I-TRAX, INC.

Introduction

I-trax is a combination of two companies that merged on March 19, 2004: I-trax, Inc. and Meridian Occupational Healthcare Associates, Inc., a private company, which does business as CHD Meridian Healthcare. The merger and its terms are described in greater detail below.

Business Overview

We offer two categories of services, which can be integrated or blended as necessary or appropriate based on each client's needs. The first category includes on-site services such as occupation health, primary care, corporate health and pharmacy, which were historically offered by CHD Meridian Healthcare. The second category includes personalized health management programs, which were historically offered by I-trax. Each of these services is described in greater detail below.

As the result of the merger, we are the nation's largest provider of corporate health management services. Our health management services are designed to allow employers to contract directly for a wide range of employee healthcare needs. We can deliver these services at or near the client's work site by opening, staffing and managing a clinic or pharmacy dedicated to the client and its employees, or remotely by using the Internet and our state-of-the-art Care Communications Center staffed with trained nurses and other healthcare professionals 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. Our array of services provides each client with flexibility to meet its specific pharmacy, primary care, occupational health, corporate health, wellness, lifestyle management or disease management needs. Pursuant to multi-year agreements, our clients can offer their employees, dependents and retirees any combination of our various services which integrate seamlessly, through on-site or off-site delivery platforms, or as a component of or complement to existing health plan options.

Our primary target market is large and mid-sized self-insured employers and business consortia. These entities are more likely to derive immediate and meaningful financial benefit from our services because of their scale and focus on controlling healthcare costs.

We currently operate approximately 160 locations in 32 states. We also maintain contracts with approximately 150 clients, including many leading employers. Our clients pay us directly for our services and include automotive and automotive parts manufacturers, consumer products manufacturers, large financial institutions, health plans, integrated delivery networks, and third party administrators. Our client retention rate is high because we establish strong client relationships, which are supported by the critical nature of our services, the benefits achieved by employer and employee constituents, and the utilization of multi-year service contracts.

CHD Meridian Healthcare's Historic Business - Services Delivered At or Near the Work Site

Occupational Health Services. We provide professional staffing and management of on-site health facilities that address the occupational health, workers' compensation injuries, and minor illness needs of the employer's workforce. These programs are designed to operate across the entire array of occupational health regulatory environments and emphasize work-related injury cost-reduction, treatment, medical surveillance or testing, disability management, case management, return-to-work coordination, medical community relations or oversight, on-site physical therapy and injury prevention, and ergonomic assessment and intervention. Our health programs improve compliance with treatment protocols and drug formularies, enhance employee productivity, and allow for greater employer control of occupational health costs. We currently operate 77 occupational health facilities.

Primary Care Services. We operate employer-sponsored health centers designed to integrate with the employer's existing healthcare plans. In such arrangements, employers contract with us directly for primary care health services and in the process regain control of costs, quality and access. Our health centers generally service a single employer and offer health management programs addressing the primary care needs of the employee base, including optometry services and limited prevention and disease management programs. Clients may combine our health centers with a dedicated pharmacy. We also offer customized solutions in network management and absence management, including non-work related case management and disability management. Our physicians, nurses, and other staff are dedicated to the customer's employee population, allowing employees, retirees, and their dependents to receive cost-effective, high quality, accessible and convenient care. We currently operate 17 primary care centers.

Pharmacy Services. We operate employer-sponsored pharmacies that offer prescription services exclusively to the client's covered population. Clients may also combine our pharmacy with a dedicated primary care center. By leveraging prescription volume across our client base and procuring pharmaceuticals as a captive class of trade, we purchase products at considerable savings for our clients, thus significantly and positively affecting what we understand is one of our clients' fastest-growing healthcare cost categories. Our pharmacy services also use sophisticated information technologies. These technologies may be integrated with each client's existing pharmacy management programs and plans, and improve employees' prescription fulfillment convenience. We currently operate 24 pharmacies.

Corporate Health Services. We offer non-industrial clients that do not experience significant physical injury rates, but that nonetheless maintain large workforces that require general and specialized medical services, custom designed workplace programs that combine preventative care, occupational health, medical surveillance or testing, travel medicine and health education. Clients for which we provide corporate health services include financial service, advertising and consulting firms. We currently operate 47 corporate healthcare facilities.

I-trax's Historic Business - The Health-e-LifeSM Program

We enable individuals to obtain better healthcare through our personalized Health-e-LifeSM Program. The Program is designed to deliver lifestyle and wellness management, and disease and risk reduction interventions to a client's entire population, across multiple locations and irrespective of population size, by using predictive science, sophisticated proprietary computer software, clinical expertise, and personal care coordination. We currently have approximately 37 clients, which include self-insured employers, health plans, and integrated delivery networks, using various components of our Health-e-LifeSM Program. Self-insured employers, health plans, hospital and health systems, and governmental agencies continue to be prime consumers of lifestyle and wellness management, and disease and risk reduction programs, and we are actively marketing to these potential clients.

We believe the Health-e-LifeSM Program enables our clients to evolve from fragmented care management practices into a cohesive and efficient system of healthcare. The Health-e-LifeSM Program is fully integrated, uses a single-data platform that allows all caregivers to share records, and enables our clients to provide true coordination of care. We believe that by facilitating real-time secure communication between our client, the patient, the doctor, the care coordinator and the insurer within today's complex healthcare system, the Health-e-LifeSM Program reduces costs and enables improved delivery of care.

Predictive Science. Our Health-e-LifeSM Program incorporates predictive science to analyze our clients' medical claims and pharmacy and clinical data to predict future healthcare costs. We believe this is an essential step to effective disease and lifestyle management. Experts agree that predictive science provides a comprehensive advantage to health plans, employers and providers, and leads to cost-effective medical management and greater profitability for the ultimate payor. Using predictive science, we analyze our clients' entire populations to predict our clients' future healthcare costs, including avoidable costs, the health conditions that will drive those costs and the people within our clients' populations who are at risk for those conditions. Armed with this information, we target our resources to achieve for each client the best value for the amount the client will invest in providing healthcare and, consequently, savings.

Technology Solutions. All technology components of our Health-e-LifeSM Program utilize a single data platform--Medicive(R) Medical Enterprise Data System--a proprietary software architecture developed to collect, store, sort, retrieve and analyze a broad range of information used in the healthcare industry.

Furthermore, our web accessible software includes portals for key stakeholders in the care delivery process--consumers, physicians and care managers--and permit real-time sharing of information and support the adherence to our health and disease intervention programs. The key technology we use for effective care coordination include:

- o Health-e-Coordinator(TM), a web-based care management application;
- o MyFamilyMD(TM), a consumer health management portal;
- o CarePrime(R), a clinical care application for physicians and clinicians; and
- o I-talk(TM), interactive smart voice technology.

Interventions and Clinical Expertise. The Health-e-LifeSM Program includes personalized health and disease interventions for individuals who suffer from, or are at high risk for, active or chronic disease and tailored programs for individuals who are at low risk. Depending on the individual's level of risk, our custom tailored interventions include self-help programs available through the web or person-assisted programs administered through our Care Communication Center. All interventions include lifestyle and risk reduction programs that follow evidence-based clinical guidelines to optimize health, fitness, productivity and quality of life.

The Health-e-Life ProgramSM currently includes interventions for a number of specific chronic conditions, including congestive heart failure, coronary artery disease, asthma, diabetes, cancer management, cystic fibrosis, lower back pain, and chronic obstructive pulmonary disease.

Care Communication Center. A vital component of our program is our Care Communications Center, which is staffed with trained nurses and other healthcare professionals 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. Through the Care Communication Center, we effect targeted interventions to improve the health management of the populations we serve. The Care Communication Center helps each member or employee of our client make informed decisions about his or her health and provides ongoing support for those with chronic diseases. Our demand management and nurse triage services incorporate nationally recognized, evidence-based clinical guidelines to increase compliance by caregivers and consumers with best practices.

I-trax and CHD Meridian Healthcare Joint Market Opportunity

To change the health status of a defined population and manage the upward claim trend experienced by employers and employees, self-insured

employers are seeking programs that promote health, manage disease and disability and complement existing health initiatives and benefits. Self-insured employers invest in such health programs because they reduce later need for critical care and related costs, maximize health, increase productivity, reduce absenteeism, improve health status of both active employees and retirees, and reduce overall costs.

We believe that I-trax and CHD Meridian Healthcare offer a complete solution to meet this need. We service each segment of a self-insured employer's population and achieve the desired clinical and financial outcomes. CHD Meridian Healthcare is the leader in on-site healthcare for Fortune 1,000 companies. Its programs reduce healthcare costs of the defined population it serves. Complementing the CHD Meridian Healthcare services, I-trax's personalized health management solutions for focused disease and lifestyle and wellness management improve the health of the entire population, achieving the same result. The services offered by the merged companies respond to a specific and frequent request of large employers, including many historic CHD Meridian Healthcare clients, for a comprehensive range of health management services.

We also believe that with a nominal increase in variable costs, the merged companies can offer to CHD Meridian Healthcare's historic clients the value added benefit of our Health-e-LifeSM Program and, with respect to certain of these clients, can successfully negotiate participation in future medical cost savings that may result from the merged companies services.

Put more specifically, we currently serve approximately 650,000 lives through our on-site clinics, which represent only approximately 25% of our clients' employees, dependents and retirees. We charge these clients for our services on a "cost plus" basis to manage these lives. We believe that the merged companies' suite of products will allow us several opportunities with respect to those of our clients that elect to expand their relationship with us. These include:

- o Because our services now encompass on-site facilities, which offer high quality, better access and lower costs, and Internet and telephone care delivery capabilities, we have access to a larger portion of our clients' populations, which affords us an opportunity to expand substantially our services within our existing client base.
- o We price our population-based service on a "per member per month" basis. This model enables us to direct resources to those of our clients' employees, dependents and retirees that represent the greatest potential future costs. Because in certain instances we participate in the savings our programs generate, when properly deployed in new business opportunities, management believes the merged companies' suite of products will afford us increased gross margin opportunities for incremental, integrated business.
- o We are one vendor for predictive modeling, primary care, pharmacy, occupational health, lifestyle and wellness management, and disease management, and as such our inherent efficiency leads to savings.
- o Our combined services offer multiple entry points for employer customers to meet their budget restrictions and specific needs. This available menu of services could shorten our current sales cycle and provide us with an opportunity to build a more comprehensive program as the relationship grows with each client over time.

Corporate History

I-trax was incorporated in Delaware on September 15, 2000 at the direction of the Board of Directors of I-trax Health Management Solutions, Inc., I-trax's then parent company. On February 5, 2001, I-trax became the holding company of I-trax Health Management at the closing of a reorganization pursuant to Section 251(g) of Delaware General Corporation Law. At the effective time of the reorganization, all of the stockholders of I-trax Health Management became the stockholders of I-trax and I-trax Health Management became a wholly owned subsidiary of I-trax. Further, all outstanding shares of I-trax Health Management were converted into shares of I-trax in a non-taxable transaction.

The holding company structure has allowed us greater flexibility in our operations and expansion and diversification plans, including in the acquisition of Meridian Occupational Healthcare Associates, Inc. and WellComm Group, Inc.

