unit Option Plan (the "2003 Plan"), which set a target equity position for each associate using relevant benchmarks and rankings. The Company granted options under the 2003 Plan from 2003 to 2005 to Mr. Schultz, and such grants are described in more detail in the "Outstanding Equity Awards at Fiscal Year End" table. Mr. Sohn also received options under the 2003 Plan from 2003 to 2005 as compensation for serving on the Company's board of directors. Our chief executive officer did not participate or receive options under the 2003 Plan. Instead, his equity interest in the Company was derived from his interest in JWMA Partners, LLC, the majority shareholder of the Company before our initial public offering on November 17, 2006. Certain of the award agreements under our 2003 Plan provide for both a 270-day and either a 180-day or a 90-day lockup period following certain public offerings. The compensation committee has determined that it is in the best interests of the Company to waive the 270-day lockup period under such award agreements. This waiver applies to all option holders who have award agreements with such provisions under the 2003 Plan, including two of our named executive officers, Messrs. Schultz and Sohn.

In November 2006, in connection with our initial public offering, we granted options at fair market value to Messrs. Kacir and Meyerhoff, and in March 2007 to Mr. Sohn when he joined the company as an associate, under our 2006 Omnibus Plan, as provided for in their employment agreements (as described in more detail in Executive Compensation – Employment Agreements and Arrangements). The grants to Messrs. Kacir, Meyerhoff and Sohn were consistent with our general approach of granting equity-based compensation awards to new hires and are more particularly described in the Grants of Plan Based Awards Table and the Outstanding Equity Awards at Fiscal Year-End table.

As part of its long-term incentive compensation, the Company also made in July and August 2007 a broad-based annual equity grant to associates of restricted stock units under the 2006 Omnibus Plan to encourage continued alignment of the associates with the interests of shareholders. The restricted stock units vest over four years 20%, 20%, 20% and 40%, respectively, on the anniversary of the grant date. The grant was made to 278 associates representing approximately 24% of the associates at the time of the grants. In determining the eligibility and size of individual grants, associates were ranked according to their respective grade based on the level of his or her responsibility and as reflected in base salary compensation levels. Reference was then made to the peer group compensation surveys described above in Compensation Committee Practices – Benchmarking with respect to levels of equity-based performance compensation to establish a target grant for each salary grade. Individual performance was then assessed to determine whether adjustments to the proposed restricted stock unit grant were appropriate based on the associate's performance in 2007. The assessment of individual performance included reference to the executive's objectives set at the beginning of the year and their general performance and effectiveness in achieving corporate objectives. The objectives set for associates, including the named executive officers, are relevant to the role and position with the Company, and may have quantitative and qualitative objectives that would reflect the associate's expected contribution to helping the Company achieve its objectives. For the executive officers, including the named executive officers, the chief executive officer made recommendations to the compensation committee on the level of their restricted stock grants with regard to the benchmarking data, the role and responsibility of the associate and their individual performance. The compensation committee then assessed the performance of the chief executive officer and the named executive officers in approving the annual component of their long-term incentive compensation in the form of restricted stock units. In July and August 2007, we granted 211,651 restricted stock units under the 2006 Omnibus Plan to our associates as part of the annual component of their long-term incentive compensation, including grants to the named executive officers that are more particularly described in the Grants of Plan Based Awards Table and the Outstanding Equity Awards at Fiscal Year-End table. The grant of 211,651 restricted stock units to associates represented approximately 0.27% of our issued and outstanding common stock as of December 29, 2007. For 2008, a similar process is anticipated with grants benchmarked to an updated peer group, see Compensation Committee Practices – Benchmarking , resulting in restricted stock unit grants to eligible associates (including the executive officers) equivalent to what we believe to be fair to market or approximately the 50% percentile for the equity component of compensation among the peer group, with individual performance adjustments (either positive or negative) commensurate to such associate's performance.

Since the adoption of the 2006 Omnibus Plan, we have not granted, nor do we anticipate granting, any further awards under the 2003 Plan. We grant all options under the 2006 Omnibus Plan at fair market value, defined under the 2006 Omnibus Plan as the closing price of our common shares on the date of grant. The date of grant is the date of the granting resolution approved by our board of directors or the compensation committee, as the case may be. We do not have a policy of timing the grant of options or other equity-based compensation awards under the 2006 Omnibus Plan. The options issued in connection with our initial public offering were made in accordance with contractual commitments with our associates, including two of our named executive officers, Messrs. Kacir and Meyerhoff, or based on individual assessments of our associates who did not have contractual commitments based on their relative roles and responsibilities and past and expected contributions to our success. The options issued to Mr. Sohn in connection with his appointment as president of the Company were made in accordance with contractual commitments to him. Our practice is not to time the date of these awards, and we do not take account of any internal black outs , during which associates and directors are prohibited by our Insider Trading Policy from trading in our securities, or whether we are or are not in possession of undisclosed material facts and without regard to whether any undisclosed material facts could be perceived as potentially positive or negative.

