To All Commonwealth Employees,

It was a pleasure to speak with you last Wednesday, and I look forward to our continued conversations. I hope my message was clear: Citizens Communications/Frontier is absolutely committed to being thoughtful and respectful in making the decisions that are necessary whenever companies come together. Acquisitions are like any relationships; the good ones are grounded upon respect, fairness, accountability and responsibility. It's not always an easy process, but if we do it right the first time, we can do great things.

Our regulatory proceedings are going well, with the expected curves in the road being addressed by the right people. Our companies are lucky to have strong teams leading the acquisition process. While our Human Resources group may be (or will soon become) the most visible members of Citizens to you, many employees of Citizens and Commonwealth are working steadily behind the scenes on this project. They include folks in Regulatory, Information Systems, Finance, Legal, Network, Facilities, Customer Service and more. I want us to get to know each other. I have asked Citizens employees visiting a Commonwealth office or operation to request permission to meet with employees, even if only to say hello. It is important to remember that there are people behind every memo, email and phone call. So take a moment to visit and start to get to know one another.

I want to thank Mike Mahoney and his leadership team for allowing open dialogue between our companies, especially my conversations with you. The feedback from the calls has been positive and gives me a better sense each time of what matters to you. We want to learn all we can, and we want you to know that we value you and what you do every day to make your company a success. I am counting on all of your energy and enthusiasm coming to Citizens in 2007!

I hope you, your family and friends have a wonderful Thanksgiving. I look forward to meeting you.

Sincerely,

Maggie Wilderotter