I-trax acquired WellComm effective February 6, 2002 in a two-step reorganization pursuant to a Merger Agreement dated January 28, 2002 by and among I-trax, WC Acquisition, Inc., an Illinois corporation and a wholly-owned subsidiary of I-trax, WellComm and WellComm's two principals. In step one, WC Acquisition merged with and into WellComm, with WellComm continuing as the surviving corporation. In step two, WellComm merged with and into I-trax, with I-trax continuing as the surviving corporation.

At the closing of the merger, we delivered to the WellComm stockholders approximately $2,200,000 in cash and 1,488,000 shares of our common stock, and to each of two senior officers of WellComm options to acquire 56,000 shares of our common stock at a nominal exercise price.

We funded the acquisition of WellComm by selling a 6% convertible senior debenture in the aggregate principal amount of $2,000,000 to Palladin Opportunity Fund LLC pursuant to a purchase agreement dated as of February 4, 2002. Pursuant to the purchase agreement, we also issued Palladin a warrant to purchase up to 307,692 shares of our common stock. As of March 19, 2004, Palladin has converted all amounts outstanding under the debenture into common stock and has exercised the warrant in full at the conversion price and exercise price of $1.75 per share.

Edgar Filing: I TRAX INC - Form S-3

On March 19, 2004, we acquired Meridian Occupational Healthcare Associates, Inc., a Delaware corporation doing business as CHD Meridian Healthcare, pursuant to a Merger Agreement dated as December 26, 2003, as amended, by and among, I-trax, CHD Meridian Healthcare, DCG Acquisition, Inc., a Delaware corporation and a wholly-owned subsidiary of I-trax, and CHD Meridian Healthcare, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company and a wholly-owned subsidiary of I-trax. The merger was a two-step transaction. In step one, DCG Acquisition merged with and into CHD Meridian Healthcare. In step two, CHD Meridian Healthcare merged with and into CHD Meridian Healthcare, LLC. We now conduct the former operations of CHD Meridian Healthcare through CHD Meridian Healthcare, LLC. In the merger, each outstanding share of common stock of CHD Meridian Healthcare was converted into the right to receive 47.57 shares of our common stock, 1.90 shares of our Series A Convertible Preferred Stock, and $121.35 in cash. In total, in the merger, I-trax issued 10,000,000 shares of common stock, 400,000 shares of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock and paid $25,508,000 in cash. Immediately prior to the merger, CHD Meridian Healthcare also redeemed certain of its then outstanding shares of common stock and options to purchase common stock for which it paid approximately $9,492,000 in the aggregate. Accordingly, the stockholders and option holders of CHD Meridian Healthcare received an aggregate of $35 million of cash in, or immediately prior to, the merger.

In addition, at the closing of the merger, I-trax issued and placed in escrow 3,859,200 shares of common stock. In April 2005, if CHD Meridian Healthcare, LLC, continuing its operations of CHD Meridian Healthcare following the closing of the merger as a subsidiary of I-trax, achieves certain calendar 2004 milestones for earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization, or EBITDA, then some or all of the shares placed in escrow will be payable to the former CHD Meridian Healthcare stockholders who participated in the merger. Prior to distribution to former CHD Meridian Healthcare stockholders, the shares of I-trax common stock placed in escrow may be used to satisfy CHD Meridian Healthcare's indemnity obligations under the Merger Agreement. If EBITDA equals or exceeds $8.1 million, then 3,473,280 shares will be payable; the number of such shares payable increases proportionately up to a maximum of 3,859,200 shares if EBITDA equals or exceeds $9.0 million. Any such additional shares of I-trax common stock that are payable will be distributed pro rata to former CHD Meridian Healthcare stockholders in proportion to the number of shares of CHD Meridian Healthcare common stock held at the merger's effective time. Any shares that are not payable will be returned to I-trax for cancellation.

Immediately following the closing of the merger, I-trax redeemed from former CHD Meridian Healthcare stockholders that participated in the merger, pro rata, an aggregate of 200,000 shares of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock at their original issue price of $25.00 per share.

I-trax obtained the cash portion of the merger consideration by selling 1,000,000 shares of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock at a purchase price of $25.00 per share for gross proceeds of $25 million and by borrowing $12 million on a new $20 million senior secured debt facility from a national lender.

RISK FACTORS

In addition to other information contain and incorporated by reference in this prospectus, you should carefully consider the following risks and the other information in evaluating I-trax and its business. Our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected by each of these risks. Such an adverse effect could cause the market price of our common stock to decline, and you could lose all or part of your investment.

Risk Related to I-trax

The healthcare industry is subject to general cost pressures that could adversely affect our business.

The healthcare industry is currently under pressure by governmental and private-sector revenue sources to cut spiraling costs. These pressures will continue and possibly intensify. Although we believe that our services and software applications assist public health agencies, hospitals, health plans and self-insured employers to control the high costs associated with treating patients, the pressures to reduce costs immediately may hinder our ability (or increase the length of time we require) to obtain new contracts. In addition, the focus on cost reduction may pressure our customers to restructure contracts and reduce our fees.

We are affected by changes in the laws governing health plan, hospital and public health agency reimbursement under governmental programs such as Medicare and Medicaid. There are periodic legislative and regulatory initiatives to reduce the funding of the Medicare and Medicaid programs in an effort to curtail or reduce overall federal healthcare spending. Federal legislation has and may continue to significantly reduce Medicare and Medicaid reimbursements to most hospitals. These reimbursement changes are negatively affecting hospital revenues and operations. There can be no assurance that such legislative initiatives or government regulations would not adversely affect our operations or reduce demand for our services.

We may be unable to implement our business strategy of deploying our integrated services effectively to existing and new clients.

Although we believe that there is significant demand for the our services and products in the corporate healthcare market, there are many reasons why we may be unable to execute our business strategy, including our possible inability to:

- o deploy our integrated services and solutions on a large scale;
- o attract a sufficiently large number of self-insured employers to subscribe for our services and solutions applications;
- o increase awareness of our brand;
- o strengthen user loyalty;
- o develop and improve our services and solutions;
- o continue to develop and upgrade our services and software solutions; and
- o attract, retain and motivate qualified personnel.

Increasing competition for contracts to establish and manage employer-dedicated pharmacies and clinics increase the likelihood that we may lose business to our competitors.

CHD Meridian Healthcare pioneered the field of employer-dedicated pharmacies and primary care clinics. Although CHD Meridian Healthcare has always faced competition from other methods by which business enterprises can arrange and pay for healthcare services for their employees, until recently we rarely experienced face-to-face bidding for a contract to manage a particular employer's pharmacy or clinic. We have recently begun to see direct competition for employer-dedicated pharmacy management contracts and expect this competition will increase over time. We believe that we have certain advantages in facing such competition, including our status as the market leader, experience and know-how. However, some of our competitors and potential competitors, including prescription benefit management companies, with revenues in the multiple billions of dollars, are substantially bigger than we are. We believe that the potential market for employer-dedicated pharmacies is large enough for us to meet our growth plans despite increasing competition, but there are no assurances that we will in fact be able to do so. Our ability to maintain existing clients, expand services to existing clients, add new clients so as to meet our growth objectives, and maintain attractive pricing for our services, will depend on the interplay among overall growth in the use of employer-dedicated facilities, entry of new competitors into our business, and our success or failure in maintaining our market position as against these new entrants.

In addition to this increasing head-to-head competition for contracts to establish and manage employer-dedicated facilities, we expect to continue to face competition for large employers' healthcare budget from other kinds of enterprises, including pharmacy benefit managers, health insurers, managed health care plans and retail pharmacy chains.

Loss of advantageous pharmaceutical pricing could adversely affect our income and the value we provide to our clients.

We receive favorable pricing from pharmaceutical manufacturers as a result of our class of trade designation, which in turn is based on selling products only to our clients' employees, dependents and retirees. We also receive rebates from pharmaceutical manufacturers for driving market share to preferred products. The benefit of favorable pricing is generally passed on to our clients under the terms of client contracts. In the last few years, retail pharmacies have brought legal cases against pharmaceutical manufacturers challenging class of trade designations as unlawful price discrimination under the Robinson-Patman Act. Although these challenges have generally failed, there remains a possibility that we could lose the benefit of this favorable pricing, either due to a legal challenge or to a change in policies of the pharmaceutical manufacturers. Such a loss would diminish the value that we can provide to our clients and, therefore, would make our services less attractive to them. We also receive volume performance incentives from our pharmaceutical wholesaler which directly affect our revenue and the loss of which could adversely affect our business.

Our business involves exposure to professional liability claims, and a failure to manage effectively our professional liability risks could have an adverse impact on our business.

Under the terms of our contracts to manage employer sponsored clinics or pharmacies, we must procure professional liability insurance covering the operations of that clinic or pharmacy. We also typically agree to indemnify our clients against vicarious professional liability claims arising out of acts or omissions of healthcare providers working at the clinics and pharmacies we manage. Further, under the terms of our services agreements with affiliated professional corporations, we are contractually obligated to procure malpractice insurance on behalf of the professional corporations and their employed physicians and typically absorb such claims as are subject to the policy self insured retention limit or above the policy limit. Finally, there also exists the possibility of vicarious professional liability claims being made directly against us. As a result of these contractual arrangements, we routinely incur significant expenses arising out of professional liability claims. If we fail to manage the professional liability claims and associated risk effectively, our business will be adversely affected.

Certain of our past professional liability insurance policy years were insured by two insurance companies that are now either insolvent or under regulatory supervision. As a result, we are effectively partially uninsured for those periods. We have established reserves in connection with the six pending claims from such policy years. Although we believe such reserves are reasonable based on our historic loss experience, there is no assurance that these reserves will be sufficient to pay any judgments or settlements. In addition, because our current professional liability insurance self-insured retention is $500,000, we are, effectively, partially uninsured against a variety of claims that may arise from other years. We maintain a layer of excess insurance that begins with losses in excess of $1,000,000 per claim, including for the years in which our primary insurer is insolvent. We have reserved for projected future professional liability expenses based on our operations to date. These reserves, however, could prove inadequate, and the size of our ultimate uninsured liability could exceed our established reserves.

Our professional liability insurance policies are written on a claims-made basis, meaning that they cover only claims made during the policy period, and not events that occur during the policy period but result in a claim after the expiration of the policy. With this insurance strategy, we must renew or replace coverage each year in order to have coverage for prior years' operations. Availability and cost of such coverage are subject to market conditions, which can fluctuate significantly.

We have established a captive insurance company, which subjects us to additional regulatory requirements and once operating, will subject us to the risks associated with the insurance business.

We have established and expect to begin operating a captive insurance subsidiary in the second quarter of 2004 to insure our professional liability exposure. We believe this approach will enhance our ability to manage malpractice exposure and stabilize insurance costs. Operating a captive insurance subsidiary, however, represents additional risk to our operations, including a potential perception among our existing and potential clients that we are not adequately insured. We have hired a manager and have engaged an actuarial consulting firm for the captive insurer. When we commence its operations, we will be subject to the risks associated with any insurance business, which include investment risk relating to the performance of our invested assets set aside as reserves for future claims, the uncertainty of making actuarial estimates of projected future professional liability losses, and loss adjustment expenses. Failure to make an adequate return on our investments, to maintain the principal of invested funds, or to estimate future losses and loss adjustment expenses accurately, could have an adverse effect on us. Also, maintaining a captive insurer has exposed us to substantial additional regulatory requirements, with attendant risks if we fail to comply with applicable regulations.