Broad-based Benefits Programs and Other Compensation

Our named executives are entitled to participate in the various benefits programs we offer to all of our associates, including a 401(k) plan, medical plan, dental plan, life insurance plan and long-term and short-term disability plans. Under our 401(k) plan, we make a matching contribution equal to 50% on the first 4% of base salary, and effective October 1, 2007 a matching contribution equal to 50% on the first 8% of base salary, that associates contribute to the plan up to the limits set by the Internal Revenue Service. Generally, our named executive officers have vacation entitlements of four weeks as provided in their employment agreements. For certain of our newly hired named executives, we also provide gross ups of certain payments, as described in more detail under the Summary Compensation Table .

Employment Agreements

We have entered into employment agreements with certain of our executives, including each of our named executive officers with the goal of clarifying their terms of employment and eliminating future disagreement regarding their employment terms. When we have entered into such employment agreements with our executives, it has been the compensation committee's judgment that such agreements were appropriate and necessary. The employment agreements generally provide for base salary, bonus, benefits and eligibility for equity-based compensation awards, as well as rights to certain payments and benefits upon certain terminations of employment. For more details on these employment agreements and the compensation and benefits payable or to be provided in the event of a termination of employment, see Executive Compensation Employment Agreements and Arrangements and Executive Compensation Potential Payments upon Termination or Change of Control Potential Payments upon Termination of Employment (Other Than in the Context of a Change of Control) .

Change of Control

The compensation committee and the board of directors generally believe it is in the best interests of the Company to provide assurance to certain executives, including the named executive officers, that the executives will be fairly compensated for any lost employment or lost opportunity to realize the value of their equity-based compensation upon a change in control of the Company. We recognize that, in order to align the interest of the executives with our shareholders, it is important to encourage the continued attention and dedication of the executives to their assigned duties and to mitigate the uncertainty and questions a potential change in control may raise among such executives. As a result, we have entered into Change in Control Severance Agreements (CIC Agreements) with certain of our executives, including our named executive officers, pursuant to which the named executive officers may receive certain double-trigger payments and benefits in the event their employment is terminated by First Solar without cause or if the executive terminates his or her employment for good reason within two years following a change in control. In addition, the executives receive single-trigger vesting of equity-based compensation awards in the event of a change in control. The 2006 Omnibus Plan provides that any unvested equity-based compensation awards become vested upon a change in control if such awards are not substantially substituted or assumed, and the 2003 Plan permits the board of directors to accelerate unvested stock option awards. The compensation committee and the board of directors approved the single trigger for the vesting of outstanding equity-based compensation awards because executives affected by a change in control could lose the unvested portion of their equity-based compensation awards by no longer having the opportunity to earn out such unvested portion. By adopting the single-trigger vesting of equity-based compensation awards in the event of a change in control, the compensation committee and the board of directors believe that the executives will be indifferent to a potential change in control and their interests will be more closely aligned with those of our shareholders. The compensation committee reviewed the terms of the CIC

Agreements in consultation with an independent consultant, assessed the impact of possible payouts under the CIC Agreements in the event of a change in control and concluded that the CIC Agreements were fair and reasonable. For a further description of compensation provided in the event of a change of control, see Executive Compensation Potential Payments Upon Termination or Change of Control Potential Payments upon a Change of Control .

Potential Payments Upon Termination or Change of Control

Potential Payments Upon Termination of Employment (Other Than in the Context of a Change of Control)

The table below reflects the estimated amount of compensation payable to each of the named executive officers of the Company in the event of termination of such executive's employment. The amount of compensation payable to each named executive officer upon voluntary termination without good reason, voluntary termination with good reason, involuntary termination without cause, termination with cause in the event of disability or death of the executive, in each case, other than in connection with a change in control, is shown below. The amounts shown assume that such termination was effective as of December 29, 2007, and thus includes amounts earned through such time and are estimates of the amounts which would be paid out to the executives upon their termination. For purposes of the calculations below, we have used a share value of $266.04 per share, which was the closing price of our common stock on December 28, 2007. The actual amounts to be paid out can only be determined at the time of such executive's separation from the Company.

For detailed descriptions relating to these payments and benefits, including any release, noncompetition, nonsolicitation or similar requirements, see Employment Agreements and Arrangements . The amounts do not include amounts payable pursuant to the Company's contract, agreements, plans or arrangements to the extent they do not discriminate in scope, terms or operation, in favor of executive officers of the Company and that are available generally to all salaried associates, including payment of accrued rights such as payment for accrued and unpaid vacation.

Potential Payments upon a Change of Control

Consequences of change of control under equity-based compensation plans

2006 Omnibus Incentive Compensation Plan. The Company's 2006 Omnibus Plan provides that, unless otherwise provided in an award agreement, in the event of a change of control (as defined below) of First Solar, unless provision is made in connection with the change of control for assumption of, or substitution for, awards previously granted, any equity awards outstanding as of the date the change of control is determined to have occurred will become fully exercisable and vested, as of immediately prior to the change of control.

