Item 2.01 – Completion of Acquisition or Disposition of Assets.

On July 31, 2013, Novavax, Inc. (the “Company”) announced that, pursuant to its public tender offer to acquire all outstanding shares and warrants of Sweden-based Isconova AB (“Isconova”) directly from such holders and a private offer for all outstanding stock options, it had acquired: 97.4% of the outstanding Isconova shares for approximately 15.1 million shares of the Company’s Common Stock; 100% of the outstanding 2005-I warrants and 2005-II warrants for approximately SEK 140,285 (or approximately $21,000 based on the current exchange rate); and 100% of the stock options, for which it will issue 218,120 shares of the Company’s Common Stock. The acceptance period for the public tender offer and private offer expired at 6:00 pm, New York City time, on July 30, 2013. Given that all terms of the public tender offer have been fulfilled, the Company has declared the offer unconditional and has accepted for payment all shares and warrants validly tendered and not properly withdrawn, and settlement will be made promptly. The Company has extended the tender acceptance period until August 20, 2013 in order to give shareholders additional time to accept the public tender offer. The Company also intends to initiate compulsory acquisition proceedings under Swedish law regarding the Isconova shares not tendered in the public tender offer.

Isconova has focused its recent efforts on the development of saponin-based, immune-modulating adjuvants that work with different types of vaccine antigens to enhance the immunogenic effect of the antigen. A number of vaccines are under development by various vaccine companies, as well as by Isconova, using Isconova’s third generation nanoparticle adjuvant, Matrix-M™. The Company believes that Isconova’s adjuvants will be powerful complements to its recombinant vaccine programs as three of its clinical-stage programs and many of its pre-clinical programs are currently testing adjuvants to see whether immune responses can be enhanced.

A copy of the Company’s press release announcing its acceptance of the shares and warrants tendered during the acceptance period is filed herewith as Exhibit 99.1.