We are subject to complex and extensive legal, statutory and regulatory requirements, and failure to comply with those requirements will have an adverse effect on our business.

The healthcare industry is subject to numerous Federal, state and local laws, regulations and judicial doctrines. These legal requirements cover, among other topics, licensure, corporate practice of medicine, privacy of patient medical records, government healthcare program participation requirements and restrictions, reimbursement for patient services, and Medicare and Medicaid fraud and abuse.

Corporate Practice of Medicine. There are judicial and statutory prohibitions on the corporate practice of medicine, which vary from state to state. The corporate practice of medicine doctrine prohibits a corporation, other than a professional corporation, from practicing medicine or employing physicians. Some states also prohibit a non-physician from splitting or sharing fees charged by a physician for medical services. The services we provide include establishing and managing medical clinics. Most physician services at clinics we manage are provided by physicians who are employees of professional corporations with which we contract to provide non-professional services such as purchasing equipment and supplies, patient scheduling, billing, collection, accounting, and computer services. The professional corporations control hiring and supervise physicians and all medical functions. We have option agreements with the physician-owners of these affiliated professional corporations that entitle us to require the physician-owners to sell the stock of the professional corporations to any licensed physician we designated. This structure is intended to permit consolidation of the professional corporations' financial statements with ours, while maintaining sufficient separation to comply with the corporate practice of medicine doctrine and with fee-splitting and fee-sharing prohibitions. There remains, however, potential exposure to claims that this structure violates the corporate practice of medicine doctrine or fee-splitting or fee-sharing prohibitions, even though we do not believe that it does. If such a claim is successfully asserted against us in any jurisdiction, we could be subject to civil and criminal penalties, or could be required to restructure our contractual arrangements with clients. Any restructuring of contractual arrangements could result in lower revenues, increased expenses and reduced influence over the business decisions of those operations. Alternatively, some existing CHD Meridian contracts could be found to be illegal and unenforceable, which could result in their termination and an associated loss of revenue, or inability to enforce valuable provisions of those contracts.

Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996. Our personnel who staff our on-site pharmacies and clinics have custody of confidential patient records. Also, the computer servers we use to store our software applications and deliver our technology services also contain confidential health risk assessments completed by employees, patients and beneficiaries of our clients. In our capacity as a covered entity or as a business associate of a covered entity, we and the records we hold are subject to a rule entitled Privacy of Individually Identifiable Health Information, or Privacy Rule, promulgated by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996, or HIPAA, and also to any state laws that may have more stringent privacy requirements. We attempt to protect the privacy and security of confidential patient information in accordance with applicable law, but could face claims of violation of the Privacy Rule, invasion of privacy or similar claims, if our patient records or computer servers were compromised, or if our interpretation of the applicable privacy requirements, many of which are complex, were incorrect or allegedly incorrect, or if we failed to maintain a sufficiently effective compliance program.

Furthermore, while we believe that the Privacy Rule protects our ability to obtain patient identifiable medical information for disease management purposes from certain of our clients, state legislation or regulations will preempt Federal legislation if state legislation or regulations are more restrictive. Accordingly, new Federal or state legislation or regulations restricting the availability of this information for disease management purposes would have a material negative effect on us.

Fraud and Abuse. In recent years, various government entities have actively investigated potential violations of fraud and abuse statutes and regulations by healthcare providers and by pharmaceutical manufacturers. The fraud and abuse provisions of the Social Security Act provide civil and criminal penalties and potential exclusion from the Medicare and Medicaid programs for persons or businesses who offer, pay, solicit or receive remuneration in order to induce referrals of patients covered by federal healthcare programs (which include Medicare, Medicaid, TriCare and other federally funded health programs). Although our services and those of our affiliated professional corporations are generally paid for by employer clients, we do bill the Medicare and Medicaid programs, and private insurance companies, as agent of our affiliated professional corporations, to recover reimbursable amounts that offset the healthcare costs borne by our clients. We are therefore subject to various regulations under the Medicare and Medicaid programs, including fraud and abuse prohibitions. We believe that we are compliant with these requirements, but could face claims of non-compliance if our interpretations of the applicable requirements, many of which are complex, were incorrect or allegedly incorrect, or if we fail to maintain a sufficiently effective compliance program.

State and Federal Licensure. The doctors, nurses and other healthcare professional that staff our affiliated professional corporations, the nurses that staff our care communication centers, and our on site pharmacies and clinics, are subject to individual licensing requirements. All of our healthcare professionals and facilities that are subject to licensing requirements are licensed in the state in which they are physically present. Multiple state licensing requirements for healthcare professionals who provide services telephonically over state lines may require us to license some of our healthcare professionals in more than one state. We continually monitor the developments in telemedicine. There is no assurance, however, that new judicial decisions or Federal or state legislation or regulations would not increase the requirement for multi-state licensing of all central operating unit call center health professionals, which would significantly increase our administrative costs.

We cannot yet predict the impact of the recently adopted Medicare prescription drug benefit on our business.

In December 2003, President Bush signed into law the Medicare Prescription Drug, Improvement and Modernization Act of 2003. This law provides Medicare beneficiaries with insurance coverage that offers access to prescription medicines. The prescription drug benefit, which will be called Medicare Part D, begins January 1, 2006. In the interim, a national prescription drug discount card for Medicare-eligible seniors will be instituted in April 2004. Under the new law, drug benefits will be provided through risk-bearing private plans contracting with the government (including plans offering only the Medicare Part D coverage as well as integrated plans offering all Medicare benefits). There will be an annual open period during which Medicare beneficiaries will choose their drug plan from among those available in their area of residence. In any areas where there are fewer than two private plan choices, the government will make a drug plan available directly.

Edgar Filing: I TRAX INC - Form S-3

We do not know how this law will affect our business. Subsidies for employers providing retiree drug benefits will decrease the costs to those employers of providing such benefits, and therefore may increase the number of employers willing to provide retiree drug benefits, which would positively affect our business. On the other hand, employers that now offer prescription drug benefits may decide no longer to do so, on the basis that their retirees now will be able to obtain such benefits on their own through Medicare. In that case, such employers would have less need for employer-dedicated pharmacies of the kinds that we establish and manage and our business would be negatively affected.

We may be unable to integrate successfully our operations and realize the full cost savings we anticipate from the merger.

The merger of CHD Meridian Healthcare and I-trax involves the integration of two companies that have previously operated independently and focused on different delivery methods within the corporate health management solutions market. The difficulties of combining the merged companies' operations include:

- o integrating complementary businesses under centralized management efficiently;
- o coordinating geographically separated organizations;
- o integrating personnel with diverse business backgrounds; and
- o combining different corporate cultures.

The process of integrating operations could cause an interruption of, or loss of momentum in, the activities of I-trax or CHD Meridian Healthcare's businesses or the loss of key personnel. The diversion of management's attention and any delays or difficulties encountered in connection with the integration of the merged companies' operations could have an adverse effect on the business, results of operations or financial condition of the merged companies.

Among the factors considered by the CHD Meridian Healthcare and the I-trax boards of directors in connection with their respective approvals of the merger were the opportunities for reduction of operating costs and improvements in operating efficiencies and other financial synergies that could result from the merger. We cannot give any assurance that these savings will be realized, or if realized, will be realized within the time periods contemplated by management.

Our business will be adversely affected if we lose key employees or fail to recruit and retain other skilled employees

Our business greatly depends on, among others, Frank A. Martin, chairman, chief executive officer and director, Haywood D. Cochrane, Jr., vice chairman and director, John R. Palumbo, president, Charles D. (Chip) Phillips, executive vice president and chief operating officer, and Shannon W. Farrington, senior vice president and chief financial officer. Our failure to retain any one of these individuals could significantly reduce our ability to compete and succeed in the future.

Edgar Filing: I TRAX INC - Form S-3

Our future success also depends on our ability to attract, retain and motivate highly skilled employees. As we secure new contracts and implement our services and products, we will need to hire additional personnel in all operational areas. We may be unable to attract, assimilate or retain such highly qualified personnel. We have in the past experienced, and expect to experience in the future, difficulty in hiring and retaining highly skilled employees with appropriate qualifications. Our business will be adversely affected if we cannot attract new personnel or retain and motivate current personnel.

Our sales cycle is long and complex.

The corporate health management business is growing rapidly and has many entrants. Further, although each entrant may define its service as corporate health management, the details of the services among the entrants are quite different. Because the services offered are complex, require clients to incur significant upfront costs and there are significant variations in the offered services by many vendors, potential clients take a long time to evaluate and purchase such services, lengthening our sales cycle. Further, the sales and implementation process for our services and software applications is lengthy, involves a significant technical evaluation and requires our clients to commit a great deal of time and money. Finally, the sale and implementation of our services are subject to delays due to our clients' internal budgets and procedures for approving large capital expenditures and deploying new services and software applications within their organizations. The sales cycle for our solutions, therefore, is unpredictable and has generally ranged from 3 to 24 months from initial contact to contract signing. The time it takes to implement our services is also difficult to predict and has lasted as long as 18 months from contract execution to the commencement of live operation. During the sales cycle and the implementation period, we may expend substantial time, effort and money preparing contract proposals, negotiating the contract and implementing the solution without receiving any related revenue.

Deterioration of the financial health of our clients, many of which are large U.S. manufacturing enterprises, could adversely affect our business volume and collections.

An adverse trend in one or more U.S. manufacturing industries could lead to plant closings or layoffs that could eliminate or reduce the need for some of our employer-dedicated healthcare facilities. Also, if our client becomes insolvent, we may not be able to recover outstanding accounts receivable owed by that client, and may suffer premature contract termination. Our professional liability insurance is written on a claims-made basis, and, to fund continued coverage of an operation after termination of a contract, we typically charge our clients for tail insurance coverage when the contract terminates. If a client is insolvent when the contract terminates, we may not be able to recoup the cost of tail insurance coverage, or other costs related to that facility's shutdown. We already experienced this in the case of one major steel manufacturer for which we managed several facilities when the client became the debtor in a federal bankruptcy proceeding. This resulted in difficulty in collecting some amounts due to us, and generated a claim against us for repayment of an allegedly preferential transfer previously received from the client. Because of the risks associated with client insolvency, and the concentration of CHD Meridian Healthcare's client base, our business is to some extent dependent on the continued health of U.S. manufacturing industries.

Edgar Filing: I TRAX INC - Form S-3

Our dependence on the Internet and Internet-related technologies subjects us to frequent change and risks.

Our web-based software applications that form the backbone of our disease management and comprehensive health management solutions depend on the continuous, reliable and secure operation of Internet servers and related hardware and software. Numerous viruses and outages on the Internet could cause outages of our applications from time to time. To the extent that our services are interrupted, our users will be inconvenienced and our reputation may be diminished. If access to our system becomes unavailable at a critical time, users could allege we are liable, which could depress our stock price, cause significant negative publicity and possibly lead to litigation. Although our computer and communications hardware is protected by physical and software safeguards, it is still vulnerable to fire, storm, flood, power loss, telecommunications failures, physical or software break-ins and similar events. We do not have 100% redundancy for all of our computer and telecommunications facilities. A catastrophic event could have a significant negative effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

We also depend on third parties to provide certain of our clients with Internet and online services necessary for access to our servers. It is possible that our clients will experience difficulties with Internet and other online services due to system failures, including failures unrelated to our systems. Any sustained disruption in Internet access provided by third parties could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Finally, we retain confidential healthcare information on our servers. It is, therefore, important that our facilities and infrastructure remain secure and are perceived by clients to be secure. Although we operate our software applications from a secure facility managed by a reputable third party, our infrastructure may be vulnerable to physical or virtual break-ins, computer viruses, programming errors or similar disruptive problems. A material security breach could damage our reputation or result in liability to us.