The term "change in control" in the 2006 Omnibus Plan is defined as the occurrence of any of the following events:

during any period of 24 consecutive months, a change in the composition of a majority of our board of directors that is not supported by a majority of the incumbent board of directors;

the consummation of a merger, reorganization or consolidation or sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of our assets, subject to certain exceptions for transactions that would not constitute a change in control;

the approval by our shareholders of a plan of our complete liquidation or dissolution; or an acquisition by any individual, entity or group of beneficial ownership of a percentage of the combined voting power of our then outstanding voting securities entitled to vote generally in the election of directors that is equal to or greater than the greater of (a) 20% and (b) the percentage of the combined voting power of the outstanding voting securities owned by certain specified shareholders, including the Estate of John T. Walton and its beneficiaries, JCL Holdings, LLC, and its beneficiaries, and Michael Ahearn and his family at the time of such acquisition, with certain exceptions for certain acquisitions.

2003 Unit Option Plan. The Company's 2003 Plan permits the Company to accelerate options in the event of a change in control, but does not require the Company to do so.

Change in control severance agreements

First Solar has entered into change in control severance agreements, referred to as the CIC Agreements, with its executive officers and certain senior management, including each of its named executive officers. Under the CIC Agreements, if a change in control (substantially as defined in the 2006 Omnibus Plan) occurs, the executive would become immediately entitled to accelerated vesting of all equity-based, long-term incentive and cash incentive compensation awards (other than awards which by their express terms do not accelerate under the CIC Agreements).

Executives who are party to a CIC Agreement will also be entitled to additional benefits if the executive's employment is terminated under certain circumstances. An executive is entitled to those severance benefits if the executive's employment with First Solar is terminated in anticipation of a change in control or if, during the two-year period after a change in control, the executive's employment is terminated without cause or the executive resigns for good reason (which includes material changes in an executive's duties, responsibilities or reporting relationships, failure to provide equivalent compensation and benefits and being required to relocate 50 or more miles) (such termination, a "qualifying termination"). If terminated or separated from First Solar under those circumstances, the executive would be entitled to the following additional benefits under the CIC Agreement:

a lump-sum cash severance payment equal to two times the sum of (i) the greater of the executive's base salary in effect immediately prior to the date of termination and the executive's base salary in effect immediately prior to the change in control and (ii) the greater of the average annual cash bonuses for the previous three calendar years and the target annual bonus for the year of termination;

a prorated target annual bonus;

the continuation of welfare and fringe benefits for the earlier of (i) two years after executing a release of claims agreement and (ii) eighteen months after termination of employment; and reimbursement for the cost of executive-level outplacement services (subject to a $20,000 ceiling).

In order to obtain severance benefits under a CIC Agreement, an executive must first execute a separation agreement with First Solar that includes a waiver and release of any and all claims against First Solar. For terminations other than a qualifying termination following a change in control, the executive is entitled to accrued rights only.

In addition to the foregoing, in accordance with the CIC Agreements, First Solar will make certain tax gross-up payments to the executive to cover excise taxes that may be imposed under Section 409A of the Internal Revenue Code in connection with qualifying termination payments (including the acceleration of equity-based, long-term incentive and cash compensation upon a change in control) unless the value of the payments and benefits in connection with the change in control does not exceed by 10% of the maximum amount payable without triggering any such taxes, in which case the payments and benefits will be reduced to such maximum amount.

The table below shows the amounts that would be payable to each of the named executive officers in the event of a qualifying termination following a change in control, if a change of control and the qualifying termination had occurred on December 28, 2007, using a $266.04 per share closing price.

The amounts do not include amounts payable pursuant to the Company's contract, agreements, plans or arrangements to the extent they do not discriminate in scope, terms or operation, in favor of executive officers of the Company and that are available generally to all salaried associates, including payment of accrued rights such as payment for accrued and unpaid vacation.

REPORT OF THE AUDIT COMMITTEE OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The following report of the audit committee is not soliciting material, is not deemed filed with the Commission and is not to be incorporated by reference into any other of the Company's filings under the Securities Act or the Exchange Act, except to the extent we specifically incorporate this report by reference therein.

The Audit Committee is comprised of three non-management directors, each of whom is independent as that term is defined in the NASDAQ Marketplace Rules and satisfies the audit committee independence standard under Rule 10A-3(b)(1) of the Exchange Act.

The Audit Committee was formed by a resolution of the Board of Directors on October 3, 2006 and held twelve meetings during fiscal 2007.

The Audit Committee operates under a written Audit Committee Charter that was approved by the Audit Committee and approved by the Board, and is of the view that it has complied with its charter.

The Committee has reviewed and discussed with management of the Company and PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, the independent registered public accounting firm for the Company, the audited financial statements of the Company for the fiscal year ended December 29, 2007 (the Audited Financial Statements). The Committee has discussed with PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP the matters required to be discussed by Statement on Auditing Standards No. 61 (as amended by SAS 89 and SAS 90), as in effect on the date of this proxy statement.

The Committee has: (i) considered whether non-audit services provided by PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP are compatible with its independence, (ii) received the written disclosures and the letter from PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP required by the Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1, as in effect on the date of this proxy statement, and (iii) discussed with PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP its independence.

Based on the reviews and discussions described above, the Committee recommended to the Board of Directors of the Company that the audited financial statements be included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 29, 2007 for filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
