The following e-mail to employees of Noven Pharmaceuticals, Inc. was sent on July 14, 2009:

To My Noven Colleagues:

As the attached press releases indicate, today is an outstanding day for Noven and for all Noven employees.

First, early this morning, we entered into a merger agreement for the proposed acquisition of our company by Hisamitsu, a global pharmaceutical company based in Japan that is the world's largest manufacturer of transdermal patches. Hisamitsu plans to expand its U.S. presence, and the company that you built is their chosen catalyst. Noven is expected to serve as Hisamitsu's U.S. growth platform across all key functions, including Research and Development, Operations, Clinical/Regulatory, and Marketing and Sales. The plan calls for Noven to continue as a standalone business unit, operating at our current locations in Miami and New York, with our existing work force intact. The plan also calls for new leadership – I am very pleased to report that, after closing, Jeff Eisenberg, Noven's Executive Vice President and President of Novogyne, will assume my responsibilities and be named President & CEO of Noven, leading the company on its growth course as a Hisamitsu subsidiary. We will be discussing much more about the proposed merger at today's Employee Town Meeting, scheduled for 11:00 a.m. ET in the Vineyard auditorium.

Somewhat overshadowed by the merger news is a Noven achievement that is outstanding in its own right. This morning, we also announced results from our Phase 2 study of Mesafem, our non-hormonal therapy for menopausal hot flashes. Along with the entire Noven Clinical Team, I am excited to report that the study results exceeded all of our internal expectations. With the data from this study, we plan to expedite Mesafem into Phase 3, and to advance our Mesafem commercialization and partnering strategies – more on this as well at the Town Meeting.

I look forward to discussing these developments with you later this morning.

Peter

Note: Due to the tender offer involved in the proposed merger, you will be seeing the following legend, required by the securities laws, on some of our written company communications.

The tender offer described herein has not yet commenced and this communication is neither an offer to purchase nor the solicitation of an offer to sell any securities. At an appropriate time, Noven intends to file a tender offer solicitation/recommendation statement, and Hisamitsu intends to file a Schedule TO and related documents (together with the tender offer solicitation/recommendation statement, the "Tender Offer Documents") with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). Investors and security holders are urged to read the Tender Offer Documents and any other relevant documents filed with the SEC when they become available, because they will contain important information.