We may be sued by our users if we provide inaccurate health information on our website or inadvertently disclose confidential health information to unauthorized users.

Because users of our website will access health content and services relating to a medical condition they may have or may distribute our content to others, third parties may sue us for defamation, negligence, copyright or trademark infringement, personal injury or other matters. We could also become liable if confidential information is disclosed inappropriately. These types of claims have been brought, sometimes successfully, against online services in the past. Others could also sue us for the content and services that will be accessible from our website through links to other websites or through content and materials that may be posted by our users in chat rooms or bulletin boards. Any such liability will have a material adverse effect on our reputation and our business, results of operations or financial position.

We may be unable to compete successfully against companies offering other disease management products.

Many healthcare companies are offering disease management services and healthcare focused software solutions. Further, a vast number of Internet sites offer healthcare content, products and services. In addition, traditional healthcare providers compete for consumers' attention both through traditional means as well as through new Internet initiatives. Although we believe our technology-enabled service solutions are unique and better than our competitors', we compete for customers with numerous other businesses.

Many of these potential competitors are likely to enjoy substantial competitive advantages compared to us, including:

- o greater name recognition and larger marketing budgets and resources;
- o larger customer and user bases;
- o larger production and technical staffs;
- o substantially greater financial, technical and other resources; and
- o a wider array of online products and services.

To be competitive, we must continue to enhance our products and services, as well as our sales and marketing channels and our financial condition.

If our intellectual property rights are undermined by third parties, our business will suffer.

Our intellectual property is important to our business. We rely on a combination of copyright, trademark and trade secret laws, confidentiality procedures and contractual provisions to protect our intellectual property. Our efforts to protect our intellectual property may not be adequate. Our competitors may independently develop similar technology or duplicate our products or services. Unauthorized parties may infringe upon or misappropriate our products, services or proprietary information. In addition, the laws of some foreign countries do not protect proprietary rights as well as the laws of the United States do, and the global nature of the Internet makes it difficult to control the ultimate destination of our products and services. In the future, litigation may be necessary to enforce our intellectual property rights or to determine the validity and scope of the proprietary rights of others. Any such litigation would probably be time-consuming and costly. We could be subject to intellectual property infringement claims as the number of our competitors grows and the content and functionality of software applications and services overlap with competitive offerings. Defending against these claims, even if not meritorious, could be beyond our financial ability and could divert our attention from operating our company. If we become liable to third parties for infringing their intellectual property rights, we could be required to pay a substantial damage award and forced to develop noninfringing technology, obtain a license or cease selling the applications that contain the infringing technology. We may be unable to develop noninfringing technology or obtain a license on commercially reasonable terms, or at all. We also intend to rely on a variety of technologies that we will license from third parties, including any database and Internet server software, which will be used to operate our applications. These third-party licenses may not be available to us on commercially reasonable terms. The loss of or inability to obtain and maintain any of these licenses could delay the introduction of enhancements to our software applications, interactive tools and other features until equivalent technology could be licensed or developed. Any such delays could materially adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Provisions of our certificate of incorporation could impede a takeover of our company, even though a takeover may benefit our stockholders.

Our board of directors has the authority, without further action by the stockholders, to issue from time to time, shares of preferred stock in one or more classes or series, and to fix the rights and preferences of such preferred stock, subject, however, to the limitations contained in the certificate of designations filed with respect to our Series A convertible preferred stock. We are subject to provisions of Delaware corporate law which, subject to certain exceptions, prohibit us from engaging in any "business combination" with a person who, together with affiliates and associates, owns 15% or more of our common stock (referred to as an interested stockholder) for a period of three years following the date that such person became an interested stockholder, unless the business combination is approved in a prescribed manner. Additionally, bylaws establish an advance notice procedure for stockholder proposals and for nominating candidates for election as directors. These provisions of Delaware law and of our certificate of incorporation and bylaws may have the effect of delaying, deterring or preventing a change in our control, may discourage bids for our common stock at a premium over market price and may adversely affect the market price, and the voting and other rights of the holders of our common stock.

The loss of a major client will have a material adverse effect on our business.

In 2003, we had one client that accounted for 10% of our pro forma revenue. We anticipate that our results of operations in any given period will continue to be influenced to a certain extent by a relatively small number of clients. Accordingly, if we were to lose the business of such a client, our results of operations could be materially and adversely affected.

Investment Risks

The price of our common stock is volatile.

Our stock price has been and we believe will continue to be volatile. For example, from April 1, 2003 through April 15, 2004, the per share price of our stock has fluctuated from a high of $5.70 to a low of $1.51. The stock's volatility may be influenced by the market's perceptions of the healthcare sector in general, or other companies believed to be similar to us or by the market's perception of our operations and future prospects. Many of these perceptions are beyond our control. In addition, our stock is not heavily traded and therefore the ability to achieve relatively quick liquidity without a negative impact on our stock price is limited.

Some of our outstanding shares are restricted from immediate resale but may be sold into the market in the immediate future, which would cause the market price of our common stock to drop significantly, even if our business is doing well.

As of April 15, 2004, 28,374,852 shares of our common stock were issued and outstanding. Of this number, approximately 14,000,000 shares were issued in the CHD Meridian Healthcare merger as "restricted securities." Further, an additional 12,000,000 shares of our common stock, which are not reflected as issued and outstanding, are issuable upon conversion of our outstanding shares of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock. Of this latter amount, 2,000,000 shares are issuable upon conversion of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock issued in the CHD Meridian Healthcare merger and 10,000,000 shares are issuable upon conversion of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock sold to third party investors to fund a portion of the cash I-trax needed to acquire CHD Meridian Healthcare. This prospectus covers the resale of 10,000,000 of the 12,000,000 shares of our common stock issuable upon conversion of our outstanding shares of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock. A separate prospectus covers the resale of the approximately 14,000,000 shares our common stock and approximately 2,000,000 shares of our common stock issuable upon conversion of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock issued in the CHD Meridian Healthcare merger. The two prospectuses cover an aggregate of approximately 26,000,000 shares of our common stock. If the selling shareholders under these prospectuses sell these shares at the same time, the market price of our common stock would drop, possibly significantly.

Shares eligible for future sale upon the conversion of outstanding shares of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock and upon the exercise of issued options and warrants may cause dilution.

As of April 15, 2004, approximately 12,000,000 shares of our common stock were reserved for issuance upon conversion of outstanding shares of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock and 5,852,929 shares of our common stock were reserved for issuance upon the exercise of our outstanding warrants and options. Our stockholders, therefore, could experience dilution of their investment upon conversion or exercise, as applicable, of these securities.

As of April 15, 2004, there were approximately 503 registered holders of our common stock and approximately 70 registered holders of our Series A Convertible Preferred Stock. On April 16, 2004, the last reported sales price of our common stock was $4.99.

Dividend Policy

We have never paid or declared any cash dividends on our common stock and do not anticipate paying cash dividends on our common stock in the foreseeable future.

Our Series A Convertible Preferred Stock accrues dividends on the original issue price at the rate of 8% per annum. The dividends are payable upon conversion of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock into common stock in additional shares of common stock or, subject to the consent of our senior secured lender, in cash.

USE OF PROCEEDS

We will not receive any of the proceeds from the sale of shares of our common stock offered under this prospectus. However, we may receive proceeds from the exercise of the warrants and options by the selling shareholders, which proceeds we will use for general corporate purposes.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

The shares being offered by the selling shareholders or their respective pledgees, donees, transferees or other successors in interest, will be sold from time to time in one or more transactions, which may involve block transactions:

- o on the American Stock Exchange or on such other market on which the common stock may from time to time be trading;
- o in privately-negotiated transactions;
- o through broker-dealers, who may act as agents or principals;
- o through one or more underwriters on a firm commitment or best efforts basis;
- o through the writing of options on the shares;
- o to cover short sales and other hedging transactions made after the date that the registration statement of which this prospectus is a part was declared effective by the SEC; or
- o any combination thereof.

The sale price to the public may be:

- o the market price prevailing at the time of sale;
- o a price related to such prevailing market price;

Edgar Filing: I TRAX INC - Form S-3

- o at negotiated prices; or
- o such other price as the selling shareholders determine from time to time.

The shares may also be sold pursuant to Rule 144, adopted under the Securities Act, as permitted by that rule. The selling shareholders shall have the sole and absolute discretion not to accept any purchase offer or make any sale of shares if they deem the purchase price to be unsatisfactory at any particular time.

The selling shareholders or their respective pledgees, donees, transferees or other successors in interest, may also sell the shares directly to market makers acting as principals or broker-dealers acting as agents for themselves or their customers. These broker-dealers may be compensated with discounts, concessions or commissions from the selling shareholders or the purchasers of shares for whom such broker-dealers may act as agents or to whom they sell as principal or both. The compensation as to a particular broker-dealer might be greater than customary commissions. Market makers and block purchasers purchasing the shares will do so for their own account and at their own risk. The selling shareholders may sell shares of common stock in block transactions to market makers or other purchasers at a price per share, which may be below the then market price. The selling shareholders cannot assure that all or any of the shares offered in this prospectus will be issued to, or sold by, the selling shareholders. Because the selling shareholders and any brokers, dealers or agents, upon effecting the sale of any of the shares offered in this prospectus, may be deemed "underwriters" as that term is defined under the Securities Act or the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or Exchange Act, or the rules and regulations under such acts, the selling shareholders will be subject to the prospectus delivery requirements of the Securities Act. Any commissions received by them and any profit on the resale of shares may be deemed to be underwriting compensation.

The selling shareholders, alternatively, may sell all or any part of the shares offered in this prospectus through an underwriter. No selling stockholder has entered into any agreement with a prospective underwriter and there is no assurance that any such agreement will be entered into. If a selling shareholder enters into such an agreement or agreements, the relevant details will be set forth in a supplement or revisions to this prospectus.

The shares will be sold through registered or licensed brokers or dealers if required under applicable state securities laws. In addition, in certain states the shares may not be sold unless they have been registered or qualified for sale in the applicable state or an exemption from the registration or qualification requirement is available and is complied with.

The selling shareholders and any other persons participating in the sale or distribution of the shares will be subject to applicable provisions of the Exchange Act and the rules and regulations under the Exchange Act, including, without limitation, Regulation M. These provisions may restrict certain activities of, and limit the timing of purchases and sales of any of the shares by, the selling shareholders or any other such person. Furthermore, under Regulation M, persons engaged in a distribution of securities are prohibited from simultaneously engaging in market making and certain other activities with respect to such securities for a specified period of time prior to the commencement of such distributions, subject to specified exceptions or exemptions. All of these limitations may affect the marketability of the shares.

We will bear all costs, expenses and fees in connection with the registration of the shares. The selling shareholders will bear all commissions and discounts, if any, attributable to the sales of the shares. The selling shareholders may agree to indemnify any broker-dealer or agent that participates in transactions involving sales of the shares against certain liabilities, including liabilities arising under the Securities Act.

I-TRAX, INC.

Introduction

I-trax is a combination of two companies that merged on March 19, 2004: I-trax, Inc. and Meridian Occupational Healthcare Associates, Inc., a private company, which does business as CHD Meridian Healthcare. The merger and its terms are described in greater detail below.

Business Overview

We offer two categories of services, which can be integrated or blended as necessary or appropriate based on each client's needs. The first category includes on-site services such as occupation health, primary care, corporate health and pharmacy, which were historically offered by CHD Meridian Healthcare. The second category includes personalized health management programs, which were historically offered by I-trax. Each of these services is described in greater detail below.

As the result of the merger, we are the nation's largest provider of corporate health management services. Our health management services are designed to allow employers to contract directly for a wide range of employee healthcare needs. We can deliver these services at or near the client's work site by opening, staffing and managing a clinic or pharmacy dedicated to the client and its employees, or remotely by using the Internet and our state-of-the-art Care Communications Center staffed with trained nurses and other healthcare professionals 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. Our array of services provides each client with flexibility to meet its specific pharmacy, primary care, occupational health, corporate health, wellness, lifestyle management or disease management needs. Pursuant to multi-year agreements, our clients can offer their employees, dependents and retirees any combination of our various services which integrate seamlessly, through on-site or off-site delivery platforms, or as a component of or complement to existing health plan options.

Our primary target market is large and mid-sized self-insured employers and business consortia. These entities are more likely to derive immediate and meaningful financial benefit from our services because of their scale and focus on controlling healthcare costs.

We currently operate approximately 160 locations in 32 states. We also maintain contracts with approximately 150 clients, including many leading employers. Our clients pay us directly for our services and include automotive and automotive parts manufacturers, consumer products manufacturers, large financial institutions, health plans, integrated delivery networks, and third party administrators. Our client retention rate is high because we establish strong client relationships, which are supported by the critical nature of our services, the benefits achieved by employer and employee constituents, and the utilization of multi-year service contracts.

CHD Meridian Healthcare's Historic Business - Services Delivered At or Near the Work Site

Occupational Health Services. We provide professional staffing and management of on-site health facilities that address the occupational health, workers' compensation injuries, and minor illness needs of the employer's workforce. These programs are designed to operate across the entire array of occupational health regulatory environments and emphasize work-related injury cost-reduction, treatment, medical surveillance or testing, disability management, case management, return-to-work coordination, medical community relations or oversight, on-site physical therapy and injury prevention, and ergonomic assessment and intervention. Our health programs improve compliance with treatment protocols and drug formularies, enhance employee productivity, and allow for greater employer control of occupational health costs. We currently operate 77 occupational health facilities.

Primary Care Services. We operate employer-sponsored health centers designed to integrate with the employer's existing healthcare plans. In such arrangements, employers contract with us directly for primary care health services and in the process regain control of costs, quality and access. Our health centers generally service a single employer and offer health management programs addressing the primary care needs of the employee base, including optometry services and limited prevention and disease management programs. Clients may combine our health centers with a dedicated pharmacy. We also offer customized solutions in network management and absence management, including non-work related case management and disability management. Our physicians, nurses, and other staff are dedicated to the customer's employee population, allowing employees, retirees, and their dependents to receive cost-effective, high quality, accessible and convenient care. We currently operate 17 primary care centers.

Pharmacy Services. We operate employer-sponsored pharmacies that offer prescription services exclusively to the client's covered population. Clients may also combine our pharmacy with a dedicated primary care center. By leveraging prescription volume across our client base and procuring pharmaceuticals as a captive class of trade, we purchase products at considerable savings for our clients, thus significantly and positively affecting what we understand is one of our clients' fastest-growing healthcare cost categories. Our pharmacy services also use sophisticated information technologies. These technologies may be integrated with each client's existing pharmacy management programs and plans, and improve employees' prescription fulfillment convenience. We currently operate 24 pharmacies.

Corporate Health Services. We offer non-industrial clients that do not experience significant physical injury rates, but that nonetheless maintain large workforces that require general and specialized medical services, custom designed workplace programs that combine preventative care, occupational health, medical surveillance or testing, travel medicine and health education. Clients for which we provide corporate health services include financial service, advertising and consulting firms. We currently operate 47 corporate healthcare facilities.

I-trax's Historic Business - The Health-e-LifeSM Program

We enable individuals to obtain better healthcare through our personalized Health-e-LifeSM Program. The Program is designed to deliver lifestyle and wellness management, and disease and risk reduction interventions to a client's entire population, across multiple locations and irrespective of population size, by using predictive science, sophisticated proprietary computer software, clinical expertise, and personal care coordination. We currently have approximately 37 clients, which include self-insured employers, health plans, and integrated delivery networks, using various components of our Health-e-LifeSM Program. Self-insured employers, health plans, hospital and health systems, and governmental agencies continue to be prime consumers of lifestyle and wellness management, and disease and risk reduction programs, and we are actively marketing to these potential clients.

We believe the Health-e-LifeSM Program enables our clients to evolve from fragmented care management practices into a cohesive and efficient system of healthcare. The Health-e-LifeSM Program is fully integrated, uses a single-data platform that allows all caregivers to share records, and enables our clients to provide true coordination of care. We believe that by facilitating real-time secure communication between our client, the patient, the doctor, the care coordinator and the insurer within today's complex healthcare system, the Health-e-LifeSM Program reduces costs and enables improved delivery of care.

Predictive Science. Our Health-e-LifeSM Program incorporates predictive science to analyze our clients' medical claims and pharmacy and clinical data to predict future healthcare costs. We believe this is an essential step to effective disease and lifestyle management. Experts agree that predictive science provides a comprehensive advantage to health plans, employers and providers, and leads to cost-effective medical management and greater profitability for the ultimate payor. Using predictive science, we analyze our clients' entire populations to predict our clients' future healthcare costs, including avoidable costs, the health conditions that will drive those costs and the people within our clients' populations who are at risk for those conditions. Armed with this information, we target our resources to achieve for each client the best value for the amount the client will invest in providing healthcare and, consequently, savings.

Technology Solutions. All technology components of our Health-e-LifeSM Program utilize a single data platform--Medicive(R) Medical Enterprise Data System--a proprietary software architecture developed to collect, store, sort, retrieve and analyze a broad range of information used in the healthcare industry.

Furthermore, our web accessible software includes portals for key stakeholders in the care delivery process--consumers, physicians and care managers--and permit real-time sharing of information and support the adherence to our health and disease intervention programs. The key technology we use for effective care coordination include:

- o Health-e-Coordinator(TM), a web-based care management application;
- o MyFamilyMD(TM), a consumer health management portal;
- o CarePrime(R), a clinical care application for physicians and clinicians; and
- o I-talk(TM), interactive smart voice technology.

Interventions and Clinical Expertise. The Health-e-LifeSM Program includes personalized health and disease interventions for individuals who suffer from, or are at high risk for, active or chronic disease and tailored programs for individuals who are at low risk. Depending on the individual's level of risk, our custom tailored interventions include self-help programs available through the web or person-assisted programs administered through our Care Communication Center. All interventions include lifestyle and risk reduction programs that follow evidence-based clinical guidelines to optimize health, fitness, productivity and quality of life.

The Health-e-Life ProgramSM currently includes interventions for a number of specific chronic conditions, including congestive heart failure, coronary artery disease, asthma, diabetes, cancer management, cystic fibrosis, lower back pain, and chronic obstructive pulmonary disease.

Care Communication Center. A vital component of our program is our Care Communications Center, which is staffed with trained nurses and other healthcare professionals 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. Through the Care Communication Center, we effect targeted interventions to improve the health management of the populations we serve. The Care Communication Center helps each member or employee of our client make informed decisions about his or her health and provides ongoing support for those with chronic diseases. Our demand management and nurse triage services incorporate nationally recognized, evidence-based clinical guidelines to increase compliance by caregivers and consumers with best practices.

I-trax and CHD Meridian Healthcare Joint Market Opportunity

To change the health status of a defined population and manage the upward claim trend experienced by employers and employees, self-insured employers are seeking programs that promote health, manage disease and disability and complement existing health initiatives and benefits. Self-insured employers invest in such health programs because they reduce later need for critical care and related costs, maximize health, increase productivity, reduce absenteeism, improve health status of both active employees and retirees, and reduce overall costs.

We believe that I-trax and CHD Meridian Healthcare offer a complete solution to meet this need. We service each segment of a self-insured employer's population and achieve the desired clinical and financial outcomes. CHD Meridian Healthcare is the leader in on-site healthcare for Fortune 1,000 companies. Its programs reduce healthcare costs of the defined population it serves. Complementing the CHD Meridian Healthcare services, I-trax's personalized health management solutions for focused disease and lifestyle and wellness management improve the health of the entire population, achieving the same result. The services offered by the merged companies respond to a specific and frequent request of large employers, including many historic CHD Meridian Healthcare clients, for a comprehensive range of health management services.

We also believe that with a nominal increase in variable costs, the merged companies can offer to CHD Meridian Healthcare's historic clients the value added benefit of our Health-e-LifeSM Program and, with respect to certain of these clients, can successfully negotiate participation in future medical cost savings that may result from the merged companies services.

Put more specifically, we currently serve approximately 650,000 lives through our on-site clinics, which represent only approximately 25% of our clients' employees, dependents and retirees. We charge these clients for our services on a "cost plus" basis to manage these lives. We believe that the merged companies' suite of products will allow us several opportunities with respect to those of our clients that elect to expand their relationship with us. These include:

- o Because our services now encompass on-site facilities, which offer high quality, better access and lower costs, and Internet and telephone care delivery capabilities, we have access to a larger portion of our clients' populations, which affords us an opportunity to expand substantially our services within our existing client base.
- o We price our population-based service on a "per member per month" basis. This model enables us to direct resources to those of our clients' employees, dependents and retirees that represent the greatest potential future costs. Because in certain instances we participate in the savings our programs generate, when properly deployed in new business opportunities, management believes the merged companies' suite of products will afford us increased gross margin opportunities for incremental, integrated business.

- o We are one vendor for predictive modeling, primary care, pharmacy, occupational health, lifestyle and wellness management, and disease management, and as such our inherent efficiency leads to savings.
- o Our combined services offer multiple entry points for employer customers to meet their budget restrictions and specific needs. This available menu of services could shorten our current sales cycle and provide us with an opportunity to build a more comprehensive program as the relationship grows with each client over time.

Corporate History

I-trax was incorporated in Delaware on September 15, 2000 at the direction of the Board of Directors of I-trax Health Management Solutions, Inc., I-trax's then parent company. On February 5, 2001, I-trax became the holding company of I-trax Health Management at the closing of a reorganization pursuant to Section 251(g) of Delaware General Corporation Law. At the effective time of the reorganization, all of the stockholders of I-trax Health Management became the stockholders of I-trax and I-trax Health Management became a wholly owned subsidiary of I-trax. Further, all outstanding shares of I-trax Health Management were converted into shares of I-trax in a non-taxable transaction.

The holding company structure has allowed us greater flexibility in our operations and expansion and diversification plans, including in the acquisition of Meridian Occupational Healthcare Associates, Inc. and WellComm Group, Inc.

I-trax acquired WellComm effective February 6, 2002 in a two-step reorganization pursuant to a Merger Agreement dated January 28, 2002 by and among I-trax, WC Acquisition, Inc., an Illinois corporation and a wholly-owned subsidiary of I-trax, WellComm and WellComm's two principals. In step one, WC Acquisition merged with and into WellComm, with WellComm continuing as the surviving corporation. In step two, WellComm merged with and into I-trax, with I-trax continuing as the surviving corporation.

At the closing of the merger, we delivered to the WellComm stockholders approximately $2,200,000 in cash and 1,488,000 shares of our common stock, and to each of two senior officers of WellComm options to acquire 56,000 shares of our common stock at a nominal exercise price.

We funded the acquisition of WellComm by selling a 6% convertible senior debenture in the aggregate principal amount of $2,000,000 to Palladin Opportunity Fund LLC pursuant to a purchase agreement dated as of February 4, 2002. Pursuant to the purchase agreement, we also issued Palladin a warrant to purchase up to 307,692 shares of our common stock. As of March 19, 2004, Palladin has converted all amounts outstanding under the debenture into common stock and has exercised the warrant in full at the conversion price and exercise price of $1.75 per share.

On March 19, 2004, we acquired Meridian Occupational Healthcare Associates, Inc., a Delaware corporation doing business as CHD Meridian Healthcare, pursuant to a Merger Agreement dated as December 26, 2003, as amended, by and among, I-trax, CHD Meridian Healthcare, DCG Acquisition, Inc., a Delaware corporation and a wholly-owned subsidiary of I-trax, and CHD Meridian Healthcare, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company and a wholly-owned subsidiary of I-trax. The merger was a two-step transaction. In step one, DCG Acquisition merged with and into CHD Meridian Healthcare. In step two, CHD Meridian Healthcare merged with and into CHD Meridian Healthcare, LLC. We now conduct the former operations of CHD Meridian Healthcare through CHD Meridian Healthcare, LLC. In the merger, each outstanding share of common stock of CHD Meridian Healthcare was converted into the right to receive 47.57 shares of our common stock, 1.90 shares of our Series A Convertible Preferred Stock, and $121.35 in cash. In total, in the merger, I-trax issued 10,000,000 shares of common stock, 400,000 shares of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock and paid $25,508,000 in cash. Immediately prior to the merger, CHD Meridian Healthcare also redeemed certain of its then outstanding shares of common stock and options to purchase common stock for which it paid approximately $9,492,000 in the aggregate. Accordingly, the stockholders and option holders of CHD Meridian Healthcare received an aggregate of $35 million of cash in, or immediately prior to, the merger.

In addition, at the closing of the merger, I-trax issued and placed in escrow 3,859,200 shares of common stock. In April 2005, if CHD Meridian Healthcare, LLC, continuing its operations of CHD Meridian Healthcare following the closing of the merger as a subsidiary of I-trax, achieves certain calendar 2004 milestones for earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization, or EBITDA, then some or all of the shares placed in escrow will be payable to the former CHD Meridian Healthcare stockholders who participated in the merger. Prior to distribution to former CHD Meridian Healthcare stockholders, the shares of I-trax common stock placed in escrow may be used to satisfy CHD Meridian Healthcare's indemnity obligations under the Merger Agreement. If EBITDA equals or exceeds $8.1 million, then 3,473,280 shares will be payable; the number of such shares payable increases proportionately up to a maximum of 3,859,200 shares if EBITDA equals or exceeds $9.0 million. Any such additional shares of I-trax common stock that are payable will be distributed pro rata to former CHD Meridian Healthcare stockholders in proportion to the number of shares of CHD Meridian Healthcare common stock held at the merger's effective time. Any shares that are not payable will be returned to I-trax for cancellation.

Immediately following the closing of the merger, I-trax redeemed from former CHD Meridian Healthcare stockholders that participated in the merger, pro rata, an aggregate of 200,000 shares of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock at their original issue price of $25.00 per share.

I-trax obtained the cash portion of the merger consideration by selling 1,000,000 shares of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock at a purchase price of $25.00 per share for gross proceeds of $25 million and by borrowing $12 million on a new $20 million senior secured debt facility from a national lender.

RISK FACTORS

In addition to other information contain and incorporated by reference in this prospectus, you should carefully consider the following risks and the other information in evaluating I-trax and its business. Our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected by each of these risks. Such an adverse effect could cause the market price of our common stock to decline, and you could lose all or part of your investment.

Risk Related to I-trax

The healthcare industry is subject to general cost pressures that could adversely affect our business.

The healthcare industry is currently under pressure by governmental and private-sector revenue sources to cut spiraling costs. These pressures will continue and possibly intensify. Although we believe that our services and software applications assist public health agencies, hospitals, health plans and self-insured employers to control the high costs associated with treating patients, the pressures to reduce costs immediately may hinder our ability (or increase the length of time we require) to obtain new contracts. In addition, the focus on cost reduction may pressure our customers to restructure contracts and reduce our fees.

We are affected by changes in the laws governing health plan, hospital and public health agency reimbursement under governmental programs such as Medicare and Medicaid. There are periodic legislative and regulatory initiatives to reduce the funding of the Medicare and Medicaid programs in an effort to curtail or reduce overall federal healthcare spending. Federal legislation has and may continue to significantly reduce Medicare and Medicaid reimbursements to most hospitals. These reimbursement changes are negatively affecting hospital revenues and operations. There can be no assurance that such legislative initiatives or government regulations would not adversely affect our operations or reduce demand for our services.

We may be unable to implement our business strategy of deploying our integrated services effectively to existing and new clients.

Although we believe that there is significant demand for the our services and products in the corporate healthcare market, there are many reasons why we may be unable to execute our business strategy, including our possible inability to:

- o deploy our integrated services and solutions on a large scale;
 - o attract a sufficiently large number of self-insured employers to subscribe for our services and solutions applications;
 - o increase awareness of our brand;
 - o strengthen user loyalty;
 - o develop and improve our services and solutions;
 - o continue to develop and upgrade our services and software solutions;
- and

Edgar Filing: I TRAX INC - Form S-3

- o attract, retain and motivate qualified personnel.

Increasing competition for contracts to establish and manage employer-dedicated pharmacies and clinics increase the likelihood that we may lose business to our competitors.

CHD Meridian Healthcare pioneered the field of employer-dedicated pharmacies and primary care clinics. Although CHD Meridian Healthcare has always faced competition from other methods by which business enterprises can arrange and pay for healthcare services for their employees, until recently we rarely experienced face-to-face bidding for a contract to manage a particular employer's pharmacy or clinic. We have recently begun to see direct competition for employer-dedicated pharmacy management contracts and expect this competition will increase over time. We believe that we have certain advantages in facing such competition, including our status as the market leader, experience and know-how. However, some of our competitors and potential competitors, including prescription benefit management companies, with revenues in the multiple billions of dollars, are substantially bigger than we are. We believe that the potential market for employer-dedicated pharmacies is large enough for us to meet our growth plans despite increasing competition, but there are no assurances that we will in fact be able to do so. Our ability to maintain existing clients, expand services to existing clients, add new clients so as to meet our growth objectives, and maintain attractive pricing for our services, will depend on the interplay among overall growth in the use of employer-dedicated facilities, entry of new competitors into our business, and our success or failure in maintaining our market position as against these new entrants.

In addition to this increasing head-to-head competition for contracts to establish and manage employer-dedicated facilities, we expect to continue to face competition for large employers' healthcare budget from other kinds of enterprises, including pharmacy benefit managers, health insurers, managed health care plans and retail pharmacy chains.

Loss of advantageous pharmaceutical pricing could adversely affect our income and the value we provide to our clients.

We receive favorable pricing from pharmaceutical manufacturers as a result of our class of trade designation, which in turn is based on selling products only to our clients' employees, dependents and retirees. We also receive rebates from pharmaceutical manufacturers for driving market share to preferred products. The benefit of favorable pricing is generally passed on to our clients under the terms of client contracts. In the last few years, retail pharmacies have brought legal cases against pharmaceutical manufacturers challenging class of trade designations as unlawful price discrimination under the Robinson-Patman Act. Although these challenges have generally failed, there remains a possibility that we could lose the benefit of this favorable pricing, either due to a legal challenge or to a change in policies of the pharmaceutical manufacturers. Such a loss would diminish the value that we can provide to our clients and, therefore, would make our services less attractive to them. We also receive volume performance incentives from our pharmaceutical wholesaler which directly affect our revenue and the loss of which could adversely affect our business.

Our business involves exposure to professional liability claims, and a failure to manage effectively our professional liability risks could have an adverse impact on our business.

Under the terms of our contracts to manage employer sponsored clinics or pharmacies, we must procure professional liability insurance covering the operations of that clinic or pharmacy. We also typically agree to indemnify our clients against vicarious professional liability claims arising out of acts or omissions of healthcare providers working at the clinics and pharmacies we manage. Further, under the terms of our services agreements with affiliated professional corporations, we are contractually obligated to procure malpractice insurance on behalf of the professional corporations and their employed physicians and typically absorb such claims as are subject to the policy self insured retention limit or above the policy limit. Finally, there also exists the possibility of vicarious professional liability claims being made directly against us. As a result of these contractual arrangements, we routinely incur significant expenses arising out of professional liability claims. If we fail to manage the professional liability claims and associated risk effectively, our business will be adversely affected.

Certain of our past professional liability insurance policy years were insured by two insurance companies that are now either insolvent or under regulatory supervision. As a result, we are effectively partially uninsured for those periods. We have established reserves in connection with the six pending claims from such policy years. Although we believe such reserves are reasonable based on our historic loss experience, there is no assurance that these reserves will be sufficient to pay any judgments or settlements. In addition, because our current professional liability insurance self-insured retention is $500,000, we are, effectively, partially uninsured against a variety of claims that may arise from other years. We maintain a layer of excess insurance that begins with losses in excess of $1,000,000 per claim, including for the years in which our primary insurer is insolvent. We have reserved for projected future professional liability expenses based on our operations to date. These reserves, however, could prove inadequate, and the size of our ultimate uninsured liability could exceed our established reserves.

Our professional liability insurance policies are written on a claims-made basis, meaning that they cover only claims made during the policy period, and not events that occur during the policy period but result in a claim after the expiration of the policy. With this insurance strategy, we must renew or replace coverage each year in order to have coverage for prior years' operations. Availability and cost of such coverage are subject to market conditions, which can fluctuate significantly.

We have established a captive insurance company, which subjects us to additional regulatory requirements and once operating, will subject us to the risks associated with the insurance business.

We have established and expect to begin operating a captive insurance subsidiary in the second quarter of 2004 to insure our professional liability exposure. We believe this approach will enhance our ability to manage malpractice exposure and stabilize insurance costs. Operating a captive insurance subsidiary, however, represents additional risk to our operations, including a potential perception among our existing and potential clients that we are not adequately insured. We have hired a manager and have engaged an actuarial consulting firm for the captive insurer. When we commence its operations, we will be subject to the risks associated with any insurance business, which include investment risk relating to the performance of our invested assets set aside as reserves for future claims, the uncertainty of making actuarial estimates of projected future professional liability losses, and loss adjustment expenses. Failure to make an adequate return on our investments, to maintain the principal of invested funds, or to estimate future losses and loss adjustment expenses accurately, could have an adverse effect on us. Also, maintaining a captive insurer has exposed us to substantial additional regulatory requirements, with attendant risks if we fail to comply with applicable regulations.

We are subject to complex and extensive legal, statutory and regulatory requirements, and failure to comply with those requirements will have an adverse effect on our business.

The healthcare industry is subject to numerous Federal, state and local laws, regulations and judicial doctrines. These legal requirements cover, among other topics, licensure, corporate practice of medicine, privacy of patient medical records, government healthcare program participation requirements and restrictions, reimbursement for patient services, and Medicare and Medicaid fraud and abuse.

Corporate Practice of Medicine. There are judicial and statutory prohibitions on the corporate practice of medicine, which vary from state to state. The corporate practice of medicine doctrine prohibits a corporation, other than a professional corporation, from practicing medicine or employing physicians. Some states also prohibit a non-physician from splitting or sharing fees charged by a physician for medical services. The services we provide include establishing and managing medical clinics. Most physician services at clinics we manage are provided by physicians who are employees of professional corporations with which we contract to provide non-professional services such as purchasing equipment and supplies, patient scheduling, billing, collection, accounting, and computer services. The professional corporations control hiring and supervise physicians and all medical functions. We have option agreements with the physician-owners of these affiliated professional corporations that entitle us to require the physician-owners to sell the stock of the professional corporations to any licensed physician we designated. This structure is intended to permit consolidation of the professional corporations' financial statements with ours, while maintaining sufficient separation to comply with the corporate practice of medicine doctrine and with fee-splitting and fee-sharing prohibitions. There remains, however, potential exposure to claims that this structure violates the corporate practice of medicine doctrine or fee-splitting or fee-sharing prohibitions, even though we do not believe that it does. If such a claim is successfully asserted against us in any jurisdiction, we could be subject to civil and criminal penalties, or could be required to restructure our contractual arrangements with clients. Any restructuring of contractual arrangements could result in lower revenues, increased expenses and reduced influence over the business decisions of those operations. Alternatively, some existing CHD Meridian contracts could be found to be illegal and unenforceable, which could result in their termination and an associated loss of revenue, or inability to enforce valuable provisions of those contracts.

Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996. Our personnel who staff our on-site pharmacies and clinics have custody of confidential patient records. Also, the computer servers we use to store our software applications and deliver our technology services also contain confidential health risk assessments completed by employees, patients and beneficiaries of our clients. In our capacity as a covered entity or as a business associate of a covered entity, we and the records we hold are subject to a rule entitled Privacy of Individually Identifiable Health Information, or Privacy Rule, promulgated by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996, or HIPAA, and also to any state laws that may have more stringent privacy requirements. We attempt to protect the privacy and security of confidential patient information in accordance with applicable law, but could face claims of violation of the Privacy Rule, invasion of privacy or similar claims, if our patient records or computer servers were compromised, or if our interpretation of the applicable privacy requirements, many of which are complex, were incorrect or allegedly incorrect, or if we failed to maintain a sufficiently effective compliance program.

Furthermore, while we believe that the Privacy Rule protects our ability to obtain patient identifiable medical information for disease management purposes from certain of our clients, state legislation or regulations will preempt Federal legislation if state legislation or regulations are more restrictive. Accordingly, new Federal or state legislation or regulations restricting the availability of this information for disease management purposes would have a material negative effect on us.

Fraud and Abuse. In recent years, various government entities have actively investigated potential violations of fraud and abuse statutes and regulations by healthcare providers and by pharmaceutical manufacturers. The fraud and abuse provisions of the Social Security Act provide civil and criminal penalties and potential exclusion from the Medicare and Medicaid programs for persons or businesses who offer, pay, solicit or receive remuneration in order to induce referrals of patients covered by federal healthcare programs (which include Medicare, Medicaid, TriCare and other federally funded health programs). Although our services and those of our affiliated professional corporations are generally paid for by employer clients, we do bill the Medicare and Medicaid programs, and private insurance companies, as agent of our affiliated professional corporations, to recover reimbursable amounts that offset the healthcare costs borne by our clients. We are therefore subject to various regulations under the Medicare and Medicaid programs, including fraud and abuse prohibitions. We believe that we are compliant with these requirements, but could face claims of non-compliance if our interpretations of the applicable requirements, many of which are complex, were incorrect or allegedly incorrect, or if we fail to maintain a sufficiently effective compliance program.

State and Federal Licensure. The doctors, nurses and other healthcare professional that staff our affiliated professional corporations, the nurses that staff our care communication centers, and our on site pharmacies and clinics, are subject to individual licensing requirements. All of our healthcare professionals and facilities that are subject to licensing requirements are licensed in the state in which they are physically present. Multiple state licensing requirements for healthcare professionals who provide services telephonically over state lines may require us to license some of our healthcare professionals in more than one state. We continually monitor the developments in telemedicine. There is no assurance, however, that new judicial decisions or Federal or state legislation or regulations would not increase the requirement for multi-state licensing of all central operating unit call center health professionals, which would significantly increase our administrative costs.

We cannot yet predict the impact of the recently adopted Medicare prescription drug benefit on our business.

In December 2003, President Bush signed into law the Medicare

Edgar Filing: I TRAX INC - Form S-3

Prescription Drug, Improvement and Modernization Act of 2003. This law provides Medicare beneficiaries with insurance coverage that offers access to prescription medicines. The prescription drug benefit, which will be called Medicare Part D, begins January 1, 2006. In the interim, a national prescription drug discount card for Medicare-eligible seniors will be instituted in April 2004. Under the new law, drug benefits will be provided through risk-bearing private plans contracting with the government (including plans offering only the Medicare Part D coverage as well as integrated plans offering all Medicare benefits). There will be an annual open period during which Medicare beneficiaries will choose their drug plan from among those available in their area of residence. In any areas where there are fewer than two private plan choices, the government will make a drug plan available directly.

We do not know how this law will affect our business. Subsidies for employers providing retiree drug benefits will decrease the costs to those employers of providing such benefits, and therefore may increase the number of employers willing to provide retiree drug benefits, which would positively affect our business. On the other hand, employers that now offer prescription drug benefits may decide no longer to do so, on the basis that their retirees now will be able to obtain such benefits on their own through Medicare. In that case, such employers would have less need for employer-dedicated pharmacies of the kinds that we establish and manage and our business would be negatively affected.

We may be unable to integrate successfully our operations and realize the full cost savings we anticipate from the merger.

The merger of CHD Meridian Healthcare and I-trax involves the integration of two companies that have previously operated independently and focused on different delivery methods within the corporate health management solutions market. The difficulties of combining the merged companies' operations include:

- o integrating complementary businesses under centralized management efficiently;
- o coordinating geographically separated organizations;
- o integrating personnel with diverse business backgrounds; and
- o combining different corporate cultures.

The process of integrating operations could cause an interruption of, or loss of momentum in, the activities of I-trax or CHD Meridian Healthcare's businesses or the loss of key personnel. The diversion of management's attention and any delays or difficulties encountered in connection with the integration of the merged companies' operations could have an adverse effect on the business, results of operations or financial condition of the merged companies.

Among the factors considered by the CHD Meridian Healthcare and the I-trax boards of directors in connection with their respective approvals of the merger were the opportunities for reduction of operating costs and improvements in operating efficiencies and other financial synergies that could result from the merger. We cannot give any assurance that these savings will be realized, or if realized, will be realized within the time periods contemplated by management.

Edgar Filing: I TRAX INC - Form S-3

Our business will be adversely affected if we lose key employees or fail to recruit and retain other skilled employees

Our business greatly depends on, among others, Frank A. Martin, chairman, chief executive officer and director, Haywood D. Cochrane, Jr., vice chairman and director, John R. Palumbo, president, Charles D. (Chip) Phillips, executive vice president and chief operating officer, and Shannon W. Farrington, senior vice president and chief financial officer. Our failure to retain any one of these individuals could significantly reduce our ability to compete and succeed in the future.

Our future success also depends on our ability to attract, retain and motivate highly skilled employees. As we secure new contracts and implement our services and products, we will need to hire additional personnel in all operational areas. We may be unable to attract, assimilate or retain such highly qualified personnel. We have in the past experienced, and expect to experience in the future, difficulty in hiring and retaining highly skilled employees with appropriate qualifications. Our business will be adversely affected if we cannot attract new personnel or retain and motivate current personnel.

Our sales cycle is long and complex.

The corporate health management business is growing rapidly and has many entrants. Further, although each entrant may define its service as corporate health management, the details of the services among the entrants are quite different. Because the services offered are complex, require clients to incur significant upfront costs and there are significant variations in the offered services by many vendors, potential clients take a long time to evaluate and purchase such services, lengthening our sales cycle. Further, the sales and implementation process for our services and software applications is lengthy, involves a significant technical evaluation and requires our clients to commit a great deal of time and money. Finally, the sale and implementation of our services are subject to delays due to our clients' internal budgets and procedures for approving large capital expenditures and deploying new services and software applications within their organizations. The sales cycle for our solutions, therefore, is unpredictable and has generally ranged from 3 to 24 months from initial contact to contract signing. The time it takes to implement our services is also difficult to predict and has lasted as long as 18 months from contract execution to the commencement of live operation. During the sales cycle and the implementation period, we may expend substantial time, effort and money preparing contract proposals, negotiating the contract and implementing the solution without receiving any related revenue.

Deterioration of the financial health of our clients, many of which are large U.S. manufacturing enterprises, could adversely affect our business volume and collections.

An adverse trend in one or more U.S. manufacturing industries could lead to plant closings or layoffs that could eliminate or reduce the need for some of our employer-dedicated healthcare facilities. Also, if our client becomes insolvent, we may not be able to recover outstanding accounts receivable owed by that client, and may suffer premature contract termination. Our professional liability insurance is written on a claims-made basis, and, to fund continued coverage of an operation after termination of a contract, we typically charge our clients for tail insurance coverage when the contract terminates. If a client is insolvent when the contract terminates, we may not be able to recoup the cost of tail insurance coverage, or other costs related to that facility's shutdown. We already experienced this in the case of one major steel manufacturer for which we managed several facilities when the client became the debtor in a federal bankruptcy proceeding. This resulted in difficulty in collecting some amounts due to us, and generated a claim against us for repayment of an allegedly preferential transfer previously received from the client. Because of the risks associated with client insolvency, and the concentration of CHD Meridian Healthcare's client base, our business is to some extent dependent on the continued health of U.S. manufacturing industries.

Our dependence on the Internet and Internet-related technologies subjects us to frequent change and risks.

Our web-based software applications that form the backbone of our disease management and comprehensive health management solutions depend on the continuous, reliable and secure operation of Internet servers and related hardware and software. Numerous viruses and outages on the Internet could cause outages of our applications from time to time. To the extent that our services are interrupted, our users will be inconvenienced and our reputation may be diminished. If access to our system becomes unavailable at a critical time, users could allege we are liable, which could depress our stock price, cause significant negative publicity and possibly lead to litigation. Although our computer and communications hardware is protected by physical and software safeguards, it is still vulnerable to fire, storm, flood, power loss, telecommunications failures, physical or software break-ins and similar events. We do not have 100% redundancy for all of our computer and telecommunications facilities. A catastrophic event could have a significant negative effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

We also depend on third parties to provide certain of our clients with Internet and online services necessary for access to our servers. It is possible that our clients will experience difficulties with Internet and other online services due to system failures, including failures unrelated to our systems. Any sustained disruption in Internet access provided by third parties could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Finally, we retain confidential healthcare information on our servers. It is, therefore, important that our facilities and infrastructure remain secure and are perceived by clients to be secure. Although we operate our software applications from a secure facility managed by a reputable third party, our infrastructure may be vulnerable to physical or virtual break-ins, computer viruses, programming errors or similar disruptive problems. A material security breach could damage our reputation or result in liability to us.

We may be sued by our users if we provide inaccurate health information on our website or inadvertently disclose confidential health information to unauthorized users.

Because users of our website will access health content and services relating to a medical condition they may have or may distribute our content to others, third parties may sue us for defamation, negligence, copyright or trademark infringement, personal injury or other matters. We could also become liable if confidential information is disclosed inappropriately. These types of claims have been brought, sometimes successfully, against online services in the past. Others could also sue us for the content and services that will be accessible from our website through links to other websites or through content and materials that may be posted by our users in chat rooms or bulletin boards. Any such liability will have a material adverse effect on our reputation and our business, results of operations or financial position.

We may be unable to compete successfully against companies offering other disease management products.

Many healthcare companies are offering disease management services and healthcare focused software solutions. Further, a vast number of Internet sites offer healthcare content, products and services. In addition, traditional healthcare providers compete for consumers' attention both through traditional means as well as through new Internet initiatives. Although we believe our technology-enabled service solutions are unique and better than our competitors', we compete for customers with numerous other businesses.

Many of these potential competitors are likely to enjoy substantial competitive advantages compared to us, including:

- o greater name recognition and larger marketing budgets and resources;
- o larger customer and user bases;
- o larger production and technical staffs;
- o substantially greater financial, technical and other resources; and
- o a wider array of online products and services.

To be competitive, we must continue to enhance our products and services, as well as our sales and marketing channels and our financial condition.

If our intellectual property rights are undermined by third parties, our business will suffer.

Our intellectual property is important to our business. We rely on a combination of copyright, trademark and trade secret laws, confidentiality procedures and contractual provisions to protect our intellectual property. Our efforts to protect our intellectual property may not be adequate. Our competitors may independently develop similar technology or duplicate our products or services. Unauthorized parties may infringe upon or misappropriate our products, services or proprietary information. In addition, the laws of some foreign countries do not protect proprietary rights as well as the laws of the United States do, and the global nature of the Internet makes it difficult to control the ultimate destination of our products and services. In the future, litigation may be necessary to enforce our intellectual property rights or to determine the validity and scope of the proprietary rights of others. Any such litigation would probably be time-consuming and costly. We could be subject to intellectual property infringement claims as the number of our competitors grows and the content and functionality of software applications and services overlap with competitive offerings. Defending against these claims, even if not meritorious, could be beyond our financial ability and could divert our attention from operating our company. If we become liable to third parties for infringing their intellectual property rights, we could be required to pay a substantial damage award and forced to develop noninfringing technology, obtain a license or cease selling the applications that contain the infringing technology. We may be unable to develop noninfringing technology or obtain a license on commercially reasonable terms, or at all. We also intend to rely on a variety of technologies that we will license from third parties, including any database and Internet server software, which will be used to operate our applications. These third-party licenses may not be available to us on commercially reasonable terms. The loss of or inability to obtain and maintain any of these licenses could delay the introduction of enhancements to our software applications, interactive tools and other features until equivalent technology could be licensed or developed. Any such delays could materially adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Provisions of our certificate of incorporation could impede a takeover of our company, even though a takeover may benefit our stockholders.

Our board of directors has the authority, without further action by the stockholders, to issue from time to time, shares of preferred stock in one or more classes or series, and to fix the rights and preferences of such preferred stock, subject, however, to the limitations contained in the certificate of designations filed with respect to our Series A convertible preferred stock. We are subject to provisions of Delaware corporate law which, subject to certain exceptions, prohibit us from engaging in any "business combination" with a person who, together with affiliates and associates, owns 15% or more of our common stock (referred to as an interested stockholder) for a period of three years following the date that such person became an interested stockholder, unless the business combination is approved in a prescribed manner. Additionally, bylaws establish an advance notice procedure for stockholder proposals and for nominating candidates for election as directors. These provisions of Delaware law and of our certificate of incorporation and bylaws may have the effect of delaying, deterring or preventing a change in our control, may discourage bids for our common stock at a premium over market price and may adversely affect the market price, and the voting and other rights of the holders of our common stock.

The loss of a major client will have a material adverse effect on our business.

In 2003, we had one client that accounted for 10% of our pro forma revenue. We anticipate that our results of operations in any given period will continue to be influenced to a certain extent by a relatively small number of clients. Accordingly, if we were to lose the business of such a client, our results of operations could be materially and adversely affected.

Investment Risks

The price of our common stock is volatile.

Our stock price has been and we believe will continue to be volatile. For example, from April 1, 2003 through April 15, 2004, the per share price of our stock has fluctuated from a high of $5.70 to a low of $1.51. The stock's volatility may be influenced by the market's perceptions of the healthcare sector in general, or other companies believed to be similar to us or by the market's perception of our operations and future prospects. Many of these perceptions are beyond our control. In addition, our stock is not heavily traded and therefore the ability to achieve relatively quick liquidity without a negative impact on our stock price is limited.

Some of our outstanding shares are restricted from immediate resale but may be sold into the market in the immediate future, which would cause the market price of our common stock to drop significantly, even if our business is doing well.

As of April 15, 2004, 28,374,852 shares of our common stock were issued and outstanding. Of this number, approximately 14,000,000 shares were issued in the CHD Meridian Healthcare merger as "restricted securities." Further, an additional 12,000,000 shares of our common stock, which are not reflected as issued and outstanding, are issuable upon conversion of our outstanding shares of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock. Of this latter amount, 2,000,000 shares are issuable upon conversion of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock issued in the CHD Meridian Healthcare merger and 10,000,000 shares are issuable upon conversion of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock sold to third party investors to fund a portion of the cash I-trax needed to acquire CHD Meridian Healthcare. This prospectus covers the resale of approximately 14,000,000 shares of our common stock and approximately 2,000,000 of the 12,000,000 shares of our common stock issuable upon conversion of our outstanding shares of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock. A separate prospectus covers the resale of the 10,000,000 shares our common stock issuable upon conversion of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock issued in the CHD Meridian Healthcare merger. The two prospectuses cover an aggregate of approximately 26,000,000 shares of our common stock. If the selling shareholders under these prospectuses sell these shares at the same time, the market price of our common stock would drop, possibly significantly.

Shares eligible for future sale upon the conversion of outstanding shares of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock and upon the exercise of issued options and warrants may cause dilution.

As of April 15, 2004, approximately 12,000,000 shares of our common stock were reserved for issuance upon conversion of outstanding shares of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock and 5,852,929 shares of our common stock were reserved for issuance upon the exercise of our outstanding warrants and options. Our stockholders, therefore, could experience dilution of their investment upon conversion or exercise, as applicable, of these securities.

Dividend Policy

We have never paid or declared any cash dividends on our common stock and do not anticipate paying cash dividends on our common stock in the foreseeable future.

Our Series A Convertible Preferred Stock accrues dividends on the original issue price at the rate of 8% per annum. The dividends are payable upon conversion of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock into common stock in additional shares of common stock or, subject to the consent of our senior secured lender, in cash.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

The selling shareholders will sell the shares being offered from time to time through one or more placement agents. We and the selling shareholders will enter into a placement agency agreement with any such placement agent in which it will agree to act as a placement agent in connection with the offering. We will provide the name of the placement agent in a supplement to this prospectus. The placement agent will agree to use its best efforts to introduce the selling security holders to selected institutional investors who will purchase the shares. The placement agent will have no obligation to buy any of the shares from the selling shareholders. The placement agent will solicit indications of interest from investors for the full amount of the offering.

All investor funds from the sale of the shares will be deposited with an escrow agent into an escrow account for the benefit of the investors. The escrow agent will hold all funds it receives in a non-interest bearing account in accordance with Rule 15c2-4 under the Exchange Act. The escrow agent will not accept any investor funds until such time as the terms of an offering have been agreed to by us, the selling shareholders and the placement agent. Before any closing date, the escrow agent will notify the placement agent that all of the funds to pay for the shares have been received. The selling security holders will deposit the shares with the Depository Trust Company upon receiving notice from the placement agent that all of the funds to pay for the shares have been received. At such closing, the Depository Trust Company will credit the shares to the respective accounts of the investors.

If investor funds are not received for all of the shares being offered, then all investor funds deposited into escrow will be returned promptly to investors and the offering will terminate. We and the selling security holders will indemnify the placement agent and certain other persons against certain liabilities under the Securities Act. The placement agent will agree that it will not engage in overallotment, stabilizing transactions or syndicate covering transactions in connection with the offering.

We will bear all costs, expenses and fees in connection with the registration of the shares. The selling security holders will pay the placement agent a fee based on a percentage of the proceeds of the offering and will reimburse the placement agent for reasonable expenses that it incurs in connection with the offering.

ITEM 15. INDEMNIFICATION OF OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS

Section 145(a) of the Delaware General Corporation Law provides that a Delaware corporation may indemnify any person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, other than an action by or in the right of the corporation, by reason of the fact that he is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation or enterprise, against expenses, judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred by him in connection with such action, suit or proceeding if he acted in good faith and in a manner he reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation and, with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, had no cause to believe his conduct was unlawful.

Section 145(b) of the Delaware General Corporation Law provides that a Delaware corporation may indemnify any person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action or suit by or in the right of the corporation to procure a judgment in its favor by reason of the fact that such person acted in any of the capacities set forth above, against expenses actually and reasonably incurred by him in connection with the defense or settlement of such action or suit if he acted in good faith and in a manner he reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation, except that no indemnification may be made in respect of any claim, issue or matter as to which such person shall have been adjudged to be liable to the corporation unless and only to the extent that the court in which such action or suit was brought shall determine that, despite such adjudication of liability, such person is fairly and reasonably entitled to be indemnified for such expenses which the court shall deem proper.

Section 145 of the Delaware General Corporation Law further provides that to the extent a director or officer of a Delaware corporation has been successful in the defense of any action, suit or proceeding referred to in subsections (a) or (b) of Section 145 or in the defense of any claim, issue or matter therein, he shall be indemnified against any expenses actually and reasonably incurred by him in connection therewith; that the indemnification provided for by Section 145 shall not be deemed exclusive of any rights to which the indemnified party may be entitled and the corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of a director or officer of the corporation against any liability asserted against him or incurred by him in any such capacity or arising out of his status as such whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify him against such liabilities under Section 145.

Section 102(b) (7) of the Delaware General Corporation Law permits a Delaware corporation to include a provision in its Certificate of Incorporation, and I-trax's Certificate of Incorporation contains such a provision, to the effect that, subject to certain exceptions, a director of a Delaware corporation is not personally liable to the corporation or its stockholders for monetary damages for a breach of his fiduciary duty as a director.

I-trax's By-laws also provide that I-trax shall indemnify its directors and officers and, to the extent permitted by the Board of Directors, I-trax's employees and agents, to the full extent permitted by and in the manner permissible under the laws of the State of Delaware. In addition, I-trax's By-laws permit the Board of Directors to authorize the Company to purchase and maintain insurance against any liability asserted against any of the Company's directors, officers, employees or agents arising out of their capacity as such.

such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Act and is, therefore, unenforceable.
